TRADITIONS ABOUND AT SOUTHWESTERN

One of the oldest traditions of Southwestern College has been the building of the mound. Dean Leroy Allen suggested the building of the mound in 1927. In 1962, the mound was moved to its present location (here pictured) while Darbeth Fine Arts Complex now stands at the original site.

At the time of the re-dedication of the mound, Dean C. Robert Haywood added a humorous postscript to Dean Allen's address, and Dean Haywood's postscript is read at the Mound Convocation held each fall. Part of the ceremony surrounding the mound is a procession around campus as well as other traditions which are further expounded upon during the ceremony.

Upper Left: The mound is still growing!

Lower Left: Some students seem to make a tradition of collecting parking tickets.

ART STUDENTS “LEARN BY DOING”

NEW DIVISION OF MANAGEMENT SCIENCE BEGINS

Southwestern College has expanded its curriculum this year by adding a new division. Classes under the Division of Management Science began March 1 at centers in Overland Park and Wichita. ELBA Systems Corporation has developed courses in the areas of sales and marketing which are being used by Southwestern. Dr. Barnes, SC instructor, teaches these classes in Wichita, and there are two other instructors in the Overland Park center. Presently, there are about 50 students at the Wichita center and 100 students in Overland Park. These students spend 6 to 8 hours once a week in classes. The program is actually a 30-hour program to be completed over a 10-month period. When asked about the program, Dr. Barnes commented, "There has been quite a bit of enthusiasm shown by the students for the new program." Present figures indicate the possibility of 600+ students participating in this newest division of Southwestern College within the next year.

JAN TERM: SEASHELLS BY THE SEA

While Winfield was blanketed in white, ten students were enjoying warm sand on their bellies and sparkling cold water on their toes. The troop observed the graves at Vicksburg, tasted the brew at Busch Gardens, saw Mickey cavort at Disney World. The climax of the trip was collecting shells by the seashore.

Upper Left: Eenie meanie, minie, moe — where does this weird shell go? Middle Left: Those shells are "m-m-m good"? asks Dana Boylan.

Lower Left: Stan, we forgot to tell you this was quick-sand!

PERU TRIP

One of the most unusual January trips was to Peru. Led by Mr. Alfredo Rodriguez, José Gorges (a citizen of Peru), Mark Gilbreath, and Richard Hamilton spent nearly a month in Lima and other areas of Peru studying the people, culture, and geography of the country. By immersing themselves in the Peruvian society the students were able to get a good introduction to the ways of life of the people. Sr. Rodriguez pursued further studies of Peruvian society, interviewing a number of people in different economic and social classes. Although a month is too short a time to get more than an introduction to another culture, the people going to Peru learned a great deal from their experience.

Bluegrass Style

For three days in September, the Winfield Fairgrounds hosted the Walnut Valley Bluegrass Festival and Third Annual Flat-Picking Championship. The weekend of September 20-22 brought a variety of craft exhibitors and musical participants as well as spectators from all over the United States. Public approval last year extended the event to three days and next year, who knows? The grandstand was filled with listeners, of whom many filled the local campgrounds. Among the performers were Doc and Merle Watson, Dan Crary, Norman Blake and Jimmy Driftwood. If the past three years are any indication, the 1975 Bluegrass Festival is one you sure don't want to miss.

Southwestern's 1974 Homecoming was really "Happy Days" for everyone on the theme submitted by Tony Leddy. It was a happy day for Melinda Harmon as she was crowned homecoming queen. Wallingford Hall not only submitted the winning queen candidate, but also the winning dorm decorations and float. The most imaginative float was probably that submitted by the class of '77, as pictured. At the game, the enthusiastic crowd was prompted by a yell contest which was won by the Thetas. Other members of the court included Sandra Beck, Joyce Cockrum, JoLynn Skaggs, Lori Alexander, Sue Richardson and Robin Tietze. After the game, the students were entertained by the music of Stan Kenton and his band.

NORMAN LUBOFF CHOIR

On February 6, the Cultural Arts Department in cooperation with Walton Music Corporation and Kolu Productions, Inc. brought to Southwestern the Norman Luboff Choir. The choir sang sacred, secular, popular songs, folk-songs, folk hymns and spirituals. One of the most unusual, yet best received songs was one written by Norman Luboff entitled "Much Ado About Nothing" which consisted of short sayings put to music. An example was, "Early to bed, early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy, wise and boring!" It was indeed a treat for all who attended.

DANISH GYM TEAM

Probably one of the most unusual, yet more enjoyable events brought to us during the 1974-75 year was the Danish Gym Team. On November 20, the Cultural Arts Department brought this group of 24 young men and women to our campus. They performed folk dances, exercises, warm-up routines and gymnastics. The team was well-received by a full crowd of Southwestern students and community patrons.

EAGERHEART

Each year at Christmas time, Southwestern students present two plays, the first being "Eagerheart." This year, the title role was played by Susan Somers. Other members of the cast included Suzanne Smith, Lori Alexander, Jay Wetterhus, Ron Decker, Steve Hailey, Phil Bacchus, Kathy Hampson, Rick Hamilton, Sheryl Rose, Donna Buffalino, Joanne Palmieri and Greg White.

STREET S

SCENES

The informal play of Street Scenes was put on November 15-18 in Richardson Auditorium with only costumes for props. The cast included Steve Hailey, Sandy Owens, Roxanne Johnson, Linda Nugen, Carley Moberg, Misty Maynard, Steve Ruzick, Stewart Cash, David Nichols, Suzanne Smith, Ron Decker, Donna Buffalino, Paul Owens, Chere Holliday, JaLois Murphy, Rick Rottschafer, Allyson Moon, Steph Ratliff, Leon Fundenburger, Carol Blanchard, Gary McCutcheon, Phil Bachus, Lori Alexander, Richard Hamilton, Dave Halligan, Mary Green, John Beck, Joanne Palmieri, Lyle Smith, Alan Daymude, Kristin Tilson, Brenda Cockrill and Jill McCollum.

"CARNIVAL"

Approximately 90 persons from both Southwestern and St. John's College took the production of the play, "Carnival" as their Jan Term class. Not only was the audience treated to an excellent play, but also a pre-performance meal and a variety of singers, dancers, and other circus performers including a magician and a trapeze artist. The cast included:

Jaquot — Craig Fenter
 Paul — Jay Wetterhus
 Lili — Susan McGuire
 Marco — Rick Rottschaefer
 Rosalie — Pam Nahnsen
 B.F. Schlegel — Greg White
 Carrot Top — Dave Lungren
 Horrible Henry — Ron Decker
 Renardo — Kjeld Christenson
 Margeurite — Sheryl Rose
 Grobert — Stew Cash

WABASH AVENUE REVIEW

The first and one of the funniest plays staged this year was a talent show entitled "The Wabash Avenue Revue". The play displayed the acting talents of many of SC's students. Barbershop quartets, Boogie-Woogie girls, and a variety of singers and speakers entertained the audience.

KING SPICE DANCE

The King Spice dance was sponsored February 14 by Gamma Omicron. This, the only formal dance of the year, not only gave the women of this school a chance to ask the men for a date, but gave them a chance to dress up. Jay Wetterhus was crowned king to preside over the dance. Left To Right, the other members of the court were Tim Webb, Gene Snyder, Terry Rhea, Ken Goyen, Hank Collins and Peter Allegre. There was plenty of fun for everyone, including those like Chris Cornetti who decorated and Carla Harris and Ben Zuk who attended the dance.

RASHOMON

"Rashomon" opened on March 12 and was the dramatization of an ancient Japanese legend. The cast members included

Greg White—the bandit
Paul Owens — Samurai
Phil Bachus — the priest
Mary Green — the woodcutter
Allyson Moon — the wig maker
John Beck — the deputy
Aileen Upshaw — the mother
Sheryl Rose — the medium

HERSH AND MONTGOMERY'S RAGTIME AND SALON MUSIC

Paul Hersh and David Montgomery met the Southwestern and the city of Winfield's population in an exceptional concert. They featured rag and classical music with the William Tell Overture as a climax to their performance. Their humor made the concert not only something to sit back and enjoy but also light-hearted entertainment.

A-CAPELLA CHOIR

A Capella Choir went on tour second semester to various cities in Oklahoma and eastern Kansas. The choir was gone for two 3-day weekends in February. Under the direction of Dr. Warren Wooldridge, they sang at churches and numerous schools. Among the cities visited were Ponca City, Tulsa, Bartlesville, Ark City, Caldwell and Independence.

The choir also participated in the 41st annual performance of "Elijah", sang in the television production of "Christmas Card From Southwestern", and gave several concerts throughout the year. One sequence in the April concert centered on the Southwestern madrigals and the Orchesis Dance Ensemble of W.S.U.

GAMMA OMICRON

Gamma Omicron is a home economics related sorority. It's contribution to Southwestern's campus was to offer information and develop personality as well as leadership. Officers were: Muriel Houghton, president; Becky Dimmitt, Vice-president, in charge of programs; Lori Ellison, vice-president in charge of social functions; Diana Neely, secretary; and LeAnn Webb, treasurer. Sponsor for 1974-75 was Mary Carol Spears.

With a motto like "A Woman's Place is in the World", the girls had no problem applying it to meetings. Programs ranged from the LaMaze method of birth to using the metric system and how to win baking contests.

The king spice dance was the only money-making project this year. Everyone worked toward success and excitement added to the enjoyment of the dance. Nominations were received from campus organizations and a general election was held. Jay Wetterhus was crowned King Spice.

Senior farewells went to Karen McDaniel, Diana May, Gloria Daniels and Joyce Cockrum at the spring picnic.

Sept. 28 — Friends Univ. 0-14	Nov. 2 — St. Mary's of the Plains 19-14
Oct. 5 — Bethel College 7-17	Nov. 9 — Bethany College 13-7
Oct. 12 — Tabor College 21-10	Nov. 16 — Kansas Wesleyan 21-34

Southwestern finished its 74-75 Football season in a 4-way tie for 2nd place with a conference record of 5-3 and an overall mark of 5-4.

Six seniors graduate from this year's squad and they include Alan Nation, an offensive tackle, Clayton Butler, offensive tackle, Jeff Fela, split receiver, Vic Mojica, Fullback, Larry Gillen, safety and Pat Murphy, cornerback.

Several Builders received honors this fall. The team's awards as voted by the squad went to Alan Nation, outstanding blocker, Mike McCarthy, top defensive player, and Todd Dvorak, most valuable player. All KCAC selections were Mike McCoy, halfback — 1st team choice, Todd Dvorak, defensive end — 1st team, Jeff Fela, split end, honorable mention, Alan Nation, offensive tackle, honorable mention. Mike McCoy was also selected to the All-District Ten team and received NAIA all-American, honorable mention.

Mike McCoy was leading rusher with 914 yards on 142 carries. Jeff Fela was leading receiver with 23 catches with 295 yards. Ben Zuk had 55 completions on 138 attempts for 730 yards to rank as top passer.

On Sept. 21 the Builders traveled to Ottawa for their season opener. They led 7-0 at half, 14-7 at the end of the 3rd quarter and in the final quarter Builder turnovers along with Ottawa's Dick Dimunico's outstanding passing, fell to the Braves 14-30.

The next game was the conference opener against Friends Falcons. The Builders fell to the powerful Falcons 14-0. Southwestern then traveled to Newton for their battle with the Bethel Threshers and 7 turnovers led to a 17-7 defeat.

Homecoming with Tabor was the next battle and Southwestern got on the track with a 21-10 victory sparked by McCoy's rushing and a Zuk to Shanklin bomb. A Homecoming crowd, though thinned out by a 2nd half downpour, went away happy about the 1st Builder victory of the season. McCoy's efforts earned him the AP Kansas Small College Player of the Week Award.

Next week they traveled to Sterling and the Builders came away with an 18-0 shut out as the defense was outstanding. McPherson was the next foe and a 63-yard dash by McCoy in the 3rd quarter was the only score as the Builders came away with a hard fought 7-0 win to even the record at 3-3.

On Nov. 2, Southwestern traveled to Dodge City to meet preseason favorite, St. Mary's of the Plains in their homecoming. They came away with a hard-fought 19-14 win sparked again by McCoys running and nose guard Hank Collin's defensive efforts. The Topeka Junior was in on 27 tackles and tailback McCoy scored three times.

Bethany college traveled to Sonner Stadium and SC defeated the tough Swedes 13-7 knocking them out of the title race. A tough defense and a key Zuk to Fela pass keyed the win.

The last game of the season was at Salina against the Coyotes of Kansas Wesleyan and Wesleyan's potent wishbone offense was too much for the Builders to handle as SC's winning streak was stopped at 5 by a score of 21-34.

The season ending loss to Wesleyan dampened a great comeback which saw a dismal 0-3 start turned around by 5 consecutive wins.

Although 6 Seniors will be sorely missed, with 18 of 22 starters returning for next year the outlook is bright and SC should battle for the title in 1975-76.

BUILDERS IN ACTION

DETERMINATION!

The Builder basketball team ended the season in with a 4th place finish in the KCAC, posting a record of 10 wins and 6 losses. The overall win-loss record was 12 and 10. One of the most exciting games of this '74-'75 season would have to be the big win over Fort Hays State College on their home court just before the Builders went home for Christmas vacation.

This season saw S.C. playing games of close win and loss margins throughout the entire season. In only one contest was the team really never in contention. That game was the first conference game against KCAC champions Friends University. Evidence of the close contests this year can be seen by the fact that of the 22 games played, 15 were decided by 10 or fewer points.

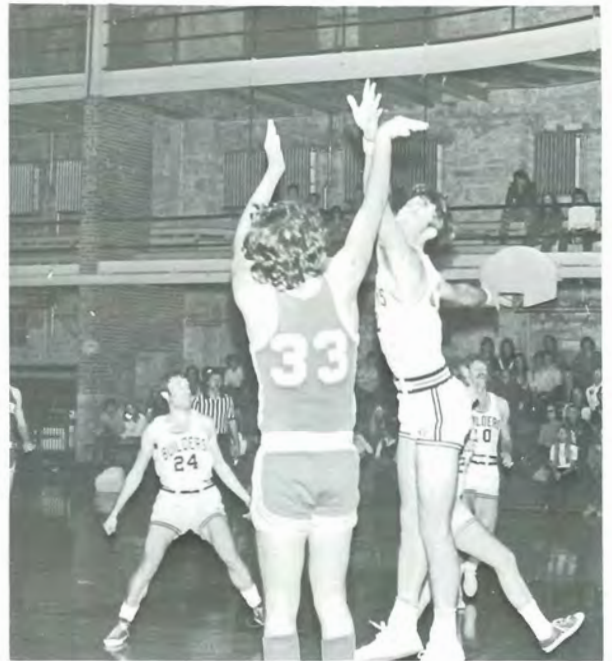

This season saw two time All KCAC Terry Rhea rewrite the S.C. record books in the scoring department. The 6'4" senior from Medicine Lodge led all players in the state in scoring with a 24.1 average. For his efforts, he was elected to the NAIA district 10 team and made the NAIA All-American team with honorable mention honors.

Other seniors graduating this year are 6'8" Ken Goyen, 6'0" guard Craig Dewell, 6'0" guard Russ Gilmore and 6'3" forward Allen Brennan. Rounding out the lettermen were 6'1" junior guard Randy King, 6'5" junior forward Kent Seyfried. Two freshman that had outstanding years for S.C. were 6'5" Steve Wilke and 6'6" Trent Weaver.

April and March were the cruelest months of all for varsity tennis at Southwestern. Spring rains and snows conspired to interrupt practice sessions and match play. Nonetheless the season under head coach Dan Daniel was a successful one. Early losses to Cowley County, Phillips University, Emporia State served as excellent propaganda for conference play. Emerging at the season's end, SC posted a 4 wins 1 loss record in the conference. The lone loss was at the hands of Bethany by 1 point.

Four years of hard work in the past, the 1975 SC seniors met the present in a culminating ceremony to their academic career at Southwestern. On May 18, the annual commencement exercises were held at their traditional site —Sonner' Stadium. In the rays of the setting sun, seniors and their families and friends listened to the offerings of various speakers and the Southwestern band.

Honorary degrees were conferred to several persons in the course of the ceremony. Bruce Cutler, WSU professor and poet, and David McGuire, father of SC senior Susan McGuire, were among those awarded.

At the close of the evening, Warren Wooldridge, above pictured, led the crowd in a singing of the alma mater.
