DEDICATION

WE reverently dedicate this volume to the Church, the central channel of God's Coming Kingdom,
and to Bishop E. L.
Waldorf, one of its devoted and outstanding leaders.

F O R E W O R D

IT HAS been a joy to chronicle in this book the wonderful advancement of a year of Southwestern's history.

One Moundbuilder was dedicated to Patriotism, another to Crusaders; this one is dedicated to the Church, and we have woven into the art of the volume the symbols and forms of Gothic church architecture.

We have not only written for the present, but also for that placid even-tide of life when you and I shall turn these pages and bring back a thousand memories to keep us company.

MEMORIAM

JOHN F. PHILLIPS
Professor of Mathematics

SINCE the publication of last year's Moundbuilder a strong pillar has fallen in Southwestern College. After twenty-three years of most faithful and efficient service to his Alma Mater, Vice-President John F. Phillips slipped away from earthly labors on Monday of Commencement week, and the funeral services were held on the afternoon of Commencement Day. The faculty, the students, friends and alumni from far and near, and citizens filled the gymnasium, and later formed a double line for three blocks on Warren Street while the funeral cortege passed. The services were simple, as he would have had them, and tremendously impressive because of his character and work, and because of the respect and love which the college community bore him.

Professor Phillips, as he was usually called, made a large contribution to the College through his work in the classroom. He was a patient, thorough, and popular teacher. An even larger contribution was made through his student contacts as an administrative official serving in the various capacities of Registrar, Dean, and Vice-President. Students always found in him a sympathetic and wise counsellor, and yet, in the life of the institution, his greatest contribution was his work in organizing and managing its business offices. In the state, Vice-President Phillips had a large and wholesome influence in inter-collegiate relations and policies. He was the honored and much appreciated President of the Kansas Inter-Collegiate Conference for eleven years.

He has passed on, but "his works do follow;" his influence for good bears fruit in the lives of the multitude of former students; Southwestern College is and will continue to be a stronger and finer college because he gave the service of his life to it.

St. Mary's.....	St. Mary's.....	Southwestern

The Thanksgiving game marked the end of a fairly successful football season for Southwestern. With five games won and only three lost, we have a record of which we may well be proud. With the exception of the Sterling and St. Mary's games, which were easy victories, all of the games were hard fought.

The prospects for next year are good since there was an excellent reserve squad this year. We are going to miss Coach "Bill" Bates, who has been with us eleven years, but with "Bill" Moneypenny, who is an efficient coach, we may still look forward to a successful team.

DONALD COOPER Winfield
 "Coop" was the best quarterback in the conference last year. He was voted by the coaches a coveted all-state position. He truly deserved this honor for his superior playing.

CHESTER BROWN Caldwell
 "Chet" is one of the hardest hitting backfielders that has represented the school in a good many years. He is next year's captain and we predict a "fightin'" bunch.

VERNAN WIRTH Greensburg
 "Vern" was a mountain of strength on the defence; and in a tight place when a few yards were needed, he stood out as the most dependable ball lugger.

WILLARD KISER Sedgwick
 In his last college football, Kiser played the same dependable game for which he has been noted the last four years.

MERRILL HUMBURG Bison
Humburg had an exceptionally difficult position to fill, that place left vacant by the mighty "Red" Smith of last year. Merrill proved himself equal to the occasion and will be missed from the line-up next fall.

HAROLD BRYANT Wichita
Bryant starred in almost every game last year. It is with a thrill that we recall some of his long end runs and tackle smashes. We can't forget the time he ran the entire Sterling team for a touchdown.

ARTHUR SHUP Plainville
Shup's middle name was fight. Few gains were made through his defence. He was also a good passer and aggressive player.

JOE ZILE Lyons
Zile was one of the finds of the season. Although playing his first football in a builder uniform, Joe showed lots of strength, both on the defence and as a pass snagger.

GEORGE MARKLEY Atlanta
George starred on the receiving end of the aerial game and in breaking up the opponents' aerial attempts. On the defense, he made them feel it when tackled.

JOHN ROSENBAUM Pratt
Altho greatly lacking in size and weight, Johnny won for himself a place on the team through his pep and fight. It takes a spirit like Johnny's to win football games.

CARL RICHARDSON Conway Springs
It was this little fellow's first year in college football, but he made himself a valuable asset to the team, and we're counting strong on him next year.

EDWIN NOLD Newton
This was Eddie's first appearance in a builder uniform, but he proved that he could play football almost as well as basket ball.

PAUL JONES

Pratt

With plenty of speed and drive, "Jelly" proved himself to be a real halfback. On the defense he served as a stumbling-block to many an ambitious opponent.

HERSCHEL CORNWELL

Anthony

Cornwell could play tackle and guard equally well; in either position he could be depended upon. Cornwell will be lost through graduation.

SOCCER FOOTBALL

First row—CRANSTON, KIMBALL, FROMME, BIGLER, MCKNIGHT, LLOYD (Coach)

Second row—R. BAKER, HAUNG, VICKERY (Captain), SELLE, STATLER

Third row—SWAYER, DETTER, HOLMAN, B. BAKER

It was our first year for Soccer, but nevertheless Lloyd put out an all-State champion team that played hard for Southwestern.

JAMES GARDNER

"Watch Gardner" was the slogan of all opponents. They knew "Jimmie" was a dangerous man if allowed possession of the ball from mid-court on in to the goal. His phenomenal goal shooting and dribbling mark him as one of the greatest offensive players Southwestern ever produced.

FLOYD BURK

His position on the mythical all-Kansas five was well merited. Burk is a hard man to evade on the defense and his scoring ability is unsurpassed by any guard in the conference.

Captain-elect Burk will make a great leader for next year's team.

DONALD COOPER

A cool, consistent player with speed and craftiness to cope with the best of them. "Coop" never gave up in a losing battle until the final gun had cracked. Next year should see him at his best.

HERSCHEL CORNWELL

"Hersch" is not a flashy player but the most consistent and dependable man on the squad. When assigned the task of covering an opponent he always delivered, forcing his man to long shots if any. "Hersch" graduates this spring.

MAURELLE DOBSON

A diminutive man for center but he could generally break even with the big boys he opposed in getting the tip. "Dobbie" is a clever floor man, a good dribbler, with an accurate eye for the basket. "Dobbie" takes his "sheepskin" this spring.

BILL HENDERSON

Bill believes in making every movement count. Not a fast man but very accurate and consistent, seldom coming out of a contest with less than five field goals to his credit. Bill has another season to shoot them for S. C.

First row -THOMAS, ADAMS, MONNEYPENNY (Coach), JOHNSTON, BAKER
Second row -GRAY, BARNER (Captain), NEVILLE (Trainer)

CROSS-COUNTRY TRACK

THREE years without a defeat in a five-mile race is the record of Southwestern's cross-country team. Each season the team has maintained a round-robin schedule, meeting every conference opponent.

The 1925 season was successful in every way. Friends, Emporia Teachers, Fairmount, and Bethel aggregations were decisively beaten by the Builder harriers. The only defeat encountered was when the team was nosed out in a three and one-half mile race with Oklahoma A. & M., member of the Missouri Valley Conference.

The state five-mile record once more rests upon the shoulders of Joe Neville. The S. C. star clipped 3 seconds from the best previous mark when, in the Fairmount race, he stepped the distance in 27 minutes and 14 seconds. A record of 27 minutes, 19 seconds set by Neville in 1923 had been bettered in 1924 when Nickolson, Fairmount star, hung up a mark of 27 minutes, 17 seconds.

Captain Bill Varner, veteran star; George Thomas, captain-elect; Ed Johnston, only senior letter man; and Joe Neville were all mentioned on the all-state team. With five veterans back next year the prospects are bright for the fourth consecutive championship.

First row—MONEYPENNY, Coach; WIRTH, Heavyweight; MARKLEY, Light Heavyweight
Second row—WATSON, Welterweight; BRYANT, Middleweight; CAIN, Lightweight

WRESTLING

TO THOSE of you who keep well posted as to sports in S. C., it will occur to you that wrestling is a new sport. By new we mean, not, that this was our first year, but that wrestling is a new sport, introduced two years ago.

Coach (Bill) Moneypenny handled the team in a way this year which is very characteristic of Bill, and the way he does things. Altho the S. C. Matmen won only two matches, the season was considered a successful one. The team did not whip into shape until the season was about over, but their record following was good to look upon. Since four of the men will be back, a strong team is predicted for next year. It is also hoped that they can attend the National Wrestling Meet.

BASEBALL '25

IT IS after the final game of basket ball has been played, and the grass is turning green, and the flowers are beginning to bloom, that we turn to baseball to satisfy our hunger for sport. Baseball comes so late in the season that it is impossible to get this year's team picture in the Moundbuilder, so the team of the year previous is always used. The team last year broke about even in their schedule, but would probably have done better had not the April showers broken up the northern trip. The big victory of the season came when the Builders scalped the Haskell Indians in a 4 to 2 fashion. The team played well together and behind the stellar pitching of Shup, Markley, and Johnston, making a commendable showing in all contests. The work of Hall behind the bat and Burk on first, stood out all season. Others who made letters were Walker, Shup, McAllister, Johnston, Harrison, Price, and Markley.

GOLF TEAM

GOLF as a new sport is fast becoming popular in colleges; Southwestern has been well represented by their two splendid golfers, Dick Pierce and Don Farmer. Pierce is recognized as one of the leading young men in golf in this part of the state. He took second place at the Vail Tournament held last year at Wellington; and the team placed second at the State College Tournament last June and each won their respective flights. This Spring they have several tournaments scheduled, playing two with Fairmount.

GIRLS' BASKET BALL

THE Girls' Basket Ball Team of Southwestern College offers one of the most enjoyable associations for the athletic girls of our school. Coach Lillian Cloud had forty girls who appeared for the first practice of the season. With only three letter-women back, a great deal of freshman material was used, and the season proved a very satisfactory one.

HOPE HORNER—A ferocious guard, was Hopeless, as proved by the number of personal fouls she received.

ANNA STURHAM—"Shorty" was a dependable second center, always anxious to do her best.

HELEN PEINE—Southwestern has never had a more earnest and a more valuable guard. Her co-operative and sportsmanlike spirit will be missed next year.

MURIAL ZIMMERMAN—Murial entered the second semester, but proved herself of worth to the team.

DORIS ANN WRIGHT (Captain)—"Fat" is termed the best girl forward in Kansas. An efficient captain, and an expert goal shooter. Her graduation will leave a place hard to fill.

BURCHIE SHARP—Another freshman forward. She should be valuable next year.

GERTRUDE DANNER—"Gertie" played almost anywhere. A valuable asset to the team.

MARGARET POORE—Margaret never met a center who could out-jump her. She played a fast floor game.

ANNOUNCEMENT

THE MOUNDBUILDER Queen and King are nominated from the student body as representing the most popular woman and man in school. The five, for each honor, receiving the highest number of votes are entered in the usual contest, choosing their own business managers. The 1926 most popular woman is Miss Albertine Grimsley, and the most popular man is Mr. Glenn Wissler, winners of the contests by a large vote.

Every year a girl from the Senior Class is elected May Queen by the student body. The girl receiving the highest number of votes is elected. Miss Phyllis Kirk, daughter of President A. E. Kirk, is the 1926 May Queen.

SOCIETIES

BELLES LETTRES

BELLES LETTRES LITERARY SOCIETY was the first organization of its kind in Southwestern College, and it is the aim of Belles Lettres and Athenians that it shall ever be first in its achievements. It is a group of thoroughly lively girls interested in all phases of college life, as is testified by the widespread activities of its members. There is not an organization in the college without some Belles Lettres on its roll.

For the benefit of new members, contests in debate, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, voice, reading, and piano are given each year. It is the aim of these contests to give each girl the opportunity to do something in the line in which she is particularly interested. The aim of the society also includes the development of the latent talents of its members to the greatest possible extent.

An outstanding event in the society year is Belles Athenian Day. This is a distinctive feature and one which all Belles-Lettres and Athenians enjoy. The day's program consists of a breakfast, a chapel in charge of the two societies, a unction, a pageant given on the campus, and the annual play. Belles Athenian Day was on April the thirteenth.

It is the aim of all members of the society to work first for a better Southwestern, then for a better Belles Lettres Society, and in these aims they embody the best interests of all interested in both institutions.

ATHENS

THENS

O Mother Athens! loved of old,
 Whose name hath long in legend told,
 Filled history's page.
 Oh, list the prayer to thee we raise,
 Who oft hath heard both prayer and praise
 From every age.
 With crimson banner high unfurled
 Thy younger son in a newer world
 Now sings to thee;
 Direct him with thy Mother-love
 In freedom's cause to heights above,—
 Oh watchful be!

—C. E. M.

"Athens was founded in 1889 by a group of men who were excluded from the then existing Cadmus Society—men wanting literary, moral, and social training.

"Athens has been a mighty factor in the building of the character of a majority of the men who have gone out from the institution. Her cosmopolitan ranks have welcomed Caucasian, Mayan, and Chinese in one undifferentiated brotherhood. This has been her pride. Men of every walk of life and creed of God have borne her crimson. This has been her success."—Taken from the "Belles-Athenian, Story of Southwestern."

Leadership, personality, friendliness, and interest in activities have always characterized the Athenians. The talent developed by the society has been used for the upbuilding of the society and for the advancement of the college. By her spirit Athens has shown herself to be "Southwestern" through and through.

SIGMA PI PHI

SIGMA PI PHI.

1926 marks the beginning of a new era of progress, growth and maturity for Sigma Pi Phi because she is now of age.

Twenty-one years ago a group of girls realizing the need of a Society to permeate friendship, learning, and loyalty, organized a new group at Southwestern—Sigma Pi Phi.

Since then, she has endeavored to give of her best to her Alma Mater and to the world for service. Her members are represented in nearly every activity from the basket ball team to the Glee Club, Student Council, Debate, and other activities of the school.

Sigma and her brother society present, each year, an opera. The one given this year was the "Chimes of Normandy."

But perhaps the biggest thing Sigma offers is, not drill and practice found in her weekly programs, but rather in the friendship fostered in her halls—permeating over the entire campus.

Sigma girls, above all else, want to be friends.

"We love you, because you are helping to make of the lumber of our lives not a tavern, but a temple; and of the words of my every day, not a reproach but a song.

We love you because you have done more than any creed could have done to make us good, and more than any fate could have done to make us happy.

You have done it without a word but just by being Sigma. Perhaps that's what Sigma means, after all.

DELPHI

The chief function of a college man's literary society is that of developing man for leadership in the world's activities. The literary society adds to the college student a polish, a touch of refinement, a poise which he otherwise would not possess. It is a stimulus mentally, morally, socially. Its effects are permanent.

The transition which occurs in the life of a student while in college is gradual. To himself it is hardly discernible, yet the world can see the change. Society looks up and observes. The callow youth who entered college four years ago is now a man, fully capable of attaining a high place among the leaders of the nation.

For twenty-seven years Delphi has influenced the lives of college men. For twenty-seven years Apollo has looked down at his sons and smiled on their successes. "Know thyself," the motto of the Delphian Literary Society, has permeated the souls of the men of Delphi. In knowing themselves, they have learned to know others also.

High lights of the 1925-26 society year were the rendition of the Fourth Annual Sigma-Delphian opera, the development of a plan by which the programs and social life of Sigma and Delphi were more closely united, and the new co-operative basis for societies established by the Inter-Society Council.

Delphi looks back on its past record with well-justified pride. Delphi looks toward the future with equal confidence assured that as long as Southwestern exists the honor of the society will be maintained.

BETA GAMMA EPSILON

BETA GAMMA EPSILON, founded third of Southwestern's literary societies, has finished another successful year. Organized six years ago, it is now a growing, well-functioning society, one that has safely passed from infancy into adolescence.

Beta Gamma purposes to sponsor the social and intellectual interests of its members. The regular weekly programs help in part to fulfill these demands, and have been especially satisfactory this year. Individual development is provided also through the spring contests in oratory, debate, reading, voice and piano. As for the social life, there have been the Inter-Society Rush Party, the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring parties, the annual banquet with the brother society, Alpha Beta, in addition to the surprises and entertainments in connection with the weekly programs.

"The Enchanted Cottage," produced by the two societies, was one of the dramatic successes of the year. Beta Gamma is fortunate in the ability found among her members in all lines of school work. She is represented in Campus Players, Glee Club, Violin Choir, Pi Gamma Mu, and Order of the Mound.

ALPHA BETA ALPHA

ALPHA BETA ALPHA, for the past six years, has contributed and had a hand in building society life in Southwestern.

Amid the hurry of school life, the society organizations fill a place of restful quiet. A moment to linger and pay heed and give consideration to the development of the individual. Within these halls of S. C. many a man has discovered and developed some potential talent that has given him a much richer and happier life.

Each society forms a small world of reality. Literary development is emphasized with the firm belief that a growth in these lines will be carried into similar activity in a future of greater world reality.

Alpha Beta Alpha's highest award of honor is the "Pearled A." This medal is given to the most all-round man in the society so selected by popular vote.

DELTA KAPPA CHI

Nowhere is the spirit of the pioneer needed quite so much as in forming a new Literary Society. The girls of Delta Kappa Chi have proven themselves good pioneers, and now their society has the firm organization and prestige equal to other societies of the school. There were many difficulties to overcome, and hard decisions to make; but now the girls have gone far beyond the scope of a mere new society.

Delta Kappa Chi is an established factor in Southwestern College.

This year has brought much encouragement and growth to the society. The regular society hall with its superb furniture is a thing of which they may well be proud. The organization of a brother society, Delta Theta Pi, has adequately filled the necessity of masculine advice and help. Last year a series of contests were formed in forensics, reading, and music. This year the contests were most successful. Valuable experience and training resulted from the efforts of the numerous entrants. "The First Year," the annual play, was staged with the aid of Delta Theta Pi. The girls of Delta Kappa Chi have vital interests and responsibilities in every activity of the college life.

DELTA THETA PI

The Delta Theta Pi Literary Society is the newest society in Southwestern.

Last fall, the need for a new society for men to be the brother society of Delta Kappa Chi became apparent, and the Delta Theta Pi Literary Society was then founded.

Our membership consists of students who have never belonged to a literary society, but who believe that much which is essential in college life can be attained by our fellowship.

We are grateful to our sister society for their assistance in founding the new society and we co-operate with them in their aims and ideals. The two societies hold joint meetings three nights of each month, reserving the fourth for separate meetings.

We desire for members, men who have high ambitions and Christian ideals, and we hope to develop these traits among our members. An equal opportunity is given each of our members and we believe they can attain much in the social, moral, and literary life in Southwestern.

We have built a strong and permanent foundation upon which our society will ever stand, upholding the ideals of Southwestern College.

Because we are a new society, we are engaged in making traditions rather than in following them. We have a new organization; we can make of it what we will; for this reason we look forward to a future of success.

EVERY Saturday throughout the school year, The Southwestern Collegian appears, bringing with it the news for the week and editorial comment, together with feature stories, and original poetry. The entire student body subscribe for the paper through their activity fee.

The editor and business manager are nominated by the Faculty-Student Publication Board of Control and are elected from the student body at large from these nominations.

Students are encouraged to contribute to the paper, and it thus serves as editorial training for students. The Collegian has always been anxious to publish the free verse and poetry written by professors and students.

This year the Collegian has tried to interest students in news from other campuses throughout the state. Much outstanding advertising has also been accomplished through the Collegian this year.

THE SUCCESS of the Moundbuilder is due to the hearty co-operation of every member of the staff and the school in general. The fact that a number of this year's staff are underclassmen should be encouraging, for they will be experienced in Annual production for the next Moundbuilder.

The Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager of the Moundbuilder are nominated by the Faculty-Student Publication Board and elected by the Student body at large each Spring, that they may sign their contracts and make plans during the Summer.

The Moundbuilder was fortunate again this year in getting Dean Farnsworth to assist in the art work for the opening pages and society divisions.

The contract for engraving was signed to the Southwestern Engraving Company of Tulsa. The printing to the Hugh Stephens Press of Jefferson City, Missouri.

If the 1926 Moundbuilder has succeeded in portraying a faithful delineation of the life of Southwestern, if it has expressed the strength of the spirit of that life, if through the simplicity of its plan, it has created for itself the right to live, not for a generation, but for the future, then it has fulfilled its mission.

THE Young Women's Christian Association in Southwestern has done more for the girls in the college than any other one organization. It is the aim of this association to promote the best interests of the girls of Southwestern and help them in their task of Christian living.

Each Wednesday morning Y. W. holds a devotional meeting. These devotional programs are very carefully prepared and are exceedingly interesting and helpful. Through the Y. W. and Y. M., this year, several of the outstanding religious leaders have been secured.

The Organization of the Y. W. cabinet in Southwestern is carried out on the project system and has been extremely successful. All except the four officers, who are elected, are appointed to work on projects for a limited time. This plan gives every girl an opportunity to work and naturally Y. W. has a greater interest in her life.

IT IS THE purpose of the Young Men's Christian Association to unite men in their efforts to extend the Kingdom of God throughout the world and permeate the local campus with the Spirit and teaching of Jesus. This purpose is carried out by a series of activities among the students. On the campus the gospel teams, community service groups and programs give the students the opportunity to experience practical christian service. The program provides for speakers to come to the local campus with messages from the world's problems. In the last year Stitt Wilson, Conrad Hoffman and Thomas Q. Harrison all visited the local campus under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

GOSPEL TEAMS

STOP whatever you are doing and think for a moment. Ask this question, "Are colleges merely theoretical?" No college, even though versatile, can long withstand the declaration that it is impractical. Each college must justify itself on the basis of its practical work in the advancement of society. A Christian College must show the fruits of its work in the field of increasing Christian ideals. The briefest study of the Gospel Team work in Southwestern College cannot but reveal the fact that in this effort, the theoretical aspects of Christianity are applied. Eighty-five students from the college have gone to twenty-eight communities during the school year and have taken the youthful enthusiasm in this enterprise of Christianity. These churches have received the immediate contact of the real experience of Christianity through the work of these Southwestern Gospel Team members, whose names follow:

THE Life Service Group, organized in the spring of 1924, is a group of earnest students who are striving to find a vocation in life, where they can best serve as followers of Christ. The group meets once each month on Wednesday evening following prayer meeting. The program consists of talks and discussions on different phases of life work, led by able leaders of Winfield and out-of-town. There are about forty members in the organization this year.

THE GRACE CHURCH CHOIR is a Southwestern organization, including many of the best singers of the College. It has been in existence many years and has shown a marked advance under the leadership of Professor Burkholder, who has led it the last two years.

Besides furnishing the music of the Sabbath services, the choir has given a number of sacred concerts with outstanding success and artistic merit. Works of Tchaikovsky, Wagner, Schumann, Handel, Mendelssohn, Dudley Buck, and others, have been presented.

Mr. Burkholder, who studied orchestral and choral with Damrosch, has been able to make this organization into a well-knit unit and the ensemble and balance of voices have been greatly improved.

THE VIOLIN QUARTETTE

THE VIOLIN QUARTETTE consists of four violinists chosen from the Violin Class of Professor Altvater and is drilled by him. The quartette, because of its size, produces an even finer ensemble than the Violin Choir. Quartette concerts are more frequent because the smaller group is more easily transported.

The quartette demands a higher degree of ensemble playing than any other instrumental group music. Each member is at the same time a soloist and an accompanying figure. However the quartette, for obvious reasons, does not have the mass appeal that the choir or an orchestra possesses. It is, in a sense, a miniature, delicately and finely done.

The repertoire of the quartette includes arrangements of works by Wagner, Tschaikowsky, Mendelssohn and composers of lesser fame but of high value.

Concerts by the Quartette have been given at Douglass, Burden, Belle Plaine, Dexter, and numerous places.

THE VIOLIN CHOIR

ONE OF the most popular large musical groups of Southwestern College is the Violin Choir. This fact is attested by the numerous calls for concerts by the group. This year in addition to occasional near at home concerts, the choir took a trip of a week, its itinerary including Wellington, Sedgwick, Haven, Nickerson, Lyons, Dodge City, Larned and Sterling. Other trips included Grenola, Oxford, Midian, Ponca City, and two days in Wichita.

The work of the choir is highly commended. Due to Mr. Altvater's capable guidance the Violin Choir has developed into a group of fine ensemble and interpretative ability—both an unusual combination and a high type of college musical activity.

The repertoire of the Violin Choir is broad and of a high type. It includes such composers as Wagner, Mendelssohn, Dvorak, Mascagni, Sibelius, and others of an equally high standard of achievement.

Soloists this year were Wava Bachmonn, Phyllis Kirk, Josephine Herrick, and Grace Compton. The Violin Quartette also assisted on many programs.

MIXED QUARTETTE

THE Southwestern Mixed Quartette, which is a new organization this year, has proved to be a marked success, and will probably become a permanent organization. The members of the quartette are: Miss Sybil Roe, Miss Harria Walker, Mr. Albert McCauley, Mr. Robert Brooks, and Miss Maude Duffy, accompanist. They have been ably directed by Professor Fioramonti. Though the quartette made no extended tour, it made many short trips to surrounding towns, and gave many local performances.

THIS HAS been one of the most successful years for the First Girls' Glee Club since its organization. They appeared before remarkably large audiences in all of the cities included in their trip, which were: Eldorado, Wichita, Newton, Hutchinson, Nickerson, Great Bend, Lyons, Sterling, and Haven. Their program consisted of ensemble numbers, solos, duets, numbers by the trio, a play, and an informal group presentation of college songs in the typical dormitory-room manner. In the spring they assisted in the presentation of the oratorio, "Elijah," a community project. Much of the success of the club is due to the work of Prof. C. O. Brown, Director.

Men's Glee Club

UNDER THE direction of Prof. C. O. Brown, the Southwestern Men's Glee Club has spent a most successful season. The outstanding work of the season has been the week's concert to the cities of southern Kansas and northern Oklahoma, and participation in the "Elijah" chorus.

The program for the concert trip was delightfully varied, consisting of readings, solos, quartettes, chorus work, and a play. The arrangement met with hearty applause and commendation on every hand.

Selection of members was made by Prof. Brown, and included members of other special musical organizations, voice students, and volunteer members. From twenty to thirty-five men joined their voices in melodious harmony one or two evenings a week, whenever the occasion might demand, and gave to Southwestern and her musical patrons renditions well worthy of the effort.

THE SECOND GIRLS' GLEE CLUB, instituted this year under the leadership of Prof. Brown, is a chorus of forty-five voices, conducted on the same plan as the First Girls' Glee Club. It is an independent organization with its own officers and its regular weekly rehearsals. Because of the recent organization of the club the appearances have been few, but the work done has been very successful. In the spring the club suspended its practice to co-operate with the musical clubs of the school and town in putting on the "Elijah," Winfield's biggest musical venture of the year.

"ON SOUTHWESTERN!"—John Philip Sousa could scarcely stir the hearts of purple and white as does Prof. C. O. Brown and his Southwestern College Band; always on hand, backing the team to the last whistle with a snappy march, a peppy "On Southwestern!" or our "Alma Mater," S. C. may justly boast one of the peppiest college bands in the state.

Uniformed in white monogrammed sweaters, purple trousers and skirts, and purple "over-sea" caps, the Band forms a fitting group to lead S. C.'s victorious marches.

Positions in the Band are determined by competitive tryouts held at the beginning of each school year. The first semester is devoted to the development of a typical march-band. During the second semester, after the close of the basket ball season, intensive practice is begun upon the spring concert programs, given in chapel and out-of-town engagements.

THE ROOTERS' CLUB

THE ROOTERS' CLUB is an organization of the entire student body and is the instigator of "PEP" for all contests of the year, whether athletic or forensic. Stunts, talks, yells, and what not, developed through the Rooters' Club has aroused the student body to a fit of frenzy for our teams going into action. "Beat Fairmount" is always the cry of the day. The chapel roof raises a little higher and the sky gets farther from the earth when Fairmount comes to town, for nothing can hold the loud exclamations of the loyal Southwesterners in their endeavor to down the ancient rival.

"Skeet" Leu and "Bob" Brooks, with weird and wicked gestures, lead the angry mob in cries to down the contenders who seek our crown; and during intermissions, the enemy's goat is brought forth only to be snatched and put into captivity. Then the goat is killed on the altar and a tombstone is placed in the graveyard to mark the victory.

John Nicholson was president the first semester, but resigned because of too much outside activity, and Hugh Brownfield was voted president for the second semester. Other officers are Vice-President, John Boyer; Secretary-Treasurer, Lauvera Lehman. An Executive Council of the Rooters' Club works with the leaders to arouse a greater amount of enthusiasm for a Bigger and Better Southwestern.

W. A. A. is new to Southwestern, having been organized in 1924. Helen Peine was the first President.

A real interest is shown by the members and during the year the following sports are carried on: Volley ball, basket ball, baseball, tennis, hiking, health rules and track. One of the features of the year was the Health Week, and Contest. A silver loving cup was awarded to Georgia Zink as the healthiest girl in Southwestern.

CAMPUS PLAYERS

IN 1919 Miss Martha Lee, Professor of Dramatics in Southwestern, conceived the idea of organizing an honorary dramatic club. Picking the best dramatic talent of the year, she organized the Campus Players. With her direction the Club presented such plays as "Servant in the House," "The Melting Pot," "Mice and Men," "The Mat," and the "Doll's House."

In the past few years, under the tutelage of Miss Helen Graham, the Players have given "The Big Idea," "Milestones," "The Skin Game," "Adam and Eva," "Captain Applejack," and Shakespeare's great tragedy, "Macbeth."

This year's productions have held up the high standard set for the organization. The Players have given "A Bill of Divorcement," a problem play well known in Europe but presented by only a few amateur clubs in America, and Oliver Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer."

To become a Campus Player one must have shown unusual interest and dramatic talent. Each spring new members are chosen to fill the vacancies made by graduating Seniors. To be eligible for membership within the club the candidate must make written application and must have carried a major part in a class or society play, or a minor role in a Campus Players' production.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL—FIRST SEMESTER

The Students' Council is composed of six members elected from each class, a student president elected from the student body at large, and two faculty advisors.

The council has complete jurisdiction over the organizations, student enterprises and activities of the school.

This semester's council put student finance on a firm working plan.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL—SECOND SEMESTER

The chief duty of the Students' Council is apportioning of money of the activity fund among the activities, including debate, Collegian, Moundbuilder, athletics, and lyceum course. It is not an official body to reflect student sentiment on their problems to the administration. It was hoped that this year it could assume some responsibility in school affairs aside from money, but little was able to be accomplished.

PI SIGMA PHI was organized with the idea to promote the highest standard of morals and scholarship among the athletes, to maintain the high standard of sportsmanship that has always been a part of Southwestern's athletics. It preserves the tradition and history of the athletics of the college. The membership is limited to those to whom the purple "S" has been given. This organization has done much to promote the feeling of honor and responsibility toward the wearing of the purple "S."

The Pi Sigma Phi organization has, in connection with their athletics, performed for the student body in various ways. Each year it has become a custom for the organization to give and conduct a carnival or circus. These performances have been very successful, and besides creating amusement, they have shown the skill of the athletes in acrobatic stunts.

Each year the Pi Sigma Phi stage a banquet which is perhaps the biggest social event of the year. This year it was held at the Winfield Country Club, and the invited guests hailed it as the most successful banquet of the year.

PI GAMMA MU

PI GAMMA MU, National Social Science Honor Society, originated in Room 23, Richardson Hall. A group of economics students was called together one day in the spring of 1924 by Dean Leroy Allen, and voted to establish an honor society. Each contributed twenty-five cents to start the movement. In December of that year seventeen colleges and universities organized chapters. Today there are twenty-two chapters and nearly two thousand members, many of whom are members-at-large, representing the social science faculties of five hundred American colleges and universities.

The purpose of Pi Gamma Mu is the encouragement of the scientific study of society and of social problems. Its motto is: "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." This year a national magazine, "Social Science," was established and is published at Southwestern. Dean Allen is Editor and Business Manager and Professor Anna Keaton is Assistant Editor. It publishes articles, book reviews and editorials on social questions, as well as news of the society, its chapters and members.

The national officers are: President, Dean Leroy Allen, Southwestern College; Secretary-Treasurer, Dean William A. Hamilton, William and Mary College; Vice-Presidents, Prof. D. O. Kinsman, Lawrence College; Prof. J. C. Granberry, Texas Technological Institute; Prof. C. J. Bushnell, University of Toledo; Prof. Grace R. Hebard, University of Wyoming; Prof. A. G. Weidler, Berea College; Chancellors, Prof. Robert C. Root, College of the Pacific; Prof. S. B. Laughlin, Willamette University; Prof. S. J. Coon, Montana State University.

The local officers of the Kansas Alpha Chapter are: Mrs. Pearl H. Hamilton, President; Miss Wanda Fry, Vice-President; Prof. O. Leonard Jones, Secretary-Treasurer.

Until this year elections have been confined to faculty, alumni and senior members. But now juniors are chosen in the spring semester. Students are chosen on the basis of high scholarship, interest in social problems and promise of usefulness in social advancement.

The activities of the local chapter were this year confined to the annual banquet held at the Winfield Country Club, April 19, at which an address was given by Dr. F. H. Guild, Professor of Political Science in the University of Kansas.

Dedication

PUBLISHED through the efforts of Miss Gladys Meador, Editor-in-Chief of the 1926 Moundbuilder, who, realizing the extent of her job, consistently kept on our tale until this crime was committed. We therefore lovingly dedicate this conglomerate mixture to her memory. May she take all of the responsibility, for she has longer legs and more wind than we possess.

Foreword

To present to you the student life of this college as it really is, not as it is represented in the scandal sheets of The Moundbuilder, to recall happy hours, associations, activities, and proud achievements of the students of Southwestern College, has been the endeavor of THE CAVEMAN.

The Staff

Chief Scandal Slinger	KEN KITCH
First Asst. Scandal Slinger	LULA B. KIRK
Second Asst. Scandal Slinger	W. MONEYPENNY
Third Asst. Scandal Slinger	STUDENT BODY

The rest of the Staff	PROF. CASE
Faculty Devisor	PROF. MACFARLANE

FACULTY

BECAUSE Southwestern teachers play such an important part in the activities of Moundbuilder students, the Caveman staff felt it to be impossible to eliminate them from the publication. This page will be devoted to "faculty frolics."

"PREXY" KIRK

Our worthy "Prexy," who, although a scholar of extraordinary ability, has proved himself of value when it comes to the presentation of pacifists or other "extra-ordinaries" to the student body.

DEAN ALLEN

A man who knows how to rock back and forth in a swivel-chair without the least personal danger.

PROF. MACK

The Scotch "Ladies' Home Companion." A man who loves an open fire, a doughnut, and a quid of "Horse shew."

CASE AND TAYLOR

Harold and Henry are the two absolute inseparables—tasting the bright lights of the city together and revelling in cider, women, and grand opera.

GENERAL PIMIENTA

The man who won the World War and who absolutely cleansed the world from the stain of German "Kulture."

ORGANIZATIONS

THE VARIOUS organizations of Southwestern have been very successful, especially the dormitory gossip teams who have caused more trouble than usual.

The girls' basket ball team was very successful, landing three of the players on their backs before the end of the season.

The Kay Keeter Klub blossomed forth this year with Bill Warner as its head and tail. Among the social events which it sponsored were: A poker tournie, a kissing contest, and a necking party.

The French Classes have been noted for their excessive studying this year. It is undoubtedly because of interest in their classes.

The Smith Hall girls are an established organization now.
