Hootball

Our football season last fall, though not all-victorious, was a successful one. This may seem to be a daring statement, but no one who saw the Buildermen play earnest football will discredit the statement that we had a cracking good team. At times the team displayed a spirit and a fight that should spell State Championship. By next fall all the wrinkles should be smoothed out, and with every gridster playing for the team and with perfect co-operation with the coach, things should hum on the field next year.

The freshmen on the squad have now had a thorough baptism of conference football, and considering the impetus the new gym gives, we hope we're not missing our guess when we expect about eighteen men wearing gold footballs by next Christmas.

E. E. "DUTCH" SHEUFFLER Assistant Coach of Athletics

CHARLES "STONEY" WALL Captain

Stoney was a leader and a fighter from whistle to whistle, although handicaped by an early season injury. "Cap" played his stellar game against the Normals.

CARROL "RED" SMITH Captain-elect

Red was the best snapper-back in the Kansas Conference, critics agreed, which is saying a mouthful. Expected to be a great leader next year.

BOYD "DAD" RODERICK
Dad was the headiest man on the team and could always be depended upon to keep up the fight. One of the best and steadiest guards in the Conference.

FENTON "MAC" MCALLISTER Mac served his third year in the Builder backfield and and ran the team in better shape than ever this year. Has a lone true pass which is a constant menace.

JIMMY GARDNER
Jay made his first attempt at football and while not the pass receiver of his brother George is expected to show much improvement next year

Lysle Mummert
"Smiley" is a Winfield High product who played his first year for Bates and could always be counted on to play a strong game when called on.

LUTHER BRICKEY

"Lute's" middle name was fight. Few ball luggers made gains thru his terrific defense. This great tackle played his best game against the Swedes.

IRA "Nappie" Madison
"Nappie" gave promise of developing one of the most sensational brokenfield runners in the state but injuries held him back. Better luck next year "Nap"

JESS KINNLY
The big boy started the season with the scrubs but was too good to keep off the varsity. Expected to be a great pass snagger next year.

Edison Ogrosky

Ed was the same "Dynamite" of high school days but better. His punting and line smashing marks him as a coming all-state man.

BILL CLAY
Starred on the receiving end of the aerial game.
Starred against the Emporia
Normals and was a whirlwind on defense.

CHESTER "CHET" BROWN
This chunky lad is regarded as one of the finds of the year, and while a freshman, stood by for none when he started through the line.

A. J. Cheatum
Utility man that was hard to beat. He played every position in the line and could always be trusted to deliver in a pinch.

Paul Henshaw
Paul was sometimes a little slow in getting there but he always arrived like a ton of brick and made his presence felt.

WILLARD KISER
A utillity half that had plenty of weight and speed, and plugged up the holes in great shape against the best of the Conference.

HARRY DYARMAN
Dyarman had a hard place to fill the vacancy made by the famous "Ox" Kahler, but he filled those shoes in workman-ship manner.

Basket Ball

At the mere mention of the words, Basket Ball, many critics think of the synonym—Southwestern. This year, we were not successful in copping the conference honors. However, progress has been measured in another direction. No longer will the Builder basketeers gambol in the famous old Barn, for our new gymnasium is now a reality. A building such as we now have is a strong incentive toward the achievement of that rarity—100% backing from the student body. Besides, there is ample room for all the interested fans from the surrounding towns. With practically the whole team left intact, the Buildermen should be real contenders for Conference and National Honors next year.

Captain

James Gardner
"Jay" was almost a team
by himself; his floor work was clever and pretty, and he was also noted throughout the state for his uncanny long-shooting. Could always be depended upon to do his share on the defense.

Captain-elect

BILL HENDERSON

Bill was the most consistent man on the team, and always played a fast and cool-headed game. At forward proved a valuable man on the Builder five the entire season. Will be an able leader next year.

BOYD "POP" SMITH
"Pop" -played a consistent, fighting game at guard the entire season. Was a wonderful man at breaking up passes and stopping shots that had left his opponents' hands.

Edison Ogrosky
"Dynamite Ed" was a
"Terror" to every forward in the Conference. A fast, hard, clean player, a combination that is difficult to beat. We can predict big things of Ed next year.

Cross Country Track Team, 1923-1924

These distance men retired last fall undefeated. They won victories in five-mile races with Fairmount and the Kansas State Normal. Joe Neville, the 'Midget Iron Man', ran his first this fall and on Armistice Day set a mark of 27 minutes 10 and one-tenth seconds for a five mile run cross country in the mud.

Joe is from Winfield, is 17 years of age, and is a freshman at Southwestern. He weighs 130 pounds, a consistent trainer, and is always in condition. Willis Neville, captain, is a senior and comes from Wellington High; Fay Griffith, a junior, hails from Bucklin. Lester Varner of Kingman is the huskiest man on the squad, tipping the beam at 161 pounds. He has powers of endurance and is a close second to Joe Neville. Robert Greenwade of Blackwell holds the Oklahoma 440 yard record, and this fall did his first distance running. Cecil Adams also comes from Blackwell, and is a freshman. Everett McMurry, a senior, is from Reno High. Marion Alexander is a junior and comes from Haven.

Track Squad '23

New men have stepped into the places vacated by those graduating. Old men had to work harder for their places. The product is another, better team. We, as a student body, see little of the work of a Track Team but they play a very important part in the life of our school. To be a good track man, one must train all the year for a short season of activity during the spring term.

Base Ball Squad

When spring is doing her best to make one forget all work and worry, only one thing will excite a boy more than to find a fine fish worm, and that is to hear the crack of a bat against a hard thrown ball, or the balls resounding thump into a well padded mit. Baseball seasons are full of rain, mud, blisters and disappointments. Base Ball must be played out of doors, and while April showers bring spring flowers, they do not help base ball teams. Southwestern has the best of prospects for a cracking good base ball team, now lets hope old Pluvius will let us prove it.

LORTON, COACH BATES, DENNY, BROWNFIELD, ROBINSON.

Tennis Squad

All students agreed, the game of tennis is most appreciated when one can look away from a "prof" and watch a game of tennis. Students in Richardson Hall do not have this privilege but those in Old North Hall have had the opportunity to view many thrilling and exciting games from grand stand seats. The Tennis squad is the best the courts produce. To say that we are proud of them does not express our feelings towards them and their work.

LILLIAN CLOUD

Director of

Women's Physical Education

Women's Physical Education

A dream of many years has at last been realized, and Southwestern is the proud possessor of a wonderful new gymnasium. The building is divided into two parts, the south half being assigned to the girls of our school.

As a result of such arrangement, Physical Education is required of all freshmen and sophomore women. All lines of physical training and games are offered, as well as training courses for those who expect to teach Physical Education. The May Day Fete of 1924 was under the supervision of the Women's Physical Education Department, and a festival which proved the efficiency of the department was given.

Miss Lillian Cloud, who is ably assisted by Helen Peine, is Women's Physical Director, and has put her whole self into the work, and the up-building of the department. A great deal of benefit is being derived from the work offered.

Girls Basket Ball Team

Girl's Basketball in Southwestern has been a decided success. While other Kansas Colleges quit playing, Southwestern played on, scheduling games in Oklahoma.

This year's team, under the leadership of Coach Lillian Cloud, has been no less successful than in previous years.

ALBERTINE GRIMSLEY
This is "Al's" first year on the team and she made a good running mate for Helen. We expect more from her next year.

ALYCE WALLACE

Another deserving freshman who played a fast floor game.

MABEL CHEATUM

"Skinnum" proved a valuable substitute at forward during her first year. She will be better prepared for College Basketball next year.

MARGARET MURRAY
Margaret finished her second season as center. With her ability to out-jump practically every center, she was a valuable player.

Doris Ann Wright

Doris 'Fat' was the high scorer of the sextette, always playing up to her standard of good team work and expert goal shooting.

A real guard and a real player. Her natural ability and whole-hearted earnestness cannot be overlooked.

CLARIBEL ESLINGER
"Cowbells" was a substitute guard. In another year she will be invaluable. Her earnestness and co-operative spirit makes her a most desirable player. Her left-handed pass proves a puzzle to opponents.

Bonita Ralston (Captain)

Bonnie, the little was mighty, and it took a fast guard to keep her from putting in her share of the baskets. She graduates this year and will leave a place hard to fill.

Reba Denny
One of the fastest players on the team was found in "Rats". At second center she was always up and coming. She will be missed from the team next year.
Geneva Ralston

In Geneva the team has a strong reserve seond center. She is a junior and we place great hope in her for her senior year.

Interior of Bill's Parthenou

J. Thompson Baker, Ph. D. Coach of Debate, Oratory, and Public Speaking.

Forensics have shown a marked increase in importance this year. The men's debate schedule has included eleven debates with leading schools of this state and neighboring states. The Southwestern women debaters have met six teams, all of which were worthy opponents. The Freshmen have had contests with Freshmen debators of those other schools, two by the men and one by the women. Southwestern orators have participated in four contests. A representative of Southwestern participated in the Extemporaneous Contest held at the National Pi Kappa Delta Convention in Peoria, Illinois. Other forensic activities included debate and oratorical contests held in the literary societies, a freshman oratorical contest, and a debate class which is part of the school curriculum.

Southwestern was represented in the Women's Oratorical contest held at the National Pi Kappa Delta Convention in Peoria, Illinois by Geraldine Phillips.

STATE PEACE CONTEST

The movement for international peace is responsible for a new inter-collegiate oratorical contest. The first annual contest was held this year. Southwestern was represented.

Belles Lettres

The society takes particular interest in the new members. The annual contests in debate, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, voice, reading, and piano, are open to all freshmen and sophomores who belong to the society. The awards given are gold and silver B's.

Belles Lettres is well represented in all phases of student activity. Glee Club, Violin Choir, Violin Quartette, publication staffs of the Moundbuilder and Collegian, Forensics, and Athletics, all include Belles Lettres members. One of the prominent members was this year elected to the National Council of Pi Kappa Delta, and the 1924 Moundbuilder Queen is a Belle. "Quality Street," and "The Minstrel" attest the dramatic talent of the society. The Order of the Mound this year numbers Belles Lettres on its roll.

The Annual Belles-Anthenian Day is an outstanding event in the year's activities. It was celebrated on April 12 this year. It is the aim of the society to promote all interests of the college, and to aid in the development of the ideal individual which Southwestern strives to attain.

Athens

The place of Athens Literary Society in Southwestern College has been an honored one since the year 1889. It is a position which has been well earned in the past, and adequately maintained through the present year. Its value is two-fold, coming both to those who are on the programs, and to those who listen. True, the ideals have been high, and some of the conditions unusual, yet Athens may be proud of the way in which she has fulfilled her duty and her privilege. All honor is due her speakers, other officers, committees, and every member who has made success possible. Their reward will be not only a grateful society, but also an increased efficiency in their life work.

As an additional reward for service rendered, Athens offers each year a gold medal in oratory, debate, dramatics, and music, and a silver medal for second place in oratory and debate.

This year, Paul F. Holmes, Speaker of Athens in 1920, presented to the society what is known as the Speaker's pin of Athenian Succession.

It is the regular Athenian pin, with a diamond set in the lower part of the pin. It is to be worn only by the speaker.

Betta Gamma Epsilon

Beta Gamma Epsilon, the youngest of the Literary Societies for women, was founded but four years ago. Notwithstanding her infancy, she has grown to such proportions as to be a close rival of her sister societies.

Beta Gamma provides adequately for individual development in all phases of college life. The work of the society is divided into various lepartments; Violin, Piano, Voice, Expression, Debate, and Oratory. These departments are in the hands of chairmen whose duty it is to promote interest in their respective fields. Contests are held in each department during the spring term, and gold and silver medals are given for first and second places. In addition to these, a jewelled letter 'B' is given each year by Mrs. A. E. Kirk, to the senior woman who has been, in the judgment of the society, the best allaround society member.

The dramatic ability has been very creditably displayed in "Grumpy" and "Intimate Strangers". These plays were given in conjunction with Alpha Beta Alpha. In addition, numerous smaller plays were given before the society. These plays have given each member who desired, opportunity for work.

Betta Gamma Epsilon women are active participants in all college activities, being well represented in forensics, Y. W. C. A., Campus Players, Athletics, and Order of the Mound.

Alpha Beta Alpha

For only four years Alpha Beta Alpha has been one of the six literary societies of Southwestern, but during that time some of the most prominent of all Southwesterners have put their bit in the building of a GreaterSouthwestern through Alpha Beta.

Members of Alpha Beta have filled some of the most honorable positions that Southwestern offers, and in the organizations of the college, Alpha Beta has been equally represented in proportion to the number of active members, with any other literary society.

Medals as awards in oratory and debate are offered as features to better society work. Participation in debate is limited to freshmen only but oratory is open to anyone. A separate chairman has charge of these activities and promotes the work to the best of his ability.

In addition to the programs in the society hall, Alpha Beta Alpha, in conjunction with the sister society Beta Gamma Epsilon, furnishes banquets, surprises, luncheons and parties, to pass the pleasant hours and develop friendship.

With the beginning of the second semester Alpha Beta Alpha and Beta Gamma Espilon merges into one society known as Alpha Beta Gamma. The two societies hold their meetings as one society on each Thursday evening. Much time is saved to the advantage of all members and society co-operation is fostered. May this be a step in the evolution of Southwestern's society building.

Signa Pi Phi

Sigma Pi Phi Literary Society adopted, nineteen years ago, the motto, "Friendship, Learning, and Loyalty," to which all her members pledge faith. Her spirit is one of fairness and helpfulness; of friendship and loyalty; of learning and scholarship. Her members are represented in all activities of the school; Debate, Campus Players, Basketball, Pi Kappa Delta, Quartettes, Y.W. C. A. Cabinets, Missionaries, and members who have made the Order of the Mound.

Sigma Pi Phi has staged two operas, "The Chimes of Normandy," given last year, and "The Mikado" presented this year. The society strives to keep each member at work both in the literary and social fields. To develop the capabilities and talents of each individual to the utmost degree, is ever her aim.

During the school year the society gives two medals The Fleming medal, given for exceptional work along three different lines; and the debate medal. She also gives a prize of a ten dollar gold piece for oratory.

When we are out in other fields of work and our memory goes back to the balls of Sigma Pi Phi, we shall never cease to hear the refrain "Friendship, Learning, Loyalty, our watch ne'er shall fail, Guide us thru the years to come, Sigma Pi Phi, Hail!"

In Memoriam

Wesley Drown

"I am the resurrection and the life:

He that believeth on me,

Though he were dead, yet shall he live;

And whosoever liveth and believeth on me

Shall never die." John 11:25.

Pelphi

Delphi has this year wrested with the spirits of many men and has asserted her place in the lives of over sixty of them. They have been lives crowned fullof grouches, griefs, grunts, guesses, grins, glories, glamours, gacities and all of the other things, good and bad that go to make up a college career. As in times of old, Delphi glories alone in the men who come to her hall and what she does for them.

Believing that no victory can be won if the battle ground is a motley group of unexplored mysteries and that life's chief battles are with ourselves, we place the motto, "Know Thyself," in the mind of every Delphian. Knowing that knowledge alone is an empty virtue, we give opportunity for development by giving Delphians experience, aided by friendly criticism, in all lines of literary endeavor. We have had the experience of grieving with a member who was blushing, stuttering, and fizzling on a program and at a later time have seen him appear with at least the grace and ease of a member of Congress. Because we have given part of the experience which has wrought the transformation, we claim our place as a useful and needful part of Southwestern.

We claim unity in purpose with our sister society, Sigma Pi Phi. We would add the other societies of our college. We would not forget the literary and debating societies of other colleges and universities. We are not ashamed to share our purpose with high school literary societies. Nor are we unmindful of the neighborhood 'literary' in communities where college halls are only read about, and where 'aint,' 'have got,' and all their kith and kin, are in good repute. We glory in the task of inproving ourselves and others and wish all, who share our task, success.

STUDENT COUNCIL--First Semester

The Student's Council was organized in 1911 to permit a degree of self-government in matters concerning the students. Eighteen students, six elected from each upper class and three from each lower class, compose the Council's membership. Professor J. F. Phillips, vice-president of the college, acts as ex-officio president of the council. The other officers, a vice-president and secretary, are chosen the first of each semester by the newly elected council. Committees attend to special business.

It is the duty of the Council to deal with student enterprises, activities, and organnizations. The entire amount of student funds is under its supervision. The Council also awards athletic letters and emblems of honor for forensics. All the athletics of the school are under its directions.

The impotance of the Council is growing from year to year and plans are continually being made to make its work more effective.

STUDENT COUNCIL--Second Semester

The Student's Council for the second semester of the year 1923-24 has been confronted with many and varied problems, and in their solution many important changes of policy have been made. A great deal of consideration has been given to the granting of awards in athletics and a number of changes have been made. A better relationship between athletics and student government has been greatly aided by the exofficio representative of athletics who sits in the council meetings.

The Council has fostered student parliaments, giving a chance for the expression of student opinion. In these parliaments there has been an increasing amount of interest in student politics. It has given the Council an opportunity to keep in closer touch with the pulse of student opinion, and it has brought the students to a closer familiarity with campus problems.

The most important and far reaching work of the Council has been the revision of the constitution under which it works. The Student's Council has always been a most important organization in the management of school affairs, but more than ever before, the Council has taken an active part in the conduct of school affairs. The new constitution, which is to be put into effect next fall, will place a student as president of the council. It will give the students more complete representation and will increase the size of the student governmental body. It has been the purpose of the student law makers to get the view of the students, bringing all of the various departments of the College into closer cooperation.

The Young Women's Christian Association in Southwestern has as its aim, to help every girl more nearly to reach her goal of happy Christian living. More than anything else, she needs to know how to live. "Single tax is grand, and socialism is alluring, women's rights are needed, dress reform, and simplified spelling, food-chewing, prohibition, and criminal laws are all right in their way; but still the one thing needful is how to live." The girls find Y. W. devotional meetings, held on every Wednesday morning at chapel time, interesting and helpful.

Girls coming to Southwestern for the first time are quite aware before they come that they are exceedingly welcome because of the letters they receive during the summer from the big sisters. The meeting at the train and getting acquainted, then much food and fun at the first big hike, and after that the Y. W. and Y. M. mixer make the Y. W. real in the life at Southwestern.

This year the Association has accomplished many things by the successful promotion of projects. Each girl does the kind of work she is most interested in. Those interested in social service have been very efficient in teaching at the Mexican settlement and visiting each Sunday at the poor farm. Good health, peace questions, racial problems, ideal girls, and musical appreciation, were some of the varied interests of Y. W. during the year.

And, there is Estes we hear so much about! Snow, mountains, cabins, fun, and inspiration. This has been a great year but let us make in better next. Let us "Follow, follow the gleam of the light that shall bring the dawn."

A certain "atmosphere conductive to the development of moral character" has long been the distinctive characteristic of Southwestern. In creating and maintaining this "atmosphere," no other organization has been so largely responsible as the Christian Association. Its scope and influence has increased steadily through the years, and this year this progress has been especially evident. In addition to its basic purpose of "leading students to faith in God through Jesus Christ," the Association has earnestly endeavored to reveal to students this Gospel's social implications, in both immediate and world aspects. Campus problems have vied in interest with questions of international, industrial, interracial, and religious significance. The Association has brought to the college an unusual number of prominent leaders including: Ben Wilson, on the British Labor Party; Conrad Hoffman, chairman of the European Student Relief Enterprise; Ben Cherrington, International Y. M. C. A. secretary, speaking upon industrial problems; Alyn K. Foster, upon science and religion; George Collins, secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation; and Paul Blanchard, upon industrial democracy. Not satisfied in merely arousing student interest in problems to be faced in future citizenty, the Association has endeavored to lead students to see that "the issues of the campus are the issues of life"—that the campus society is world society in miniature. Closely related to these developments are two which can be accounted singular; first, the degree of co-operation between the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A; second, the success of the joint Sunday-afternoon discussion groups.

Chemical Seminar

The Chemical Society is composed of members who are interested in the development of Chemistry.

The first semester, the members presented current articles on various recent developments and discoveries. General History of Chemistry was studied the second semester.

Classes of the society were instructed this year by Mr. Suter.

Officers were: President, Buble Cairns; Secretary, Ina Williams.

The Student Volunteer Group

The evangelization of the world in this generation, is its motto. The Student Volunteer group is a group of students who have planned to become foreign missionaries if God permits. Its object is to deepen the missionary purpose and spiritual life of the volunteers and to promote missionary interest. The members are:

Pi Sigma Phi

Pi Sigma Phi is a fraternity of all men who have won a purple "S" by representing Southwestern in some form of athletics. The organization has been developed to encourage participation in athletics by all students, to promote a closer fellowship among the men interested in athletics, and to maintain higher standards of scholarship, morals, and sportsmanship, among athletics as well as among all students.

Rooter's Club

Midst trial and tribulation; midst election and resignation; the Rooters Club has not only rooted, but has also planted. It planted the Builder's Banner in Wichita in the fall. The basket-ball season came and went, still leaving our standard supreme over Fairmount.

Under the leadership of the Rooters Club, an unusual Southwestern parade was demonstrated in Wichita, as well as several ''pep'' chapels for the home people. Two contests were fostered; one added several new yells to our archives; the other stimulated the decoration of a number of houses for Home Coming Day.

All in all it has been another glorious year.

The Press Club

The Press Club, as an organization, fills a need that has long been felt in Southwestern, a need for a closer union of those interested in a common cause, the fostering and furthering of journalistic efforts.

The purpose of the Club is three fold, to promote better journalism, to create interest in the student publications, the Collegian and Moundbuilder, and to encourage co-operation between the two.

The Club meets regularly twice a month with a varied program, consisting of informal discussions of problems of journalistic work, newspaper talks by editors of local papers, and helpful cirticism and suggestions for the betterment of the school publications.

The Press Club really had its origin in the C. C. C. of last year, members of which Club were regular contributors to the Collegian. Although a very fine work was done in increasing interest in Collegian contributions, the scope was felt not to be broad enough, so the organization this year was dubbed the Press Club, and membership was open to all those interested in journalistic work. A decided increase both in membership and interest has been shown, and the Press Club is rated among the really worthwhile organizations of Southwestern College.

Home Cronomics Club

The Home Economics Club was organized in October 1921 in order to develop a closer union among the members and give training in social poise and instruction in the fields of Home Economics, not usually obtained in the classroom. Any Sophomore, Junior, or Senior Major in Home Economics is eligible to membership, providing her grades in school work meet the requirements of the club.

Southwestern Collegian

Every Thursday throughout the school year The Southwestern Collegian appears, bringing with it the news of the week and editorial comment, together with feature stories and spicy jokes. The Collegian is the official publication of the college and is under the control of the publications Board of Control elected from the student body. The editor and business manager are elected from the school at large.

The purpose of the "sheet" is to report the activities of the school in an accurate and interesting manner; to uphold the honor and traditions of the institution; and to further the interests of the school in general.

The Moundbuilder

The Moundbuilder will speak for itself. Only through the hearty co-operation of every member of the staff and the school in general has the publication of this year book been possible. This is the first time that the book has been published by the school at large. Heretofore, the Moundbuilder was a product of the Junior Class and was sponsored by it entirely. However, this year the election of its editor and business manager was made by the school and it is a product of "The Greater Southwestern".

Wirls Welee Club

The Girls Glee Club has proved to be more of a success than ever before. It is composed of forty good looking and sweet singing girls who have worked hard but happily under the capable direction of Professor C. O. Brown. Besides chapel programs, the Club gave a concert at the State Home which was greatly appreciated. A trip was taken and concerts given in Conway Springs, Oxford, Belle Plaine, and Argonia. The program consisted of solos, trios, readings, ensemble numbers, and a short play ending with a typical college scene. Besides furnishing lots of fun and better friendship among the girls, the trip gave splendid opportunities for advertising Southwestern and interesting the high school people in college. The reception and appreciation of the Club in these communities was especially fine. One of the best appearances of the Club was on College night during the Southwest Kansas Annual Conference in the new gym. The Club assisted in presenting 'The Messiah' at Conference and in the annual May festival. Gold pins were awarded the members and the Club has become a premanent organization.

	Especially commendable is the work of the officers of the Club:

Men's Glee Club

This is an all school organization. Any man with a required degree of musical ability is eligible to its membership roll. Try-outs are held, and the members are selected by the director, after due consideration. The work of the men's Glee Club is only another land-mark in the path of success made by Professor C. O. Brown, Director of Music.

The Glee Club's best performance was during the Methodist Conference which was held here in March. The delegates to Conference carried to their respective communities, excellent reports of the high grade of proficiency which exists in our college, both in the lines of music and scholarship. It was the creditable appearance of the Men's Glee Club, together with that of the other musical organizations, which was responsible for this good report.

The student body will remember them for the Christmas Chapel Program. This was given in conjunction with the Ladies Glee Club. Christmas carols, which are dear to the hearts of all of us, were sung.

The doubling of the membership over that of last year is a silent testimony to the interest which prevails in the club, and to the value placed upon the training received, not only by its members, but outsiders as well, and after all, our most sincere thanks are given to Professor Brown for his capable leadership.

First Row: Beck, Hume, Townsend, Sullens, Miller, Haynes, Carey, Pennington. Second Row: Huffman, Professor Figramonti.

Grand Opera Ensemble

The Southwestern Double Quartette was organized by Professor Fioramonti this year to succeed last year's popular Sextette. Professor Fioramonti's exceptional ability as a director of such an organization is evidenced in his native ability to select music for their use which is classical, beautiful, very pleasing to audiences of every kind, and well suited to the voices of his singers. His personal training and experience in the great music centers of the world have given him a knowledge of music literature which is invaluable to this type of work. These considerations together with his very thorough methods of training and artistic performance, has made his organizations the most popular singers that Southwestern has ever known.

The members of the Double Quartette are all soloists of exceptional ability picked from the most advanced of the professor's large class of pupils. Their programs are of almost unlimited variety. In addition to ensemble numbers taken from Grand Opera, sacred masses and anthems, secular and popular Russian and American folk songs, they sing sextette, quartette, and duet arrangements in various combinations.

Ladies Guartette

Flossie Sullens, Dorothy Townsend, Alberta Haynes, Olive Miller

This group of girls work only in connection with the Grand Opera Ensemble. Their part in the programs given thus far has been of great interest. They are met with enthusiasm whereever they appear.

There girls are quite unusual not only in voice culture but in appearance as well. Each girl has long hair which causes some comment.

Men's Quartette

The Southwestern Men's Quartette is composed of some of the best talent in the school, and is sent out each year with a varied program of quartette and instrumental numbers, besides numerous duets and solos, and a short dramatic sketch.

This summer, five men, Hume, Marvel, Allen, Stocking and Perkaple, will tour the Southwestern Kansas Conference District for a period of ten weeks, appearing every night, and twice each Sunday.

Each one of these men is capable of handling a heavy part in the program, and as most of them are expected to return next year, much can be expected of the group as both advertisement for the college, and as a means of furnishing high class entertainment to the surrounding country.

The Biolin Chair

The violin Choir is a valuable supplement to the work of the Violin Department. Besides being an ensemble training group of a high order, it is constantly called upon to fill important concert engagements. It may truly be said that it has become one of the most popular college organizations in the state.

Biolin Quartette

The Violin Quartette, in the third year of its existence, has been more than ever a popular concert group. Organized as a class for ensemble training, it has been increasing in demand for formal concerts in Kansas and Oklahoma cities, and has to its credit a long chain of educational recitals before high school chapel assemblies. A tribute to the work of the Quartette are the frequent calls for return engagements in the cities visited. The members of the Quartette are: Julia Emery, Marjorie Benedict, Grace Compton, and Jessie Williams. Miss Frances Ambrose is accompanist.

Campus Players

Banded together with a common interest are the members of Campus Players, Southwestern's honorary dramatic club.

Only those who have displayed exceptional talent, and a goodly portion of interest in dramatics, are admitted into this organization.

Each year new members are chosen by the club from the student body to fill the existing vacancies made by the graduating seniors. To be eligible for membership within the club, a candidate must have shown unusual interest and dramatic talent, and must have appeared in a minor role of a previous Campus Players play, or must have carried a major part in a society or class play. The candidate then makes written application for admittance and this is voted upon by the members.

The club was organized in 1919 under the direction of Miss Martha Lee, and in five short years has gained a worthy position within the ranks of Southwestern's honored and respected organizations, through the sincere and co-operative efforts of its members

Each year this club presents two of the best plays available, which always rank among the most successful renditions of the year. The organization owes its dignity and prestige in part to the former members. Such workers as Carl Bloxom, Raymond Carey, Bill Shuler, and Hoyt Piper have helped make the society what is now is. Such plays as "The Melting Pot," "Mise and Men," "Billy," "The Mob," "Milestones," are presented by Campus Players.

The Band

As one step in the achievement of our aim—A Greater Southwestern—the Southwestern College Band stands today as the best college band in the state, both from the point of numbers and from the standpoint of musical ability. Under the able persevering leadership of Professor C. O. Brown, the Band has developed from a scattered group of individual instrumentalists, into a compact, efficient, musical organization of no mean ability. Today the S. C. Band of fifty pieces, splendidly uniformed in nifty monogramed white sweaters, purple trousers or skirts, and purple and white overseas caps, present a spectacle unique in the annals of college band activities.

A short summary of the Southwestern Band's achievements will merely enhance in the reader's mind its value to the college. The Band's first meeting was on September 19, 1923 and the history of the band from that date forward has been one of steady advance and achievement. The uniforms were purchased soon after, and the appearance of the Band in their new uniforms for the first time in chapel, created one of the big sensations of the year. On October 23, the Band gave a concert, assisted by the Fine Arts Faculty, which drew probably the biggest crowd of any musical event of the year. The Band has proved its real worth to the college and its loyalty to the student body by the regular and enthusiastic attendance of this organization at all intercollegiate contests in which S. C. participated, and it played an immense part in the morale of both team and spectators.

The Band has also participated in other events of note-worthy character. It has filled several out-of-town engagements and faithfully represented Southwestern at the International Wheat Show. Although holding only one regular practice each week, the Band has acquired musical ability of such character that its fame as the best college band in the state has spread far and wide. The Band has rendered much service to the college in other forms. It has played on several occasions when the College was entertaining large numbers of out-of-town guests, such as the Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the District Basket Ball Tournament. The concert of the combined bands of Winfield—that is, the college and city bands—given in April was likewise a success.

A Reporter Goes A Wry

(Being the efforts of a reporter who has previously been taught the age-old axiom that "the truth shall prevail". When he presented the following to the Collegian editor, he soon dsicovered that the truth MUST NOT prevail.)

Just A Peek Into the Business Meetings of Three of Southwestern's Literary Societies.

I don't know why I picked Athens first, but I had to start somewhere, and as most Athenians seemed to think they were first in everything, perhaps my selection was not such a bad one. Speaker Shut-Up opened the session with a few congratulory remarks pertaining to himself and to the society. The next few minutes were spent by the society members in lauding one another upon their divinely bestowed powers of predilection. Then the meeting proceeded with a series of reports which centered around the general theme, "We are IT". Max Stocking then jumped to his feet and made a motion to absorbe the other societies. The motion was promptly seconded, and in a very brief interval it was passed and duly recorded on the Recorder's book. The meeting was closed with an urgent plea "to pay your dues," emitted, in phrases of oily rhetoric, from the larynx of the treasurer.

I located myself within a meeting of Delphi the following week, and the boys were having quite a time. It seemed as though BrotherParkhurst had been feeling the need of special revival services in S. C. for some time. Most of the Delphians agreed that the college students had been attending altogether too many theatrical performances, and that too many crackers had been eaten in bed. "Yes, brethren, it is time to reform," one brother proclaimed, amid the cheers of his fellows. Immediatly a motion was made, seconded, and passed, which called for three weeks of "special evangelistic effort" to stop the toboggan of sin which was carrying the school to it's noral destruction.

"Save Southwestern's Soul" was to be the slogan of the revival, according to a motion which was passed. It was Marc Godding's suggestion, and it was a good one the brethren decided, just before adjourning.

The meeting of Alpha Beta and Beta Gamma, which was next in order, seemed to be controlled by the scandal mongers. Women have quite a reputation for ''dishing up'' scandal, but when the men are here to aid them, there is bound to be some choice scandal loosed. Marion Harris vouched that she had seen Mrs. Kirk, together with Professor Dewey Short, at a dance in Wichita. Now, when that ''morsel'' tickled the ear drums of those present, every tongue in the entire assemblage started wagging. When the Kirk-Short episode had been thoroughly thrashed out, they dug up another. Just before adjourning, the body decided that Miss Graham and Professor Wilson had been strolling together in the moonlight too many times, and that something should be done about it.

5-0-11 Southwestern Blues

I used to know a fellow named Joe
A bright young college boy
With every girl
He was a whril
His mother's pride and joy
But when he left his Alma Mater
To labor hard each day
You could hear him mutter
And this is what he'd say

Chorus:

I got those S-O-U Southwestern blues Where I wore out all my shoes Walking to and from the halls And answering all of Prexy's calls Watching for Fairmount every night Teaching the Freshman how to fight Oh, Boy, I got those S-O-U—Southwestern Blues.

A Fast Gait-er
There was a young lady a-skater
Who was much less a skater than dater,
She pulled some ice-thetic kickers
That sat her down on her—knickers,
While Van proved a fast tete-a-teter.
