TO PRESIDENT MURRAY

WE OF THE MOUNDBUILDER staff wish to dedicate the 1951 Moundbuilder to our President, ALVIN W. MURRAY. Dr. Murray with his far-sightedness, his eloquence, his determination and his Building Program has lead us through one of the greatest crises in the history of Southwestern College. We salute you, President Murray, in your struggle for a Greater Southwestern.

SOUTHWESTERN FACES

THE

CHANGES IN OUR SOUTHWESTERN COLLEGE campus have been many this 1950-51 school year. September saw the final razing of old North Hall and the excavation for two new buildings. November saw cornerstones laid for Mossman Hall of Science and Memorial Library in a single ceremony. January saw the letting of contracts for a new Richardson Hall. May sees the science hall nearing completion, the library steadily going up, and hears the gangs of men at work at the top of the "77" steps. Next September? Our dream campus will be even nearer a reality.

The date of April 16, 1950, is definitely linked with the present. Without it and the fire that destroyed Richardson Hall, we would not have run all over the campus to attend classes. Our chapel and assembly would have been held in the gymnasium. We wouldn't have seen our plays in Music Hall. Yet these inconveniences we have endured will soon be gone.

We look forward to the new Southwestern. We will look back on the old school with nostalgic hearts. But always—Southwestern College is looking to the future.

COUNSELOR OF WOMEN

MRS. MILDRED SKINNER, Counselor of Women, clothing teacher, and "Complaint Bureau" all rolled into one, is a very capable person. Her office is usually packed with students, housemothers, and others seeking help. We salute Mrs. Skinner with her understanding, her patience, and her never-failing aid in time of need.

COUNSELOR OF MEN

WILLIAM CLOUD, Bill to most of us, is in his first year as Counselor of Men. We sincerely hope that he hasn't gotten discouraged and will be back in this position again next year. A Southwestern graduate, Bill shows that he has "what it takes" so we say "Good Luck, Bill, and power to you!"

FACULTY

Always friendly, always smiling, encouraging the students to come to them for help—these phrases characterize the attitude that the Southwestern faculty members take in relationship to their students. Southwestern didn't get its reputation for good will and friendliness from the student body alone. Every teacher in the entire college has the admiration and respect of the students for this very reason.

On our campus, every faculty member is a friend of the students. We see none of the remembering students by a number rather than by name that is so customary in other colleges. Southwestern students have the opportunity to learn from the best instructors in every field and to learn the good times and comradeship that can be shared by faculty and students alike.

These men pictured below operate both behind and in front of the scenes. Without the administrative paper work and the decisions necessary in the offices of the Dean and the Registrar, life at Southwestern College would not flow so smoothly.

DEAN WILLIAM MONYPENY has the additional titles of associate professor of psychology and Director of Placement. Through his office, jobs in professions and businesses are joined with qualified Southwestern graduates. He also is available for friendly advice. He holds a master's degree from the University of Iowa and has done additional work at the University of Chicago.

WILLIAM J. POUNDSTONE has the fourfold job of professor of education and psychology, Registrar, Director of the Summer Session, and Alumni Secretary. His office catalogs the innumerable details of student information from the first request to register to the day that student's name is added to the alumni roll. His master's degree was granted by the University of Kansas. He has done additional study at Columbia University and the University of Colorado.

IRVING S. JACKSON, Business Manager, did not join the staff of Southwestern College until November. But in the few months he has been with us, he has inaugurated changes and clarified business office policies that have resulted in speeded work and smoother operations. He has a master's degree from New York University and has completed most of the requirements for a doctor's degree from that university.

ROBERT W. DAVIDSON, Admissions Counselor, is a man familiar to students from their senior days in high school through their years at Southwestern. His Panama Red Nash Rambler has crossed the highways of southwestern Kansas many times this year. High School Day was his special project. He holds a master's degree from the University of Kansas.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

DR. BLAINE NOLAN, chairman of the Division of Social Science and professor of education, has also served as the motivating force in working out a program this year with the State Training school for the training of teachers of exceptional children. Dr. Nolan holds a doctor's degree from the University of Missouri and a law degree from Cornell university.

DR. ARTHUR W. Y. CHEN, professor of sociology, enlivens his classes with pantomimes and impersonations which help to make his points. In these times of tense Far Eastern situations, Dr. Chen has brought understanding of the Chinese people. He is a graduate of St. John's, the University of Chicago, and holds a Ph.D. from the University of Southern California.

ROBERT MYERS, new to the faculty this year, is instructor in history and political science. He is an ex-infantry officer and holds a master's degree from the University of Iowa. In his office back in the recesses of the library, he has devised tests which make his students plead, "Please, Mr. Myers, a true-false test is easier to write!"

JERRY M. HIGHFILL, assistant professor of accounting, is seen in his most natural habitat at his desk in the business office where he carries on his additional job of school accountant. He holds a master's degree from Colorado State College.

REV. FRANKLYN L. EDWARDS passes on to students the fine points of New and Old Testament history. He is also familiar to students as pastor of Grace Methodist church. He has a master's degree in theology from the Iliff Graduate School of Theology in Denver.

WILLIAM N. GRANDY is assistant professor of philosophy and director of religious education. Religious Emphasis Week was the product of his planning. He is a familiar figure in a black robe at Wednesday chapels. His master's degree is from Northwestern University and he has completed his work for the doctor's degree there also.

MURREL K. SNYDER, associate professor of economics and business administration, discusses the law of supply and demand and the ups and downs of the business cycles. His master's degree is from the University of Kansas.

M. LLOYD EDWARDS, instructor of commercial science and business administration, doesn't spend his time doodling. That's shorthand! Edwards holds degrees from Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, and the University of Colorado.

DR. ELEANOR HOAG, chairman of the Division of Languages and Literature, emphasizes the communications skills of reading, writing, speaking, and—that's right—listening in her classes. Also associate professor of English, she holds a doctor of education degree from the Colorado State College of Education.

LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

C. I. VINSONHALER, associate professor of Latin, German, and English, is the philosopher-sage who, in his own words, "really enjoys teaching." In the years since 1927 when he first became a part of Southwestern, he has accumulated a retinue of admiring students. He holds a master's degree from the University of Kansas.

Under the direction of HELEN GRAHAM, associate professor of expression and dramatics, fledgling freshmen become the accomplished Campus Players. Grease paint, lights, and action are her special domain. In addition to holding a master's degree from Northwestern University, she has studied under leading dramatic coaches.

"Merci beaucoup" to ETHEL COLBRUNN, assistant professor of modern languages, who teaches her students how to read the French and Spanish classics and how to order a steak in Paris. The color slides she took in Europe last summer have been viewed enviously by many clubs this year. She holds a master's degree from Ohio State.

ALLEN R. STOWELL, librarian and assistant professor of library science, cheerfully helps students find the answer to such questions as "Who set fire to the White House in the War of 1812?" An invaluable friend at term paper time, he also sees that the incoming books maintain a balance between the textbook type and the books with which one can relax. In addition to his degree in library science from the University of Illinois, he also holds theological degrees.

ALICE GORDON WILSON, associate professor of speech and English, joined the faculty in October. Under her direction, the annual Southwestern College debate tournament was held at Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia. She holds a master's degree from the University of Michigan.

Another latecomer, MARCELLA ROBERTS replaced John C. Merrill in November when he was recalled to service. In addition to her duties as instructor in journalism and English, she has served as Director of Publicity for the college. She also has been adviser to both the Collegian and the Moundbuilder. She holds a degree in journalism from the University of Kansas.

FINE ARTS

MR. AND MRS. ORCENITH SMITH select a number for the repertoire of the a cappella choir for next year. MISS LAURA N. FORD looks on approvingly.

Mr. Smith, chairman of the Division of Fine Arts and associate professor of voice, is director of the famed Purple Robed choir. He has appeared many times this year as concert soloist and has been invited to judge and direct choral groups at music festivals in Kansas and surrounding states. He completed work on his sacred music doctorate this spring at Columbia University.

Miss Ford, associate professor of voice, is director of Opera Workshop whose productions this year included Broadway favorites. She also directs the choral ensemble and the chapel choir which was heard each Wednesday morning at chapel services. She holds a master's degree from Eastman School of Music and has done special work with several noted vocal coaches.

The piano faculty poses, aptly enough, at the concert grand. Standing are MISS GRACE SELLERS and MISS E. MARIE BURDETTE. Seated are GLADWIN CHAFFIN and MISS FERN DIELMANN. Miss Sellers, assistant professor, holds a master's degree in music from Michigan State College and has done other special work. Miss Burdette, instructor, has studied with many well-known artists and has done special work in Kansas City and Chicago.

Chaffin, assistant professor, has studied in Europe and holds a master's degree from Columbia University.

ROSS WILLIAMS and CRESTON KLINGMAN hold the instruments symbolic of their work in orchestra and band. Williams, an associate professor, holds a master's degree from the University of Michigan and has done special work with authorities in the vocal and instrumental fields. Klingman, an assistant professor, holds a master's degree from the University of Michigan and also has studied with well-known artists.

SUE JEAN HILL COVACEVICH, assistant professor of art, sits in front of a favorite painting in her studio. "Painting is thinking" to Mrs. C's student artists whose art education is pointed toward reflecting our modern day. In addition to holding a master's degree from Colorado State College of Education, she has done work in art centers in the United States and Mexico.

EDITH DIELMANN, instructor in expression and dramatics, teaches the fine points of dramatic productions to students in the downtown studio of the Division of Fine Arts. She has studied at Chicago Musical College, Northwestern University, University of Colorado and has worked under well-known coaches in Boston, Chicago, and London.

W. ARNOLD LYNCH, assistant professor of organ, is a familiar figure at the grand piano in chapel each Wednesday. Handicapped by the loss of the prized college organ, his students have used the facilities of Grace church where he also is choir director. He holds a master's degree from the University of Kansas.

NATURAL SCIENCE

HELEN EVERS, associate professor of home economics and acting chairman of the Division of Natural Science, opens a variety of careers inside and outside the home to her interested students. She has a master's degree from Kansas State College and has done additional study at Oregon State and Colorado State Colleges.

MILDRED SKINNER, associate professor of home economics and counselor of women, teaches her girls how to sew a fine seam and tell one color scheme from another. She has a master's degree from Kansas State College and has done additional graduate study there and in Iowa and Colorado.

DR. BERNARD RIEDEL, associate professor of biology and geology, was new to the campus this year. His students learned cell structure through microscopes and the difference between the Eocene and Pleistocene ages. He has a doctor's degree from Kansas State College.

DR. LEROY A. SPITZE, professor of chemistry, shows his students how to bend glass tubing for an experiment in chemistry class. In an improvised science building, he and his classes awaited the completion of the new science hall. He has a doctor's degree from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

DR. PAUL W. HEALY, associate professor of mathematics, changed the "x" from an unknown to a known in his simplified explanations which brought higher mathematics to an understandable level.

A photographer out of the amateur class, he also sponsored the Photo Flops. He holds degrees from Ohio State University and the University of Kentucky.

WILLIAM CLOUD, assistant professor of physics and counselor of men, is equally at home with a physics demonstration or on the baseball diamond. He coached the successful baseball team. Bill holds a master's degree from Ohio State and has done additional work in Ohio, Chicago, and Mexico.

LILLIAN CLOUD has the dignified titles of associate professor of health and physical education and director of social and recreational life, but students appreciate her friendly understanding. Her master's degree is from Colorado State College of Education and she has done additional study in Chicago and Iowa.

HAROLD HUNT, director of athletics and coach of football and basketball, teaches the fundamentals of the games to teams with the real Builder spirit. He holds degrees from Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, and the University of Iowa.

WILLIAM CARROLL, assistant coach and instructor of physical education, is new to the faculty this year. An ex-Navy man, he established a pole vault record at Oklahoma University where he received his degree. He has brought this proficiency to his job at Southwestern.

MRS. GENEVIEVE BURT, matron of Wesley Hall, was nursing a broken bone in her foot when the picture of "her boys" was taken. Her picture is included here in tribute to her understanding management of dormitory life.

Faculty members do their bit as "Moundbuilders" in dedicating themselves anew to Builder ideals. The group here includes Orcenith Smith, Murrel K. Snyder, Mrs. Smith, Grace Sellers, Ethel Colbrunn, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Stowell, Helen Graham, Dean Monypeny, Dr. Eleanor Hoag, and—walking out of the picture—Dr. Leroy Spitze.

Evelyn Hamlin, Secretary to the Dean; Mrs. Bernice Murray, bookkeeper; Mrs. Louise Slagle, Switchboard; Mrs. Edith Shields, Secretary to the Registrar; Mrs. Vera Clark, Secretary to the President. Front: Mrs. Anna Lawrence, Bookkeeper.

Homer Nichols, or "Nick" as he is affectionately called, is at work, as usual. Mr. Brinkmeyer, Supt. of Buildings and Grounds, was ill at the time the pictures were taken.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Service! Service! If you want courteous and efficient service, the people on this page are always more than willing to aid you. Whether it's a cup of coffee between classes, some steps moved in a hurry, an excuse from the Dean or a meal at Smith Hall, these are the ones to see. Regardless of where they work, there is always a spirit of friendliness prevailing and a willingness to help.

SHOULD OLD ACQUAINTANCE BE FORGOT

All the good times, the low grades, the sessions in the Dean's office merge together into what is called "sentiment" and everything becomes a wonderful memory to the senior about to embark upon a journey into the "outside world." As the year draws to an end, such statements as "Do you remember when . . . ." and "I'll never forget the time . . . ." are prevalent among seniors. Included in the memories of these seniors will be four years of hard work, four years of good times, Homecomings, assemblies, the elections for queens and for student body officers and, of course, the rotunda and all of Richardson Hall which was so dear to us.

Of course, in our four years, the fire was the most spectacular memory, but we hope that so many wonderful things happen as a result of that disaster that it will become a blessing instead of the calamity which it still appears to us.

All good things must come to an end, and so as the Class of '51 leaves Southwestern, four years of useful and abundant living come to an end for us. However, the end is actually only the beginning as we start making our dreams come true.

BIG PEOPLE ON THE CAMPUS

The Juniors of 1950-51 are the seniors and leaders of next year. Although the junior class is the smallest class in Southwestern, it is composed of students who are among the best in school in scholarship, activities and potential success in life.

This year's junior class sports a Milk Bucket Queen, candidates for next year's student body president and members in every college organization on the campus. We are proud to call the members of this junior class a part of Southwestern College.

Other students from this class who are members of the student council are Beverly Byers, Eldon Snyder, Lois McNeil, John Wynn, Harold Tretbar, Donita Gentzler, Ralph Farris and Melvin Maeshiro.

"RETURN OF THE NATIVES"

As the Sophomores returned to Southwestern after their first year away from home, they had the feeling that this wasn't quite so new to them as it had been before. They now saw old familiar faces, the same surroundings, new freshmen (at whom they could now tolerantly and pityingly gaze), and heard announcements of the traditional Big and Little Sister Tea, Ghost Walk, S.C.A. Hike and other get-acquainted activities.

Yes, these were the very things which had helped them to become so well adjusted to college life last year. Now they were in there helping as if they had done that very thing all of their natural lives. That is the Builder Spirit. In one short year, this spirit was instilled into those green freshmen and they came back seasoned sophomores.

Some of the more outstanding sophomores who gained positions on the student council were Neil Frank, Velma Becker, Wanda Kirkhart, Vela Langhofer, Harold Adams, Dean Morgan and Bill Cobb.

THE FIRST YEAR IS THE HARDEST

The freshmen this year learned what it is like to be away from home, to live in a dorm with a group of other boys or girls and to get along with others in general. They have worked into campus life and have become such a part of Southwestern that it now seems as if they have been a part of us since time began.

Now, a Coke at the College Inn, a game of ping-pong at the Union, 8:00 o'clock nights for the girls seem no more strange than a Saturday night movie in their home towns. It is all a part of growing up and in adjusting themselves to the outside world.

The freshman class of 1950-51 has contributed some outstanding persons to our college and some of them are these members of the student council: Marilyn Powers, Pat Fox, Nancy Renn, Ernie Radcliffe, Wanda Derby and Eugene Beye.

BUILDING OF THE MOUND

The Building of the Mound ceremony is a practice that stands out as being unique among colleges. Since Southwesterners are the Mound-builders, no other college can claim the right to "build mounds."

The term "Moundbuilder" originated in 1910 and has since clung to Southwestern, although "Cliffdwellers" ran a close second. The Building of the Mound as an official ceremony started in the fall of 1927 and each year Southwestern students and faculty each build a stone into the mound. The Mound, with each year's addition of stones is a symbol of a growing Southwestern.

SOUTHWESTERN BUILDS FOR THE FUTURE-TODAY

With the burning of Richardson Hall and the razing of North Hall, Southwestern College was left with virtually no classroom space. However, with rapid and ingenious planning, classes were resumed and life on the campus went on much the same as before. Then came the dawn of a new day and a new campus. A campus such as is dreamed of by college presidents, but rarely becomes a reality. This year will be remembered by the students of Southwestern as the year of looking ahead, planning and working for the future of Southwestern. Next fall, the Science Hall will be ready to use and the Library will be nearing completion. Richardson Hall is on its way to becoming one of the most modern administrative buildings on a campus in Kansas. Yes, our dream campus is becoming a reality and, although many of us will not be here to enjoy the increased pleasures it will afford, we will be proud to say that we attended Southwestern College, the college with a real future.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Every Thursday night in the Student Union, East Room, the Student Council meets to discuss and re-discuss matters pertaining to student activities, student-faculty relations and school problems in general. This organization is composed of four representatives and two alternates from each class. It acts as a bridge between student body and administration and keeps the relations smooth between the two.

The Student Council sponsors most student activities including student elections, school parties and dances, school holidays, student assemblies, pep rallies and the awarding of honors. This year's Student Council functioned very well under the able leadership of Keith Dillman, Student Body President; Dave Warren, Vice-President and assembly chairman; and Beverly Byers and Marilyn Powers, secretaries for first and second semesters respectively.

WHO'S WHO

Students chosen by Who's Who to appear in the annual publication "Who's Who in American Universities" are selected on their character, scholarship, participation in school activities and possible success in their field after leaving school.

This is a very great honor and those chosen for the school year of 1950-51 are Shirley McGuire, Ravera Rolf, Mary Rethorst, Ward Akers, Don Faust, and Keith Dillman.

MASTER BUILDERS

In the spring of each year, Southwestern students elect three men and three women out of the senior class who they think have contributed the most to the school. These seniors are elected by secret ballot and are selected for personality, character, scholarship and contributions to the school.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The SCA is one of the biggest and most active organizations on the campus. It is especially "on the job" during the first week of school when "Get Acquainted" events are sponsored for the incoming freshman class. The Big and Little Sister tea, the all-school sing on the "77", the stag for men, the hike for women, the big watermelon feed and the free show all hold a place in the memory of every student at Southwestern.

In the hurry and bustle of college life, our Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the SCA, is a very inspiring time. This year's week with the theme of "Certainties for Today" was particularly impressive. The speaker, Dr. George C. Baker, is Chaplain at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas. At Dorm Councils, in classes, and in meetings with various clubs, Dr. Baker provided "food for thought" for all the students.

Guiding this year's organization were Norman Nelson and Mary Rethorst, Co-Chairmen; Mary Foo and Gene Carter, Program Chairmen; Juanita Hardy, Secretary; John Adams, Treasurer; Wanda Miller, Estes Committee Chairman; Don Adams, Book Store; Ramona Hauser, Publicity Chairman; Pat Grandy and Eldon Snyder, District Representatives; Harold Adams, Song Leader; and Marge Wright, Commissions Coordinator. Sponsors were Dr. Hoag, Dr. Grandy, and Mr. Snyder.

SIGMA DELPHI

Several new students joined the ranks of the Sigma-Delphi literary societies following the rush week activities. An assembly program and the backing of Joan Redfield for Moundbuilder Queen were included in the year's activities.

BELLE-ATHENS

Rush week activities started another busy year for the Belle-Athens. Through the combined efforts of these societies, a three-act farce, "The Importance of Being Earnest", was presented. Those in the play were Jack Dewell, Charles Foote, Harold Tretbar, Wayne Carr, Judy Pake, Colleen Tarrant, Venice Deem, Marilyn Carr, and Carol Beeman.

Other activities the club participated in this year were presenting an assembly program, entering a float in the Homecoming parade, and sponsoring Carolyn Combs for Moundbuilder Queen. The group chose Mr. Robert Myers for their sponsor.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra as shown above is one of the most active organizations on the campus both in campus activities and in the community of Winfield. In their Winfield concerts, the orchestra consists of a full symphony orchestra. However, for the annual tour, the orchestra is cut to the "Little Symphony." The "Little Symphony" is composed of students only. The tour for 1950- was taken in December and, in spite of the cold weather, it was a big success. Besides the tour, the orchestra presents several local concerts and participates in the Christmas vespers.

COLLEGE BAND

Yoder, Mildred Murphy, Barbara Goodwin, Eugene Beye, Creston S. Klingman, director, John Saville, Juanita Hardy, Fred Kemp, Helen Hawes, Carol Beeman, Donna Sims, Joe Sims, Dale Snyder, Duane Harms. Fourth row: Doris Barnett, Pat Herron, Darline Almack, Jim Neeley, Sheldon McGuire, Charleen Kanaga, Tony O'Brate, Shirley Lear.

The college band under the direction of Creston S. Klingman is one of the more popular organizations of the college. On the campus and during its annual fall tour the band is an outstanding example of Southwestern's pep and Builder spirit. The drum cadence, the whistles, the formations, and drills of the band may be heard and seen at every football game. Tony O'Brate, the talented drum major, puts the band through its many antics.

Throughout the year the band makes many appearances marching in parades, giving concerts, and playing for all the college basketball and football games held in Winfield. Resplendent in their two-tone blue uniforms, the band adds color and spirit to the various events it attends.

At the basketball games the band becomes less formal as it dons white coveralls and plays the ever popular "Dipsy Doodle" and "On Wisconsin."

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

In its twenty-sixth year, the A Cappella Choir presented concerts at local churches, participated in the annual Christmas vespers, and the "Elijah", sang at the fall unveiling of the windows of the Winfield stores, and visited more than twenty towns on its traditional spring concert tour.

By willingly contributing their time and effort, these students made the Purple-Robed Choir a reality on the Southwestern campus again this year. Since World War Two this active group has traveled two thousand miles and has given more than four hundred concerts.

Charlotte Mossman was student conductress. Virginia Ward, president, was also accompanist for the group. Professor Orcenith Smith is director.

"Anything You Can Do, I Can Do Better," "I'm an Indian, Too," "Doin' What Comes Naturally" were just a few of the hit tunes from the Broadway musical "Annie Get Your Gun" which the Opera Workshop presented in January. Shown here in a scene from "Annie" are Vela Mae Langhofer, Esther Sheldon, Dale Snyder, Jennis Phillips, Vernie Langhofer, Colleen Tarrant, Karol Gregory and Glenn Biberstein.

OPERA WORKSHOP

Riches, Fortune, and Death are all shown in the cards as they are laid out by Maxine Osbourn, Esther Sheldon and Alice Boyd in the Card Scene from "Carmen".

As Colleen Tarrant sings "Hello, hello", into the telephone, Karol Gregory pleads with her to listen to him instead of the telephone. This is a typical scene in the comedy "The Telephone." All of these operas are under the direction of Miss Laura N. Ford.

The Girls' Sextet provides good music as well as good looks when they appear before a group in their black skirts and blouses and red ties. Posing, just ready to burst forth in song, we see JoAnn Johnson, Mary Craig, Donna Lee Fall, Lois McNeil, Vela Mae Langhofer, and Marjorie Gillig. It is under the direction of Miss Laura Ford. Peggy Miller is accompanist.

Whether singing popular songs, religious melodies or barbershop, the boys' quartet is still excellent in quality. Under the direction of Gladwin Chaffin, the quartet is much in demand because of its fine harmony. This quartet consists of Glenn Biberstein, Karol Gregory, Doyle Cummings, and Dale Snyder.

The string quartet, under the direction of Ross O. Williams, is heard in many programs and between the scenes of operas and plays. This group is made up of four very talented young ladies and their music is enjoyed by all who hear them. The quartet is made up of Lois McNeil, Janet Yoder, Charlotte Mossman, and JoAnn Johnson.

ALPHA MU

First organized at Southwestern in 1942, Alpha Mu was practically disbanded during the war years. Reorganized during the 1947-1948 school year, Alpha Mu is again an active group on the campus.

All students who are enrolled in the fine arts division are eligible for membership in this music organization. Desirable qualities in a student aspiring to membership in Alpha Mu are character, scholarship, and musicianship. Their wide range of abilities is evidence of the varying talents and interests of members of Alpha Mu.

Alpha Mu members are often called upon to entertain at various school functions or to usher at student recitals.

CAMPUS PLAYERS

The past year has been a most exciting and unpredictable time for Campus Players, Southwestern College honorary dramatic organization. The total loss of equipment in the Richardson Hall fire forced the group, under the direction of Miss Helen Graham, to turn to the new and somewhat controversial medium of arena staging.

Happily, the first trial proved successful and the 1950 spring production, "Two Blind Mice" by Samuel Spewack, proved to be one of the most popular plays presented here in recent years. The group continued the experiment in the fall by center staging the recent Broadway success "Goodbye, My Fancy", by Fay Kanin, as their Homecoming production.

Besides the two large productions in the fall and spring, the Campus Players also present the traditional Christmas Morality play, which is original with Southwestern College and of unknown origin. Also, High School Day features two one-act plays. This year, these productions were entitled. "The Wonder Hat" and "A Matter of Husband."

Barbara Stuber is portraying Eagerheart in the eighteenth annual presentation of the Christmas Morality play "Eagerheart." Others shown are Charles Foote, Edwin Harvey and Marilyn Carr, shepherds; Mary Craig and Don Young, the Holy Family; Luther Kiser, Kenny Thomas, and Harold Tretbar, kings. Those who were in the production but not in this picture were Beverly Byers, Eagerfame; Marjorie Wright, Eagersense; and Vernie Langhofer as an old man. Miss Laura N. Ford and Esther Sheldon fitted the words of the play to the music of a Bach oratorio and Helen Dewell read the prologue and epilogue. A choral group under the direction of Miss Ford sang.

ENGLISH CLUB

Front row: Dr. Eleanor Hoag, Winona Bledsoe, Peggy Brooks, Wanda Ecker, Colleen Tarrant, Carolyn Combs. Second row: Bob Sneller, Virgil Hutton, Bill Koons, Marilyn Carr, Wayne Carr, Robley Rhine, Beverly Craft, Anita Busch, Jennis Phillips, Darline Almack, Joan Redfield.

The English Club, under the sponsorship of Dr. Eleanor Hoag, is an organization which is for anyone interested in English. The monthly meetings are always informal and usually consist of work on the Fledgling, a publication of student works, or listening to records.

The highlight of this year was the dinner party in February which was given for prospective members. Another meeting which was very interesting featured Miss Ethel Colbrunn who showed slides of her trip to Europe.

The English Club also sponsors a booth in the WSSF Carnival. The officers for this year were Winona Bledsoe, President; Peggy Brooks, Vice-President; Virgil Hutton, Secretary-Treasurer; and Doris Falen, Fledgling Editor.

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

All Sociology majors or those interested in social work are encouraged to join the Sociology Club. At their very interesting meetings, the club enjoys films, reports by members, and talks on current problems by outside speakers. The club also sponsored a trip to the Chilocco Indian Reservation which proved to be of interest not only to their own members, but to the members of the S.C.A. who accompanied them on this trip. Dr. A. Y. Chen, professor of sociology, is the sponsor of the club.

COSMOPOLITIAN CLUB

A genuine example of the democracy which characterizes the Southwestern campus is this organization which is composed of an equal number of foreign and American students. Each foreign student invites an American student to become a member of the club.

With the motto "Above all nations—humanity" to use as a goal, the Cosmopolitan club offers us an opportunity to learn from our neighbors. Each nationality selects one night during which the other members of the club learn the customs and the games of that country. In this way, they endeavor to promote understanding of different ways.

GAMMA OMICRON

Gamma Omicron is a club composed of girls who have at least six hours in the field of home economics and a grade average of C or better. Its purpose is to promote social poise, personality, leadership and knowledge of home economics not gained in classroom work. The most outstanding activity of the club was the impressive formal initiation which was done by candlelight. This initiation was held for all pledges of Gamma on March 8.

A successful year for the organization was directed by the President, Phyllis Bailey; Vice-President, Joyce Dorsey; Secretary, Velma Becker; Treasurer, Donita Gentzler; Reporter, Juanita Hardy; and Mrs. Skinner, who was the sponsor.

KAPPA OMICRON PHI

Election to Kappa Omicron Phi is one of the honors hoped for by all home economics majors. Members are elected to this national honorary fraternity on the basis of leadership and potential success in their field. Some of the outstanding activities of Kappa include the election of pledges, cookie sales in the dorms and the sending of representatives to the national conclave. This year's conclave was held in San Antonio and the representatives from Mu chapter were Velma Becker and Donita Gentzler.

KAPPA PI

In its fourth year on the campus, the Alpha Alpha Epsilon chapter of Kappa Pi, National Honorary Art Fraternity, was responsible for bringing several art exhibits to the campus of Southwestern College.

To be eligible for membership in Kappa Pi, a student must be an art major and must have attained a "B" average in art subjects for one semester. The bi-monthly meetings are often held at Mrs. Covacevich's studio where the conversation, as is to be expected, usually turns to art.

PI KAPPA DELTA

Pi Kappa Delta, an honorary speech fraternity, each year sponsors a debate tournament. This year the tournament was held at Emporia State Teachers' College because of lack of facilities at Southwestern. Members of the group also serve as debate judges.

PI GAMMA MU

Pi Gamma Mu, National Social Science Society, which was begun on the Southwestern campus, was founded by Dr. Leroy Allen in 1924. The Kansas Alpha chapter is composed of upperclass students and faculty members in the field of social science.

Through trials and tribulations, the Collegian staff has clung to the motto that "The Paper must go out." In September, everything was running smoothly with Herb Reimer as editor of the paper, but Uncle Sam stepped in and Herby was called into the reserve. David Hearne then stepped into the editor's shoes, but at Christmastime, he too left for the army.

Second semester started with the dawn of a new day and a new editor. Bob Jones took over and there were some changes made. The Collegian became a paper "of the students, by the students and for the students." Not only that, but more of it is about the students.

Assisted by Jeanette Nelson as Associate Editor, Eldon Schroeder, Advertising Manager, and a capable staff, Bob has done a very good job. The rest of the staff consists of Bill Thornton and Bob Sneller, Sports; Beverly Byers, Make-up; Bill Koons, Art; Norman Nelson, Dean Ramsey, Harold Tretbar, Bill McFall, Photography; Jim Dow, Vivian Boland, Doris Falen, Winona Bledsoe, Peggy Brooks, Ronnie Overstreet, Pete McGill, May Foo, Ben Amini, Ward Akers, Bob Motazedi, Darline Almack, Venice Deem, reporters.

Honor Roll Lists 104

With the announcement of the honor roll for first semester, 104 students are listed as "brains." Of these students who maintained a B average in all their classes, 47 are seniors, 14 juniors, 23 sophomores, and 20 freshmen.

Seniors are: Donald Dee Adams, John W. Adams, Ward L. Akers, Eakle Payton Allen, Jr., Phyllis Roderick Bailey, Eston Beery, Winona Bledsoe, Ethel B. Bloss.

Juniors are: Wayne Baker, Dean Brinkmeyer, May Foo, Ramona Hauser, Virgil Hutton, Marilyn Jones, Elmer Knowlton, Lois McNeil, Isaac Ortiz, Donald Parker, Dean Ramsay, Barbara Smith, Eldon Snyder, and Donald Young.

Sophomores are: Shirley Bailey, Velma Becker, Darlene Branson, Phyllis Bunker, Beverly Jo Craft, Verdeen Craine, Donna Lee Fall, Neil Frank, Harold Gibbon, William A. Glass, Marjorie Gugler.

A crown of pearls and amethysts was placed on the Moundbuilder queen of 1951 as Velma Becker, regent, passed the symbols of royal elegance on to Murphy, sophomore, successful candidate sponsor of the Psi Chi pep club.

Runners-up for the high office were Pat Troyer, sponsored by Jinx Jane pep club, and Rey Valencia, Cosmopolitan club candidate.

The 1951 queen reigned over this year's assembly against a background of wine velvet and pillars symbolizing the pillars of Richardson hall. The princess, dressed in pastel yellow and en formals, and their escorts were seated on pink benches placed tiers and draped with velvet. The new queen was presented with a bouquet of red roses, a gift from Student Council.

The princesses carried miniature tiaras. Around their necks they wore yellow or green carnations with black ribbons.

The queen regent and candidates were escorted to a processional of string quartets. Candidates, sponsoring organizations, and their escorts in order of entrance were: Rey Valencia, Cosmopolitan club, Bob Motazedi; Joan Redfield, Sigma Chi; Bill Cobb; Virginia Brace, Phi Kappa Phi; Dale Smith; Carolyn Combs, Phi Kappa Phi; Johnny Wynn; Mildred Murphy, Pi Ep; Dave Warren; Dorothy McCoy, Kappa Rho; Bob Dvorak; and Pat Troyer, Jinx Jane, Karol Gregory. Neil Frank escorted Velma Becker, last year's queen, to the stage. Her crown was of pearls and rhinestones.

Crown and robe bearer was Billy Davis, son of Bill Davis, student.

The new queen will be crowned at the Coronation ball at 11:30 tonight in the Student Union. Properties used in the coronation were supplied by the Brothers department store, Wichita, M. B. Kerr Co. High school, and Kay.

WSSF Begin Drive Soon

The world student fund drive will begin Wednesday, April 4, on Southwestern college. The drive, sponsored by the student council, will have a representative of the organization speaks in the ice. A film will also be shown at this time.

Saturday, April 7, the program will be an auction of articles donated by faculty. Previously, such things as a dinner and the office of this college have been auctioned. All go to the WSSF.

Saturday evening, a drive with each organization a booth will be in the Student Union. This is complete the drive.

The goal set for this year is $407 which would be enough to pay for each student enrolled at Southwestern. WSSF's goal for 1950-51 is again $407.

Mary Rethorst was elected to the student council to drive. Assisting her are faculty sponsors, Ethel C. Robert Myers, and E. Anderson and Doris Falen.

Belle-Athen Present Play

"The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde is being presented by Belle-Athen Tuesday, March 20, in the hall. Miss Helen Gray is directing the play.

When the curtain goes up, the audience will see a London. The time is 1900. The plot centers about the activities of two gentlemen who by discreetly about courting two ladies. They do nice mother-in-law steps on.

The cast is as follows: Worthing, Jack Dewell, Moncrieff, Charles Fox, Canon Chausuble, W. Marian (maid), Carol Lane (butler), Bob Sneller, Bracknell, Venice Deem, Gwendolen Fairfax, Cecily Cardew, Colonel and Miss Prism (governess) Cook.

MOUNDBUILDER

"Where is the Moundbuilder Room?" comes the troubled tone of students who are being led into the inner chambers of the library. Back in the recesses below the stage, if one has the exploratory spirit, the Moundbuilder Room may be found. Once inside this stone and plaster structure which we of the staff call home, the light from the one window seems hardly adequate to light the entire room. Perhaps this explains the crouching position of the editor as she busily types copy. No, it isn't a walk-in refrigerator; it's just that the small stove doesn't generate much heat.

It is the opinion of some certain photographers around S. C. that when they reach the pearly gates, they will be met with the question "Do you have some pictures for the yearbook?" In spite of wartime shortages of film, flashbulbs, and paper, we finally managed to win the battle. Without the toil of many sleepless nights, this record of a year at Southwestern would not be possible. By doing Jujitsu tricks with a budget, being chained to a typewriter, and through the loyalty and hard work of the photographers, we are bringing you the 1951 Moundbuilder.

Mrs. Roberts, Sponsor, and Eddie Kiley, Business Manager.

Named for a former Southwestern student who is now a missionary in China, the Emma Wilson Guild takes an active interest in missionary work both at home and abroad. Soon after the beginning of the school year, each member was given a mystery mother. The girls and their mystery mothers were introduced at the regular April meeting of the Guild.

K K PEP CLUB

Since their origin in 1928, the black and white figures of the K.K.'s have become a familiar sight on the South-western campus. This year's activities of the K.K.'s included an assembly program, the annual paddle dance and other dances, the cream can basketball game with the Jinx Jane's Pep Club, the sponsoring of Virginia Brace for Moundbuilder Queen, the entertaining of former members of the club at a dinner following the Homecoming game, the annual election breakfast, and the camera picnic.

In addition, they conducted the traditional rush week activities including a slumber party and a progressive dinner party for the rushees and the formal dance for the new K.K. pledges.

The group showed the typical Builder spirit by selling programs and ushering at football and basketball games. Miss Laura N. Ford was the K.K. sponsor. Helen Dewell was first semester president and Virginia Ward second semester president.

JINX JANES

Another example of typical Builder loyalty are the Jinx Janes, who combine the Southwestern colors in making white sweaters and purple skirts their uniforms. This peppy group could be seen selling programs and ushering at the football and basketball games.

Other activities of the school year included their assembly program, the Cream Can basketball game with the K.K. Pep Club, several dances, the campaign for Pat Troyer for Moundbuilder Queen, presentation of a musical program along with the Pi Eps, and the entertainment of former members during the Homecoming weekend.

Doris Falen was president first semester and Charlotte Mossman second semester. Miss Helen Graham sponsored the organization.

PI EPSILON PI

Cliff Donlay, Loren Alexander, Bob Sneller, Bob Jones, Max Rife, Jim Stotts, Jerry Woods, Ray Osborn, Royce Orme, Vernie Langhofer, Harold Webster.

Pi Ep personifies pep. At games, assemblies, and around school in general, the Pi Eps are easily distinguished by their black sweaters with white trim and black and white emblems. Noted for creative talent, they presented one of the most entertaining assemblies of the year with their "Sunset Boulevard" satire

One of the most outstanding events of the year for the Pi Eps was when their candidate for Mound-builder Queen was crowned. In the campaign, all of the girls' dorms received the benefits of being serenaded by the famous Pi Ep band.

During the first semester Pi Epsilon Pi was under the able leadership of Dave Warren as President, Mickey Hawkins, Vice-President; Karol Gregory, Secretary-Treasurer; Max Rife, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Dale Smith, Cheerleader. The second semester the gavel was taken over by Bob Jones, assisted by Don Warren, Vice-President; Loren Alexander, Secretary-Treasurer; Melvin Maeshiro, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Dale Smith remaining cheerleader.

KAPPA RHO

"Kappa Rho, Kappa Rho, Yes, Yes Yes!!!" Although this "yell" was heard by Kappa Rho fans at the Milk Bucket game, it is the sentiment of the entire college when voicing its opinion about this popular group of fellas. Anyone can tell a Kappa Rho by his white sweater with the purple and white KP emblem and by his unmistakable "swagger."

Kappa Rho, organized in 1937, is one of the leading organizations on the campus when it comes to pep, school spirit and friendly rivalry. It supplies Southwestern with one very entertaining assembly per year and several school dances. Besides all this Kappa Rho won the coveted milk bucket in a victory over the favored Pi Eps.

Officers for the first semester were Jim Seely, President; Bob Dvorak, Vice-President; Louis Kovach, Secretary-Treasurer; Ronnie Fukaya, Sergeant-at-Arms. Second semester Bob Dvorak took over as President, assisted by Kenny Miller, Vice-President; Eddie Kiley, Secretary-Treasurer; and Harold Soong, Sergeant-at-Arms. Mr. Edwards is the sponsor.

The paddle line, the letter-jackets, the toughest initiation on the hill are all characteristic of the "Pi-Sigs." When a Pi-Sig proudly wears his jacket or sweater with the purple "S", it signifies that he has not only lettered in a college sport, but has passed the rigorous initiation imposed upon him by old members.

In 1923 the need for an active and compact organization among Southwestern athletes was recognized and the former "S" Club became the honorary fraternity, Pi Sigma Phi. The objectives of this organization are to promote the highest standards of morals and scholarship among athletes, to maintain the code of sportsmanship always characterizing Builder teams and to preserve the place of athletics at Southwestern College.

President Bill Davis, Vice-President Al Cassingham and Secretary-Treasurer Phil Rader have led the Pi-Sigs to another successful and profitable year.

Salty Senior Snags Select Star Spot

All-Central conference honors have been bestowed on Max Rife, Builder gridiron stalwart and a stand-out pass snagging end during his past seasons, according to Southwestern fielded a scrapping Moundbuilder football team for the 1950 fall campaign that battled each opponent until the final gun.

In the tough central conference, the Builders failed to notch a victory but earned two ties while losing three. In non-league competition, however, the Purple chalked up three impressive wins and lost only one game.

Emporia State, conference champions, defeated second-place Pittsburg State, 46-0, for the title after S.C. had bowed to the Emporia eleven in a thriller, 14-7. The Builders tied third-place Washburn 14-14 and ended the season with a hard-fought 13-7 win over the "B" team from the University of Missouri.

All in all, it was a successful season for Coach Harold Hunt's charges who were no pushovers for anyone. Though they finished low in the conference standings, the S. C. eleven gave every team in the conference a battle. So we say "Three Cheers for the football team." We're right behind you, fellows.

BASKETBALL

In spite of tough breaks, losing games by only one point, and losing key players via the injury route, Southwestern completed a successful season in basketball. Although they only won four conference games, there were several moral victories won. S. C.'s Builders showed that they were quite proficient in the art of basketball by their victories outside the conference. These included several victories over strong Oklahoma teams. At the end of the season the starting line-up consisted of: Jim Stotts, Jim Farney, George Craig, Bob Sneller or Cliff Edens, and Neil Frank.

Since it's too early in the season to give you an account of the 1951 Baseball Season, we are bringing you the picture of the team and the statistics on the 1950 team. As you can see by the picture, this team is quite an able aggregation coached by Bill Cloud.

Although baseball doesn't get the recognition it deserves, nevertheless Southwestern has a team of which it can be proud.

KAPPA RHO WINS MILK BUCKET CROWN

The annual Milk Bucket game between Kappa Rho and Pi Epsilon Pi was an upset this year with the Kappa Rho winning over a favored Pi Ep team. Wes Buller coached the winning team and Frank Newman was the star performer for the Kappa Rho. The Milk Bucket game was started in 1948 and has since become an annual event. This game in which the faculty serve as cheerleaders and janitors is a source of fun for everyone.

The Jinx Janes did it again! They won the Cream Can game, of course. Played during the half at the Milk Bucket game, the battle between KK's and Jinx Janes for the Cream Can is just as spirited as the Milk Bucket game itself. For the second year, the Jinx Janes have taken the coveted Cream Can, winning this year by a score of 5-2. The team consists of — Front row: Marjorie Gillig, Pat Herrin, Marilyn McKaig, Darlene Branson, Carol Kanaga. Second row: Shirley McGuire, Beverly Byers, Phyllis Bunker, Pat Grandy, Carol Beeman, and Charleen Kanaga.

"Are you ready? Let's ping." With these words, another ping-pong match is started and the student union is a buzz of activity as spectators gather. "I'll take the winner" echoes through the building and Southwestern's favorite pastime again reigns supreme.

QUEENS

"I crown you Queen Mildred, Queen of the Moundbuilder." And our Royalty reigns supreme.

HOME COMING QUEEN

Homecoming is an annual time of celebration, return of old grads, football games, and queens. Homecoming Queen for the 1950 football season was Miss Martha Bridge. Attractive "Marty" is a Winfield girl and was chosen by the Pi Sigma Phi athletic fraternity. This custom of choosing a college junior for queen has become a tradition at Southwestern. Pictured with Queen Martha are her attendants: Miss Barbara Smith, Mrs. Marilyn Jones, and Miss Shirley McGuire.

MOUNDBUILDER QUEEN

The Moundbuilder Queen campaign, sponsored annually by the Moundbuilder, is one of the most spirited campaigns in which students participate. The queen is chosen from the ranks of the freshman and sophomore classes. The Moundbuilder Queen for 1951 was Mildred Murphy, a sophomore from Mt. Hope, Kansas. The two runners-up were Pat Troyer and Rey Valencia. Other participants in the campaign were Virginia Brace, Joan Redfield, Dorothy McCoy and Carolyn Combs. Queen Mildred reigned over the coronation assembly on March 17 and over a formal ball that night. The organization which sponsored Miss Murphy was Pi Epsilon Pi, a boys' pep club.

MILK BUCKET QUEEN

The annual Milk Bucket basketball game, a classic at Southwestern since inaugurated in 1948, is now complete with a queen. The Milk Bucket queen for 1951 is Marilyn Williams Jones. Since the game is sponsored by the two boys pep clubs, Pi Ep and Kappa Rho, these clubs elected the queen and her attendants. The queen was crowned by the club presidents, Bob Jones and Bob Dvorak, before the game and reigned over the entire game. Queen Marilyn's attendants for the occasion were Mary Craig and Sharon Smith.

MAY QUEEN

Each year a Senior girl is chosen by the student body to reign over the annual May Fete. This year's May Queen is Mrs. Judy Black Pake. Against the background of the rebuilding of Richardson Hall, Queen Judy will view the dances and the winding of the Maypole by the girls' gym classes from her throne on the "green." The May Fete was originated by the Belles Lettres literary society in 1898, and has been a Southwestern tradition since that time. The master of ceremonies for 1951 is Keith Dillman.
