Mould-builder
1923

Foreword

The 1923 Moundbuilder has been compiled for every one interested in Southwestern College. It has been the aim of the staff to publish a book that will portray college life and activities in the truest possible manner to picture the college as it really is.

If these aims have been achieved to any extent it is due to the co-operation of the student body, faculty, the staff, photographers, engravers and printers.

To Dean Farnsworth, Helen Peter, and Ida Jacobus, the staff is grateful for the high type of art work which they have given; and sincerest appreciation goes to "Doc" Holm for the cartoons which appear.

Dedication

To Mr. Reed Cavitt, our custodian, one who has conferred a personal favor upon every Southwestern Student; one who, with his smile and cheerful greeting, has encouraged many a student to better things; one who is always willing to give his services to others; and one whose co-operation has greatly aided the staff.—The 1923 Moundbuilder is respectfully dedicated.

Greetings

Southwestern, thru the eleventh volume of the Moundbuilder, extends to you greetings. Within this book are assembled the photographs of the numerous resident members of the Southwestern Family, teachers and students, a family album. These faces mean much to us now, and will continue to mean much to us in the future. We are greatly indebted to the Moundbuilder Staff for putting them within our possession. Here also are the pictures and records which will keep fresh in our memories the toil and pleasures, the struggles and achievements of our college days. This volume presents evidence of the steady growth of our college. It is sent forth to the Alumni and to the Friends of the institution with warmest greetings and sincerest best wishes from those who are resident members of the Southwestern Family to all who have gone out from these halls of inspiration and of vision, and to all who have had a part, and to all who are to have a part, in creating The Greater Southwestern.

ALBERT E. KIRK, President

Front View of Richardson

A photograph does not visualize the inspiration gained as one approaches these numerous steps. So lofty and impressive in her height that the onlooker is reminded of the palace at Versailles.

Prexy's Home

Not a pretentious place, but a home which we love as the one of "Prexy" and Mrs. Kirk—a haven of refuge and welcome.

Night View of Smith

If only the pine tree could speak the words of admiration which have been uttered concerning the Hall he guards, the entire volume would be filled.

North Hall Path

Shadows linger, sunbeams flicker, on this path leading to North Hall.

The Pillars

Supports to the "temple of learning," one cannot but admire these great pillars.

Grace Church

As a contrast to the strenuous life of the student come the hours of worship in Grace Church—a place brought into existence by the needs of the students.

Baden Mill

What better place could students desire for moonlight picnics, hamburger frys, or egg roasts?

SIGMA PI PHI

A number of years ago, Sigma Pi Phi became a society in Southwestern College. Since that time, she has grown steadily until now her membership numbers over a hundred fifty.

Always the girls who have won the little crescent shaped pins have done their best that they might exemplify Friendship, Learning and Loyalty.

As the lovely rosebud gently unfolds its petals to the sunshine, so has Sigma gradually grown; but always during her growth this thought has been uppermost, "We must be friendly, we must be intellectual, we must be loyal."

In the line of forensics Sigma is never ashamed of her record. She always furnishes members for the girl's basketball team, and all other activities. Her dramatic ability is marked. With the help to the brother society, she has presented two plays which marked the climax for dramatics in Southwestern—"The Little Hunchback Zia" and "The Thirteenth Chair". Also an Operetta, the only one presented at the college this year—"The Chimes of Normandy."

During the school year, Sigma presents two medals—the Flemming medal, given for exceptional work along three different lines; and the debate medal, she also gives a prize of a ten dollar gold piece for oratory.

May Sigma ever strive onward, may her influences be as great in the future as it has been in the past and may we ever hear pealing o'er the campus her song:

Sigma's daughters in her hall,
With Song their voices raise;
Love for her to tell to all
Her fair name to praise.
Friendship, learning, loyalty,
Our watchword ne'er shall fail.
Guide us thru the years to be
Sigma Pi Phi Hail!

The Delphian Literary Society

Many a freshman of S. C., when called upon the first time to make a speech, or recite a poem has groaned in mental agony, and in his mind reiterated the words of the poet, "I would that my tongue could utter the thoughts that arise in me."

Four years later this same one-time freshman may be seen as he confidently mounts the platform in the hall that has now become dear to him. What a change; no longer does he stammer and shake with fright. No longer does he suffer from the lack of power to say the thing that is in his mind, but with the grace and dignity of a Demosthenes expounds the current topics of the day, conducts a session in parliamentary drill or comments upon the philosophy of Socrates.

You stare in amazement, you wonder, and finally ask what has brought about this transformation? Your answer is old, yet familiar, concise and laden with meaning. While you are still gazing bewildered and amazed and wondering if after all it is not a specter, there comes to your ear a sound, at first far off, indistinct and broken. As you listen there comes from some where borne on by the gentle breezes the dying notes of We-Wy-Wo--D-E-L-P-H-I. You have the secret. The transformation you have just witnessed is but another fulfillment of Delphi's motto: KNOW THYSELF. Through three years of Delphi guardianship that one time freshman has found, and come to know himself.

Delphi's ultimate aim is not only to help every man to discover his true worth, but to so equip him that he may use his abilities to the greatest advantage. To this end Delphi offers for highest literary attainment. To the man who makes the highest grade in three out of the four groups into which the literary work of the society is divided, is offered the Frazier medal. It is offered each year by Steve D. Frazier an honorary member of the society. Each year Delphi holds an oratorical contest the winner of which receives a gold medal. The White Trophy Ring is offered to the freshman who succeeds in obtaining the highest grades in the society programs. This is offered by H. Ogden White of the class of '18. Because of his intense desire to promote debate in Delphi, R. C. Kantz offers the Kantz medal for the winner of the freshman debate series.

Thus through her different kinds of literary work does Delphi each year prepare men for the big game of life. The game in which first of all one must know himself.

BELLES LETTRES

Belles Lettres, the first literary society for young women in Southwestern, was founded thirty-three years ago. In 1893 she became sister society to Athens. The two societies meet in the same hall, but on different nights. When Richardson was completed in 1910, Belles and Athens were assigned to the present Belles-Athenian Hall, in the south-east room of the second floor.

The Belles Lettres girl receives training in all phases of college life. School forensics have always counted Belles among their members. One of the society's best pianists served for two years as instructor in piano in the Fine Arts Department. In dramatics numerous Belles have been active participants. In conjunction with Athens, two additional dramatic events showed Belles talent, "The Charm School" and "Pomander Walk". The editor of the Collegian, and the Moundbuilder and the Freshman Queens are both Belles. One of the entrants to the Order of the Mound this year represented Belles. The society membership is also active in Y.W.C.A. and other religious activities. As to athletics, four of the nine women to receive basket ball letters this year are active members of Belles Lettres.

For the special benefit of the underclassmen society contests are given in debate, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, piano, voice, drama, and reading. Only freshmen and sophomores are eligible in these contests. Gold and silver B's are given for first and second places in each event. The greatest day of the year is the annual Belles-Athenian Day held on April 21 this year. The day as it is called, is a Home-coming Day for former members, and is celebrated from early morning until the play in the evening closes the day.

For social development, the society includes in its year's program; frolics, surprises, formal receptions, and a banquet.

Belles Lettres has always held to her purpose, the development of the finest ideal of womanhood, the pure refined, yet thoroughly active and normal Southwesterner.

THE ATHENIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

As valuable as carpenter's tools are to his trade are the experience and training afforded by Athens to the college man who desires to leave Southwestern equipped with ability that will meet the demands of a life occupation.

Classroom education has its limits of utility, and to the careful efforts of the various societies, with the influence of close, helpful fellowship, is left the development of the literary talent in the men who enter Southwestern.

For forty-four years Athens has been a part of Southwestern. Athens pioneered the men's literary society movement and since its organization in 1889 has always held a high place as an active, constructive society of sincere men, striving to attain the ideal of a well proportioned life.

Athenians have won many places of honor and merit in Southwestern and the Honor Page is a testimony of the part Athens takes in Southwestern's activities.

As an added incentive for participation in literary society work, Athens offers each year a gold medal in oratory, debate, dramatics and music, and a silver medal for second place in oratory and debate. Each of these departments are supervised by a chairman who devotes his entire time encouraging and helping under-classmen who are interested in these particular subjects.

Not only does Athens encourage literary work but general scholarship is emphasized. The Cap and Gown of Athenian succession is voted to the senior member whose scholarship and general service to the society is most worthy of recognition.

Through banquets, luncheons, receptions and surprises, Athens furnishes pleasant social life and development, and with Belles Lettres, the sister society, a spirit of friendship is fostered.

A feeling of brotherhood cultivated through the heat of literary competition and close association is remembered long after other college ties are forgotten. The prospective Athenian does not need a record. Everyone stands in Athens as equal in opportunity and as a society it looks toward the future.

THE MOUND BUILDER

COACH WILLIS S. BATES

Ranking among the best in this part of the country, not only in the minds of the students of Southwestern but in the opinion of the foremost athletic critics of the state, is Coach Willis ("Bill") Bates. In order that formality might be paid its dues the college authorities have seen fit to brand him with the title of Director of Athletics, but in the minds of the students he is known as "Coach Bill" and that's all, but incidentally that means a great deal. He possesses not only a very definite knowledge of all lines of athletics but possesses also a rare combination of personality, energy and push. And by the way his middle name is Sherman.

GLEN "PEG" HAMILTON

Hamilton served efficiently and faithfully in the capacity of assistant coach during the first semester. "Peg" as he was known to all the students was in former days a goal shooter of uncanny ability—a shining light on several Southwestern basket ball fives. He was extremely popular with the men working under him and at the same all times held their respect.

ARTHUR "OX" KHALER

Captain Kahler of the 1922 foot ball eleven possesses all the essentials characteristics of a good captain. He was a fast, powerful player, a natural leader of the men on the gridiron and a man whose actions on the field brought out the highest regard from all who saw him play, even the officials.

Foot Ball Review--Season 1922

When the Purple and White warriors trotted onto the field for the first practice, last fall "things looked as bright as the noonday sun." Nine letter men, a wealth of new material and a first class coach—what more could be hoped for?

And they came through. Not with an undefeated record but with more writing in their win column than on the other side of the ledger. A rather poor start, a whirlwind, yes, even a cyclone finish, characterized the season.

First came the Phillips U. game resulting in a 13-7 disaster for the Builders. As it was a non-conference game, the game was scheduled more for the purpose of testing the individual strength of the men rather than anything else.

Then came the Builder debut into the Kansas Conference. After a game with the scrappy Sterling eleven, Southwestern, emerged with a 10-0 victory.

Following two weeks of secret practice came the annual Southwestern-Fairmount clash. Time and time again the Builders threatened to score but the Shockers, who were always on the defense were able to hold off the Builders the entire game without a score. So the game ended 0-0, favor of—well, Fairmont says it was in favor of them. They were slated to loose and when they were able to hold the Builders to a tie they were greatly elated.

The next week closed with another tie, this time with College of Emporia, 7-7. A hard fought game showing a slight Builder superiority.

But it was the C of E game that caused the Builders to sustain several rather serious injuries and consequently when they met the championship Baker eleven the next week, they were rather severely beaten 27-0, the first Conference loss sustained by the Builders.

The fast and powerful Emporia Normal Yellowjackets were also a little too much for the Builders and accordingly they administered the Builders their second and final defeat of the season, 41-13.

From here on out, the Builders went like the proverbial "house afire". The four remaining games were all Builder victories by rather safe margins.

THE MOUNDBUILDER

Although still somewhat crippled they tore through the Pittsburg defense to a 13-6 victory.

And then the big dope upset. Using straight foot ball the Builders humiliated Friends, 22-0. It was after this game that an important foot ball critic of the state ventured the opinion that were the Builders to play the Normal Yellowjackets the coming week, he "would look for a mighty close game."

The Terrible Swedes were hardly as terrible as might be imagined from the sound of their name. After a little difficulty they were defeated, 10-6.

In due commemoration of Thanksgiving Day and in order to close the season with a victory, the Builders snatched a victory from the jaws of seeming defeat, at McPherson, 12-6.

On the whole a successful season, one of which, to feel justly proud.

THE MOUNDBUILDER

GEORGE GARDNER

Although basket ball is his specialty, his side-line is foot ball and at end he ranks among the best of them. He is able to snag a pass from the air like a bull frog snatches flies. He finished his second and last year on the Builder "varsity" this fall.

FENTON "MAC" Mc ALLISTER

Two years on the "varsity" is "Mac's" foot ball record at Southwestern. A good quarter with a marvelous pass. He has been known to knock the date off a dime at fifty yards, with a foot ball. An old Blackwell High star.

EARL "HENDY" HENDERSON

Another man from Winfield High who by means of his fleetness and hard playing landed a regular berth at end, his first year in college.

THE MOUNDBUILDER

THE MOUND BUILDER

HOWARD "HAM" HAMMOND

At half and quarter he played a fast and heady game, his first year at Southwestern. His ability to return punts was his specialty. He "Hangs his hat" in Blackwell.

CAPTAIN ARTHUR "OX" KAHLER

Kahler has finished four glorious years on Builder elevens. He is large and fast and a terrific hitter. Twice Southwestern captain and once "all state" captain. A tackle that is hard to beat. Arkansas City is the place of his nativity.

LUTHER "LUTE" BRICKEY

Old "tear 'em up" Brickey made his first letter in foot ball this season, after fighting every inch of the way. He certainly lived up to his name. Time and time again he literally tore the opponents line into shreds.

THE MOUNDBUILDER

THE MOUNDBUILDER

HERSCHEL "HERSCH" CORNWELL

Captain (elect) Cornwell has twice been awarded a letter in foot ball. A large rangy man hailing from Anthony. He was possibly the most versatile man on this years team. Both end and tackle he filled, alternately, with considerably more than moderate success. A man that next year's team will follow to the last ditch.

CARROLL "RED" SMITH

This year finished "Red's" second year as a Builder regular center. He has a pass from center that is as accurate and snappy as any in the conference, and is a hard fighter with plenty of natural ability. Blackwell claims him.

SEACHARDT "FAT" REINHARDT

He was a fighting, plunging half back who hailed from Bison, out in the short grass country, but he certainly lugs a mean ball.

THE MOUND-BUILDER

THE MOUND BUILDER

REX BLOXOM

A full back who fought through several seasons on second teams and the like; but last year at Southwestern he fought like a demon and earned his place on the varsity.

KISER

This boy comes from Sedgwick, which is not much of a town; but if they have many more football players up there like this one, they could turn out a real team. Half back was his position.

BILL HENDERSON

A veritable flash is a true characterization for this lad from Spring Township. He played at end where speed and endurance are chief factors in success.

"A. J." CHEATUM

A product of McQuery from Kingman. His second season at guard and tackle proved him to be a man of utmost value to almost any college eleven.

THE MOUNDBuilder

THE MOUNDBUILDER

RUSSEL "RUSTY" SMITH

At guard and center he played a hard game all season. He came up from Winfield High and through his marvelous playing and persistency he made the Builder varsity the first year.

HENSHAW

Guard and tackle were his positions. He filled either one in great style. He comes from Winfield High.

BOYD RODERICK

A few years ago this massive guard was with us and made a wonder-record. This year he was back, and maintained an enviable record the entire season.

CHARLES "STONEY" WALL

A man with a wonderful reputation, from Missouri Military Academy who more than lived up to his reputation, his first year on a Builder eleven. He was one of the hardest full backs in the state, to stop, and his toe might well be called educated. One of his most phenomenal place kicks of the season, he booted from a mere 48 yards.

Basket Ball Review--Season 1923

The past number of years Southwestern has without exception produced a basket ball team whose records have hardly been excelled anywhere, and the team turned out the past season did admirably well in holding up the record.

With the passing of two great forwards, such as Reif and Gardner, from the ranks, serious doubt began to raise in the minds of the more pessimistic, as to the possibilities of the Builder Quintette again pulling through another successful season. As to the center and guard positions their appeared no doubt, as last years regulars, Kahler, Smith and Cairns, were all back to once more fill these positions. So well did Jimmie Gardner, Earl Henderson and Bill Henderson, fill in the forward positions, between themselves, that the loss of the veteran forwards of last year did not seem so great.

When the conference closed the records showed that Southwestern had won seventeen out of eighteen games and incidently a state championship.

Besides this record in the Conference, the Builders were able to annex two games from Texas University, one from the Kansas Aggies and two from St. John College; not to mention the National Tournament where they went to the third round only to be stopped by the fast traveling Hillyards.

ARTHUR "OX" KAHLER

Another very deserving all state man. At center he played a fast floor game both on the offence and defence. Absolutely the best in the state.

HARRY DUNN

During the entire season he was always up and coming every minute that he played. Guard was his position.

EARL HENDERSON

At forward he proved a fast and valuable man on the Builder Quintette during the first year at Southwestern.

CAPT. (ELECT) JAMES "JIMMIE" GARDNER

One of the classiest fastest forwards in the conference. He upheld the "family" record in true Gardner style. All State.

EDMUND "CHOP" CRIRNS

Beyond doubt the fastest traveling guard in this state and several others. His free throwing ability has been seldom excelled. Undoubtedly one of the most brilliant basket ball players that ever entered the portals of Southwestern College. All State Captain.

GEORGE GARDNER

George played four years on the "Varsity" and altho was not eligible to play the conference games this year traveled with the team to Kansas City and there again displayed his unusual ability.

CAPT. BOYD "TOY" SMITH

A real guard and a real captain. His natural ability and whole-hearted earnestness can hardly be overlooked. His high school career was at Winfield High.

BILL HENDERSON

A fast man on the floor. The first year at Southwestern he shared the other forward position in a style which ranked well up in the conference.

BASE BALL SQUAD

Unless serious difficulties arise we can hardly prophecy anything but a successful season for Southwestern, in base ball. Our material is as good if not better than in former years. An enviable record will undoubtedly be established by the Builder nine. Two teams are out for practice every night and competition is keen for positions on the first squad.

TRACK SQUAD

Although several of last years track stars are not with us again this year, several high school stars are stepping in and taking their places so that the team strength is not weakened materially. Our prophecy is a successful season.

TENNIS SQUAD

The past winter has hardly been cold enough to prevent at least some of the more enthus tennis devotees from indulging in their favorite pastime. Consequently the tennis ability in Southwestern has been developoing all winter so that our opponents in the net contest this year should expect some stiff competition.

GIRL'S BASKET BALL

Although very little attention is paid to Girl's Basket Ball in the Kansas Conference, the past year it received unusual prominence at Southwestern. Indeed it would have been a shame to have allowed such ability as was displayed by the Builder Maids, this year, to remain latent. Out of eight games scheduled with the Alva Normal and Phillips University, the Builder Sextette succeeded in annexing five out of the eight. A record of which we are all proud.

Director, PROFESSOR BROWN
Secretary, OLIVE MILLER

Manager, ELSIE HARRIS
Treasurer, LUCILLE EASTER

The Ladies Glee Club is one of the outstanding organizations in the department. This year an unusually fine program has been arranged consisting of solo, trio, quartette, and chorus numbers. Their appearance never fails to be enthusiastically received. Too much cannot be said for the Director, Prof. Brown, he has worked in a masterful and yet delightful manner that the training has been altogether enjoyable.

THE MOUND BUILDER

Men's Glee Club

Membership is open to students from all departments who show a certain degree of musical ability and general capabilities. A splendid group was developed this year under the leadership of Professor Brown.

A Violin Quartet is annually chosen from the members of the violin class. The quartet meets twice a week for rehearsals and makes a detailed study both of the principles of ensemble playing and of numerous master works adapted to the use of a group of this type. The development to be gained from this work is for the serious violinist immeasurable.

VIOLIN CHOIR

A recent valuable addition to the work of the Violin Department is the Violin Choir of twenty players. Violin students who are technically prepared are admitted to membership as a regular part of their work in the department. Regular rehearsals are held and programs by the choir are frequently presented. While the department of finished ensemble is the ideal for this work, the members derive much pleasure and benefit from the study of the master-works which are by this group.

THE MEN'S QUARTETTE

The Southwestern male quartette is selected during the fall of each school year from the Men's Glee Club by the director of that organization.

The major function of the quartette has always been that of advertising the college over the Southwest Kansas Conference, principally through the summer vacation; this year, however, a full program, worked up in the early part of the year, made possible an exceptional number of appearances during the course of the school year.

A program of unusual variety is the claim of the present quartette. In addition to the usual vocal quartettes, duets, and solos, they offer trombone and violin numbers, readings, and impersonations. One of the features of their entertainment is Mr. Piper in his clever Scotch impersonations, songs, and readings.

Men's Quartette

This quartette, organized in the spring of the year promises to be one of the most interesting ones sent out by the college. Each individual being capable of carrying a heavy part in almost any kind of program, makes a double assurance of the high type of programs which will be rendered. A variation of the type on numbers rendered in the best possible manner is the aim of the men. A rather heavy season is planned for this organization, and their work is sure to meet with success.

THE COLLEGE SEXTETTE

The Southwestern College Sextette was organized by Professor Fioramonti at the beginning of this school year. The personnel was chosen from his private students and represent the star soloists of his very large class.

They first worked on the Sextette from Lucia D'Lammermoor by Donizetti and after some few months were able to render this number so pleasingly and in such a masterly way as to put them in great demand by the public. Programs were given in several towns and cities nearby and the Winfield Rotary Club invited them to be their guests as a convention in Ardmore, Okla. Their programs were made up of solos, duets and ensemble from the world's greatest masterpieces of music.

Professor Fioramonti has done Southwestern College great honor with his sextette.

CAMPUS PLAYERS

MUSINGS

'Most every gang in school, I ween,
Put on a play in 1919.
A galaxy of stars' appeared;
Miss Martha Lee—she copped them—geared
Them all into one or bit. "Say!—
How those Campus Players play!"
Thrilled all Southwestern on the day
Of "Servant in the House".
Did then six actresses and actors nine extol
The Muse with sips of tea
Then set about to raise some wigs
Some drops and wings, flood-lights and rigs—
And so they played "The Melting Pot."
(Departing Seniors chose the roll).
So, Their Beginning, even now—
The Campus Players make their bow—
With "Billy" and with "Mice and Men"
They played "The Mob" with fury—then
"The Doll's House" by that Ibsen guy,
And "Rivals" with its humor high.
The "Big Idea" split the blocks,
And "Milestones" grazed the orthodox.
You'd like to know what's Cummings next?
It's hard to tell—now don't be vexed—
For Piper Carey's up on Deck
The only Dettler in the Crowd;
He has a Crick within his Beck
And waves his Hankins—shouts about
With Rutledge, Shuler, Herrington—
"The Campus Players have their fun
In playing what you what in rhyme,
In prose, in verse, or pantomime.
We'll play the saint, or sage, or dunce.
And tackle anything once!"
I guess that's Aller for this time.

THE SEASON'S RECORD

All-Stars, 0; Yahoo, Arkansas, 0.
All-Stars, 3; Punkin Center, 2.
All-Stars 6, Skeeter Cotrners, 3.
All-Stars, 2; Bow-wows, Tennessee, 2.

Through an ever victorious season against strenuous opposition and with the overwhelming scores indicated above the immortal, illustrious and dazzling (self styled) All-Stars this year experienced a season of unqualified success that dwarf into insignificance any record ever hung up by that aggregation in past years. Besides the victories indicated above a picked team of All-Stars won a unanimous decision from the Bellow rumpus rook squad.

To commemorate and celebrate the successful termination of the season the gallant gentlemen with their charming All-Staressees banqueted together in the fifth floor of North Hall on the night of February 12th. With the grim reminder of opponents laid the brave warriors and fair maidens quaffed and ate in resplendor. The elaborate menu prepared speaks well for the enterprise of the flunkies (a few of whom may be seen cowering in the background) who next year will be full fledged gridsters.

THE "S" CLUB

Feeling the need of a permanent organization of those men who had received letters in athletics from Southwestern, a number of those interested began a movement which culminated in the drawing of a constitution and a ratification of the same by all of the letter men of the school and the founding of an established order named the "S" Club.

The constitution of the same provides that the secretary keep in touch with all old "S" men, who automatically become members of the Club, sending them season tickets for all athletic events and inviting them to the annual Home Coming celebration when the year's business shall be transacted.

The Club shall hold its initiation of new members on the spring of each school year and thereafter a banquet in honor of the "S" men, as many of the Alumni as possible attending as well as the active members. The first banquet held April 9, 1923, drew together a large number of the men and was a decided success.

The "S" Club was designed for the purpose of stimulating interest in the type of men who are wearers for the "S" and there by making the "S" of greater value to those who are so fortunate as to have received the same. It intends to hold together in one large family the wearers of the "S"

ROOTER'S CLUB

Intermingling with the seemingly dull routine of Class-work and undiluted study are the eruptions of pep and enthusiasm that mark college life as something more than a dirge of stenciled sluggish days.

To the Rooter's Club largely falls the responsibility of conducting the pep meetings, the victory parades, promoting special trains, maintaining the "Builder's Mound", and erecting other monuments to the memory of Southwestern's forensic and athletic teams.

The Rooter's Club sponsors anything and everything that will help "Southwestern Conquer" as long as it is within the bounds of good sportsmanship.

Joyce Ewan, veteran cheer leader of four seasons, concludes his career this year and it has largely been through his persistent efforts during this time that "Southwestern Enthusiasm" has become recognized and envied by a majority of the schools in the Kansas Conference.

The officers of the club for the past year were: PHIL McMULLEN, President; JOYCE EWAN Cheer Leader; MIKE LINTHICUM, Asst. Cheer Leader; BILL CALLAHAN, REX BLOXOM and PAUL RUTLEDGE, Executive Council; MARJORIE SWITZER, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Pep Pilots

We, the thirty-three Pep Pilots are. As a freshman organization under the auspices of the Rooters Club, we initiate pep, enthusiasm, spirit, and interest. It matters not by what means we do this, whether it is by a fight, a paddle, a song, or a uniform of white and with purple sashes and inserts, we use it.

We have as a chief Bob Brooks, the Cheer-leader of our calss. He leads us, we lead the crowd--and that's the game.

After the class-scrap of next fall we will surrender our organization to the newly initiated Frosh, and they will carry on the good work for the glory of Southwestern.

"Follow, follow, follow the Gleam of the light that shall bring the dawn."

To follow the gleam of the light of four fold living has been the purpose of the Young Women's Christian Association in Southwestern College. Standing in the midst of the busy activities of a hurried college the Y.W. has thrown out the challenge to face life squarely and has been rewarded with a membership of three hundred and sixty girls. This membership with the leadership of the cabinet has accomplished real things during the past year.

In the summer the membership and Big Sister Committee get in touch with the incoming Freshmen. The big "Get Acquainted" party together with the "Y.W.-Y.M." Mixer helped to dispel the clouds of homesickness. Other social activities were featured during the year. These included, the Senior Luncheon, a Tea for the high School Conference, and an all school party in honor of the foreign Student Delegation.

This year through a gift from the estate of Mrs. Smith the Association was able to refurnish the rest-room. This room is in constant use and is one of the most attractive spots of the college.

The world fellow-ship committee has supervised the raising of the last of a fifteen hundred dollar pledge to our Sister College, Hua Nang at Foochow, China and a fifty dollar pledge to the Union College of the Orient. The Y. W., together with the Y. M., sent twelve hundred dollars to European Students.

The social Service Committee has been most efficient this year in the work at the Mexican Settlement, the Jail, and the poor farm. The Y. W. was represented on six gospel teams which visited neighboring towns during Christmas vacation. The girls did splendid work with the high school girls of the committees.

And there is more! Thirteen girls there last year and more planning to go next August. It was a great Conference. This has been a great year. Let's go next year! Follow the Gleam!

The Young Men's Christian Association holds in its membership a large majority of the men of Southwestern. This live active and democratic organization, together with the Y.W.C.A., heads up the religious activities of the College.

It is the purpose of this happy brotherhood to develop the highest type of Christian character, to aid men in finding themselves, and prepare broadminded, constructive citizens who will stand for what is good in the world.

Every Wednesday morning a devotional, inspirational and practical service is held. The aim being to study Christ's way of life, to broaden the outlook of the new, to be open minded and face the problems of to-day squarely. Ben Cherrington, International Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., Evans Worthley of Methodist commission of life service, Dr. Winfield Scott Hall, Rev. Jones of Wichita, Palechek of Prague, Robson of Lincoln School of Economics, and Friedrich of Germany, George Pratt Jr. of New York and Edgeworthy and Hartford of State Staff are the speakers from out of town who have challenged the men with their responsibility as state and world citizens.

Forums lead by both students and outside speakers on such issues as scholarship, athletics, cribbing, human selection, race, war, etc. have had a prominent part in the success of the year in the endeavor to have real fellowship and understanding.

The Annual Stag Watermelon feed and the joint reception with the Y.W.C.A. started the year right and gave the new students an introduction to college life, banished the blues, and gave them an interest in Southwestern. The hand books put out by the Y.M. and Y.W. helped to welcome the newcomers and to acquaint them with the history and activities of the school.

The work of the committees has been an uplifting influence in the school and community. The regular visits to the Mexicans, the poor farm, and jail, have been well worth while. The aid given to students seeking employment, the work with the boys of the town, the work of the gospel teams and the discussion groups have their rich rewards.

Twenty-two men were privileged to attend the conference at Estes Park last summer. The effects of those delightful ten days of inspirational and visions have been seen in the individual lives of the men and also in the work of the association. At least that number will go again this year.

The Association believes the application of Christ's Principles is the solution not only of individual but national and world problems. Thus with Christ at the center with an ever broadening vision, a marked lessening of prejudices and more intense desire to serve mankind, the Y.M.C.A. must meet the need of its members and present Christian leaders to the world.

The Southwestern Chemical Society was organized September 20, 1920 for the benefit of all those interested in further study of chemistry.

Study is made of current magazine articles and reports given before the society. This gives an opportunity for knowledge of development and discoveries in the vast chemical field long before they are published in the text-books.

Each member is assigned topics along the line in which he is especially interested and reports are made at each meeting of some new article read.

Some of the various subjects discussed were, current articles on Dyes and Dyestuffs, Cellulose, Rubber, The Electron Theory of valence, Molecular Structure and Transmutation of Metals, Immuno Chemistry, Electro Chemistry, and Biological Chemistry.

The Society is organized as a regular seminar class under the direction of Professor Oncley, head of the department and college credit is given for the work. At various times addresses are given by professors from other institutions, doctors of medicine or some one interested in the industrial development of chemistry. The officers for the past year were: CHAS. STEWART, President and ESTHER STORY, Sec-Treasurer.

The Southwestern Collegian

The Collegian is the official student publication of the college, issued every Thursday of the school year, in four-page newspaper style. It is supervised by the Collegian Board of Control, which is chosen by the Students Council according to class representatives. The editor and business manager and their associates are elected by the school at large, from nominees presented by the Board of Control. These officers chose the members of the staff from among those who have qualified for staff positions.

Our College

Banded together the faculty and the students of Southwestern form a large family whose influence is scattered thru out the land. Not only are the members in the United States but they will be found in all parts of the world.

This family, with a kind, farseeing, executive committee, to act as sponcer, is fastly growing into an invaluable institution. An institution that is striving to encourage better citizenship, by turning out manhood and womanhood versed in the true ideals of any democracy. To do this, training must be secured in all lines. And Southwestern, in the faculty has a group who, with their personal contact, is able to carefully and efficiently look after the students.

There are many dreams for the college; some have been realized, others are now maturing, and some are still to be secured. But nevertheless, Southwestern College is a place where true, wholesome opportunities are given towards social training, educational, and physical.

IN PREXY'S BARN

In Prexy's barn where the walls are bare
And big wide cracks let in cold air,
The All-Americans rage and tear
And hold their nightly Practice there,
In Prexy's barn.

In Prexy's barn where the weeds grow tall
Up through the cracks along the wall,
And grow so high they hide the ball
From Chop and Toy and Jim and all,
In Prexy's barn!

In Prexy's barn where the bright blue sky
One through the rafters can espy,
And when it storms the rain drives by
Till not a single board is dry.,
In Prexy's barn!

Yes, in that shabby old disgrace
The Builders oft have set a pace
Which crowds all comers from the race,
And at the top they've made a place,
In Prexy's barn.

But Prexy's barn must soon give way
To a fine new gym where the champs will play
The fans will go about their way
And not a kind, word will say
For Prexy's barn.

On Prexy's barn, I promise you,
When old bare walls have fallen through,
This legend bold as it is true
Will posted be, for public view,
On Prexy's barn.

"On Prexy's barn this word is set
Because we students soon forget,
We've got a better gym, you bet,
But not a better team as yet,
Since Prexy's barn."

TO A GRADUATE

The moment you've looked forward to for years—

At last has come; fulfillment of your dreams.

For you the distant future radiant gleams,
In which there is no semblance of fears.
And though its sad to part with friends grown
dear,

It's happy tears you shed to-day, I ween,
A gladness for their joy, like yours, serene,
Now that the golden day, at last, is here.
Commencement, word of such a deep import
That all who love you share your exulta-
tion;

Henceforth in life's great work you'll have a part,

All else that went before was preparation,
And may the hopes be all fulfilled, dear heart,
That life holds out to you at graduation.

THE COLLEGE GOBBLE-UM

One't they was a Sophomore, wouldn't study
books,

And when exams come hangin' round with awful looks,

The teachers heerd her holler, an' her room-
mates heerd her bawl,

But when the quizzes day was gone, her grades weren't there at all!

An' she raved at all th' assistants, an' the teachers an' the school,

An' wrote the folks some fearful tales
'bout friendships gittin' cool,

But all the grades she ever got was fours an'
thereabout:—

An' the flunk list'll git you

Ef you

Don't

Watch

Out!

An one time another stude 'ud allus laugh an grin,

An' joke about perfessors an' the fix he'd get 'em in;

An' one't when they was "Company" an'
visitors was there,

He faked it an' he bluffed it an' said he didn't care!

An' they chased away his boastin' an' he sorta flattened out:—

An' the flunk list'll get you

Ef you

Don't

Watch

Out!

An' Prexy's allus tellin' us in chapel talk,

When we've been foolin', how we should walk the chalk,

An' how we oughtn't never cut, an' how jist
every day

We ought to study faithful, an' not send thought away.

So you better watch yer lessons an' yer teachers fond and dear,

An' come in at ten-thirty, 'specially when the matron's near,

An' have yer books ready when quiz time comes about:—

Er the flunk list'll get you

Ef you

Don't

Watch

Out!

PROFESSOR MAC FARLANE

Head of the History Department of Southwestern College
Faculty Advisor to the 1923 Moundbuilder Staff

It is in Prof. Mac's classes that the students are compelled to stay awake because they are interested in what the Prof. is saying, they are afraid they will miss a good joke if they sleep. And then too, Prof. "Mac" is such a good friend to every one.

Prof. "Mac": "If any of the early settlers of Georgia were ancestors of yours, figure out which class you belong to—paupers, criminals, or dudes!"

Lrof. "Mac": "Phillip, what kind of a man physically was Charles I?"

Phillip Pond: "He was rather sickly because he died in bed."

Prof. "Mac": "What happened to this man you have been talking about?"

Laura J.: "They hung him on a pretext."

Prof. "Mac": "Some say diamonds aren't necessities but others disagree. How about it, Rymph?"

Levi blushed.

Prof. "Mac": "When you come to digging up your family tree you frequently find it like the potato—the best part under the ground."

Prof. "Mac": "Tell us about the Magna Carta, Rutledge."

Little Rut: "It was developed and brought to prominence under Prof. 'Jawn' "

Prof. "Mac": "Yes the world is getting better. You can go much faster in a car than you could in a buggy."

Innes: "Yes, but the horse knows the way."

Prof. "Mac": "These monks were jolly fellows. They were so lazy that the only exercise that they got was when they scratched themselves."

Prof. "Mac": "George II had one penetrating ambition. He was hardly like the blaise young man who was being extremely bored by an enthusiastic, energetic young person who was trying to find some channel of response. Finally the young lady, exhausting all her resources said, 'Tell me, didn't you ever have any one ambition that you just ached to fulfill?'

"Yes, I did. I always thot it would be lots of fun to throw an egg in an electric fan."

"Love is a funny thing, it makes folks think a lot of things they know isn't so."

"Laugh and grow fat, then grow fat and be laughed at—that's what they always told me but I struck a happy medium—now didn't I?"

"If it wasn't necessary for me to sleep so late, I might get to my eight o'clock class on time."

Frank Brown, making an announcement in chapel: "I wish all of you could sit under Prof. Ewald and listen."

Vail Prather, upon returning from a dentist: "He said that I had a large cavity that needed filling."

Edith Gass, just catching the last: "What course of study did he recommend, Vail?"

Miss Herr: "Are the Chinese a menace to the United States or are they a benefit?"

Carl Courtney, awakening with a start: "Yes mam."

Miss Herr: "Do you mean that they are or aren't?"

Carl, dropping off again: "Uh-Huh!"

Phil McMullen: "The only folks who didn't have German parents in my High School were me and another girl!"

Art Seeley in Biol: "Say Ham, where can I get a family tree?"

Hammond: "You might try the nursery."

Marc Godding, conducting his first Junior Class meeting: "We shall now vote by rising on Mr. Casburn."

Mr. Cavitt: "No we have all the men we need."

Elmer Cheatum: "I should think you could use just one more the little bit of work that I'd do."

SEPTEMBER

4. Oh dear! I'm sleepy and so anxious to get to sleep on one of those double decked beds, I don't want to write, but my big sister gave me this book before I left and said I must write in it every night. She said I would be glad someday. Well! she's been to college and knows 'most everything, so I guess I will. There isn't much to say except I'm here. I'm going to stay at Smith Hall. Everyone is anxious to meet the freshmen.
5. Rush! Rush! I thought I never would get through enrolling, but I did. That Prof. McFarlane must be awfully popular. Every one wanted a course under him.
6. "Big Sisters" (they're not real ones but adopted Y. W. ones) had a sing on the Campus for us and then we went to prayer meeting. My! I never saw so many people go to prayer meeting.
7. My roommate cried this evening. The society programs were closed. We had to stay at home so she was homesick. Well I was too and I shed one or two tears 'cause she did.
8. Boys began football practice today. I don't see why girls can't do something too.
9. Y. W. gave a hike for us. Rained but we sure had a keen time. Boys aren't necessary for a good time at all. Y. M. had a stag party, they said they didn't need us either.
11. Y. M. and Y. W. reception. Met the most new students.
12. Freshmen whitewashed the 'S' today. Lots of work, fun and eats. Sophomores said it was lots of work and no fun, but they sure acted like they wanted to go.
13. "Big Sisters" took us to prayer meeting again. Everyone us talking about a class scrap.
14. Society programs. They said it was a rush program but I thot they took their time for it.
16. Went on a hike this evening. They said it was a rush party. Someone's always talking about rushing and they never do hurry.
19. We won the class scrap today. I didn't like the scrap but the picnic afterwards and the picture show tonight were great.
22. Southwestern radio concert. Had a date with the keenest man.
23. They don't give us any time to be homesick. Lots of hikes, picnics and parties. Wonder if every one is having as much fun as I.
25. The nicest Junior took me to the Sigma-Delpha Welcome.
26. I have heard a lot about closed nights. We had one tonight. They are just like other nights except you have to have a special to get out.
27. Alpha-Beta-Gamma Lawn Fete.
- 28-29-30. Rush programs. Rush day is next week. Some Sophomores said it was awful but is sure was an important day.

OCTOBER

2. Belles-Athenian Frolic, and they gave us real fried chicken, too.
3. Rush Day. Now I know what it is. Every one tells you how much better his society is and how badly they want you to join it.
4. I pledged society today. Great weeping and wailing by those who didn't get in the society they wanted.
5. Societies are lots more interesting when you are a member and go to your own.
6. Every one went to Wichita to "Beat Fairmont". Southwestern is a loyal school.
7. Vacation in honor of neither our victory nor our defeat, for it was a tie.
11. Profs. say it is time for us to get down to studying but I don't see when they expect us to get any time.
12. After this boys can come to our society programs only every three weeks when we have them in the Chapel. It won't be half as interesting now.
13. Alpha-Beta-Gamma informal initiation. The pledges sure were shocked. Not even the chairs were normal.
14. First foot ball game of the season with St. Johns. Initiation lasted over to today. Boys wore aprons and girls had to leave off their extra hair and wear braids.
16. Moundbuilders Staff met tonight. They say the Moundbuilder is thrilling and a picture of everyone in school (including Art and Hammond) will be in it. I just got to save enough money to get one.
17. Dr. Rice's "The Devil take the Hindmost" sure was an incentive to get to the front. Guess I'll study a little tomorrow.
18. Rev. Jones talked on "Choosing a Life Work" in Y. M.
19. Well I didn't study either yesterday or today. If it stays autumn all winter I don't care if I do fail, just can't study.
20. Ben Cherrington in Chapel.
21. Grace Church revival meetings began. We are supposed to go every night because we have "real short lessons" (I can't see any difference tho.)
27. Saw my first college foot ball game. They are even more thrilling than high school games.

NOVEMBER

8. There hasn't been anything to write. Just go to classes, go to meals, go to church and go to bed, and the next morning start over again. Revival meeting closed and lessons are twice as long. I guess they forgot they didn't shorten them hardly at all.
9. Belles-Athenian informal initiation. They made their pledges eat the most terrible things sit in electric chairs and then took their pictures (only they didn't).
10. Armistice day program.

11. Home Coming Day. Fromer Southwesterners back. They like S. C. just as well as we do too.
14. Some body asked "What's 'The Big Idea' ". It was a play by The Campus Players.
22. Been studying pretty much for most a week. We had an "etiquette" talk in Y. W. "Chop" Cairns led Y. M.
27. We all liked "Friendly Enemies," but I guess for everyday use would take "friendly friends."
29. Prof. "Mac" told us about his "Ideal Woman" in Y. W.
30. Thanksgiving. I didn't think I could ever eat another bite when I got thru dinner but I guess now I could.

DECEMBER

1. Only fourteen more days 'till vacation.
2. Had a date to the picture show tonight. He was awfully flattering but I believe all these boys are. They seem to think we like to be told how much nicer we are than any one else but they don't know we don't appreciate it.
6. Mrs. W. S. Herrington talked in Y. W.
7. Oh Dear! Almost Christmas time and I haven't got a single present for anyone.
9. Grade children sang Christmas Carols in Chapel.
11. Alpha-Betta-Gamma Christmas party.
12. Our girls beat Washburn in debate.
13. Sigma-Delphian Christmas play, "The Little Hunchback Zia".
14. Every one having parties. Belles-Athenian party, and Sigma-Delphian Kid Party.
15. Vacation. I can hardly wait to get home.

JAN UARY

1. New Year's resolution: "I will write in this little book every day until June."
2. Back at work again. I was just as anxious to get back as I was to get away.
3. Mrs. Ortey spoke in Y. W.
4. Sigma-Delphian "At Home" to Alpha Beta Gamma.
6. First basket ball game this year. Started season with victory.
8. Home Economics Club had first meeting. Met at Smith Hall.
11. Pied Piper Surprised Sigma.
12. Societies elect officers for next semester. I wonder if I shall ever get to sit up in an officers chair.
16. "S" Club had an awful funny basket ball game tonight.
17. Mrs. Kirk told us about the "Ideal Man". I don't believe any exists, anyway I never saw one.

18. Volley ball court nearly done. Now we want spring to hurry up and come so we can play that and tennis.
19. Piano Artists, Friedman in town. Wish I could find enough money to go but as usual I am penniless.
20. Oh My! I wonder if I passed all those exams. They sure were fierce.
23. I've been real saving and got together enough money to go hear the Russian Pianist, Alfred Mirovitch.
24. Back to another semester with a rush but not the same kind of rushing we had last fall. Dr. Saddler very vividly showed us our responsibility toward future generations.
27. Yes we all like "Neighbors" (A play by the Dramatic class).
30. I guess we would be just like the girls in "The Charm School" (Belles-Athenian Play) if we never got to see a man.

FEBRUARY

1. Foot ball men got new sweaters this morning. Wish I were a foot ball man.
2. Oh dear! I guess Spring never will come. The groundhog saw his shadow today so us for more winter.
6. Reception for foreign students who were not yet present.
7. Foreign students weren't here yet so Raymond Carey substituted for them in Y. W. and Y.M.
8. Foreign students here at last. Gave interesting talks throughout the day. The girls of S.C. seem divided as to which is the most attractive of the three.
9. Oh! A tragedy has occurred in the lives of some. The powers decree no more dates to basket ball games.
9. Foreign students again. Mr. Freidreck of Germany discussed "Girls" both here and there.
12. Another tragedy. I had to miss the Fairmont game. A little "flu" germ came along and I caught it.
13. Every one is "fluing" so I am with the majority.
14. Hurrah!!! The Shockers beat us almost but not quite.
15. Belles-Lettres "At Home".
16. Dr. Fuller, extension secretary, here.
17. Y. W. proved capable hostesses to High School girls attending convention in Winfield.
19. C. of E. make desperate fight for Championship but lost.
20. I was all thrilled this eve. Got to attend the vaudeville, given by the Y. M.
21. Beat Ottawa.
22. Got the championship. Result, Holiday.
23. Prof. John gave athletic speech. He said, "In Canada you can get 2½% beer." He just got home so I guess he knows.
27. K.S.A.C. said we were lucky to win from a team like them.

MARCH

1. Prexy in reviewing, "If I were twenty-one again" by Dr. Gordon said, "Yes it is quite natural to yawn. The Professor can testify to that." But if they are so soothing that we want to go to sleep I can't see that it is our fault.
2. Prof. Fuller of Northwestern lectured on "The Place God holds in our lives."
3. "Like the gentle rain from heaven", was what I thot when I woke this morning. I'm not much given to poetical thot but that's what woke me.
- Junior boys made debut in chapel (in costume)
8. High School basket ball tournament. I didn't know there could be so many people play basket ball. I can't even wash my hands without some girl grabbing the soap.
9. Musical program in chapel honoring visitors.
12. S. C. Basket ball team entered National Tournament at K. C. and won first game. I don't want to sit ever again on the "Thirteenth Chair" (Sigma-Delphian Play).
14. Lots of "Punch" at Pi Kappa Delta reception. Southwestern takes second in oratory.
15. First forensic meet held at S. C.
16. Former Southwestern at K. C. honor team with a banquet.
17. Southwestern night at conference. We who stayed at home had some excitement caused by the burning of a house north of the campus. Fire drills assissted Smith Hall girls to keep "cool".
19. Men up stairs, men down stairs, men all over Smith Hall. Girls are hostesses to gentlemen friends.
20. Mrs. Winfield Smith of League of Women voters spoke to S. C. girls.
22. Prof. MacFarlane, in reporting trip to K. C. said "It is not a defeated team you are welcoming back but one which has won a great victory." Prexy (in Chapel) Southwestern does not buy her athletes.
23. Prof. Brown and his chimes made initial appearance in chapel.
- Phidela Rice read "The Peacful Valley".
24. Dr. Winfield Scott Hall gave some very instructive as well as interesting lectures.
26. Classes on Monday afternoon are very unusual but we could do anything for a vacation.
27. Exams then more exams. Professors are so heartless to expect us to know anything just before vacation.
28. Remainder of exams and then—vacation. Good-bye little diary for five whole days.

APRIL

3. Back at work again. Juniors promenaded. Wonder if I ever will get to do everything. Plays, Moundbuilder and Proms.
4. Dr. Nabour lectured to biologists—and would be's.

5. Irene Crick chosen Queen of May. Seems like the seniors get to do nice things too but they can't come back next year.
6. Went out to see the new "Gym". What I did see was a pile of stone and the begining of a hole in the ground.
9. "S" Club banquet a great success.
10. High School orchestra gave splendid program in chapel.
11. I am afraid you will be sadly neglected the next six weeks little diary. How I am going to play tennis, hike, have spring fever, study, go to classes, to all the plays and everything and keep on writing in you is more than I can see.
13. Some of those Athenians who were in the minstrel would make good negroes.
14. Joint Alpha-Beta-Gamma banquet "A good time reported by those who attended."
17. Vida Detter and Margaret Miller both proved themselves deserving of a reward in their recital.
19. Alpha Beta Gamma play, "Clarence" just a little different, just a little more interesting and just a little better than the others.
21. Belles and Athens vary their regular day a little by giving a modern play.
23. S. C. priviledged to hear Charles Norton Granville, Baritone and Waldo Geltech violinist on lecture course.
25. "Three Live Ghosts" frightfully presented by the Juniors.
27. Sigma-Delphian Operetta, one of the new features this spring.
28. Athens and their lady friends spent the evening banqueting.

MAY

1. May day Fete showed nuch preparation and resulting grace and charm. Campus players appear, but that is all that is necessary. The Campus Players are always enjoyed.
3. Freshmen reception to High School Seniors.
4. Inter High School track meet and forensic meet.
5. Belles Lettres had their banquet last night.
6. Woman's state oratorical contest.
12. Sigma-Delphian banquet even a greater success, if possible than former ones.
14. More banquet. Pi Kappa Delta not to be out done by other organizations took their turn.
17. Alpha Beta Gamma commencement program.
18. Sigma and Delphi take their turn.
19. Belles and Athens give final program.
20. Baccalaureate Sermon. It must be grand to march down the aisles with a black cap and robe on (but I don't have to yet). Hillside vespers were inspiring.
21. Final Chapel and Fine Arts Commencement program.
22. The Chorus in the aftrnoon and Alumni night.
23. Commencement exercises at Island Park.
24. Well little book its all over with except more exams. It has all been so thrilling but how could I write when I had no time? Now I am going to put you away for three whole months for vacation begins Saturday and you must have yours too.

SOPHOMORE - FRESHMAN
BUNKERHILL

Freshman girl reading Y. W. bulletin board which said: "Mrs. W. S. Herrington Will Talk!"
"Why I didn't know that Bill was married."

Mrs. Casburn to Madge: "Well Arthur may know how to play foot ball but he certainly doesn't know how to tell time."

Rev. Harris in Bible Class: "What do you think of that, Mr. Murry?"

Alvin: "I don't know!"

Rev. H: "Correct!"

Smith Hall girl: "Esther how on earth did you ever get such a case on Merle?"

Esther (blushing): "Well I guess I just couldn't help it."

Prof. Allen absently mindedly picking up his hair brush. "My I believe I need a shave."

"Demonstration given in embracing by means of shadow pictures on the front window curtain.-
Prof. Harley Charboneau

Arthur Seeley: "Wise men hesitate, fools are certain."

Bob Selle: "Are you sure?"

Art: "I'm certain!"

THE MOUNDWILDER

Mildred Ferguson in The State: "It was at this time that the Holy Roller Empire was in power."
Frosh during rush season: "I have been to so many wienie roasts that I have to turn around two or three times before I lie down."

Prof. Mac: "The ancient Greeks got all of their culture from the Irish."

Charlie Mitzner, telling of awakening at night and finding the gas on: "It's a wonder we weren't all procrastinated."

Racher Pennington: "If some girls married all the men that they were engaged to, there would surely be a lot of 'pigamists'."

Prof. Myers, busy at the board: "I believe I hear a couple of girls smiling back there."
(Who can understand the mathematical mind?)

Miss Rhyne: "Most flowers have an uneven number of petals, how are the sunflowers?"

Elsie Garfield: "Uneven, because it always comes out 'He loves me not'."

Chop Cairns: "Say Bill, how can you tell the difference between a Prof. and a student?"

Coach Bill: "Well I would hate to express my opinion. But what is it?"

Chop: "Well if there were two in a lecture room and one of them was asleep, the other one would be the professor."

Lost Soul: "Dearie, I must marry you—"

Loved One: "Have you seen father?"

Lost Soul: "Sure, but I love you just the same."

Prof. Steele: "The students were so entranced this morning that they remained in my lecture room all through the lunch hour."

Prof. Baker: "Why didn't you wake them up?"

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

She is attractive—you stop; and after you marry her you LISTEN.

President Kirk was calling a freshman to task for his misdemeanors—"Young man, if I catch you smoking on the campus I shall be compelled to expell you."

Evidently the warning was taken to heart for the freshman began to weep, and the President's heart softened. "But if on the other hand," he said, "If you don't do it, I won't expel you."

The Freshman's sobs only increased, "But I am going to do it," he said.

Charles Moles: "Do you know how the rats get in here?"

Mike: "Naw."

Niles: "Uh-huh."

Judge: "Ten days or ten dollars—take your choice!"

Stelloh (Beginning to be glad that he had thrown the box) "I'll take the ten dollars, judge."

Elmer Moore: "I can't help loving you!"

Sensible young lady: "No that wouldn't help much."

Prof. Ewald: (to Rex Bloxom) "Are you tired?"

Rex: "Well I'm listening to you."

Art Seely, directing MacAllister to Smith Hall: "Now just turn the corner and follow your nose."

Mac: "Not much, if I did that I would get lost."

Bill Seacat: "Look here this picture makes me look like a monkey."

Photographer: "You should have thot of that before you had it taken."

In Biology: "The class will now name some of the lower species of animals, starting with Mr. Hammond."

Bill Shuler (Keystoning) "Look here, I'll have you know that I take orders from no one."

Boss: "That is just what I gathered from your order blanks."

S. C. Girl: "Two months ago I was mad about Bill. Now I wan't see him at all. Strange how changeable men are."

"Was Jimmie heart-broken when you jilted him?"

"I should say not. He was perfectly horrid!"

"What did he do?"

"When I gave the ring back he took a file out of his pocke tand made a little notch in it."

"Well what was horrid about that?"

"There were five notches in it already."

THE MOUNDBUILDER

Harley Charboneau (bragging of his lineage): "My grandfather has been in the United States for five or six generations."

Jimmie Manser: "My but he must be getting old."

Frosh: "What bell is that ringing?"

Smart Soph: "Why the one up there on the wall."

Stranger: "Max O'Brien strikes me as a very promising young man."

Russel Dipman: "He strikes me that way too, but he never pays it back."

Smart Coed at Smith Hall: "Why all the noise in the kitchen? Is the cook beating the steak?"

Art Seeley: No. He's just licking his chops."

Joyce Ewan was on the 'Yellow Peril' when a woman got on followed by five children. Joyce politely got up and offered her his seat.

"Are these all your children, madam?" he asked, "Or is it a picnic."

"They're all mine," she snapped back, "And it surly isn't a picnic."

Everett Barnes (at one A.M.) "Well I must be off."

One of the many (yawning): "That's what I thought when I first met you."

She wasn't from Southwestern?

He: "The tunnel we just passed through cost a million dollars."

She: "It was an absolute waste of money, as far as you are concerned."

Bill Bates: "Stelloh, you are tackling that dummy like it was your girl. Go low!"
(Too much other practice?)

Smith Hall Girl: "Oh he is going to call again tonight. I just believe he loves me."

Friend Ditto: "That goes without saying."

S. H. G.: "That's just it. I'm afraid he will go that way too."

THE MOUNDBUILDER

Professors are just as human as the rest of us, Prof. John forgot whom he had a date with on May 9.

Freshmen have various ways to try to retain their youth, Helen Dettler at the Oasis—"Have you any Ever-Green Life-Savers?" But strange to say they didn't have.

Dadisman: "And what's your name?"
Elsie: "Oh, it's still Elsie Wulfmeyer."

In the Library: "Is the Modern Family in?"

Ewan: "It takes an awfully big gym to fill all the people." We agree.

An American History Recitation—
Hankins: "Jackson pulled a good stunt."
Schul: "France let'er slide."
Loe: "People went into Texas to settle their homes."
Miss Herr: "We just touched outside surface of the question."

It is funny to look at, funnier to hear, and funniest to think of. What? Why, Amy Hazel's sneeze.

Phil McMullen believes in translating Chaucer Literally, at least, he thought anyone would perceive from—A few sheep spinning on field she kept—That they kept some sheep in their back yard.

The Absent Minded Prof. Again—
Professor Brown was walking Down the busy city street.
In absent minded stalking, Merely following his feet.
A Close acquaintance meeting The Professor in the town,
Exclaimed in hearty greeting, "If it isn't Doctor Brown!"
The doctor let the greeting pass, In placid vacancy,
Then glancing in a looking glass "Why so it is!" Said he.

Elsie L.: "Well, he might come. I'll powder my nose and be prepared."

Prof. John: "There now, you've got it all in your head, right in a nutshell."

Fred Schul as a contemporary of Abe Martin: "Shade trees don't do much good in the winter time."

Mike: "What makes the noise in your nose when you blow it?"

"Say, Mac: I saw your wife."
McMurry: "Which one?" Almost honest confession.

When congratulating Elsie on her office as President, she said: "Oh, thank you, I feel so shy, it's just like being engaged again."

Everett: "Bert how was hunting this afternoon?"
Bert: "Who? Oh, he was all right."

THE MOUNDBUILDER

Marjorie S. (waiting up in north hall): "Bill, what do you take up here?"
Bill S.: "Oh, anything I can get my hands on. Can I have you?"

Mabel Calvert in the Biology room: "Well, I believe I have lost every book I ever had."
Glenn: "Well, maybe the owner came along and picked them up."

Prof. Shepard translating Chaucer: "My loved one is gone into the land—"
Rex Bloxom: "Does that mean the same as 'My wife has gone to the country?'"

Soph: "Do you know why Prof. Ewald has all of his classes on the top floor?"
Frosh: "No, Why?"
Soph: "Because they are all on the upper story."

Frosh: "Why do all S. C. Girls wear hair-nets?"
Senior: "To use them for seines for the man."

Edith Nicholson: "Say, what kind of trees does maccaroni grow on. I'd like to know."

Prof. Shepard: "Mr. McMurry, if you don't keep up in English you are going to get behind."

Bill Shuler: "I'm a good anaesthetic dancer."

Result of History Exam—
Louis has one thousand livers (livres).

Prof. Ewald: "Explain about the German school system, Mr. Kahler."
Art: "Well, say Professor, just what is it that you don't understand about that?"

Talk is Cheap because the supply always so greatly exceeds the demand. Some teachers don't seem to appreciate anything they can get at a reasonable price.

Joe: "You look sweet enough to eat."
Alec: "I do eat; where shall we go?"

Did you ever hear of the Freshman who wrote to his mother the brief line that education filled his days?—But he forgot to add that co-education filled his nights.

"Where did you take that memory course?"
"I don't remember."

Nina: "Is this the second hand store?"
"Yes."
Nina: "Well I want one for my watch."

"They say Elsie is filing all her love letters now."
"Gee they must be rough."

Co-ed: "Why didn't you find out who he was when the professor called the roll?"
Another: "I tried to but he answered for four different names."

Jean Elwell: "I think I'll stop school, it breaks up a fellow's day so."

Joyce Ewan in a pep meeting suggested that it would be a good idea if some of the students would eat ginger cake. That night at Smith Hall, devil's food cake was served with the desert.

JUST FRESHMEN

Say, it's fun to be a Freshman,
Then college is a joy,
A sort o' new adventure
We're embarking on;
Like all the poets say
Life is.

Things are kinda strange
At first;
But that adds interest
To the game
You know.

Yes, it's fun to be a Freshman,
Sort o' care-free like
We are.
The pranks we play,
Mistakes we make,
Are kindly borne with
By the other classmen,
And they just smile,
And say we'll learn
In time.

We don't pretend to be
As wise
As Sophomores.
We're not so scared at failures
In exams.
As Juniors are;
We've got three years
To make 'em up.
Nor like the Seniors.
So preoccupied
With caps and gowns,
Dates, Commencement plans,
And all.

Yes, it's fun to be a Freshman.
N.M.B.-'26.

Ancestor Worshiper No. 1. "Yea, my father is rich and got a wooden leg."
No. 2.: "That's nothing; my mother has a cedar chest."

There hasn't been many strikes this year.
But there was one of rather great significance the bakers' strike. The employees decided that they wanted a raise and went to the employer and said: "We want more dough."

The employer laughed and handed them a
"roll" and said: "Take this and get on a "Bun." You are nothing but a bunch of doughnuts anyway."

Nine o'clock!
Alone with Kate;
Nervously
I hesitate.

Half past nine!
Alone with Kate;
Fidgety,
I hate to wait.

Ten o'clock!
Alone with Kate;
All is well, and
Ain't it great!

"Sedentary work," said the College
lecturer, "tends to lessen the endurance."

"In other words," butted in the smart student, "the more one sits, the less he can stand."

"Exactly," retorted the lecturer; "and if one lies a great deal, one's standing is lost completely."

Senior: "That new typist spells ridiculously."

Junior: "Does she?" Well, if she does,
it's about the only word she can spell, so far
as my observation goes!"

THE MOUNDBUILDER

Friend: "What course do you expect your son to graduate in?"

Mother: "Why in the course of time."

The height of social standing: When you can tell whether a man's cards are engraved without rubbing your fingers over them.

"Was Rome founded by Romeo?" inquired a Freshman of the Senior.

"No, my boy," replied the wise one; "it was Juliet who was found dead by Romeo."

Green: "Tell me, honestly, now, have you ever found any practical use for what you learned in College?"

Gray: "I should say I have. One night when burglars got into my house I scared them off with our college yell."

First Pater: "My boy's letters from college always send me to the dictionary."

Second Pater: "That's nothing! My boy's always send me to the bank."

"Her eyes dropped," says Si.

"That must have been when her face fell," says I.

"Yes," says Si, "And her heart spoke."

"No doubt," says I, "It was then that his ears burned."

"And his tongue froze to the roof of his mouth," says Si.

"No wonder," says I, "For her voice was cold as ice."

"Which," says Si, "Shows that we both have been reading the latest popular fiction."

Frank: "Ah, I say, I phoned you last night, but got no answer. Were you out?"

Neva: "No, All in."

Freshie: "I don't feel well this morning."

Soph: "Where do you feel the worst?"

Freshie: "In school."
