Greetings

President E. T. FRANKLIN

GREETINGS to present, past and future students and friends of Southwestern College into whose hands this volume may fall.

College days are the most interesting and the most significant of all to those who are privileged to obtain a college education. Classmates, instructors, advisors and college friends have an abiding place in the dearest memories of one's life. As we take our place in the world, our college days stand out in contrast to all the other days.

The college annual is the best medium of preserving and keeping ever fresh the memories of college days and friends. The 1929 Moundbuilder will always be the best history and the most interesting diary of Southwestern College for 1928-1929. Every friend and constituent of Southwestern is deeply grateful to the Moundbuilder staff for the excellent work presented in this volume. The individuals and groups who have achieved honors for the college and who have added to the college spirit justly find a place on history's pages. We deeply honor and appreciate every one who has added to the richness of the campus life.

ACTIVITIES

Order of the Mound

THE Order of the Mound was established in 1917 by the faculty of Southwestern with its basis on the idea that scholastic achievement should receive some recognition. Each year, at the end of the first semester, the faculty elects to membership in the Order those seniors who have maintained an average grade of "B" in seventy-five hours of residence work.

When the society was first established the members were given permission to purchase the key of the Order. This practice was soon discontinued, and the only insignia of honor given the scholars was a purple and white ribbon. The Student Council of 1927-28 moved the presentation of a more permanent memento of achievement, and selected as a suitable award a key similar to the original Order of the Mound key. This practice was continued in 1928-29.

This year fourteen women and two men were elected to membership in the Order.

THE Southwestern Student Council was organized to foster among the students a feeling of mutual responsibility and regard for both liberty and order, to maintain the high standards of the college and to promote loyalty. The organization aids and advances worthy student activities and regulates through its committess matters pertaining to the conduct and welfare of all students.

All activities in which students are engaged have had the attention of the Council during the school year of 1928-1929. This has been largely a year of reconstruction, and plans for many forward steps in student government have been discussed and laid.

PROF. POUNDSTONE

AT FIRST, with only Belles-Athens and Sigma-Delphians to have troubles, there was no need of an inter-society medium. With the advent of Beta Gamma, Alpha Beta and the Deltas, there came the need of a common meeting ground, and the need was met by an Inter-Society Council. The Council not only promotes unity and co operation, but decides the rush and pledge rules and sees that they are enforced. The Council is sponsor, also, for the Little Theater plays that yearly cause more interest in dramatics and other society activities.

Council membership is limited to eighteen members each semester, the president and one other representative from each society, and two representatives from the faculty.

THE first semester the Y. M. and Y. W. continued their joint discussion group program, which grew from the realization of the need and desire of students to express themselves.

The discussion groups met every Wednesday morning under the leadership of competent upper classmen. Myrtle Shircliff and Guy Woodson, thru their freshmen discussion groups, contributed to the needs of the new students. Sarah Riley, Daisy Miller, Armour Evans and Al Beale were the leaders of the upper classmen groups, who based their discussions on the problems presented in the lectures of internationally known speakers who visited the campus.

The speakers were: Professor John Ise of Kansas University, lecturing on Socialism as related to Christianity; "Dad" Elliott of New York City, giving new ideas for the development of personality and individual responsibility; and Harry Holmes, secretary of World Alliance for International Friendship, speaking on international problems. Each lecturer gave impetus for discussion of various phases of the general topic. For instance, from "Dad" Elliott's lectures came specific consideration of lack of honesty, lack of religion, lack of coordination of emotions, intellect and will.

Last semester the Y's varied their programs by having weekly inspirational and worship services, general discussions, and sometimes short plays in the chapel. Weekly discussions were held on Friday in Fellowship Room in the library.

This constituted the main plan of the weekly program, but there were many other activities sponsored by the Y. M. and Y. W.

Pi Kappa Delta

PI KAPPA DELTA is a great national honor forensic society with over 7,000 members. The Kansas Delta chapter at Southwestern College was organized in 1916, and has always been active in promoting oratory and debate in our college.

Each year the Student Council awards those Senior members who have represented Southwestern in either oratory or debate two years Pi Kappa Delta keys. This year two Seniors will be presented with the highest award, the diamond key.

Kansas Delta chapter not only sponsors debate and oratorical contests, but also takes an active part in entertaining visiting orators and debaters, and during the year holds a number of social meetings.

Southwestern College has been well represented in National and Regional Pi Kappa Delta Conventions. The past two successive National Conventions saw her debaters win second place in the debate tournament, while the orators placed high. This year both orators and debaters are entering the Regional Contests in Oklahoma City and Wichita conventions, where the Kansas and Oklahoma conventions convene.

Campus Players

A NOTEWORTHY group of actors and actresses is the Campus Players organization. The successful dramatic productions of the players and that professional atmosphere which surrounds their activities makes Campus Players membership a supreme goal of achievement in the ambitions of many students.

Under the direction of Professor Helen Graham two plays are produced every year, one in the fall and one after May-day exercises. From the time of organization, 1919 until the present, a wide variety of play types have been produced, ranging from Shakespeare's "Macbeth" to Barrie's "Admirable Crichton". Among the most successful of recent plays are "A Bill of Divorcement", "The Rivals", and Lula Vollmer's "Sun-up". The play chosen for this May-day was Stephen Phillip's "Paola and Francesca".

Activities of the players are not limited to rehearsals and mere learning of lines. In addition, stage managing, property managing, advertising, and customing must be attended to. Besides the directing and coaching work, not a small part of Professor Graham's times is spent on making scenes styled to fit the atmosphere of each play. At all times emphasis is placed upon an impressionistic rather than a realistic effect.

To be eligible for Campus Players a student must have taken a major role in a society play or a minor role in a Campus Players production. If his petition is unanimously accepted by the active members, he is placed on probation, during which time various staff duties must be performed by the applicant. A spring banquet is annually given for the newly elected members.

THE Leneans are a group of Southwestern students organized to present religious drama.

The Leneans were organized in October, 1927, at the suggestion of Doctor Albert E. Kirk, who for years had desired to have a permanent religious, dramatic organization.

It is the purpose of the Leneans to further the work of the church by presenting a message in dramatic form.

Under the direction of Miss Edith Dielmann, the Leneans have presented two plays, "The Rich Young Man" by Sarah Kingsbury, and "The Rock" by Mary P. Hamlin. "The Rock" portrayed the character development of Simon Peter. Both plays were very effective and were well received. Each play was given three times in Winfield to large and appreciative audiences. This dramatic organization has earned a real reputation not only in this city but thruout the Southwest Kansas Conference, where they have traveled extensively. The free-will offerings received at each performance were used to purchase costumes and stage scenery.

The Leneans are a permanent organization. Each year new members will be voted into this organization by the director and members, and a new play will be presented each semester. A banquet was given in May by the cast for the senior members who were graduated.

Debate

WITH the championship of the southern division of the Kansas Debate League a reality, and the league title almost within their grasp at this writing, the Southwestern debaters have enjoyed a very successful season. In the first eleven debates, not a single judge's decision was lost.

Giving credit where credit is due, Southwestern College owes to Professor Carl Taylor, our new coach, a debt of profound appreciation for his masterful coaching of the debate squad. Whatever success was realized during the past year, it was due in a large measure to his keen analysis of argument and to his untiring efforts in behalf of the squad and the school.

From March 19 to 29, Roy Baker and John Porter journeyed through Oklahoma and a part of Texas, meeting the teams of seven colleges and universities. On April 8 and 9, two women's teams and two men's teams engaged in the regional Pi Kappa Delta Meet at Oklahoma City University. On April 11 and 12, the same teams took part in the Kansas regional Pi Kappa Delta Tourney at the university of Wichita.

The question debated this year was: "Resolved, that a substitute should be adopted for trial by jury." This proposition proved to be both timely and interesting.

Oratory

YEAR by year the interest in oratory in Southwestern grows. This is clearly manifested by the increasing number of those who annually compete in the various contests.

The results are quite gratifying. In both Oratory and Extempore last year Southwestern won first place by unanimous decision of the coaches, acting as judges, in the Oklahoma-Kansas Womens Oratorical League. Our orators placed high in other contests.

Five contests are held locally at Southwestern, and the best orators developed in these represent the college in both state and inter-state contests, and also at the regional and national Pi Kappa Delta tournaments.

The Moundbuilder

KENNETH HUNTER
Business Manager

THE Moundbuilder might well be termed "Southwestern's Diary". It contains events of the year such as snap-shots, photographs of the faculty and students, pictures of pep clubs and organizations—in fact, everything that is of general interest to the student body.

This year the staff chose for their audacious theme, "Modern Youth". It has been the hope of the staff to convey the true atmosphere of college life on the campus, expressing it in the snap-shots, colored sketches and on the printed pages of this volume.

The Moundbuilder has been published annually since 1924. Until then, the Junior class published it on alternate years. Now, the Editor and Business Manager are selected from the Junior class by the Board of Publications to serve as Assistant Editor and Assistant Business Manager. If their work proves satisfactory during their Junior year, they head the staff during their Senior year. When they are notified of their election, they immediately begin plans for the next book. About the actual time spent on a Moundbuilder is from April to May in the succeeding year.

MILTON GAINNEY
Business Manager

THE Collegian is the weekly newspaper of Southwestern College. The Editor and the Business Manager are elected by the Board of Publications and the student body subscribes for the paper through the activity fee.

The purpose of the Collegian is to provide a historical account of the activities of the school and to serve the needs and humors of the college community. The Collegian this year boasts among its accomplishments the installation of the warning whistle. It has fostered open-minded thinking through the Campus Forum and has fired the school spirit by emphasizing the successes in every department. It has served as a laboratory of experience for those interested in writing and journalistic efficiency—for which reason the Collegian was reorganized this year with a system patterned after that of a city paper. It has followed the best styles in make-up and supplemented the bare news with original poetry, stories, and features.

PI SIGMA PHI is an honorary athletic fraternity in Southwestern, sponsored by a member of the faculty, at present, Professor Poundstone, and advised by Coach Wm. Monypenny. Those men who have won the Purple "S" are eligible for membership, and after due initiation become a part of the brotherhood. Pi Sigma Phi endeavors to stimulate friendship among the athletes, encourages clean athletics, good sportsmanship, and high scholastic record for his four years in college is awarded a gold key. A similar award is given each year to the member having the highest grades for that year.

The Pi Sigma Phi Annual Banquet in the spring is one of the big social events of the year.

THE Dark Derby Club is a group of loyal Southwestern young men who recognize the need of a high type of enthusiasm on the part of every individual in Southwestern. The club was organized in the fall of 1927, and has since been active at all athletic contests.

The membership consists of at least $3\frac{1}{4}\%$ of the total college enrollment, and before an individual can become a member it is necessary for at least 80% of the club to be favorable of his reception. A member to be in good standing must be passing in at least 12 hours of college work and be of a high intellectual and moral character.

The club members, as the name signifies, are known by a dark derby. Later the Builder sweater was introduced, which has proved very popular on the campus. The club also supported a basketball team which made a splendid record in the intramural games, and in games with nearby towns. Another activity of considerable note is the annual banquet held on the eve of the Southwestern-Wichita U. football game.

IT is the purpose of the Women's Athletic Association to promote interest in athletics and good sportsmanship among girls, and to stimulate pep for all college activities. The local chapter was established in 1924 under the leadership of Miss Lillian Cloud, director of physical education for girls.

The organization sponsors almost every athletic activity in which girls have been known to participate. Intramural teams have been organized in volley ball, basketball, baseball, track and tennis. Last year horseshoe pitching and croquet were added. A certain number of points is awarded for participation in these activities and for hiking, keeping health rules, perfect attendance at gymnasium classes, and for scholastic achievement. When a girl has earned three hundred points she is entitled to membership in the Builderettes, the W. A. A. Pep Club. The highest honors which a member may win are: a big Southwestern blanket, which is awarded for two thousand points; and a white "S" sweater, which is awarded for fifteen hundred points. Leota Brush, Goldie Harp, Christine Taylor, and Margaret Harnden are awarded "S" sweaters for this year.

Under the direction of the W. A. A. a Health week is conducted each year. One feature of the week this year was to judge the best proportioned girl in school; Miss Martha McSpadden received a Southwestern blanket as the award.

TO foster international good will and inter-racial understanding on our campus, the Cosmopolitan Club was organized in the fall of 1927 under the auspices of the Y. M. and Y. W. Its membership is made up of all foreign, negro and Indian students who are enrolled in school and an equal number of native white students, who are elected by them.

Much of the success of the group this year has been due to the work of Square Fang, President first semester Pink Cotton, President second semester, and Professor Henry Taylor, sponsor of the club.

League of Women Voters

THE Southwestern College League of Women Voters was organized in the fall of 1927, and was the second college in the state to organize and affiliate with the National League.

It is educational, does not play politics, but tries to instruct the electorate.

The past year has been one of unusual interest because of the presidential campaign and national and state elections. The League was fortunate enough to secure the present governor of Kansas as one of the speakers during the year. The League has studied in an open-minded and non-partisan way the qualifications of men running for office, and has studied problems of state, national, and international importance. Voters from both Republican and Democratic parties are enthusiastic workers in the organization, but their partisanship never makes an appearance at the meetings, nor in the dealings with the League.

Under the leadership and inspiration of the first president, Genevieve Reese, and sponsor, Professor Ada Herr, the League has grown and become an important and permanent organization in the college.

PI GAMMA MU, National Social Science honor society, started at Southwestern. Dean Leroy Allen called a few economics majors together in room 23 and each contributed twenty-five cents to found the society. It has since grown to a great national organization with over eighty chapters and nearly nine thousand members. Dean Allen is still national president and editor of the magazine of Pi Gamma Mu, a quarterly called Social Science, published at Southwestern.

IRENE WALLACE
President

The aim of the society is to promote scientific study of all social problems and to coordinate efforts along this line in all such fields as sociology, economics, commerce, business administration, law political science, history, philosophy, psychology, religion, ethics, biology, geography, anthropology. Only students of the highest character, personality and scholarship are elected on the basis of their interest in scientific social study and their promise of usefulness in this field.

Band

A GOOD Band is an asset to any college. Southwestern may be justly proud of her band, a band that has demonstrated its worth not only on a pep organization in rallies and athletic events, but as a concert organization. With a definite class schedule for rehearsals and a large library of concert music, the organization is able to study and perform the most serious forms of band literature. Through the untiring effort of its director, Professor W. R. Wehrend, the band as well as all forms of instrumental music, has attained a high state of development which is being rightfully recognized by the college and the community.

Orchestra

THE Southwestern Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Professor William R. Wehrend, has built up wide reputation as the outstanding symphony orchestra of the Southwest. The ensemble of sixty players, rehearsing three times a week, has included in its repertoire such numbers as Beethoven's Sixth Symphony, Schubert's "Unfinished", Dvorak's "New World", and Mendelssohn's "Italian" symphonies, "La Dame Blanche" overture, by Boieldieu, "Ilgmont Overture" of Beethoven, "Un Giorno di Venezia" suite by Ethelbert Nevin, and the "Caucasian Sketches" of Ippolitow-Ivanov.

In addition, the group has played with Miss Eva Jeannette Boger, the Schumann "Concertstuck", with Mr. James Lightner, the "Prologue", from "I Pagliacci" by Leoncavallo, besides providing most of the members of the "Elijah" orchestra.

In the past season, the symphony has appeared in concert in Blackwell, Newkirk, Arkansas City, and other surrounding towns, aside from numerous local concert and program engagements.

A Cappella Choir

THE Department of Choral Music, utilizing, as it does, upwards of two hundred students, concentrates its activities, as to the matter of artistic standards, in the A Cappella Choir, fifty-two people. The library of this choir represents a standard choral literature comparable with that of similar organizations of international reputation. To attain a degree of performance worthy the literature has demanded preparation of the most exacting nature. That success has attended the efforts of the choir this year one has but to point to the record of concerts given in practically every city of size in the Southwestern Conference. That membership in this group is most prized among the candidates within the department is at once apparent during the season of probation and tryout. The choir represents every class in college; every society, every department major and wide variety of interests find representation here. As a medium of advertising Southwestern College in the field, the A Cappella Choir has an attractive force among prospective students, which is being recognized by faculty and students alike. It is not unlikely that this choir will travel to the eastern coast during 1930 under New York management. Concerts have been given this year in the following cities: Winfield (3); Arkansas City (2); Ponca City, Oklahoma; Blackwell, Oklahoma; Oxford; Wichita (4); Newton; Sterling; Hutchinson; Lyons; Great Bend; Dodge City; Greensburg; Pratt; Kingman; Medicine Lodge; Wellington, and Harper. In addition, the A Cappella Choir enjoys the distinction of being the only such organization between the Rocky Mountains and the Mississippi River to be invited to the Boston conference of World Federation Music Clubs.

Violin Choir

THE Violin Choir, under the direction of Dean Hugh Altvater, this year completes its eighth concert season. The organization was founded as an ensemble class of violins, and after several years of experimentation, Dean Altvater finally perfected it into its present form. The choir consists of four divisions of violins, two violas and two violincellos.

The music consists of specially adapted pieces from orchestra, violin and piano music arranged in the manuscript by Dean Altvater, with the assistance of several of his advanced pupils. The choir is the only ensemble of its kind that does extensive concert work.

Included in the repertoire are movements from Mozart's Fortieth, Beethoven's Second, and Tschaikowski's Fifth Symphonies. Miss Grace Compton plays the solo "E. Major Concerto" with this group, and Miss Lucille Lorton plays the "Romance of Weniowski" with the choir accompaniment. Miss Ruth Snyder is contralto soloist, singing the "Ballet and Aria", from "Sampson and Delilale" and "Nur Wer Die Sehnsucht Kennt" by Tschaikowski.

This year's tour included two weeks with concerts in Lyons, Dodge City, Kiowa, Pueblo, Colorado Springs and seven other cities in Kansas and Colorado.

Grace Church Choir

FOR the third year the Grace Church has been the scene of a musical and religious activity, provided by the Grace Choirs, which involved upwards of one hundred students. Not only beautiful and worth-while music has been provided at the services of the church, but a training for the members in liturgical service, choir training, and organization has been the aim of the Grace Choir. The extensive and varied experience of the Director, Professor Dyer, has been a constant inspiration and stimulus to the members. The opportunities for breadth of training in the field of sacred music largely accounts for the growth of the choir to their present membership. Social events intersperse the rehearsal periods throughout the year, which binds the members into a wholesome and valuable fellowship.

Men's Glee Club

(State Champions 1928 and 1929)
(Second place in Missouri Valley Contest)

SOUTHWESTERN College received widespread advertising through the success of the Men's Glee Club, which, for the second time in consecutive years, won the State Trophy in the Intercollegiate Contest held on February 1st at Newton.

Entering the Missouri Valley contest the following week at Kansas City, Missouri, the Club received scant consideration from the Universities of Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, the St. Louis University of St. Louis and Creighton University of Omaha, until the contest was under way. Apparently compelling consideration for its excellent work, the Southwestern Club was immediately the "Dark Horse" of the contest and when it was announced that Southwestern had won second place but eight points below the winner, there was jubilation in the local camp. Although the club has not maintained a year-round program of rehearsals and concerts, it did appear several times in Winfield on occasions of importance in the college calendar.

SECOND HALF—HOMECOMING

Football History

THE Moundbuilders had one of the most successful seasons in years, losing only one conference tilt, and that to the champions, College of Emporia. The Emporia Teachers finished in second place by virtue of the fact that only one tie game was chalked up against them.

Southwestern opened the season and dedicated the new Alumni Field on September 28 against Central Teachers from Edmond, Oklahoma. The game was rather slow and the Moundbuilders showed early season form. Central emerged victorious 7 to 0, but the Builder prospects looked good.

The following week the Builders played their first conference game at Emporia with the College of Emporia. The Emporians were victors, 19 to 0, but the game was much harder fought than the score would indicate. After a 13 point scoring spree by Emporia in the first five minutes of play, the Builders battled them on even terms. Three times they carried the ball within the Emporia 10 yard line, but lacked the punch to score. This was the only time that the College of Emporia goal line was threatened all season.

On Saturday, October 20, a fighting purple team outfought and outplayed the strong Emporia Teachers before a large home-coming crowd, but the Builder eleven lacked the punch to score and the final count was 0 to 0. However, the game was in effect a victory for Southwestern. The Hornets, undefeated and doped to win by a wide margin, met a stone-wall defense and a driving offense on the part of the Builders. Only once in the fourth quarter did the Normals threaten to score when, after blocking a Builder punt, they carried the ball to the 15 yard line, where they tried a place kick. Twice the Builders threatened, once carrying the ball to the 10 yard line, and a second time to the 6 yard line. Southwestern College gained a total of 290 yards, while the Normals were credited with only 135 yards, but the scoring punch was not strong enough.

The jinx that kept the Builders scoreless was again much in evidence when they fought another scoreless tie with the Hays Teachers on October 26. The Builders outgained their opponents, but lacked the punch on the goal line. Hays was outplayed in practically all departments of the game, but the brilliant playing displayed by the Purple the week before against the Yellowjackets was missing. Late in the game the Moundbuilders lugged the ball to the Hays 11 yard line, only to lose it on downs.

Outplaying their ancient rivals from the opening whistle to the final gun, Coach Monypeny's Moundbuilders defeated the University of Wichita at Wichita, November 10, 7 to 0.

INTER-COLLEGIATE TRI-STATE BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

Annual Intercollegiate Basket
Ball Tourney

THE First Annual Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament was held at Stewart Gymnasium March 6-7-8-9, 1929. Despite the attraction of big city life and athletic club luxury offered by the National Tournament at Kansas City, the Collegiate Tourney was a huge success. Sixteen teams entered, including leading teams from three states. The Moundbuilders of Southwestern, after an erratic season in the Central Conference, came through in great style, emerging victorious with an impressive record. The Builders averaged 40.4 points per game to their opponent's 23.4 points—an average of a 17 point margin for every game played. As a climax to the four days of fine basketball exhibited, the Builders met and decisively defeated their ancient rivals, Wichita University, in the finals, 29 to 33. Fossey, Builder forward and high scorer of the tournament, played the greatest basketball of his career, and was an unanimous choice for the First All-Tournament Team. Okerberg, Builder guard who has not failed to win the tip over every opponent this season, was honored with a position on the Second All-Tournament Team and named captain. Gibbons, high scorer in the Central Conference the past season, won a forward position on the Second All-Tournament Team.

Track

ALTHOUGH the 1928 track team was not heavily endowed with stars the Moundbuilders made a creditable showing. The Builders entered their first competition of the season in the Oklahoma Relays at Norman on April 14. Although none of the teams placed in the relay events, they gathered seven and one-half points in the regular track meet, which was won by Pittsburg Teachers. Okerberg placed second in the high hurdles, while Zile and Moore tied for first place with two other entries in the high jump.

On April 23 the Builders journeyed to Chilocco for a dual meet with the Indians. The tract and field was heavy from recent rains so that good marks were impossible. Southwestern emerged victorious by a score of $85\frac{3}{4}$ points to $36\frac{1}{4}$ points.

The following week the Builders engaged in a dual meet with the College of Emporia at Emporia. Southwestern was again victorious, this time 74 to 51. Okerberg was high point man with 23 points. Zile and Dunn tied with Edwards of the college in the high jump at a height of 6 feet.

The first big meet of the season was held at Wichita the following week with Wichita University, Emporia Teachers, College of Emporia, and Southwestern present. The Builders finished in third place with $32\frac{1}{2}$ points.

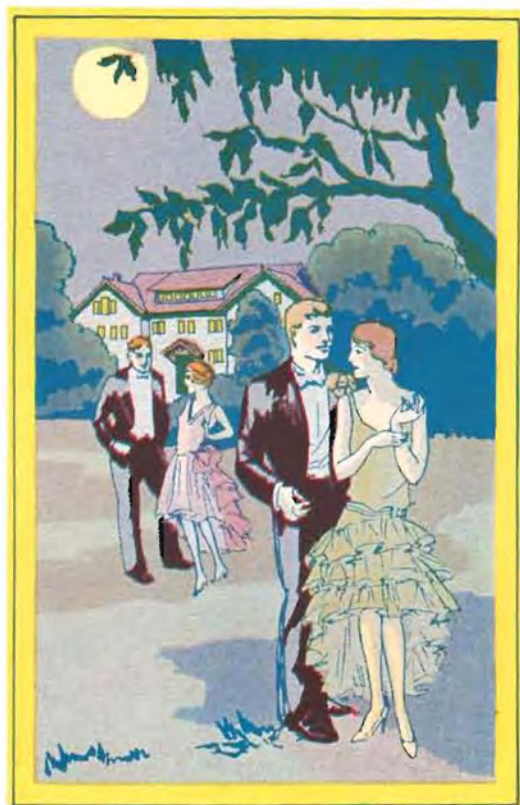

On May 11 the Annual Class Meet was held at Alumni Field. The Freshmen, with a world of material, were victors by a fairly wide margin. Okerberg, Freshman star, was high point man with 27 points.

The first Annual Central Conference Track and Field Meet was held at Wichita on May 18, 1928. The Pittsburg Teachers, although pushed by Wichita University, were victors by a safe margin. The Emporia Teachers barely nosed the Builders out of third place by a fraction of a point.

The Central Conference Meet at Wichita concluded the track activities for the season. With the mainstay of the 1928 team back in school this year the Moundbuilders should give a better account of themselves in the 1929 season.

FRESHMAN QUEEN

THE May Queen, the most Popular Girl, the most Popular Man, and the Freshman Queen were all elected in chapel by popular vote. The two elected for popularity were chosen from the school at large, and the other two were confined to the senior and freshman classes respectfully. To be elected May Queen is perhaps one of the highest honors that the school affords. Miss Manser will preside at the May Fete to be given on the campus, the evening of May 6. The theme to be carried out is "Beaus and Belles of the South".

Belles Lettres History

"Here's to Southwestern Purple,
And here's to Belles Lettres Gold;
Here's to the Knights of the Crimson
To, Athens, as pure as gold.

"So I drink to the Gold that tells
To the fairest flower that blows,
To the maids of the golded bells,
To the Knights of the red, red rose."

BELLES Lettres Society has had many such toasts given her since her organization in 1889. Being the oldest society on the campus, she has witnessed many things and accomplished much which causes old members to write back such meaningful words as, "Belles shall never be forgotten."

This past year has been very successful. Rush week will always be remembered for its parties, picnics and glorious times. Then came Belles-Athenian day: the banquet, interesting programs, and various inter-society contests which prove the loyal team work of the society. This past year has added many marks to the achievements of Belles-Lettres.

Dramatics, forensics, music, women's athletics, scholastic attainments—in any of these one will find excellent leaders who are Belles.

Belles' motto is "No Steps Backward" and she stands for active participation in things worth while, to give her members training for proper social citizenship.

Sigma Pi Phi History

SIGMA Pi Phi, the second oldest girls' society on Southwestern's Campus, stands for Friendship, Learning and Loyalty.

Sigma has been well represented the past year in all the major activities of the school including dramatics, oratory, debate and music.

Sigma-Delphi tied for second place in the Little Theater plays this fall, with the play "The Exchange". The big play "Captain Applejack" was a success from both a financial and an artistic standpoint.

This year joint meetings have been held, which have promoted the social feeling in the societies. Old Times Day grows in popularity each year. A joint banquet and the annual breakfast for the senior members were held in the spring.

As a whole the past year has been a success with both old and new members striving to build beautiful personalities and mold their character for the honor of Sigma.

Beta Gamma Epsilon History

BEAUTIFUL thoughts, good deeds, earnest living is the motto for which Beta Gamma Epsilon stands. During the nine years of her literary and social service to the school and to each member of the society, her members have worked toward this ideal.

With the growth of the school and the increasing enrollment in the two societies Sigma Pi Phi and Belles Lettres, the demands for a third society arose. To meet the demands for a third society the leaders from the two societies organized Beta Gamma Epsilon. With this leadership upon which to build, she has been able in these few years to rise to the high place in which she now stands.

Beta Gamma Epsilon is unique in the respect that she has elected to her membership six of the most influential women of the city as patronesses.

In the numerous and sundry active interests of the school, you will find Beta Gamma represented. The girls are loyal, dependable, enthusiastic, and talented. They easily find their places of leadership in the various activities.

So we toast to Beta Gamma. May her future be as glorious as her past.

Delta Kappa Chi History

IN 1924 Delta Kappa Chi was organized to meet the ever increasing need for a new girls' literary society. The society was founded by a group of freshman girls who had had no previous experience in the work of such organizations. The hearty cooperation of various members of the faculty made it possible for the new society to make much progress in its first year.

During the past five years the Delta members have worked steadily toward the goal implied in the name; Democracy, Knowledge, Culture. The society strives to create a friendly feeling of equality among its members. Scholarship is a point of honor with this as with all other literary societies. The organization also gives attention to the social life of its members.

In 1927 and again in 1928 the Deltas won the trophy in the Little Theater Contest. The prize winning play presented in 1927 was "Suppressed Desires"; in 1928, "Hop O' Me Thumb".

Members of the Delta societies have gained recognition in the school in dramatics, music, debate and oratory.

Athen's History

ATHENS holds the honor of being the oldest society in Southwestern, having been organized in 1889. The present name, The Athenian Literary Society, was adopted in February, 1890. The tradition established in the early days of Athens, "Athens invites men of honor and ambition", is still alive today. The purpose of Athens is to maintain among its members the highest standards of leadership, personality, and loyalty.

Both social and literary life are encouraged and sponsored through the joint meetings that are held weekly in place of the separate meetings as has been the custom in the past. Informal parties are also held to develop the social life of the members.

The present year has been one of outstanding merit in the history of Athens. During the first semester, through earnest work and splendid cooperation of both the active and alumni members, it was possible to place the society in the best condition it has known for many years. During the second semester Athens and Belles Lettres presented a play that was pronounced a success by all.

Athenians have taken their place in school activities. All members of the men's debate team are Athenians. Southwestern is represented in oratory by Athenians. The editor and business manager of the school paper are Athenians. Athens is also represented in the Men's Glee Club, the orchestra, and practically every other line of activity.

The spirit of cooperation that has been ever present between Belles Lettres and Athens has made this year a year that will be outstanding in the history of both societies.

Delphi History

THE Delphian Literary Society in its organization thirty years ago, spanned the years into ancient Greece, and selected a motto which has ever been a guide to mankind—KNOW THYSELF. As Apollo spoke and was a guide of human endeavor in the days of yore, likewise, Delphi has spoken in both words and deeds, from a few members who first met in 1899, to the largest men's society in Southwestern College today. Although handicapped for lack of conveniences for the first few years; after the completion of Richardson Hall, Delphi was given opportunity to expand and progress.

The Society endeavors to be of distinctive literary nature, giving primary consideration to the development of talents and training for leadership. It has been traditional until quite recently for Delphi and Sigma Pi Phi to give annual operettas. Each year a feature known as "Fakulty" program is presented. This year for the first time there have been regular joint meetings with the sister society, which have proved to be quite successful.

Oft in a still night we hear a blend of voices borne in the air from the steps of Richardson Hall. It fades into oblivion of yesterday, but to all Delphians the memory still lingers: WE-WY-WO—D-E-L-P-H-I!

Alpha Beta Alpha History

NINETEEN twenty-nine marks the ninth year of Alpha Beta Alpha's contribution to literary and social life in Southwestern. It was organized, along with the sister society, in 1920 when school authorities deemed it necessary in order that all students might have an active part in society life. Since that time Alpha Beta Alpha has maintained its high percentage among the other societies and friendly rivalry is welcomed.

Literary development is stressed by Alpha Beta Alpha, but a broad meaning is placed on it. The society offers beside the regular programs the society play, the Little Theatre plays, contests in music, debate and scholarship. Leadership is one of the fundamental principals stressed and as a reward each year a chancellor's key is given to the one showing the highest type of leadership in the society.

The social life is not neglected, for each year has its full quota of parties, hikes, joint meetings with Beta Gamma Epsilon, and the big event of the year, the spring banquet.

Delta Theta Pi History

FOUR years ago Delta Theta Pi was founded for the purpose of giving all the men of the college who so desired an opportunity to get that training which comes from active participation in a literary society.

Because we have a rather small membership, each person has an opportunity to develop his talents in the literary programs. Those who have dramatic ability take part in the society plays and Inter-Society dramatics contest; this year the trophy being won by the Delta Societies. The social life that the society provides is also of great value, and the associations are among the most valuable contributions which are made to the life of the student.

As long as Delta Theta Pi continues to contribute things of such great value, it will continue as an attractive force on the campus of Southwestern College.

Football games last fall, Freshmen day at the "S", the erecting of monuments to football victories and masquerade parties made the fall days full of interest to the student body.

The Sophomres are victors in the "hog-tying" and tug-of-war battles last fall. Freshmen co-eds do their bit in white-washing the "S". Martha McSpadden and her Southwestern blanket.

Classes are out, and the "thundering herd" is coming down the "77". An enthusiastic football crowd, a girls' pep club at a game and the Business Manager of the Moundbuilder on a rainy day constitute this page.

Ladies? Man

The two pictures at the top were taken on the annual geology trip to the Arbuckles. The black cat is none other than the live jinx that was fought over during the S. C. vs. W. U. game. At the bottom are two golf players, a basket ball girl, a football player and Southwestern's greatest jigger.

FAMILIAR SCENES

THE SPOONHOLDER
(A "Knight" on the Campus)

Notice to Freshmen

The sign in the library which says only low talking permitted does not mean you can tell dirty jokes.

Our idea of carrying a joke too far is when the professor hums "Home, Sweet Home" as he writes the term exam questions on the blackboard.

EDDIE (the ex-plumber): "What's the difference between a plumber and an Economics prof?"

CASS: "I bite, what?"

EDDIE: "A plumber doesn't pretend to know anything about Economics."

There were days and days, after Jimmie Lightner went horseback riding that he would not speak to any of us. 'Spose he was sore about something?

"Mutt" Williams was up for his final in English History. It was well understood that he was rather incompetent in remembering history dates, but the powers that be were anxious to pass him, for he is a fine footballer and captain of next year's team.

"Just put down something," pleaded Professor Taylor.

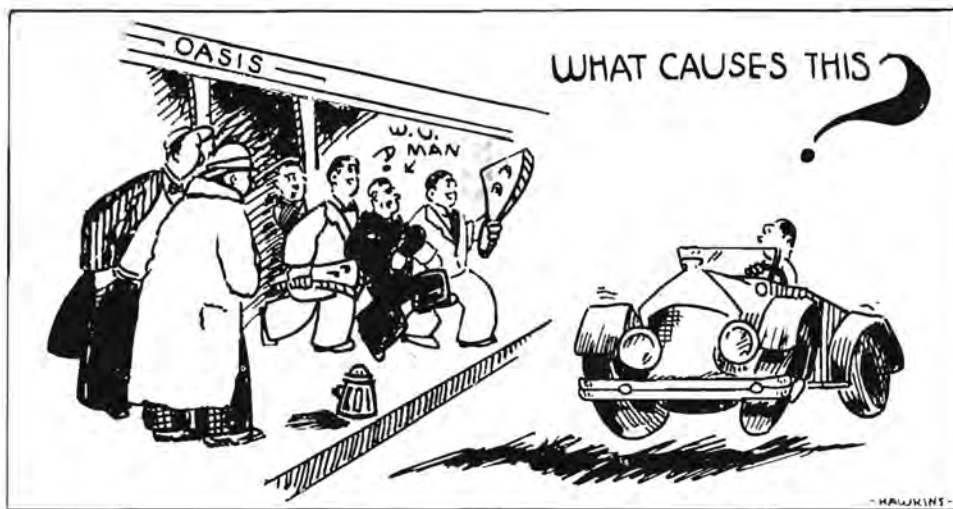

"Write down anything you can, we'll get you through somehow." And he left "Mutt" to it.

"Mutt" sat for an hour gazing at the paper before him. Then in disgust and despair he scrawled the word "Dam" on the paper and left the room.

Later Professor Taylor came to him more in sorrow than in anger.

"We can't pass you," he said glumly. "You've spelled it wrong."

And then there was the freshman who sent his pants to the Associated Press instead of Smith Panatorium.

THE WAY OF ALL STUDENTS

Heard At The Tournament

He (in a quandary): Field goal?

SHE (in a fur coat): No; very comfy, thanks!

"I'll get by as long as I have you," sang the Freshman as he tucked the crib for the exam in his pocket.

Bill Crawford says that the height of hard luck is a saxophone player with the carache.

SOMETHING IN THE WAY OF A QUIZ:

If Ed was a good Cook, would Elsie Marriott?

ENGLISH PROF.: You have read Dumas, haven't you?

S. C. Co-Ed (blushing): Good gracious, are they showing?

"Say, what's the huge idea of wearing my raincoat?"

ROOMMATE: "Well, I got your suit on and I didn't want to get it wet."

YOUR OLD FRIEND

WIFE: "Do you realize, dear, that it was twenty-five years ago today that we became engaged?"

ABSENT-MINDED PROF.: "Twenty-five years. Bless my soul. You should have reminded me before. It's certainly time we got married."

AMONG THE EDITING CLASSES

SHE: Isn't it terribly hard to be a proof reader?

HE: Why, no; it's simply a case of follow the error.
