HARRIET RICHARDSON

"Ritchie"
Ritchie, the supreme "queen" of the kitchen.

Ritchie has served the best interests of college students for the past 16 years. Her voice will be with us as we remember, "Bring back that dessert." And we always somehow turned our feet back toward the line from which we had so quickly departed, our eyes laughing and our mouths turned up with a sheepish grin for our barking friend.

Ritchie came to the college in September, 1947, to serve as "chief staff cook." She originally worked for Mr. Jackson until his departure, then she continued her work for Ed Smith. She has served faithfully through thick and thin. Her work started and continued through the post-war hardships with unsatisfactory equipment and often with very little help. She has pulled her load for Southwestern with courage, fortitude and devotion.

Ritchie's characteristics make her an outstanding personality. As she calls the students by name she initiates the freshman scare, which causes the freshmen to toe the line until they come to know her. And the football boys, who arrive early in the fall, look carefully, then leave the line in "quiet haste"—only to be called back. We laugh with Ritchie and would not know quite how to act if she were not there to accept the static we give her and deliver her own keen words.
The past is torn down

...And replaced by the present,

Time present and time past
Are both perhaps present in time future,
And time future contained in time past.

From "Burnt Norton" in
FOUR QUARTETS by T. S. Eliot.

...While we continually prepare for the future.
Ken Howard and Chandler Young wait while Norman Callison finds the correct card.

Time spent in the library may drag or fly. Many students enjoy studying there for it is quiet and the atmosphere is academic.

Time spent with others near.

... Or alone.

HOWARD CLAYTON, head librarian.

Mrs. Ruby Gary, assistant to librarian, and Mrs. Gladys Dennis, library cataloguer.
There is a time when the vice-president must change his own light bulb.

... and there is always time for a practical joke

Some take the time to prepare the table for a meal.

... or seriousness
On the campus of Southwestern there is a time for music

... and drama

There is the never forgotten time of homecoming.

... and a time to learn more about others.

Some students take time for worship.
CAMPUS
COMMUNITY —

We shall not cease from exploration
And the end of all our exploring
Will be to arrive where we started
And know the place for the first time.

From "Little Gidding" in
FOUR QUARTETS by T. S. Eliot.
THE USE OF TIME

There is an old farmer's proverb which says:

"Time spent sharpening tools is never wasted time."

The farmer in his shed sharpening tools is like the student in his laboratory and classroom reaching conclusions and convictions. These are not lost years. They are hidden years—where you have had a chance to increase in wisdom and stature.

I hope this campus has been a spiritual cradle for each of you:

Where the life and lure and urge and power
Of life made joyous every hour.

Where every instant was a gay adventure,
Every ardent day was a world you could explore.

Where every face an open door leading out to lands unknown!
There is so much to find and be, give, and have and Seek, and see; Hear and touch, and taste, and know.

The time spent here was just long enough for you to fall in love with life and link yourself to some mighty cause. The humblest student, when clad in the armor of a righteous cause, is stronger than all the host of errors.

In that spirit a little part of this campus goes with you as you leave. In that way the spirit of Southwestern continues to live all over the world. Hail Alma Mater!

College and Student Center Board

College and Student Center Board is designed to correlate student activities and usage of the Student Center. The CSC board serves as an agency in formulating policy relating to student activities in the center.

Student Council

Working under a new philosophy, the Student Council endeavors to promote and represent the best will of the student body. This purpose will be accomplished through increasing cooperation with the college administration and faculty.

Miss Graham announced her engagement in August and within a week the news had spread from coast to coast—not because Campus Players like to gossip, but because for forty years Helen Graham has been director, advisor, and friend to several hundred budding young actors and actresses.

No one but Miss Graham would spend all day Saturday scrubbing flats; then take you out to dinner still in her green sneakers, green jeans, and yellow ski sweater. A week later she might serve dinner in her home, pouring coffee in candlelight with all the dignity and grace of some famous hostess. Miss Graham can rip up playbooks, break pencils in anger, and scream from the back row of Richardson Auditorium, but after a show you walk on air when she says, “Noble performance, noble performance.”

She never remembers our names—we’re all “boys and girls” to her. Everything is “elegant, just elegant” in her terminology. She lives by Webster’s Second Edition; she is a real-live Eagerheart. Somewhere amid the flora and the fauna of her bailiwick, you’re sure to find someone “going ‘round the figure eight.” There was always a “nicer one that burned in the fire.”

Miss Graham could well be acclaimed the “Sweetheart of Southwestern.” She participates in every school activity and no matter how things are going, she holds up the glory of the school—and she has been here longer than anyone else.

Now she is Mrs. J. M. Scott, housewife—but to many she will always be Helen Graham, director. She always said that she would haunt us to our dying days shouting, “Project! Project!” We can’t think of a better ghost to be haunted by.

—Norman Callison

Campus Players

Campus Players is the student group responsible for the major dramatic activities on campus. This unique organization is composed of regular members (designated by Mr., Miss, or Mrs., as the case may be) and probationary members (those who must complete certain assigned tasks before becoming regular members).

The activities of Campus Players include the homecoming play, a Christmas morality play, "Eagerheart," a banquet honoring incumbent full members, the all-school play, the May Fete play, and a banquet honoring new probationary members. The group has been active on the Builder campus since 1919. Miss Graham has the names and addresses of almost every member, each of whom gets a complimentary pass to every Campus Player play.

The purpose of Kappa Omicron Phi is to further home economics interests in colleges by developing higher ideals, deeper appreciation of the home, with broader social and higher intellectual and cultural attainments.

Gamma Omicron is the college home economics club. Its purpose is to give the members training in social poise, to develop personality and leadership in the individual, and to gain knowledge in the classroom.
A. M. Club

The purpose of the A.M. Club is to serve as a pre-professional organization for men and women who are interested in the areas of missions, religious education, and other related fields of church service.

Pre-Ministerial Club

The P.M. Club is composed of all members of the student body who are planning to enter some phase of the ministry. Its purpose is to anticipate the ministry as a demanding profession, to prepare the members for the academic, ethical, and personal demands of the ministry, and to encourage one another toward mutual goals through the monthly meetings of the club.
English Club

The purposes of the English Club are to establish a medium for the exchange of ideas, to promote friendship among students of English, and to further creative writing.

The purpose of Pi Sigma Gamma is to expose the science students to some of the men and aspects of science that are not afforded them in the classroom.

Beta Beta Beta is a society for students of the biological sciences. It seeks to encourage scholarly attainment in this field.
Methodist Student Movement

The purpose of the MSM is to act and to bear witness to the college campus as its church. To accomplish that, the MSM attempts to be constantly aware of certain decisive issues and to consistently act upon these issues according to the Christian tradition. MSM attempts to speak to all groups on campus.

Campus-Y is a part of a world wide community of students and faculty united in a search for meaning in life. Through this quest it endeavors to serve the campus, the nation, and the world. In its outlook, "Y" has attempted to examine all aspects of an issue in order to carry out its theme, "The Growing Edge."

It is the purpose of Alpha Mu to create a higher level of musicianship, improve scholarship, and perform and promote American music.

Religious Life Council

The Religious Life Council is a representative group of the campus community having as its goal the cultivation of the students' religious life. This is done by initiating various activities throughout the year, coordinating activities among the various religious organizations, and evaluating the effect of these and other activities related to the religious atmosphere of Southwestern College.

Building the Mound

This year something new was added to the Building of the Mound ceremony—the mound was moved. This action was taken after thoughtful consideration to make way for the new fine arts center. On September 7 the old mound was broken open and the box removed. At an assembly on September 12, the box was opened and displayed to the student body. The contents of the box were replaced and this box, along with a new one, was reburied that evening at the traditional Building of the Mound ceremony.

Southwestern's flag was new this year.

Traditions

Seniors build the Mound for the last time.
The sophomores pulled hard . . .

But the freshmen won!!!!

Freshman Orientation

Senior Norman Callison recalled great fires of the past.

This year's freshman bonfire set a new record, 23 ft. 4½ in.
Homecoming

The freshman class took first place for its float.

Science Club's float had a look of the future.

The Jinx made his debut at the homecoming game.

Hey, Maridene, look this way!

Campus-Yers worked many long hours on their float.

Fisher Hall took third place in dorm decorations.
Smith Hall's freshmen worked hard...

Broadhurst Hall won second place in dorm decorations.

And this was their result.

Campus-Y had reason to be proud of its float.

The cheerleaders rode in style!

President Strohl presents the Moundbuilder citation to Walter Boles at homecoming assembly.

Kappa Delta Kappa's float featured Mr. Magoo.
The theme, "77," had many symbolic meanings on the Southwestern campus. As we sat on the top of the now long-famous 77 steps we were able to look back over the 77 years of Southwestern's existence and remember the hopes realized and the joys and sadnesses which have been expressed in many ways.

Maridene Witter reigned as queen. The homecoming day proceeded within its tradition of festivity and pomp which included dorm decorations, floats, marching bands, and the renewal of acquaintances and friendships from years past.

Mrs. Helen Graham Scott and her Campus Players presented the evening's entertainment, a political farce by Peter Ustinov, Romanoff and Juliet.

Following the traditional dance, the evening turned to dawn and Southwestern looked on to future years.
Papa Romanoff insists that this marriage cannot be.

Christmas on Campus

On December 3, Christmas Vespers ushered in “Christmas on Campus.” The warmth of this wonderful season was reflected in club parties, gift exchanges, carol sings, and festive decorations.

Dr. and Mrs. Strohl entertain students and faculty at their Christmas reception.

Holland Hall’s girls’ choir entertained during the caroling party.
Eagerheart worships the Christ child.

Eagerheart worships the Christ child.

Eagerheart

This year Mary Wentz enacted the role of Mary as Campus Players presented Eagerheart for the 30th year. The Christmas morality play was directed by Helen Graham. Miss Joanna Scott was Eagerheart.

The old shepherd has seen the Christ and is content to die.

A man and a woman ask shelter of Eagerheart.

Prologue welcomes Eagerheart.
Founder’s Day

Southwestern observed its 78th anniversary on March 4-5 with a special Founder’s Day program. Some highlights of the program were a recognition dinner for donors, the annual trustee-faculty dinner, and an assembly at which several persons received honorary doctoral degrees. Founder’s Day is an old and time-honored tradition calling to mind the rich heritage of which we are a part.

This year Dr. Myron F. Wicke was the Founder’s Day speaker. He was presented with an honorary doctor of literature degree. Dr. Wicke is associate general secretary of the Division of Higher Education, Board of Education, the Methodist Church.

Dr. C. M. Suter was presented with the Moundbuilder citation on Founder’s Day this year. The Moundbuilder citation is presented to outstanding graduates of Southwestern.

Louis Sudler was presented with an honorary doctor of music degree on Founder’s Day. Dr. Sudler has sung the baritone solo part in the “Elijah” presentation for the past several years.
Miss Graham is presented with her professorship at an assembly.

Carol Prather, "Student Council President," points out the finer features of Southwestern.

Monte Johnson, "Dr. Strohl," extols the virtues of our great campus.

Little Red Riding Hood screams when she sees the wolf.

Two freshmen entertain at the freshman assembly.

The students of Southwestern College make a weekly pilgrimage to Richardson Auditorium to see the presentation of assemblies; from academic convocations to the many attempts at humor.

Assemblies
THE SMITH-WILLSON LECTURES
Bishop F. Gerald Ensley, resident leader of more than 285,000 Iowa Methodists, was the speaker for the annual Smith-Willson lectures on October 16th-18th. Our series is one of several established throughout the nation by Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson of Floydada, Texas. This year Bishop Ensley chose as his theme "The Social Application of Religion."

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK
"Relevant Faith" was the topic under consideration during Religious Emphasis Week this year. Dr. J. Wesley Robb, chairman of the Department of Religion and Division of Humanities at the University of Southern California, spoke formally and led informal discussion groups during the week of March 10-17. Religious Emphasis Week is part of Southwestern's effort to expose its students and faculty to important personalities in the religious field.
Artist and Lecture Series

The 1962-63 Artist and Lecture Series offered much to the student who wished to build a foundation of aesthetic and intellectual values. H. Jay Thompson, baritone, of the Bethany faculty began the series with a vocal concert, and Wilma Jenson delighted the music lovers with an organ recital. The first lecture of the series featured Dr. Daniel Boorstin in the field of history.

The St. Olaf choir presented the first program of the second semester series, offering a great variety of choral music. When Lisa Sergio came to Southwestern in February, students were given the opportunity of hearing several excellent lectures besides the series program in Richardson Auditorium. The Artist and Lecture Series was concluded with an art program by Harriet Fitzgerald.
Little United Nations

Steering committee: Gary Phillippi, Jan Tucker, Mary Wentz, chairman; Carol Prether, Darrell Huddleston.

Little United Nations, held April 5, was a new adventure on Southwestern's campus. A general assembly was conducted and the question of the admission of Red China to the U. N. was discussed by the 35 nations represented.

Linda Nonken and Mary Wentz check on delegations.

At a meeting of the delegations, Bill Minturn explains their jobs.

The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier is a place of interest in Washington, D.C.
Four Southwestern students, Jane Glotfelty and Russell Vail, first semester, and Jim Reed and Jan Wallrabenstein, second semester, went to Washington, D.C., to participate in the Washington program. Under the auspices of American University, chosen students from all over the nation spend one semester studying American government. They are selected on the basis of scholarship, achievement, interest, and leadership activity.

For the second year, Southwestern participated in an exchange program with Spelman College, Atlanta, Georgia, an all-Negro girls' college. Attending Spelman was Marian Richards and coming to our campus was Aingred Dunston, sophomore. This program provides an opportunity for students to gain a broader understanding of people of diverse geographical and ethnic backgrounds.

Our first participant in the Drew University United Nations Semester program was Sherry Redick. This program provides an opportunity for students to become aware of the importance of the United Nations as it functions in international affairs.
The Phi Beta Taus enjoyed an Hawaiian luau as one of their social events this year.

Dances

The rustle of elegant cocktail dresses was heard as couples whirled around the dance floor, keeping in step to the tempo of the orchestra at the Christmas Formal.
Members of the junior class assembly cast are caught forever in a freeze!!

The tables were turned as the girls "asked" the fellas to the King Spice dance.

Even the faculty enjoyed the King Spice dance.

Jim Watson, Betsy Eustice, and Sandra Branson work on wood projects in crafts workshop.

Miss Graham demonstrates to Larry Limbird the art of applying stage make-up.

CLASSES

Norman Bair, Jnet Jewell, Ann Cuthird, and Don Booth help clean the chemistry lab.
Classes at Southwestern are varied. Students practice the fine points of debate, examine the wonders of the plant and animal kingdoms in biology, explore the minute worlds of chemistry, learn the art of home economics, and express themselves both through the media of oil, tempera, and wood, and in drama. At times classes seem difficult and endless, but the times of laughter and interest more than make up for the long hours spent in study.

ΦΒΥ
Her majesty, Marilyn Stanton, reigned over the 42nd annual May Fete which was held on the May Queen green on May.

According to Miss Lillian Cloud, who has directed the May Fete since 1923, the tradition was given to the college by the Belles Lettres Athenian Society in 1921. Queen Marilyn and her master of ceremonies, Glenn Wooddell, reigned over the dance and the May Fete play, “The Corn is Green.”
The names of 10 Southwestern students will appear in the 1962-63 publication of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. This is a national honor that is awarded annually by a student-faculty committee to those seniors who are selected for their leadership, scholarship, campus activities, contribution to campus life, and future promise.

Tiny skaters entertain Builders at half time.

Ride 'm, Gary!

So you don't like the call, George.

I can jump higher than you can, little boy.

It's my ball!
Hey, Jim, what's the next play???

Jim Harris, 32, gets the rebound, while Larry Miller, 22, stands by ready to assist.

Hey, Ball-head, get off my back!!

Brent Matzen, 50, and Larry Miller, 22, work hard to keep the ball.
Don Turner, 44, goes up for a rebound.

Don Turner, 44, passes the ball to Larry Miller, 22.

My, gosh, Bill—did you see a ghost?

Arms and legs, but no ball!!!!
Cheerleaders encourage the Builder spirit.

Down... set... hike... oops, off side.

Gary West, 30, grabs for the ball, as Don Turner, 44, watches.

Ron Disel, 10, goes up for two more points.
Don Turner, 44, goes up for a basket.

Hey, Jack, get that ball.

Jim Harris, 32, sinks one for two points.

Dave Harmon, 42, watches as Larry Miller, 22, boosts the score.
