A group of students takes dinner on the Wallingford lawn. Outdoor picnics were one of the methods used by the food service to break the monotony.

This unlucky chap was not quick enough to avoid being "moated" in Island Park.
For a second year, an Emergency Mobile Intensive Care Technician training program (E.M.I.C.T.), endorsed by the University of Kansas Emergency Medical Department, was offered. Twenty-three students were enrolled. The program, under the direction of Gene Roberts, Winfield Ambulance Service Director, Dr. Bruce Wells, medical director, and Marilyn Crowley, as instructor, provides rigorous training both in the classroom and in the field.

Lisa Long and Elvin Brown finish pre-flight checks. Since Aviation Management was added to Southwestern’s curriculum two years ago, twenty-two students have completed Flight Training for private pilot licenses.

Smith Hall Slips Into The Past

About fifty-seven years ago the Levi Smith Family in Kinsley, Kansas, donated some money for the construction of a building at Southwestern College. On completion the building was named Smith Hall, after the family that donated the money for its construction. For about fifty years the building served both as a residence hall and a cafeteria for the students. But on completion of the present Student Center the food service from Smith Hall to the newly constructed building. Due to its deteriorating condition Smith Hall could no longer serve as a residence hall, and consequently it was turned into a warehouse.

Dr. Rutherford is not yet sure what the long term use of this patch of land will be. Meanwhile he thinks the place might be turned into a temporary park with some picnic seats and benches in it. However, he stressed that whenever there are adequate funds, he hopes that a building will be constructed which could be used either as a museum or the center for the study of Christian values.

Well, Smith Hall is gone once and for all. The beauty it used to add to the place is gone with it, perhaps. But there is one thing that remains and which shall continue to remain for quite a while, and that is the sweet memory of the building. Like a beloved old fellow who had dedicated his life to the service of his people, Smith Hall will always be remembered by those who knew it for the very useful 57 years of service it had given to both the students and faculty of the College.

Dr. Ruthenberg tries to clear up some of the confusion that arose over the retirement of Gleva Hanson and members of the physical education department.

On Monday, May 1, some 56 students marched up the '77 to take up seats outside the office of the president. The groups of students held that 'sit-in' until some questions were answered regarding resignations in the language and literature division.

The conflict appeared to arise after resignations in both the language and literature and the physical education departments. It was the student's belief that replacements were to be made in the physical education department but that Hanson's classes were to be absorbed by other instructors or dropped entirely. Students feared a drop in the quality of education for the support of athletics. It was this seeming favoritism that incensed students and sent them marching into the president's corridor.

Issues of cost, faculty workloads, and priorities were bantered around all morning as students and administrators tried to reach agreements on what was needed. The president and Dean Barton found themselves on the firing line in answering the student's questions.

After meeting with members of the literature department, Dr. Ruthenberg announced that a full-time replacement would be found for Hanson and the halls cleared.
Lady Grace, as she likes to be called, is Grace Hayes Jones who came to campus last spring — back to her Southwestern roots. She attended Southwestern Academy in the early 1900's. Her father was a ministerial student at S.C. and she's had a number of relatives attend S.C.

While her family was in the Winfield area from the late 1800s through the early 1900s, her father served as minister in Dexter. Her mother took voice lessons at S.C.

Interested in writing and researching historical data, Lady Grace has had numerous articles published in magazines and newspapers. While she was at S.C. for a couple of months, she sat in on classes and conducted some research on S.C. She presented a Mexican hand drawn piece that she had framed to the Library. The work was made by a friend of her family in 1913.

Lady Grace now lives in Memphis, Tennessee, where she spends a great deal of time writing. She is 84 years old.

Floyd Farris and Harvey Ridings (right) watch a Builder football practice. Harvey is a 1932 S.C. graduate and an enthusiastic supporter. Harvey can be seen attending every football, basketball, or volleyball game and is often on the S.C. campus. Harvey and his wife Lorene (class of 1934) were presented with the Alumni Recognition Award this year at Alumni Day.

To Be A Stud Jock Day

A highlight of Stud Jock Day was the medley relay. This ridiculous assortment of nutty events served to top off a very enjoyable Stud Jock Day.

The medley starts when a blindfolded kicker (Rick Lowe, ball held by Gary Harkrader) kicks the ball to a three-legged team, also blindfolded.

... The three-legged team (Charley Wilson and Dar Richert) looks for the ball blindfolded. When (if) the ball is found they remove the blindfolds and carry the ball to the next station.

... where a teammate rolls it up the hill with his head.

... From there a teammate opens a can of Coke and crabs up the '77' (Wendy Watkins) and gives it to another member (Sharon Kanitz).

... who runs to the finish line. The winner is determined by a combination of time and the amount of Coke left in the can.

Chorus: Ken Kraus, Jayne Frager, Mike Dudeck, Kris Freed, Winston McKeon, Kathryn Rogers, David Herrin, Jalynn Matthews, Randy Juden, Thane Mettling, Stan Kennedy, Janis Matthews, Carol Blanchard, Dee Ann Wills.

Children's Hour

Children's Hour was a play set in a girls' boarding school. Action centered around two women (Mary Green and Sally Rottschaefer) who started and ran the school and a troublemaking student (played by Kris Freed) who seemed to want nothing more than to cause misery. The two women are accused by young Tilford of having homosexual tendencies. This lie disrupts the lives of the two women and, as a result, one of the women commits suicide.

Rick Peterson was chosen 1977-78 King Spice. Bev Wimmer presented Peterson with the ceremonial chef's hat and rolling pin.

"Smokin'" gave a fine performance for the King Spice dance.

Mary Coon was M.C. for the evening's activities.
It Was A Good Night For Everyone

The dance floor was crowded most of the evening.

Lyle Weinert struggles to tie on the apron as Jane Randall reflects the mood of the evening.

Other candidates for King Spice and their dates were Frank Davison and Jeannie Baker, Bev Wimmer and Rick Peterson, Vineeta Sherring and Bob Juden.
Rachel and Jay King, a husband and wife team from Kansas City, Kansas, taught parliamentary law (rules of order) and parliamentary procedure during January Term. Both are professional registered parliamentarians which means that they qualify as teachers and advisors in procedure and organization management.

Students enrolled in this rigorous Jan Term course took a final examination prepared by the National Association of Parliamentarians and those who passed became eligible for membership in NAP and the Kansas State Association of Parliamentarians.

Gleva Hanson sits with Ali Abdollahpour and Pauline Nichols during the January Term offering of Oral History. The class made use of tape-recorded interviews of various persons representing specific organizations or institutions. The goal was to teach interviewing skills and compile brief histories of the Winfield area.
Scope Of Learning Activities

Anne Williams is shown how to cook a meal by Mrs. M. B. Gray during the Jan Term Intergen course. Anne will in turn shovel snow for Mrs. Gray.

"Come On . . . Move It!!" was taught by Rosemary Fair Mock, a choreographer from Dodge City and former "Miss Kitty" at the Long Branch Saloon. This class included everything from dancing to self-protection and building self-confidence.

Todd Diacon, Donna Mugler, Sarah Warren and Marilyn Magnusson went with John Shoemaker, Instructor in Political Science, to Denmark and Sweden. They visited political institutions and historical sites during the trip.

U.S. Air Force Jazz Ensemble

On the evening of March 15, Stewart Field House was alive with the music of a fine jazz ensemble. The group was the U.S. Air Force “Airmen of Note,” official jazz ensemble of the Air Force. Tickets were free to both students and Winfield residents, a courtesy rendered by all performing units of the Air Force Band since 1966. During the years that this outstanding jazz organization has performed throughout the world, it has been honored by many guest artists from both the acting and music professions. Jimmy Stewart, who starred in “The Glenn Miller Story” in which the “Airmen of Note” portrayed the Glenn Miller Orchestra, has appeared with the band several times since the release of the picture. Many great musicians and vocalists have worked with the jazz ensemble including Sammy Davis, Jr., Stan Kenton, Sarah Vaughan, and “Doc” Severinson.

America’s leading jazz ensemble, “Downbeat” magazine, has labeled the ensemble as “one of the best bands anyone interested in big band jazz or good dance music can hope to hear today.” “Airmen of Note” is directed by Sgt. Ernie Hensley who has been with the Air Force since 1957 and has taught at Howard University in Washington, D.C., and Bowie State University, Maryland.
Ronald Radford-Flamenco Guitarist
April 10-11-12

Tuesday, April 11, at 7:30 p.m. was the highlight of the three-day stay of international concert star and recording artist, Ronald Radford. While at S.C. Radford performed at Whittier School and met informally with S.C. students during the day. He performed at Winfield High, St. John's College, as well as the Senior Citizen's Center.

Radford was readily accepted by the students at S.C. for his spontaneous dialog with the audience. Between numbers, Radford explained Flamenco music and talked about his travels in Spain.

Radford was born in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and was one of two American proteges of the renowned Gypsy guitarist, Carlos Montoya. Radford studied with Montoya for one year, practicing 10 hours a day before he began his performing career.
On Tuesday, November 29th, former Congressman Henry P. Smith III visited Southwestern College. His visit was sponsored by a grant given by the Association of Former Members of Congress to Southwestern, Friends and Kansas Newman Colleges. During the morning Mr. Smith spoke to Phil Schmidt's National Government class and to the Humanities class. The topic of his humanities lecture as "Congress from the Vantage Point of a Former Member." In the afternoon Mr. Smith talked with a group of faculty and students in Pounds Lounge about careers in public service.

Mr. Smith was elected to the House of Representatives in 1964 from the Lockport area of western New York State. He succeeded William Miller who had vacated the seat to become Barry Goldwater's Vice Presidential running-mate. Smith was a member of the House Judiciary Committee during the Nixon impeachment hearings. In 1974, after 10 years in Congress, he resigned his seat.

At the time of his visit, Mr. Smith was chairperson of the inter-governmental agency which regulates navigation on the Great Lakes.

The Humanities offering Human Sexuality was a three-lecture series, followed by an evaluation session in the main dining hall. Guest lecturer for the series was Dr. Allen J. Moore, Professor of Religion, Personality, and Education at the School of Theology in Claremont, California. Dr. John Paulin worked with Dr. Moore and was teacher of record for the course.

Dr. Moore dealt with many aspects of the human sexual environment as well as presenting sidelights on the past.

The Bible And Humanity's Struggle

For Righteousness - March-1&2

This Humanities course (Foun 101A) was dealing with religion and today's society. The lecture series was presented by Rev. Dr. Harry V. Richardson, Past President Interdenominational Theological Seminary of Atlanta Georgia. Dr. Richardson opened the series with a sermon in Lois Hill Chapel speaking on the subject "Who Will Put Out the Fire?"

Lectures dealt with areas such as "Some Background Understandings," "The Struggle in History," and "The Bible for Today and Its Promise for Tomorrow." A discussion group was also held in Pounds Lounge to discuss ideas presented in the lectures.

This Humanities offering was sponsored by Dr. Cecil Findley.

A native of Jacksonville, Fla., Dr. Richardson was a Ph.D. degree from Drew University and holds degrees from Divinity School of Harvard University and Western Reserve University.

Strike! The Farmer's Protest April 3

Staying with the concept of keeping up with current issues, this Humanities course dealt with the Farmer's Strike.

This one-day seminar opened with "An Introduction to Agricultural Economics" by Dr. Roy Fredericks, KSU. He spoke on current agriculture situations and trends. At the luncheon which followed students were encouraged to visit with attending farmers to gain further insight into the dilemma. The day was concluded with a forum discussion of the pros and cons of the strike. Larry Streckline moderated.

KSU Economist Dr. Fredericks (right) presented the opening groundwork to the seminar.
Founder's Day

Dr. Joe Riley Burns, Chairman of the Southwestern College Board of Trustees, led the invocation. Following an introduction and remarks by Dr. Don Ruthenberg, Southwestern's president, the degree candidate was presented by Dr. Clarence Borger, Vice Chairman of the Board of Trustees. The degree was conferred by Dr. Ruthenberg with Dr. J. Hamby Barton, Dean of the College, and Ralph Decker, Registrar, assisting.

Following the convocation, a reception was held in Tri-Dining area of the Student Center to honor more than 100 Foundation Builders-alumni who have graduated since 1950 and who have made exceptional contributions to their communities through their professions and service and who have committed themselves to supporting Southwestern. Dr. Ruthenberg introduced the Foundation Builders and presented a plaque to each member.

At 7 p.m. a dinner was held at Beech Activity Center, Wichita, in honor of House.
SGA officers were: Lyle Weinert, President, Terrie Thornton, Richard Dickerhoff, Ralph Hanna, Anne Williams, Todd Diacon, Dr. Bright and Judith Charlton-sponsors.

1977-78 marked the beginning of a new, exciting sport on the Southwestern campus. The Soccer Club began with a few guys who were just kicking a ball around and decided to become an organized team.

Through the physical education department the fledgling organization learned of the Kansas Soccer Football Association (KSFA), a state-wide league of soccer-playing schools. S.C. was accepted into the KSFA and was worked into a 7-game schedule. At the beginning of the season S.C. was rated in top contention of the well-matched league.

The KSFA is now undergoing planning to affiliate with the North American Soccer League.

Members of the club feel that the development of soccer as an organized college sport provides the opportunity for a greater number of students to participate in athletic competition. The potential for success is illustrated by the enthusiasm of present club members. Uldis Stepe notes, “With the size of international student enrollment, a soccer program would definitely flourish.”

The club shows real promise in the years to come. Perhaps we are seeing the beginning of a growing effort in the U.S. to become a power in world amateur soccer and contention for the World Cup.
The story behind the Moundbuilder this year is not an exciting one. Drastic staff alterations around Easter resulted in an new editor and complete re-organization of old machinery. There were many things to do and very little time to do it in. Emphasis was placed on quality and accuracy. Every effort was made to get the highest quality photo possible and to get all the names right. The staff worked long hours into the summer in order to complete the book.

Deadlines were missed but the company which publishes the Moundbuilder was sympathetic and made every effort to assist the staff.

Regular staff members this year included:
- Jim Rollins - Editor
- Kevin Hartley - Assistant Editor
- Mary Dempsey - Copy Editor
- Randy Reusser - Head Photographer
- Cynthia Book - Layout
- Charlene Ruthenberg - indexing and editing

Other students who contributed time and effort to the Moundbuilder were:
- Keith Kindt - photography
- Gene Williams - photography
- Chris Downum - copy
- Vicki Raines - research help
- Don Courtenay - tennis pictures

Members of the faculty who were of great help were:
- John Shoemaker - Advisor
- Ralph Decker - who typed many of these pages as well as helping with administrative detail.
- Rich Dunfee - Who organized initial efforts and kept things 'straight on the hill.'
- Howard Stephens - who provided several pictures as well as good company in the basement of Darbeth.

And I would like to thank the many other faculty members who took the time to write copy or provide assistance to this yearbook.

I would also like to give very special thanks to News Bureau Director, Maija Wilgers, for her immeasurable assistance to this yearbook. Maija provided many of the pictures you see in this book as well as a substantial amount of copy. Her company and splendid sense of humor made the long hours in the workroom seem shorter.

Southwestern's student newspaper, The Collegian, took a new look during the 1977-78 school year. For the first time in several years, The Collegian was able to sell advertisement space. These advertisements made it possible for The Collegian to double its size to eight pages. A new flag, an increased number of columns per page, and a staff artist all added to The Collegian's new look.

Plenty of hard work went into the "new" Collegian. Reporters, salespeople, and photographers all did their best to meet deadlines which seemed to come all too soon. But with the patient help of the people at the Winfield Daily Courier (where The Collegian is printed) those deadlines were met, resulting in a newspaper that the staff and reporters could be proud of.

Other new features included The Davison Report, by Donnie Davison, Mr. Nature, by David Seibel, and cartoons by Jim Heck and Jon Wippich. Editorialis by Collegian editor Doug Gilbert and assistant editor Chris Downum, along with articles by hard-working reporters, filled The Collegian with informative and often controversial reading.

The editors and staff undertook a special task at the end of the year by producing a special edition dedicated to S. C.'s graduating seniors. A portion of this edition was included in the circulation of the Winfield Daily Courier, allowing the people of Winfield to enjoy the efforts involved with The Collegian.

Those responsible for producing The Collegian worked many long hours for little immediate reward, and there were many times when they felt that they were learning more about the newspaper business than they really cared to know. But when the year was over, all shared in the sense of pride that comes from knowing that a job was done well. And the 1977-78 Collegian was a job well done.

Pi Gamma Mu

The highlight of the Pi Gamma Mu year was a Japanese dinner which Kansas Alpha hosted for Kansas Theta. About 22 attended. The program was the Japanese tea ceremony given by a high school exchange student from Japan.

Pi Gamma Mu members who were seniors at Southwestern College were listed on the Honors Convocation program.

The May meeting featured a report from the national/regional meeting which was attended by the local president and the secretary-treasurer as well as the Executive Secretary.

In September some junior members were initiated and one was elected vice-president. A group picture was taken for the college annual of which the Pi Gamma Mu president was assistant editor.

In October our chapter arranged to attend a two-day seminar on the Holocaust at Wichita State University. A dinner was arranged by the Kansas Theta Chapter and overnight accommodations were available at Kansas Newman College. Unfortunately, transportation was complicated for this affair and attendance was poor.

A December lecture on values was given by a Southwestern College faculty member who is not well known on campus because he manages our airport at a neighboring town. The purpose of this lecture was to give him some visibility among students and faculty. He summarized his dissertation which was a study of the values of K State students and their parents. The chapter presented him with a membership to Pi Gamma Mu.

Officers were: Denise Shay, Dr. Gray and Kevin Hartley—president.

Dan Culnan is from Boulder, Colorado and is a member of the Aspen Music Festival Orchestra. He has appeared with the Denver Symphony as cello soloist. He is studying at the University of Colorado under Denver Symphony's solo cellist, Jurgen de Lemos. Culnan has studied in Switzerland and has been special guest artist in the Naropa Institute's Chamber Music series. During the summer he studies with Zaru Nelsova in Aspen, Colorado.

While at S.C., Culnan conducted workshops in cello. He also joined with Dr. Bobo, pianist, and Karl Greenshields, violinist, in a faculty recital in Messenger Recital Hall. Culnan later played with the S.C. Chamber Orchestra as guest solo cellist and was featured in Hayden's "Cello Concerto in D Mayor."

The Cowley County Chaplaincy Program (CCCP) has completed its second year of service to Winfield and the surrounding area. The members of the program have answered calls to the Sheriff’s department, Police department, Fire department, Emergency Medical Service (ambulance), and Newton Memorial Hospital. This year, ten students participated in one or two semesters of the program. Lynn Dyke, senior, served as the student supervisor, giving excellent leadership for the year. Dr. John Paulin, Chaplain of the College, supervised the total program.

A new addition was made to the program to help coverage and provide in-the-field supervision. This addition was made possible by the help of five pastors of local Winfield churches and one Southwestern professor, all persons who responded to an invitation to participate. After the implementation of this system, one pastor and one student would meet to deal with the emergency crisis. Those persons who served as field supervisors were: Orvan Gilstrap, First Christian; John Blythe, First Baptist; Tom Brooks, Trinity Lutheran; Jim Reed, Grace United Methodist; Ron Rich, First United Methodist; and Wallace Gray, Philosophy Professor at S.C.

The CCCP also sponsored an instructional program in Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation led by Mr. Gene Roberts, director of EMS and 'graduated' seven members: Lynn Dyke, Claire Casselman, Karen Rymph, Terry Gaiser, Barbara Snell, Jan Kruas, and John Paulin.

Horsefeathers and Applesauce (H&A) is in its sixth season this summer. This summer project was organized to fulfill the needs of the community for a dinner theater. The troupe was formed in the summer of 1973 by Norman and Roxy Callison and Bill Bilby, a drama instructor at Western Illinois.

The company is made up of alumni, current students, and anyone else who is interested in summer theater. The persons in the company need other skills than just acting, though. Carpentry, cooking, sewing, lighting, and a myriad of other talents are necessary to produce a theater program.

The first company was made up of twenty-five members and did three plays and three musicals in eight weeks. For the next three years H&A would do six plays in eight weeks. But in the summer of 1976 they cut it back to three plays in eight weeks. This year, the twenty-two member company produced two plays (GOD'S FAVORITE and PLAIN AND FANCY) and one musical (HERE'S LOVE).

Top: Sidney Lipton (Claire Casselman) produces the only physical evidence he has to prove he is a messenger from God. Above: The Grand Finale to H&A's second show, HERE'S LOVE.

Builders Finish 5-2 In KCAC

The 1977 football campaign was a fine start for first-year coach Phil Hower. Taking the reins of his alma mater, Hower coached the team to a 7-2 finish, claiming third in the KCAC. Perhaps there is a legacy in the forming. Hower’s father, the late Robert Hower, was coach and athletic director at S.C. for 18 years.

Whatever the case, the S.C. Moundbuilders were a formidable opponent on the gridiron. They outran (2285 yds. - 1322), they outscored (184 pts. - 142), and gathered more first downs (145 - 107) than their opponents. Leading the offensive attack was fullback John Tuttle who ate up 709 yards and earned a 4.3 yd. average as well as leading all scoring with 48 points. Tuttle was also named Outstanding Freshman Player for 1977. Willie Stokes, 1977 Most Valuable Player, added 620 yards in 100 totes to score 36 points. Sid Herd, S.C.’s utility man, added 2 touchdowns, kicked for 4 field goals and 12 extra points, as well as running split end and back-up quarterback. Ralph Hanna led receiving stats by a mere 3 yards (236) over fellow senior Eddie Popplewell (233). Wade Cargile, freshman quarterback, passed for 560 of S.C.’s 601 total passing yards and had a 39% completion rate. Cargile also contributed 30 points. Up front, it was Ernie Jahay, senior guard, named by the team as Best Offensive Blocker.

Defensive charts were led by juniors Dave Tasker, Top Defensive Player, with 63 tackles and Bill Stinson with 6 interceptions. Stinson was also awarded the Mike Fine Award for Most Inspirational Player. Freshman Rick Cluck made 60 stops and grabbed 4 fumble recoveries.

S.C. had just two players on the KCAC 1st Team: Ernie Jahay-off. lineman and Sid Herd-place kicker. Those named for honorable mention were: Ralph Hanna-off. end, Willie Stokes-off. back, John Tuttle-off. back, Karl Kleeburg-def. lineman, Kelly Sieffes-def. back.

Prospects for next year look very good. The offense, while losing 6 starters to graduation will return 3 people in the backfield. Defense will return all 11 of its starters. It should be an impressive second season for Coach Phil Hower.

Cross Country Sees Young Squad

Southwestern’s 1977 cross country team could well be described as young and inexperienced, with only senior Donnie Davison, juniors Frank Davidson and Chris Downum, and sophomore Craig Wamsley having any cross country experience.

S.C. started on a bright note at the season-opener W.S.U. Invitational, finishing ahead of KCAC schools McPherson and Bethany. The next week the Builders travelled to Manhattan for the K.S.U. Invitational, competing against junior colleges and NCAA schools. After that, the team participated in the McPherson Invitational, where Davidson and Downum finished first and second. Davidson finished the five-mile course in 26 minutes 25 seconds and Downum was timed in 26:38, but their performances were not enough to stop the McPherson crew, as the Builders were second in that meet.

A fourth place finish at the Bethany Invitational, a second place finish at a home meet with the alumni and Emporia State, ninth in the Marymount Invitational and a loss to Pittsburg State in a dual meet spelled an up and down season for the young team as they prepared for the KCAC championship meet at Salina, hosted by Kansas Wesleyan. There the Builders finished fourth with 79 points, trailing K.W.U., Bethany and McPherson. And although the team did not finish as high as they would have liked, the meet was in some ways a success, as most of the team members established personal best times for five miles. Another high point was the fact that Downum and Davidson gained all-KCAC honors by virtue of their respective seventh and eighth place finishes in the championship meet.
The Southwestern golf team participated in 10 regular season tournaments as well as the KCAC and District 10 tournaments. Coach Stephens lettered six this year: Seniors Paul Edens and Danny Lambing, Juniors Mike McDonald, Mark Turrentine and Bob Marsh, and Freshman Jerry Johns.
Women's Volleyball Ends Season

This year's women's volleyball team finished 9-13 and sixth place in conference play. Weaknesses in several key positions hurt the Builder women in their challenge for the conference championship this year. Six returning letterwomen filled spots at the front line and back row positions but the crucial spot of the setter was unfilled. Three girls, all returning, worked diligently through the two month season to fill the gap.

Becky Schroll was named to the All-KCAC squad and Lizzie Engelen earned honorable mention honors. Three S.C. women were named to the academic all-conference team: Seniors Grace Welch and Dar Richert and Junior Judy Kramer.

S.C. Loses K.C.A.C. In Heart Breaker

The women's tennis team of Southwestern College finished one point behind McPherson in the race for the 1977 KCAC crown. It was an exciting championship meet with the outcome decided by the final doubles match. Down 5-1 in the third set, Devee Keely and Jenny Hamilton rallied to even the games at 5 all before losing the last two games to lose the match. The 3 point first place win gave 19 points and the second place finish gave SC 18 points.

The number one SC doubles team of Esther Wilson and Nancy Mathews won the number one doubles in the KCAC and this qualified them to compete in the Kansas State A.I.A.W. Championship the week following the KCAC at Fort Hays State. They were the first SC Women's tennis team representatives to participate in the newly formed A.I.A.W. organization.

Other SC performers that finished well in the KCAC Championship were Esther Wilson, #2 singles champion; Devee Keely, #4 singles champion; Jan Kraus, #3 singles runner-up; and Cindy Holt, #5 singles runner-up. In doubles play the team of Jan Kraus and Martienne Brown won the #2 doubles crown.

SC finished the year with an 11 win 4 loss record. Besides competing against the KCAC Colleges, they also met such teams as Oklahoma University, WSU, Baker University, and Washburn College.

Men’s Tennis Ties For Fourth

The men’s tennis season started with a loss to Kansas State University, and losses to perennial KCAC powers Bethany and McPherson. By the time play began with other conference teams, the dual record was 0-4. From that point on the SC net men rolled past all the remaining KCAC teams, as well as non-league contenders, to end the regular season at 10-4 in dual matches. In the Conference tournament SC tied with Sterling College for fourth place. Bethany won the tournament with McPherson and Bethel finishing second and third, respectively.

Top players for SC were Ron Fish, Ken Kraus, Jeff Norris, David Herrin, David King, and Dennis Smith. Fish and Kraus competed as one of the best doubles teams in the conference. They finished the season 11-4 in number one doubles play. Norris and Smith made up number two doubles and Herrin and Courtney paired midway through the season to win 8 of 10 matches in number three doubles.

Ron Fish and Ken Kraus were named to the 12-man all-conference team. Ron played at number one singles. Ken, playing at number two singles, compiled the best individual season mark with an 11-6 record.

The team loses four to graduation this year, starters Fish, Kraus, and Smith as well as Don Courtney. Jeff Norris, David Herrin, and David King will be returning along with a fine group of underclassmen to anchor next year’s team.

After being a unanimous pre-season pick to win the KCAC, the Builders opened the season against defending District 10 champions, Emporia State. The experts appeared to be correct in their predictions as Southwestern won its season opener, 74 to 71.

The Builder five then proceeded to find out how tough it is to win on the road, dropping four in a row to Northwestern State at Alva, Baker, Washburn and Northeast Missouri State.

Finally, returning home to open the conference schedule against Friends, S.C. won this contest 83 to 76 only to lose at home three nights later to Tabor. The Builders then travelled to Newton to find the Bethel Threshers too tough to handle, losing their second straight conference game.

The Christmas tournament proved to be no encouragement either. The team lost two straight games bringing the season record to a disappointing 2 and 8.

Regrouping, readjusting and becoming even more determined than ever, the Builders opened the new year and apparently new season with a record-breaking victory at Sterling 112 - 97.

With an exciting overtime win against McPherson followed by a victory at St. Mary, the stage was set for the all-important game against league-leading Bethany. Playing one of their best games of the season, the Moundbuilders came away from Lindsborg with an impressive 88 - 78 victory. S.C.'s leading scorer, Ray Potter, had a staggering 30 point night. The Builders returned home to squeak through two overtime battles. The first, an 86 - 84 victory over K.W.U. and the second a 103 - 95 win over Friends.

Trent Weaver led the Builders to the seventh straight victory at home against Bethel to avenge the earlier loss. Traveling to Tabor two nights later proved to be a stumbling block despite Steve Wilke's hot hand. S.C. lost that hard-fought battle, 71 - 72.

The Builders rebounded from that disappointing road loss and downed Sterling 102 - 78 and then McPherson 102 - 84. Peterson turned in a season high performance of 29 points against that tough McPherson team.

Southwestern defeated a stubborn St. Mary crew, 82 - 79 to set the stage for a rematch with Bethany. Both teams came in to the contest with identical 11 - 3 conference records.

With the entire team turning in top performances, the game belonged to S.C. from the first tip-off. Paul Wilke put the game out of reach and electrified Stewart Field House with a slam dunk in the final minutes. The final score saw S.C. 16 points out in front, 89 - 73.

S.C. had to win the final game against K.W.U. to clinch the KCAC crown. The squad fought back from a 10 point halftime deficit to win the game and conference championship, 86 - 84.

At the District 10 play-offs S.C. drew one of the best teams in the state and one that had met and defeated them previously. Washburn entered the game against Southwestern a 17 point favorite. The Builders denied all predictions, though, by dominating the backboards, out-hustling Washburn and walking away with an impressive 70 - 67 upset victory. But the season came to an end one game later as Marymount, ranked fifth nationally, proved too hot to handle. S.C. became the Spartans 100th straight home court victory.

Women's Basketball

Five seniors and eight returning letterwomen provided the nucleus that carried Southwestern's women's basketball squad to a 14-5 finish and third place in the KCAC. Three junior college transfers and three freshman rounded out the team. Injuries played a role in this year's season. Two women, injured before Christmas, were greatly missed.

The high point of the season came when the S.C. women met and defeated St. Mary in Dodge City. Until that time the Saints had been undefeated in conference play.

The season ended with a third place finish in the conference and Dar Richert and Joy Lewellen being named to the all KCAC roster.

It all boils down to sheer effort at the jump line.

Many of the members of this 1978 men’s track team saw their first year of college competition this year. With only eight upperclassmen; two sophomores, three juniors and three sophomores, the balance of the twenty-three member squad was made up of freshmen. It was this inexperience and a number of injuries that hindered the squad.

But even with age as a factor the members of the team performed well in individual and relay events. They competed in eight meets throughout the season including two indoor meets at Pittsburgh and hosting two meets: the S.C. Relays and the KCAC League Meet. S.C. placed fifth in that league meet.

This is Duane Rankin’s last year as head track coach as Winfield High coach Jim Helmer takes over the reins of his alma mater.

THIS YEAR

FACULTY
Board Makes Use Of Title III Funds

The CWC program was started in 1972, with the awarding of a U. S. Office of Education Grant under the Title III Act offering $175,000 in funds to the Cooperating Winfield Colleges, St. John's and Southwestern, to develop programs for improving educational opportunities at both campuses while utilizing the resources of both without duplication.

These grants, known as basic institutional improvement grants, were for emerging institutions to gain a better opportunity of serving their students. The initial thrust was to combine Library services, band, orchestra, and certain of the academic programs.

The 41 member Board, 94% of which are SC alumni, has been concerned with organizing the use of these funds in order to meet the needs of an outstanding educational institution.

Dr. Ruthenberg, President of the College (Right and Below), addresses the executive council of the Board of Trustess in a spring meeting.
The Office of the Dean: Dr. J. Hamby Barton and Assistant Dean Dr. Benn Gibson work on a few of the many pressing matters that flow through this office.

The Rev. Richard B. Wilke, senior minister at the First United Methodist Church, Wichita, delivered the baccalaureate sermon. His topic was “Rediscovering the Beyond.” His son Steve is graduating with a degree in psychology.

Wilke, a member of the Southwestern College Board of Trustees, is widely known as a preacher, Bible teacher and popular public speaker. He is the author of three books published by Abingdon Press.

A former Winfield district superintendent of the Kansas West Conference, United Methodist Church, Wilke was awarded an honorary Doctor of Human Letters in 1976 by Southwestern College. He and his wife Julia also have two daughters and a son Paul who is a sophomore at S.C.

Rev. Wilke delivers his sermon “Rediscovering the Beyond.”

Rev. Glenn C. Weinert (left) read from Psalm 8 for the Scripture Lesson. Rev. Weinert’s son, Lyle, graduated as a scholar of the college. The invocation was delivered by Rev. Calvin Hartman (right). His son Craig was also in the graduating class.
A Cappella Choir provided a Concert Program for the Baccalaureate Service.
Comencement 1978

Dr. Barton makes the presentation of seniors.

Junior Marshalls Marilyn Magnusson and Chris Downum lead the seniors of 1978 to the commencement exercises.
Rev. Melvin L. Short, district superintendent of the Wichita District, United Methodist Church, was the commencement speaker. His topic was "Through the Looking Glass." He addressed the 197 graduating class which included his son Steve, president of the senior class.

Dr. Ruthenberg conferred degrees to 115 graduating seniors.

Something seems to have taken Ann Richardson's and Jean Rhea's attention.
Mike McStravog looks through the commencement program.

Dr. Joe Riley Burns, Melvin Short, Dr. Gwen Nelson, and Dr. Ruthenberg chat before ceremonies begin.

And so this year, 1977-78, comes to a close. It was the hope of this staff to catch, on these pages, a glimmer of the light that has shown from this campus. To the graduates, we wish you well. To those who remain, we welcome the coming of another year to get to know you a little better.
