Changing Scenes!

As each year passes, Southwestern grows and changes. New faculty members replace those who retire. Old buildings are remodeled or replaced. New trees are planted to replace those which are unable to weather the storms. There are new flowers in the spring and brilliantly colored leaves in the fall. We look out over the campus each year to constantly changing scenes.

Even with the changes, Southwestern holds on to tradition. Every year the ceremony of Moundbuilding continues. Old and new students come together, along with faculty, to throw their marked rocks on the Mound. The Administration building, Christy, and the 77 steps leading to it, represent Southwestern College to many people.

We continue to give a personal touch to learning. We have a one on one relationship between faculty and students. You will find few colleges where the President will sit among the students as a friend. At Southwestern, we are proud to say ours does.

SPORTS SCENES

As the seasons change, the sports scenes change as well. From Football, Cross Country, Volleyball and Women's Tennis in the fall; Basketball in the winter; to Track, Golf and Men's Tennis in the spring, a constantly changing panorama unfolds. As we close the curtain on the 1985-86 season, we become aware of the outstanding performances by SC athletes.

Builders Cinch KCAC Title

The Builders ended the 1985 football season with a record of 9-3, under the direction of Coach Charlie Cowdrey. Cowdrey is in his third year as Head Coach at SC. The Builders lost only one conference game and captured the KCAC title for the third time in four years. After losing two games, the Builders got things together and by the end of the season, they had worked their way into the top 20 rankings. Southwestern was chosen to play in the Fourth Annual Sunflower Bowl at Sonner Stadium, where SC was defeated by Baker 29-0. Many Builders received post-season recognition and honors for their play. Voted to the First Team in KCAC were: Shaun Spottedhorse, Frank Lolar, and David Carson. Seven were named to the second KCAC team and more were given honorable mention. The players received All District Ten honors including Offensive Lineman, Shaun Spottedhorse; Defensive Lineman, Frank Lolar; Defensive Back, David Carson.

The Unsung Heroes

The people you don't hear too much about on the field, track or court are the trainers. These individuals are devoted to catering to the needs of our athletes. They support the team through their work of treating, taping and rehabilitating injuries. Some of their other jobs include keeping statistics and records, and keeping equipment in good repair. We owe a special thanks to Phil Carr, Kathy Boone and Carmela Williams.

Cheerleaders Build Spirit

This year's cheerleading squad contained many new faces. The squad developed many new cheers and learned lots of pyramids in order to build support for Southwestern sports. They were sponsored by Becky Schroll the first semester and by Bob Bourdette the second semester.

The SC Golf Team, under the leadership of Coach Bill Stephens, has prospered greatly this year. The players may be found many days putting on the Winfield Country Club's golf course. Their outstanding abilities have been recognized by the Winfield Courier. The three top golfers on this years team are Tim Young, Robert Whetsell and Chris Lierman. These remarkable players have been tossing the No. 1 spot around the entire season. The other players are: senior Jim Keesling, sophomore Brad Blake, and freshmen Robert Ketcheshawno, Mark Markley and Darryl McKanna.

Perfect X-Country

Jim Helmer coached his men's Cross Country team to a perfect score of 15 points in the KCAC Cross Country meet. SC placed in the top 8 finishers, impressively placing 9 of the top 10 performers. With this perfect score, the SC men won the 6th consecutive conference championship while boasting a record of 68 wins and just 9 losses for the year. In addition to a KCAC title, the men brought home a second consecutive District 10 title. SC managed to place 7th in the NAIA National Cross Country meet. Among post season awards were: All American Brian Lenz, three time Academic All American Dennis Smithhisler, nine All KCAC and ten District 10 performers.

Kelly Broadhurst, Kim Newton, Gena Thomas, Brenda Kaiser, and Kathy Boone.

Southwestern's Women's Cross Country Team lacked quantity but not quality. Out of a team of five individuals, the women were handed their 3rd consecutive conference championship and a third place finish in the District 10 meet. Kathy Boone, Brenda Kaiser and Gena Thomas were named All KCAC as well as All District 10 runners. Kathy Boone and Brenda Kaiser were meet qualifiers for the NAIA National Cross Country meet.

Basketball, cross country, softball, tennis, and volleyball round out the list of activities provided by Phil Carr, Director of Intramural sports at SC. The program includes the student body and faculty members. Carr was pleased with the outcome of the various sports and hopes for an even more enjoyable year in 1986-87. Student directors, Tina Saunders and Kris Jerome, assisted Carr with super organization and leadership throughout this years competition.

Volleyball Women Hurt By Injuries

The Southwestern College volleyball team experienced an injury riddled season which led to a disappointing record. LeAnn Wedd, Sonja Jeffries, and Kris Jerome were injured at crucial times and the team had to settle for a record of 10-30. Three players stood out individually for the Lady Builders: Tracy Juden, Kris Jerome and Sonja Jeffries. Juden was the most dominating and powerful player, leading the team in kills. Jerome and Jeffries were constant in all positions when healthy. Considering that Juden and Jeffries will be returning next season, along with all the young talent on the squad, the future looks promising for the Lady Builders.

Women's Tennis Team Wins 8th KCAC Title

The 1985 Women's Tennis team successfully defended its KCAC team championship. It was the 8th KCAC trophy for the Lady Builders in eleven years. SC scored a record 35 out of a possible 36 points. The team had 6 singles champions which has never before been accomplished, and won two out of three doubles championships. Builders who won gold medals were: Terri Saunders, #1 doubles, Janice Smith, #2 singles; Pam Blevins, #3 singles; Susan Colberg, #4 singles and #1 doubles; Cindy Black, #5 singles and #3 doubles; and Tanya Jantz, #6 singles and #3 doubles. Finishing second in #3 doubles and receiving silver medals were Janice Smith and Pam Blevins. By winning the KCAC tournament, the Builders qualified for the District 10 NAIA Women's Tennis Tournament, where they finished in second place. Lady Builders winning championships and being named to the All-District 10 Women's Tennis team were: Tanya Jantz, #6 singles, Janice Smith and Pam Blevins, #2 doubles. The Lady Builders completed a very successful season. The team won ten matches with no losses in dual competition for its first perfect season. In KCAC dual play, they won five matches and lost none. This brings the win loss record in KCAC dual matches for the past eleven years to 56-3.

SC Men Have Rebuilding Year

After capturing the KCAC title last year, with a record of 14-1, this year's conference record was not as good. After losing three starters from last year's championship squad, Coach Mike Sandifar was forced to do some heavy recruiting at the Junior College level to bring in players with some college experience. Although the men basketballers lost more conference games than expected, they played their opponents close down to the final buzzer. Building on the strengths of his returning players, Coach Sandifar should have a good 1986-87 team.

SC Women Have Subpar Season

SC Women Basketball players did not have as good a year as everyone expected. After reaching the National playoffs last year, the Lady Builders were looking for bigger and better things this year. As the season aged, SC did not reach all of the goals they had set for themselves, but they did set new school records and improved on the previous ones. The Lady Builders will lose scoring and rebounding power in seniors Lori Green and Lynda Brenner. Although they lose these two outstanding players, the Southwestern College women are looking forward to a much brighter season next year.

Men's Tennis

This was a year for several new faces on the tennis team. Replacing several of last years seniors, the team had a good season. They won five of the twelve matches and participated in several tournaments. The Junior Varsity team played in the first three matches of the season. Over all the team placed third in the KCAC Championships. The incoming freshmen are filling the shoes left by the graduated seniors. We can look forward to an even better season next year.

SC Track and Field

The 1986 track season was filled with many record breaking performances. The season began at the end of January with the indoor competition at the Indoor NAIA Track and Field Championships held in Kansas City. The men's team placed seventh out of 44 teams, with seven SC men achieving All American status. They were: Brian Lenz, 2 mile run; William Carter, Torey Keller, John Cato and Rich Kutt, 2 mile relay; Tonyo Sylvester, shot put; and Dan Dickey, 35 pound weight. Eight new school records were set in the men's outdoor track season as well as new records set by the women. The men's team won the KCAC for the 4 consecutive year, while the women placed second. The men captured the NAIA District 10 title and the women placed fourth. Coach Jim Helmer was again voted District 10 Coach of the Year. At the Outdoor NAIA Championship held in Russellville, Arkansas, Brian Lenz placed 4th in the steeplechase and Rick Tellis placed 4th in the triple jump with both being named All American. The team placed 20th.

Timmy Taylor and Weldon Kennedy react quickly to the gun and away they go.

ACADEMIC SCENES

The beginning of the second century for Southwestern College brought many changes to SC academics. Shifts in staff and faculty, along with academic program alterations, show that SC is always changing and growing. As the curtain falls on the 1985-86 year, we realize we've had a successful production.

Involving students in the policy making process is the major function of the Student Government Association. SGA is composed of dormitory representatives, off campus representatives, class presidents, faculty and administrative representatives. These SGA members not only make decisions that affect

SGA, all campus organizations and the entire student body, but they serve on faculty and administrative committees with the same right to speak and the same voting power as anyone else on the committees. Among SGA's major goals this year were: creating a process to revise the SGA Constitution in cooperation with the Administration; creating an awareness of any administrative policy changes; and working to be more vocal with issues that directly affect students. SGA members are elected by popular vote of that part of the student body they represent.

Student Activities Association

SAA is the campus organization that provides activities for Southwestern's students. 1985-86 was a productive year for the Student Activities Association. In addition to providing weekly movies, including such hits as Teachers, Indiana Jones and The Temple of Doom, SAA sponsored a back to school dance, the Homecoming dance, a Halloween costume contest and a Night of 1000 Screams, co-sponsored by KSWC. The popular Doomsday Sock Hop in Stewart Field House, two dances during Jan Term, and a skating party were among many other activities. SAA also sold spirit buttons for a fund raising activity and funded several dances and activities sponsored by other organizations. Officers are: President, Jubal Tiner; Vice President, Scott Rundell; Secretary, Susan Colberg; and Projectionist, Bruce Adams. Members are: Jami Delp, Paula Phillippe, Charles Sturgis, Dan Merritt, and Ryan Carr. Sponsors are: Diane Steadham and Bob Wimmer.

Jubal Tiner keeps the campus informed with posters of upcoming SAA sponsored events.

Home Economics Writes Final Chapter

"So we see some chapters of our lives come to their natural end." Sarah Orne Jewett.

Spring semester 1986 marks the official end of the Life Resources/Home Economics Department at Southwestern College. The shifting of interest away from the traditional Home Economics areas has had a direct impact on SC. In the Autumn of 1985, the Board of Trustees decided to eliminate the Life Resources/Home Economics Department, along with some other programs, as an economy measure. We will no longer smell the wonderful aromas coming from the kitchens, the whir of the sewing machines and looms, the clicking of knitting needles or the scurrying of rats in cages in the nutrition experiments. Gone will be the valuable lessons learned in family living, discussions on sexuality, family finance and many other arts of living. While small in numbers, this vital department will be missed. Gone from SC, it will live on in its graduates across the nation.

CCOM

The Campus Council on Ministries is made up of students, faculty and staff. They oversee the religious atmosphere on campus and are responsible for developing campus wide religious activities including Chapel.

SPJ

SPJ is an organization on SC's campus which stands for Students for Peace with Justice. They take an active approach to world renovation. Their purpose is not to radically change the world, but make people aware of world happenings. SPJ and CCOM co-sponsored a program on Nicaragua in which Jan Rethorst and Cecil Findley reported on their trip to that country. SPJ also had activities such as a hamburger fry, a float for Homecoming, as well as forums for informal questioning of prominent speakers for students and the Winfield community. SPJ is trying to make a better tomorrow, today.

BSU - Black History Month

Southwestern College's Black Student Union is an organization that unites SC students allowing them a chance to interface and get to know each other personally. BSU Officers meet frequently to decide which activities they sponsor throughout the school year. SC faculty and staff granted the BSU organization a month for their activities in Black History, instead of a week as in previous years. The month's entertainment consisted of lectures, films, church functions and parties. Such speakers as Allen Cork. TV anchorman from Washington, D.C. were flown in to participate. The Black Student Union is very active on SC's campus and enjoyed much success during the school year.

Gamma Omicron

At the close of the 1986 school year, Gamma Omicron will be no more. Gamma, a Home Economics organization, will end with the closing of the Life Resources/Home Economics department at Southwestern. The group saw the year out with their annual King Spice Dance, where Doug Fort was crowned King Spice. Other projects during the year were banner making. To help finance the dance, President Michelle Anderson undertook making the banner/backdrop for the Play on the Green. SC will miss Gamma's many worthwhile activities.

We Honor Our Supporters

In a convocation held late in May, honorary doctorate degrees were conferred on former President C. Orville Strohl and his wife, Helen. The Strohl's served SC from 1954-1972. They continue to work for the good of Southwestern and are among our most dedicated supporters.

Mu Phi Epsilon

The Southwestern chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon is a highly prestigious organization for music majors. The members are involved in music related activities on campus. After recitals and concerts, you will find the Mu Phi members outside the doors with a nice reception for the performers and the audience. The members were: Mark Graber, Connie Reiser, Jody Kittleson, Beth Buechner, Eric Strand and Jan Shelton.

MENC

The student chapter of Music Educators National Conference had another very active year. The members sponsored a concession stand for all music related activities in Darbeth. The group attended several conferences and conventions. Julie Estes, chapter President was elected State Vice-President at a meeting in Wichita. The group served the community of Winfield by performing at local rest homes and for the patients of the State Hospital. The members were: Julie Estes, Kelley Alexander, Ronda Farnum, Mark Graber, Jan Shelton, Kam Tharp, Shelley Damaree, Eric Strand and Teresa LaVelle.

Tri-Beta

Delta Chapter of Tri-Beta has had a productive year. They tackled a very large project by painting the labs in Mossman Hall. The job was greatly appreciated by those students who were tired of the yellow labs! As a group, they participated in several cook-outs and continued their tradition with the Red Cross Blood Drives each semester.

Phi Beta Lambda is a national business honorary fraternity with an active chapter on Southwestern's campus. While promoting business students locally, the group also provides the opportunity for members to participate in political activities and competitive business oriented events statewide. Tom Fell is the local president as well as State Vice-President for Region I for 1985-86. PBL on SC campus traditionally has a spectacular float in the Homecoming parade and sponsors the famous PBL Spookhouse at Halloween.

SNEA

Bobbi Tuders, Jeri Eis and Cindy Kutz were members and officers of the student organization of the National Education Association. This organization helps future teachers in their preparations for a career in education. It urges them to be active in their profession and to develop their skills to their best. Each career in education is enhanced by membership in SNEA.

Social Work Club

The Social Work Club encourages and supports people, who are interested in social work activities and careers, with their goals. The Social Work Club at SC was headed by President Del White, Vice-President Mary Smock and Secretary/Treasurer Adrian Smith. Included in the club's activities was a trip to Wichita State University for a Kansas Behavioral Science Regulatory Board exam.

Young Choir Continues Old Tradition

The Southwestern College A Capella Choir presented another exciting and enjoyable performance year to the community and to the surrounding area. This year, the choir is 38 voices strong. The majority of the members were new to the group, but have shown that they have the potential to make the choir one of the best SC has seen. Some of the activities the choir participated in include the premier performance of "People of the Southwind", the Mahler symphony with the Wichita Symphony Orchestra and the annual tour of Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri. The choir ended the tour with a home concert on April 29th.

SC Band "Celebrate Music"

The band program at SC is rapidly growing in size and quality. Organizations included within the program such as the College Wind Ensemble, Jazz Ensemble and the Pep Band, provide musicians with a chance to perform different styles of music, as well as with an instrument outside of their major course of study. The Wind Ensemble performs high quality and entertaining music with concerts and participation in various Convocations and ceremonies. The Jazz Ensemble stresses some of the popular styles of jazz, swing, Big Band and contemporary music. The Pep Band encourages school spirit and participation by performing at athletic events. The band program at SC is committed to "The Celebration of Music", and is striving to build a program that all of SC can be proud of.

Orchestra - Tradition Excellence

The Southwestern College Community Orchestra is made up of a select group of highly talented college and community musicians. The Orchestra is known for its tradition of high quality performances. The Orchestra performed two major concerts, one in the Fall and one in the Spring. In addition, they performed the traditional Jan Term Children's Concert for the area youth and participated in the Winfield Oratorical Society's annual performance of Elijah.

The Moundbuilder has a long and proud tradition of capturing the campus community on film. Everybody likes a good picture, especially of themselves, and the yearbook satisfies this need and then some, each year. The presence of our photographers at this year's events and activities, from classroom, to gymnasiums, to dormitories, have produced what we believe people wanted to see. We strive to get lots of good pictures of events involving the college and especially of the students. We hope you are pleased with the millions of words spoken by our pictures.

The staff worked well together and had good help, which was reflected in the quality of the paper. The staff was headed by editors Malynda German, Tim Schroeder, Bruce Adams, Patricia Davis, Kevin Potts and faculty advisor John Willoughby.

Your Campus Jams On KSWC

The campus radio station, KSWC - 100.3 FM, broadcasts daily for Southwestern students and to give radio experience to the broadcasters. This year an update in equipment makes KSWC even better for its listeners. Playing a wide variety of music, KSWC appeals to its audience while teaching its broadcasters all aspects of radio production and management. Bill DeArmond is the station General Manager; the Station Manager is Roy Handlin; Bruce Adams is in charge of Production and Mindy German is the Program Director. Next time you turn on your radio, give KSWC a try!

Lights, Camera, Action!

The Southwestern Moundbuilders now have a television station to add to the activities of its students. This is the first year that the station has broadcast and can be received by cable TV viewers in the Winfield area. Between fifteen and twenty students are involved with programming, producing, filming and editing a bi-monthly program. This crew produces a 30 minute program consisting of campus oriented activities. The TV station is not only educational for the students participating, but also for the public in their involvement with our college.

Pi Kappa Delta Continues Traditions

This year's Intercollegiate Debate Team consisted of John Morris, Mike Metcalf, Kevin Potts, Mike Wright and Coach Richard O'Dor. John Morris and Mike Wright took second at Bethel College, while John teamed with Mike Metcalf to place third at the prestigious Air Force Tournament. The Southwestern Intercollegiate Debate Team sponsored a tournament for high schools and a regional tournament for colleges and universities. Southwestern College is one of the founders of Pi Kappa Delta forensic fraternity. To commemorate the oldest debate tournament in the country, the Centennial trophy acknowledged the winner of the Intercollegiate Debate Tournament. The trophy represents the first year of the next century. The trophy presented to the winner of the high school tournament was a rock and walnut replica of the Mound.

The trophy, like Southwestern College, is a century old.

Campus Players Plot Plays

The Campus Players is the honorary acting society of Southwestern College. It was established in 1919 by Miss Martha Lee and the tradition was carried on by Miss Helen Graham. There are several requirements which must be fulfilled before a student can become a full-fledged Campus Player. To be invited to join, they must serve a probationary period. If their level of performance has come up to the standard demanded by the society, they may be invited to become a full member. A full member of Campus Players is honored on the play program by the addition of a title to his name. Campus Players is responsible for all dramatic presentations. This year marked a new beginning for Eagerheart, the morality play that has been performed by the Campus Players from 1932 to 1982. The production returned to the stage this year for its 51st year. The emblem of the Society is the mask of comedy pierced by the dagger of tragedy.

Theta Phi Delta

The men of Theta Phi Delta had a wonderful year. The fraternity stresses the importance of brotherhood. They have made their presence felt many places on SC's campus, ranging from the campus clean-up to wearing togas to basketball games. The members are very active in campus organizations and participate in a number of campus events. They traditionally sponsor Stud Jock Day, which is held each year on spring Dead Day.

Final Round For AKO

Alpha Kappa Omega, after a successful year, has decided to call it quits. During the year, they contributed to the SC social scene with the Ugly Man contest, a Semi-Formal Christmas dance co-sponsored by SIS, and the Jan Term Beach Party. On the service side of their organization, they teamed with PBL for the 2nd place Homecoming float and teamed again with PBL for the Valentine Balloon and candy sale. AKO has contributed much to the SC campus during its existence and its presence will be greatly missed.

Data Processing Management Association

This was the first year for the student organization of the Data Processing Management Association at SC. Some of the goals of the organization are to help the student better understand data processing, to promote general principles of data processing and to supply members information about the most current methods of data processing. This association is important in the computer world and with 15 current members, it is hoped that the membership will expand.

Sigma Iota Sigma

Sigma Iota Sigma is a social and service organization on Southwestern's campus. SIS members continued to provide services for the school as well as sponsoring many activities for student enjoyment. This year, the group participated in Campus Cleanup; a Rock-a-Thon for the Diabetes Association; the Phon-a-Thon for the Development Office; a Christmas Dance co-sponsored with AKO; the initiation of their pledges; as well as arranging the "SC" rocks on the hill.

Pi Delta Sigma is a social organization which stresses togetherness. The family atmosphere has been its strong point for seventeen years on Southwestern's campus and it continues to be today. Never a particularly large organization, it nevertheless has accomplished much. Activities have included participation in Stud Jock Day, campus clean-up contests, Phon-a-Thon, and occasionally other on-campus events. The Deltas also sponsor the annual St. Valentine's Day Massacre Ball, and this year they held a pre-Halloween dance, as well. Members of Pi Delta Sigma are of mixed gender and race because it is their philosophy that people who compliment each other's company well, often come from very diverse backgrounds. The informality and light heartedness of the group helps keep the active members friends and the pledges pledging.

SOCIAL SCENES

Homecoming Celebrates The Builder Spirit

Southwestern College continued its celebration of 100 Years of Class. It rained on the Homecoming Parade, but the sun was shining brightly for the football game. The Southwestern Moundbuilders defeated the Bethany Swedes 24 to 10. Susan Colberg of Lyons, was chosen the Homecoming Queen, while Scott Rundell, of Goddard, won the honor of being Southwestern's Ugly Man on Campus. The Art Kahler Track, built during the summer and fall, was dedicated during half-time ceremonies, presided over by President Bruce Blake.

Mirror, Mirror On The Wall

Mirror, mirror on the wall, who's the ugliest man of them all? The votes from the Southwestern College students reflected that Scott Rundell won hands down. Scott was nominated by Alpha Kappa Omega. Other nominees included Byron Williams, Pi Delta Sigma; Jeff Unruh, A Capella Choir; Steve Thomas, Theta Phi Delta; Monte Seaborn, Campus Players; and Jubal Tiner, SAA.

SC Spooktacular

When we were children, going trick or treating was something we looked forward to for days, even weeks. When we outgrew that, we found new activities to get excited about: spookhouses, soaping windows, egging each other, toilet papering trees and other such mischief. Then in college we began to realize there is little left for us to actually do. Southwestern College gave us four movies, a costume contest and a dance.

The Cultural Arts Experience

Southwestern's campus community was fortunate in having some of the best in cultural arts events. Among the presentations were the Flamenco guitarist and the International Saxophone Quartet. The Guthrie Theater presented Great Expectations, a fantastic performance that left some of us sleepy-eyed the next morning. The Wichita Symphony, under the direction of Michael Palmer and featuring SC's Robert Palmer as solo pianist, performed its classical music to a rapt audience. It was a year of class that reached us all in a variety of ways.

Charley's Aunt

Crew members include: Bruce Adams, Paul Kowelman, Shelly Woolridge, Maggie Myers, Nancy Edmunds, and Harv Barkowsky.

The world-famous farce, Charley's Aunt, was first performed at Southwestern College in Nineteen Hundred and Five, by the Southwest Kansas College Delphian Literary Society. Eighty years later, members of Southwestern College's student body, directed by Harve Barkowsky, recreated the comic confusion. Young Lord Babberly, played by Robert Whetsell, posing as Charley's Aunt, tricks Steven Spettigue into agreeing to the marriage of his ward, played by Marylee Ramsey to Charley, played by Roy Handlin. The real aunt marries Jack's father. Jack, played by Robert Hood, wins Miss Verdun, played by Lisa Ellis, and "Charley's Aunt" regains the fortune he lost at gambling and obtains the hand of the girl he loves. Other cast members include: Nelson Warren, Michelle Hickman, Rex Roberts, Sheila Willis, and Jubal Tiner.

Alice Sit By The Fire

Alice Sit By The Fire is a Victorian play written by J. M. Barrie. It was performed during the Browning Conference in April. The plot centers around the homecoming of Colonel Robert and Alice Grey from India, to their three children. Alice does all of the wrong things and the children don't like her. Through a series of misunderstandings, the daughter thinks Alice is having an affair and decides to save her mother. The grownups eventually figure out what is going on and by the final curtain all is straightened out. The cast included: Robert Hood, Shelly Woodring, Allison Zigler, Jennifer Jantz, Roy Handlin, Kristen Sawyer, Mark Staudte, Jennifer Bouwman, Michelle Hickman and Sheri Prochaska. The play was directed by Harv Barkowsky.

Commedia dell' arte

Commedia dell' arte during the Renaissance Festival, was an improvisational play put on by the Campus Players. This crazy mixed up play provided many good laughs for the eager audience. Director Rob Hood, Festival Organizer Nancy Edmunds, along with the cast and stage crew should be commended for their extra time and hard work that it took to present such a humorous comedy.

Renaissance Festival

Shakespeare on the Walnut presented its seventh Renaissance Festival with events that included lectures, films, music, and commedia dell'arte. The weekend's Renaissance Faire featured storytelling, crafts, games for children and adults, food, costumes, archery, and demonstrations in medieval combat — all in the spirit of the Renaissance.

The Brownings Come to Southwestern

The largest literary exhibition in the United States of Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning was held here at Southwestern. Approximately 250 rarely exhibited items illustrating the Brownings' lives and works were shown in the Reference Room of the Memorial Library and at the Winfield Public Library. In conjunction with the exhibit, a Victorian Conference was held on campus, where many of the top professors from the United States and England read papers involving the Brownings and the Victorian era. The exhibition was made possible by a grant acquired through the efforts of Sandy Feinstein, of $40,000 from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The exhibition went from SC to Baylor University for a month long stay. The time, talent and services of a great many people went into making the exhibit and conference possible. It was a credit to the cooperation and hard work of all of SC.

We Mean Business

The Management Awards Banquet was held for the second year at the Winfield Country Club. This is an occasion to honor the outstanding students in the Management Division. Awards for the Outstanding Senior went to Loren Rapp, Outstanding Junior to Rick Mack, Outstanding Sophomore to John Morris and Outstanding Freshman to Edward Weilage. Other students were honored for scholastic achievement as well as awards given by local businesses.

Who's Who

Scholarship, service to Southwestern College, citizenship, service to the world and potential for leadership are qualities that are found in those students selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. These individuals are chosen by a committee made up of faculty and fellow students for this honor.

New Staff Fresh Outlook

Ten well qualified persons joined the Southwestern staff this year. They came from a variety of places and backgrounds with an awesome array of degrees. Their fresh and different ideas will help give SC new life.

Richard Barnes, Management.

Floyd Perry, Dean of Student Services.

Phil Carr, Athletic Trainer.

Doug Mason, Admissions Counselor.

A Look At The Faculty

Art: A Full-Time Career

Bill Boulware joined our staff as a part-time art instructor a year ago. Boulware returned to Winfield when a position opened up at the Jr. High. He likes the size and slowness of our small community. He teaches the three dimensional art classes, jewelry, ceramics and sculpture. He wants to stay in the business of teaching because he enjoys the contact with the students, but does not want to teach full time. He has his own pottery shop outside of Winfield, called the Red Moon Pottery Shop. He spends his afternoons at the shop making pieces to show at festivals, fairs and wholesale markets. In the midwest, it is almost impossible to make a living selling your work. So the Boulwares in the spring and summer, travel to each coast to show their work. Boulware also teaches community art classes in the winter. Being able to teach young artists and present your own work are probably the two main goals of many artists and Boulware has fulfilled these goals.

A Glimpse of a Career

Alfredo Rodriguez is retiring after 20 years as a loyal and appreciated faculty member. He brought to Southwestern a value system for education. He calls it a "generational responsibility." Students must have both emotional responsibility and intellectual responsibility. He is afraid that specialties interfere with learning. If you teach directly from your field and fail to relate the course study to the world outside of that area, you are failing to educate the student. Dr. Rodriguez realizes that his beliefs have not always been popular, but he states, "I did not come here to please anyone." He says he is here to help students become aware of the world around them and at the same time, he learns from these students. In his whole career, he never has given answers to students. He feels it is part of their education to search and find these answers for themselves. Although he will not be back next year, those students who were fortunate enough to have him as a teacher will always remember him.

Faculty Also Do Research

Probably many of our students are not aware of the work our faculty does outside of the classroom. In Paula Smith's chosen area of Economics, it is important to keep up with the current changes in our economy. Outside of the class, she continues to research and put together her results to present to colleagues. In other colleges, the faculty are required to do this additional work, but at Southwestern, advancement at ones own speed is encouraged. Recently Dr. Smith presented a paper to the Missouri Valley Economic Association. The subject was Attrition in the Schools. This is the same topic she used in her doctoral dissertation. She has developed a data base where she keeps and updates her information. There is a national data base which is used by many people. Keeping up with the world outside of Southwestern is very important and they can share their experiences through presentations to their peers. Dr. Smith plans to participate in other economic conventions in the future.

Mirrors of the Mind

With the supervision of Troy Boucher, Cindy Riggs published a Literary Journal "Mirrors of the Mind", as her senior project. Over 150 poems and 56 short stories were submitted. Both Riggs and Boucher had to read and sort out each of these pieces of literature. Together they chose 23 poems and 2 short stories from 12 contributors, 9 of whom are currently at Southwestern. They then had to decide on layouts and submit them for typeset. It probably took three weeks of continual work. Their limitation was their budget. Funds came from the Division budget and from Admissions, as the journal will be used to attract new students. If money had been available, they would have published 150 poems. Both feel their time was spent on something worthwhile. It might not be possible for this to be an annual project, but perhaps biannually. Boucher feels that there will always be someone willing to take the time and effort to put a journal together.

Quest For Truth

The Peace Task Force from the Kansas West Conference of the United Methodist Church put together a group of people to participate in Witness For Peace. Cecil Findley, a representative of Southwestern College and the Kansas West Conference, and Ben Rethorst, a student, went along on their "quest for truth." They spent 11 days in Nicaragua talking to Sandanista officials, people in the countryside, priests, ministers, opponents of the government and anyone else they chose to talk to. They lived among the people in private homes, free to talk and go anywhere they pleased. They spent hours talking to and questioning the people of Nicaragua. They came back with a better understanding about the government and the support the people have for their government. They did not go to cause a conflict, but instead, through understanding, their goal was to prevent conflict from happening.

Television at Southwestern

After it was suggested that the television studio at the high school was underused, Bill DeArmond was asked to put together a television production class. With the purchase of 2 VCR's, 1 camera and 1 editor, a production class was taught this fall. There have been 20 broadcasts, 200 written stories, and 100 video essays. A staff of 16-20 were in charge of the creation and production of This Week at Southwestern. DeArmond feels the work the students did was very impressive. The image could be improved by a booster, which would reduce the loss of picture in dubbing. For the television department to continue, it will need additional equipment. The camera is checked out 24 hours a day and it is needed for more. There has also been degree proposals in the area of Speech and Drama to include Theatre Arts, Mass Communications, Film, Communication Education, Pre-Law and Communication Studies.

Time Well Spent

This year was spent differently for one of the natural science faculty members. Max Thompson and two students spent the months of January and February in Australia. Mark Crawford went along for this senior project, and a former student, Eric Buckman, went along to help. This opportunity to collect bird specimens was possible, thanks to some grants the college had received. Working out of Sydney, they were able to collect over 500 bird specimens. The Australian Museum in Sydney was very cooperative and aided in the project. The two methods used to catch birds were shooting and netting. The families of birds they were after can only be found in Australia and the museum knew where to find them. They covered a 6000 mile radius. Since they did their own taxidermy, the total cost of each bird was somewhere around $10. In 1979 they took a trip to Argentina to collect birds and the next trip is planned for the People's Republic of China.

A Master's Program

Dr. Jane Rogers, Dean of Graduate Studies, has been instrumental in getting a graduate program started at Southwestern. This program is designed to meet the needs of classroom and professional educators. Courses will be offered on weekends, at night and during the summer. There will also be 3-4 mini-courses offered each semester. These would entail a weekend of intensive study on subjects such as child abuse, non-English speaking students and gifted student programs. There are several very interesting adjunct faculty available to teach. Several faculty on staff will also teach. There is a lot of interest in the small mid-western town of Winfield, which has helped contribute interest in the program. The graduate program will be financially self-sufficient. The resources of other programs will not be drained for this new idea. To encourage further response, remember "the more you learn, the easier it is to learn."

CLOSING SCENES

As another school year gradually draws to a close, it is with a saddened heart that we say goodbye to the graduating seniors and to the many friends that we have made this year. Our fond memories will remain as we look forward to the coming school year.

Members of the Moundbuilder staff gather on the Mound, in front of Mossman Hall, to wave farewell.

St. John's 1893-1986

The association, rivalry and cooperation between Southwestern College and St. John's College has a long history. Both located on College Street in Winfield and both being church related private colleges, the ties are strong. St. John's closed at the end of the spring term 1986 due to the economics of the times. The school will be remembered for its high standards and quality education. Through the Cooperating Winfield Colleges program, St. John's and SC students have had the benefits of both schools. The exchange of classes between the two institutions has provided an interaction between students never before possible. St. John's will be missed by Winfield and especially by Southwestern College.

The Moundbuilder holds a special place in each of our lives. For some, it is an impersonal record of four years of school, but for most of us, it is alive and each of its pages call up memories. For those of us who work long hours taking pictures and writing stories, a part of us is in the finished product. Seventeen Southwestern people worked on this book, most with no previous yearbook or photography experience. We learn together, work together and have fun together. We are proud of this 1986 Moundbuilder. We hope you like it.
