WINFIELD, KANSAS, MONDAY, MAY 16, 1960

HAPPILY FACING the future, diplomas in hand, are these senior class officers at Southwestern college. They are among the nearly 1,-000 young people in Winfield and surrounding area who will receive diplomas in the coming weeks. In this 1960 graduation issue of The Courigr appear dates and speakers for commencement programs of the 2 colleges, 14 high schools, and a number of 8th grades in this area. In addition, all the nigh school classes are pictured. In today's classified section appear the "situation wanted" ads run free of charge for graduates, as a service to try and keep them at home. The SC senior officers pictured are, from left: Larry Williams, vice-president, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross O. Williams, Winfield; Mariana Waite, secretary-treasurer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Waite, Blackwell; and Sandra Focht, president, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Magness, Wichita. (Fogerty photo)

Seniors Present Road Signs

The city of Winfield as well as Southwestern college was honored this morning in the memorial gift presented to Southwestern by members of the 1960 graduating class.

Sandra Focht, Wichita, presiment of the senior class, presented Dr. C. Orville Strohl with a $400 cash gift to be used in erecting permanent road signs on each of the 4 major highway entrances to Winfield. These signs, to be constructed of metal, will announce location, name, age, and other pertinent information concerning Southwestern college.

The award was made during the 21st annual Cap and Gown day convocation held in Richardson auditorium at 10 a.m. today. Dr. Jack Howe, director of forensics, was in charge of the academic procession which originated at Memorial library and proceeded up the "77 Steps" into the auditorium.

Dr. Price Speaks

Emory Fanning, organist, played "Fantasia" by Pachelbel for the prelude and Handel's "Processional in G Major" for the processional, Franklin Smith, Lyons senior, gave the invocation. Dr. Strohl introduced Miss Focht, who gave the speaker's introduction. Dr. Robert Price, assistant professor of psychology, was keynote speaker. Chosen by the senior class to make the senior day address, Dr. Price discussed "Who Am I?"

Miss Focht presented the lighted Southwestern torch representing the "honesty, integrity, academic endeavor and Christian ideals for which Southwestern has stood" to Joe Anderson, Kiowa, president of the junior class, who accepted the challenge of leadership and responsibility for the seniors of 1961. Harlan Rittgers, Wichita senior, gave the benediction. The senior processional was climaxed with the May graduates singing the "Alma Mater."

7/20 2

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1960, residing at Southwestern College, in the city of Winfield, county of Cowley, state of Kansas, being of lawful age, of sound and disposing mind and memory, and not under any restraint, do hereby make public and declare this to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking and/or all former wills by us made.

First. We direct that all our debts, including funeral expenses, be paid by our executors, the Juniors.

Second. We appoint said Freshman Class so executrix of this, our last will and testament.

The seniors in Comparative Anatomy leave their cats to Slater Food Service. The debaters leave their meetings with the University of Kansas, the University of Nebraska, the University of Fittsburgh, and Netre Dame to the football squad.

The football squad leaves their protective padding to their girl friends.

The choir members leave the Winfield Transit Co. to the debaters.

The P. M. Club and the tennis squad leave their new-found knowledge that it's a woman's world.

Mary Lou Bauer leaves her ability to capture Student Council presidents to anyone who wants it.

Liz Miller leaves her ability to put her make up on quickly to Chrystal Kellogg. Cliff Conaway leaves his ability to make good grades to the football team. Glen Combs leaves his "vocabulary" to Vic Dellenbaugh. Chuck Martin leaves 30 pounds to Charlie Bond.

Billie Day leaves Campus-Y to the Christians.

Dave Brooks leaves his Volks-Wagon to Becky Hays.

Dean Mandrell just leaves.

Mooydeen Thayer leaves her ability to get along with Mrs. Skinner to next years freshmen.

Jim Miles leaves his vast theological library to Dr. Gray.

Mike Starnes leaves his art gallery to Dr. Witter. This way he won't have to ransack Broadhurst for pictures.

Harlan Rittgers leaves his art gallery to Mike Starnes.

John Prather and Alice Arnall leave their ability to vote no to next years student souncil.

Gary Barnhart leaves his "frustrations" to Gary Phillipi.

Ron Miller leaves his honors paper on John Wesley to Harold McCormick.

Larry Montgomery leaves the F. B. I. to J. Edgar Hoover. Leroy Bratten leaves his bareback bronc ability to Anita Graham. Carl Martin leaves his "little black book" to all of the Junior class boys. Rudy Dvorak leaves his football letter to Geri Kreihbeil. Barbara Heitschmidt leaves her coke franchise to Karen Jo Spicer.

Judy Charlton leaves her projects to Miss Schriver. Mary Lou Hughes leaves her heretofor unpublished memoirs of Washington semester to Confidential Magazine.

Steve Boles leaves his "I Like Ike" buttons to Dr. Haywood, and his copy of Nixon, Man of Destiny to Dr. Howe.

Ed Shubat and Wally Cromwell leave their membership in the armed forces to anyone - 10 wants them.

7/20 3

Lois Hoyt leaves her car to the insurance company.

Sue Murrell leaves the MSM to Jerry Drennan. Dave Nichols leaves his violin to next years student union manager, Larry Wade. Jerry Snyder leaves his record collection to Dr. Juergens. Kay Workman leaves peace of mind to the faculty. Sandy Focht leaves her speech courses to Garry Wade.

Dave Buehrens leaves Mr. McWhorter to the University of Kentucky. Yvonne Osgood leaves for Louisiana. Donnis Pettigrew Whaley leaves Christmas vacation to anyone who knows how to use it properly.

John Alquest leaves his 7:00 p. m. philosophy class to inmates of the state home. Bev Davis leaves her experiences at Southwestern to Mrs. Skinner.

Helen Green leaves the Moundbuilder to Jim Dunn. Fanny Lou Martin leaves her voice to Dwight Ramsey. Margaret Freemeyer and Rosie Smoot leave the future to the census bureau. Ralph Hanna leaves basketball to the WAA. Larry Williams leaves his male ping-pong balls to Dr. Laws.

Yoshiko Shiga leaves her perfect pitch to Ricky Nelson. Mari Waite leaves New Hall to the boys. Bob Palmer leaves his tennis racquet to the Brodie twing. Frank Smith leaves his humility to Al Lowe.

Signed and sealed this third day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine-hundred and sixty.

Alice Arnall, Witness John Frather, Witness

7/2 4

ART IS LONG and time is fleeting, but college pranks are enduring. A modern version was noted at Broadhurst hall, Southwestern college early Friday morning. Ted Osgood, sophomore from Florence, was paged in his room to answer the telephone at the desk. His surprise was exceeded only by his amazement to see his foreign import car parked in the lobby and decorated with a bowl of flowers placed on the top. He had left it parked on the east side of the hall and apparently it had gotten cold and come inside to get warm. The picture shows the car as it was being pushed through the doors and out on the sidewalk where Ted cranked it up and drove it away. (Whitson photo)

