Freshman initiation and a variety of other activities helped make the fall scene on the Southwestern campus. The initiation procedure, often more enjoyable for upperclassmen than the initiates, integrated the class of '73 with the rest of the campus community.

A fall creativity festival provided students with means of expression in several different media. And, as the season progressed, Builders became involved in cheering their football and cross country teams in their efforts.

Creativity was again the theme as a fall chapel program explored that topic. The mound was covered with new offerings from faculty and students in the annual fall ceremony. mound builder

The Age of Involvement!

This was the theme and dominating idea that filled the brisk fall air encircling Homecoming activities at SC, November 1.

The day's festivities began early in the morning with registration in Pounds Lounge, after which students, parents and alumni watched a parade through downtown Winfield. Bands and floats carrying out the theme of involvement were viewed, along with the queen candidates.

The winning float was presented by the Campus Y organization, using the theme "Tear 'em to Pisces." The lawns on campus were decorated by hardworking students, with the honors going to Wallingford Hall.

Afternoon involvements included queen crowning ceremonies before the football game. Rita Webster, a senior from Rose Hill, was reigning royalty. Attendants were Judi Leaming, a junior from Minneola; Jesse Requa, a junior from Scott City; Deb Settle, a junior from Kingman; and Gay Vannaman, a junior from Kiowa.

Queen, attendants, and fans then enjoyed a Builder victory over Bethel College of Newton. Later in the evening, the satirical comedy "The Skin of Our Teeth" was presented by the SC Campus Players. The day's activities were capped off with a dance featuring "Spider and the Crabs." mound builder

the skin of our teeth

Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth" was presented as the 1969 Homecoming play. The show, described by director Norman Callison as "unlike any other satire or comedy you have ever seen," is the story of the George Antrobus family which has managed to survive flood, pestilence, seven-year locusts, the ice age, black pox, the double feature, a dozen wars and many depressions. In fact, they have survived a thousand calamities "by the skin of their teeth."

Antrobus was played by Roger Moon; Mrs. Antrobus was portrayed by Kim Hanson. Janice McAuley was their daughter Gladys; Henry, their son, was Dave McGuire; and Patty Houtz was Sabina the maid.

SC Cross Country Squad is Third

The Southwestern cross country team, 1968 KCAC champions, began their 1969 season with a third place finish in a triangular at McPherson. The meet, which included Kansas Wesleyan, McPherson and SC, was run over a four mile course.

The Builders placed two men in the top ten. Jerry Fye finished fifth in the 24-man field, and Tyler Woodrow was eighth. McPherson won the meet with a total of 29 points, KWU was second with 40 and Southwestern followed with 59 points.

Returning to McPherson for a meet with KWU, Ottawa, Tabor, and McPherson, the Builders again placed third. McPherson again won the four mile meet with a point total of 34. Kansas Wesleyan was second with 41, and the Builders were third with 61 points.

SC's Fye and Woodrow finished fourth and ninth respectively. Times proved slower in this meet because of damp grounds and windy weather.

Southwestern then hosted Oklahoma Christian College at the Green Meadows Golf Course, and the two battled to a close finish. OCC's Ron Major won first place with a clocking of 20:59 followed by Woodrow in 21:05. Fye placed fifth, Jim Helmer was sixth, Carl Metzger, eighth. Ron Helmer placed tenth, and Rick Pike was twelfth. OCC won 24 to 31.

The harriers next went to Salina for the Kansas Wesleyan Invitational and came away with a fourth place finish. Jim Helmer was the Builders' top runner. He placed tenth in the 31-man field with a time of 28:54 for the five miles. Two team members, Woodrow and Tom Mundinger, did not run.

The team then played host to five schools in the Southwestern Homecoming Invitational and ended fourth in the meet. Woodrow was the first Builder finisher and crossed the tape in 26:07 which was good enough for sixth out of 36 runners. Fye ran the five miles in 26:17 and finished in eighth place. McPherson scored 44 points, KWU had 48, OCC accumulated 65 and SC picked up 76. Tabor was a distant fifth with 119 points.

SC also traveled to Salina to participate in the KCAC tournament. The Builders placed three runners in the top ten, but saw their second cross country championship fall as McPherson won the title. KWU was second with SC finishing in third place.

Builder runner Fye finished third in the individual standings as he ran the five mile course in a time of 26:33. Woodrow ranked seventh and Jim Helmer was tenth.

Members of the 1969 team under coaches Robert Karr and student assistant Steve Matthew included Tyler Woodrow, Jerry Fye, Jim Helmer, Ron Helmer, Tom Mundinger, Carl Metzger and Rick Pike. mound builder

Six Builders named to All-Conference team

The Builders, under new head coach Wes Buller, saw hopes for a fourth KCAC football championship in six years fall short during the 1969 campaign. The Southwestern squad finished the season with an overall record of 6-3, but they missed an undefeated season by a total of only six points.

Six builders were named to the All-KCAC team—more than any other school. Bill Lyon was named as an interior lineman on offense. Burt Helmer was honored as a running back. One defense, Sam Littles, was All-KCAC end, George Colebrook was named as an interior lineman, Doug Vannaman was honored as a linebacker and Mike Craig was named as a defensive back to the All-KCAC team. Littles and Colebrook also received defensive honors in District Ten of the NAIA.

SC opened the seson by dropping its first game to Harding College of Searcy, Arkansas. Hosting its first out-of-state competition ever, Southwestern came out on the short end of a hard fought battle, 23-21. Harding, down 21-14 at the end of the third quarter, scored nine points in the fourth stanza to post the win over the Builders. (Harding ended its season with a 9-0-1 record and finished in the top 25 in the NAIA rankings.)

The Builders turned the experience gained from the Bison loss into three consecutive wins over KCAC Northern Division foes. The first was a 23-0 victory over the Ottawa Braves. The Builders held Ottawa to 63 total yards en route to the victory.

The second prey from the Northern Division was Bethany. Southwestern gained 5.2 yards per play as they dominated the Parents' Day game. Bethany began the scoring, but SC gained 173 total yards in the second half to come back for the 21 to 10 win.

The Builders' third win over a northern opponent came against highly touted Baker University. SC kicker Ron Martin booted a 47-yard field goal and Burt Helmer, Southwestern tailback, gained 120 yards rushing and scored two touchdowns to lead the Moundbuilders in their taming of the Wildcats, 30-6.

Southwestern then began Southern Division play which counted toward a berth in the KCAC championship game. The first division game was against conference newcomer St. Mary's of the Plains.

Jantz and Wood bring down a determined Presbie.

The Cavaliers scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to pin a 25-24 setback on Southwestern and end the Builders' KCAC winning streak at eleven games. The St. Mary club passed for 132 yards in the fourth period and scored the two touchdowns within five minutes.

The Builders then hosted the Friends University Falcons. As the two met for battle in Sonner Stadium they carried identical 3-2 records. Win hungry after the loss to St. Mary, the SC squad fought hard to keep its winning string over the Falcons intact. The 13-0 win did just that, and SC has won every game played between the two schools since 1929.

"Purple pride" prevailed in the Homecoming game as the Builder offense cracked Bethel College's ninth nationally ranked defense for 320 total yards en route to the 23-0 win. Allowing only 168 yards per game until their battle with the Builders, Bethel found Mel Schasteen's passes and Helmer's running almost doubled that NAIA ranked figure.

Southwestern then traveled to Sterling to battle the Warriors. Sterling recovered four SC fumbles, turning two into scores as they upset the Builders, 10-7. Had Southwestern won that game, they would have earned the right to represent the Southern Division in the conference playoff for the KCAC title. Because of the loss, Sterling went to the playoff.

After the disappointing game with Sterling, Southwestern blasted College of Emporia 56-21 to end the season with an impressive win. The Builders scored eight touchdowns (three in the last five minutes of play) to post the victory.

With a 3-2 division record, the Builders ended the season in a tie with Sterling for second place in the southern half of the league. St. Mary won the division title with a 5-0 slate, but was unable to accept title honors because this was their first year in the conference.

Coach Wes Buller had these comments about the 1969 season. "We think we had a fine year. Only six points separated us from an undefeated year. I know we've got a great group of guys on the team, and I'm proud of them."

Winter Activities

Christmas carols spread over the campus and community (above) as the student body goes on its annual caroling party.

Snow covers the campus and makes a walk to class both beautiful and hazardous.

Six inch snows p

Six inch snows provide recreation (above and right), as well as new beauty to familiar objects (below).

Snow was the rule on SC's campus this winter, when several multi-inch falls occurred. Builders being what they were, were neither kept from attending class or having fun as a result of the white stuff. Near Christmastime, that season's spirit was carried by Builders over the campus and Winfield, when many of the students attended an all-school caroling party.

WINTER ACTIVITIES

Students, faculty, administration, and alumni meet face to face and exchange opinions about what's wrong with SC in two open forums. Questions and comments aired here became the basis of the Founder's day program.

In addition to opportunities provided by the snow, there were a variety of other winter activities on the Builder campus. Founder's day was revitalized when questions and remarks heard at two open campus forums were discussed at the annual convocation. Drama was presented by Campus Players in their annual production of "Eagerheart" at Christmas, as well as a dinner play, "Tom Jones." The Goldovsky Opera company appeared on campus with "La Traviata," and for the hungry, Slater's food service sponsored a pancake eating contest. mound builder

SC Cager's First and Final Contests most thrilling

In a season that often saw disappointing numbers in the win column, the Builder Cagers still gave their fans many exciting minutes of basketball.

In the season opener—one of the most thrilling games—Joe Coles scored a basket off an offensive rebound with 30 seconds remaining to lift the Builders to a 75-74 victory over Sacred Heart of Wichita. The Jets held a 74-69 lead with only two minutes left, but SC fought back on Bill ReQua's jump shot and two free throws. Coles then scored the winning shot.

The Builders' next two games were in the Bolivar, Mo., Tournament. In the first night of action, the host team, Southwest Baptist, downed SC 106-73. The Builders also dropped the consolation game to John Brown University, 79-73. The Builders held a five point halftime lead over JBU but could not hold on for the win.

SC returned home to host the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes, but the Builders could manage only 36 percent of their shots from the field as the Coyotes built a twenty point halftime lead to a 92-58 win.

In the Friends contest, Coles attempts a freethrow.

The Builders then traveled to Wichita to battle Sacred Heart on the Jets' home court. SC jumped off to a 4-0 lead but trailed by as many as 16 points in the first half. Southwestern fought back to a three point halftime deficit but was headed by more than five throughout the second half as the Jets got revenge, 77-66.

Bruce DeHaven scored from the corner with five seconds remaining in the game to give the Builders a 67-66 victory over Ottawa. Coles led SC in the scoring department with 27 points.

SC then upped its season records to 3-4 as the Builders dumped the Baker Wildcats by the score of 60-55. DeHaven led all scorers with 19 points, collecting 13 in the second half.

The Builders then traveled to McPherson and suffered a 96-82 defeat at the hands of the Bulldogs. DeHaven again pumped in 19 points for SC.

The win column's growth slowed as only three more victories were chalked up during the season's remaining games.

After the SC cagers were outscored 20-5 during the first five minutes of the second half to drop their first Southern Division games to College of Emporia, 78-69, the Builders suffered their fourth straight setback at the hands of Friends University, 85-56.

In that Falcon game, Coles led in SC's scoring with 13 points. Barry Avers came off the bench late in the second half to pump in 12 points for the SC cause.

The Builders' fourth season win came at Lindsborg—a 75-67 victory over the Bethany Swedes. The Builders trailed 33-26 at intermission but scored 49 points in the second half to trip the Swedes.

SC's next win was an 80-72 victory over Sterling. The SC team held a 41-34 halftime advantage in that contest and committed only seven turnovers in the game.

Builder fans were again thrilled when, in the season's final contest against Sterling, Ray Wyatt gave the Builders a win with a shot at the gun in overtime play. The SC team was down 41-31 at the half but fought back to gain a 70-70 tie at the end of regulation play. Wyatt's shot, which rolled around the rim and fell in as the gun sounded, gave the game to SC, 78-76. This closed out the season record at 6-14.

Other team members were Terry Hill, Greg Howell, Rodney Johannsen, Jim Lee, Keith Morrison, Warren Schmidt, Larry Warner, Tyler Woodrow, and Marvin Jack. mound builder offers a bachelor of music degree. As a part of a liberal arts college, music students have the advantage of exposure to the regular music curriculum.

Music courses range from vocal to instrumental, to sacred music, and to preparation for teaching. The department has a well balanced faculty. One member, with an interest in Baroque music, has a set of recorders and has built a harpsichord and a clavichord.

A large percentage of students on campus are in one of the choirs, the a cappella or chapel. The band and orchestra are also composed of music majors and students from other departments interested in music.

The art department is also a part of the fine arts. Student works are often displayed in the President's Gallery in Darbeth Fine Arts Center.

faculty are concerned with each individual student. Equal attention is given to science and math majors as to those who are interested in teaching or in other areas.

An excellent background in biology, chemistry, and physics can be obtained and many students attend graduate schools. Individual projects may be done by outstanding seniors, especially in biology and chemistry.

There is a well balanced set of classes in the math department. Each student in the statistics class must have an original project. He first selects a question, determines the methods and techniques for analysis and presents a professional report.

Many examples in class originate from the instructor's experiences with solving problems of big industry. There is also a physical education department making use of the new women's physical education building as well as a modern home economics department.

Spring on the Builder campus involved many things. These, coupled with rising tensions over end of the year work and finals, made more than one Builder seek temporary refuge in the shade of a tree. mound builder

Largest Senior Class participates in Commencement

One hundred sixty-six seniors, members of the largest class ever to graduate from SC, participated in the Commencement exercises on the Builder campus May 24.

"The Dawning of Understanding"—of self, others, and the world was the theme for Baccalaureate services held in the Stewart Fieldhouse. Jameson Jones from Iliff School of Theology, Denver, was the speaker at the revamped service. Students, faculty, and parents took part in the services that had this year been restructured to encourage a worship atmosphere.

Later that afternoon, the college orchestra and choir presented a joint concert in Richardson auditorium. And, after the Commencement Band concert in Sonner Stadium, diplomas were presented to the graduating seniors. Kansas Senator James Pearson spoke at the Commencement exercises. mound builder

THE CRUCIBLE

The Campus Players, under the joint direction of Norman Callison and Troy Boucher, presented Arthur Miller's "The Crucible" as their spring production.

The play portrays the lives of the people of Salem, as they are confronted with the witch trials of 1692. Beginning the action of the play, five girls are caught dancing in the woods and conjuring spirits, which is against their strict Puritan ethics.

Instead of admitting that they are witches, they blame their witless actions on other people in the village. Through blaming these other people, the girls release their personal hates and family feuds.

In the SC production, the five girls were played by Charlene Brandt, Connie Decker, Linda Hill, Shirley Wilson, and Patty Paris. Tituba, an older Negro lady, was played by Pat Miles.

Other characters in the presentation were Rev. Samuel Parris, Perry Potter; Mrs. Ann Putnam, Linda Taconis; Thomas Putnam, Darren Graff; John Proctor, Mr. Roger Moon; Giles Corey, Mr. Gary Unger; Rev. John Hale, Mike Brown; Elizabeth Proctor, Miss Sandy Eddings; Francis Nurse, Jim Decker; Ezekiel Cheever, Joe Sherman; John Willard, Bill Robinson; Judge Hathorne, Steve Derrick; Deputy Governor, Steve Hailey.

In doubles competition Brass and Kraus were downed by Bethany 4-6, 6-2, 7-9. Harnden and Smith also placed second in the number two doubles as they were defeated by Bethany 9-7, 8-10, 2-6.

At the KCAC meet in Wellington, Southwestern and Kansas Wesleyan tied for the championship with 950 strokes for 54 holes. SC's Skip Hartman was conference medalist with 232. Bob Dawson was fourth at 234 and Russell Bryer (last year's KCAC medalist) finished seventh at 239. Ray Wyatt was further back at 245.

The Builders gained eight medalist honors for the nine meets in which they competed. Bob Dawson scored three with rounds of 73, 68 (only sub-par round of the year for SC), and 73; Skip Hartman won three with scores of 76, 74, and 77 which was his conference average; and Russ Bryer gained one with a round of 76. Hartman and Dawson shared one with 76's.

The team's best showing this season was against Kansas Wesleyan in Salina. SC downed KWU 11-4 with a four man total of 296 (68, 74, 76, 78).

Kim Moore presides at a Stuco meeting.

The SC student council (above and right) in session.

The Southwestern Student Council

began early in the year to bring all levels of the college —trustees, administration, alumni, faculty, and students —together in their concern about the problems Southwestern faces. Contacts with selected trustees started in the fall and culminated in a proposal for student representation on the Board of Trustees. New positions for students were earned on President's Advisory Committee, Planning Committee, and Admissions Committee. Student representatives on faculty committees functioned effectively especially in the academic area. Four students served on Alumni Board and participated in decision-making there.

"Council itself formed a new Stuco Academic Committee to advise students on Faculty Academic Committee. This group proposed a limited pass-fail grading system which will be activated next fall and a January term scholarship proposal which became an official scholarship program. Council investigated many areas of student concern—admissions policies, the operation of the bookstore, housing dissatisfaction, and off-campus housing. Generally, concrete positions were taken following these studies. In the area of social reforms, Council achieved the extension of the Women's Key Policy to Sophomores and made the entire program a permanent policy of the college. Closed nights for women's residence halls were ended. On April 18th, Council held a statewide student government conference which attracted forty-five delegates from seven colleges. Also in April, the Constitutional Revision Committee completed its work and the student body adopted the newly-revised constitution.

"A Communications Committee worked to provide new avenues through which Council could relate to the entire student body. The baseball proposal which consumed much of Council's attention early in the year was never funded. The housing problems were not solved although flexibility in suite living arrangements will take effect next February. Council sought a definition of legislative channels at Southwestern and made some headway.

"This past year student government included more than just Student Council. It concerned itself with total college problems and worked to become informed in order to help deal with these problems," said Kim Moore, Student Council President.

Debate s

te squad members finish with a most successful season.

The Debate Squad,

coached by Don Enholm captured 26 trophies at the 16 tournaments entered during the 1969-1970 season. Included among these 26 were three first-place and two sweepstakes wins. The Builder squad debated at tournaments throughout the Midwest as well as at events in places such as New Orleans, Denver, and Omaha. Throughout the course of the year, the SC squad defeated nearly every major debate power in the nation; Southwestern's overall win record was well above 65 per cent for the year. Highlight of the 1969-70 season was the bi-annual Pi Kappa Delta Province of the Plains Tournament held at Kearney, Nebraska. At Province the Builder squad received an overall ranking of superior and walked off with first place in sweepstakes, first place in senior debate, first place in oral interpretation, and second place in junior debate. mound builder

Theta Phi Delta played an active role in campus affairs during the 1969-70 school year. Living up to its motto "Fratri, Discipuli, Ductores" (Brothers, Leaders, Scholars), Theta Phi Delta demonstrated the importance of a fraternity to its members and to the campus.

"Fraternity events such as movie and pizza parties, beach parties, banquets, and other 'happenings' were a part of the social life for Thetas this year. In addition Theta Phi Delta also organized several projects of a service nature. In early September Thetas re-painted the lines on Christy parking lot as a part of the campus-wide cleanup day. At Homecoming Theta Phi Delta sponsored a two-page advertisement in the Winfield Courier to promote the activities of that weekend. An all-campus Christmas caroling party was a fraternity project on the Sunday evening before Christmas vacation. During the last week of April, Thetas took over Winfield's KNIC radio station and promoted Southwestern by sponsoring "Builder Day"—a day devoted to information and entertainment boosting the college.

"Again, Theta Phi Delta was at the top in campus scholarship. The fraternity continued to place first in overall grade point average among campus organizations. Thetas were also instrumental in providing quality leadership on the campus. Men of the fraternity filled high posts in Student Council, Student Activities Association, as well as in Student Judiciary. In the spring of the year Thetas were elected to the positions of Student Body President, SAA President, as well as several other posts in student government. Members of the fraternity also provided leadership on S.C.'s top-notch football, basketball, cross-country, golf, and track teams. Thetas were also on the debate team and in A Cappella Choir and orchestra.

"The fraternity exists most importantly to provide a meaningful living experience and brotherhood for its members. It is first a 'fraternity' for its members, and secondly a leading force in campus activities and scholarship. This is the Theta philosophy and it will continue to guide the fraternity in the future," said Curt Settle, president.

This year's vice-president was Clyde Walker; secretary was Steve Matthew; Harold Murray served as treasurer. Other members were Danny Callison, George Colebrook, Bob Dawson, Charlie Forsyth, Jerry Fye, Noel Hagiya, Alan Haywood, Joe Hebb, Darnell Jones, Dave McGuire, Carl Metzger, John Miles, Kim Moore, Tom Mundinger, Jim Payne, Hal Reed, Melvin Schasteen, Brad Weigle, and Tyler Woodrow.

THE PENNY STORY

How to shop at Penney's without money

By ROBERTA NASH

I don't really mean we give things away at Penney's (although our competitors have been known to accuse us of it, when they see our low prices!)

I'm talking of the Penney charge plan, the one that lets you choose the most convenient way you'd like to pay for the things you buy at Penney's.

Our credit terms are easy and convenient and generous—because Penney's has learned one cardinal rule in 64 years of doing business with our customers: People are honest.
