

From Alumni Programs

Southwestern College fills a vital role in educating learners who come in search of knowledge and training so that they may go far in their lives. Students come to campus thinking that education is in the classroom but learning takes place everywhere.

As in years past with choir, leadership or campus ministry trips and Jan Term travel opportunities, SC continues to offer students a chance to experience life in other areas — and even make a difference.

Next year over spring break several Southwestern students plan to do volunteer work in the hurricane-ravaged Gulf region. Although final details of the mission work trip are not yet set, we want to get the word out now in hopes that some alumni might be able to volunteer to work alongside the students. If you are interested in this group effort and would like more details, please contact me at (620) 229-6334 or slowe@sckans.edu.

MARK YOUR CALENDAR

Saturday, April 8, 2006

Plan to be on campus for Founders Day. In addition to special Founders Day activities, worthy alumni will be recognized at the Business Hall of Fame, the Scholars Hall of Fame and the Educators Hall of Fame, all of which will take place that day.

More details for the day will be forthcoming in the spring issue of The Southwesterner.

ATHLETIC HALL of FAME

The Southwestern College Athletic Hall of Fame ceremony will take place on Feb. 4, 2006. Several outstanding athletic alumni will be recognized at that time and we hope you will be able to attend the celebration and stay for the basketball game following, which will continue the celebration of 100 Years of Basketball at SC, and will feature the 1960s basketball alumni.

This year's Athletic Hall of Fame inductees are Chuck Brass '70, Terry Driskell '86, Kyle Farrell '95, Al Holdeman '61, Anthony Jennings '91, and Kenny Mossman '81.

In Person or Online Cheer on the Moundbuilders

Alumni around the world now can participate in special events on campus, thanks to the Internet. The academic year will include dozens of Webcasts on www.moundbuilder.com. Sports events, weekly chapel services, performing arts events, and other activities can be heard live and in real time.

For more information concerning the schedule, contact Charles Osen, news bureau coordinator, at cosen@sckans.edu or (620) 229-6295.
