

Signs Of The Times

Signs of the 1986-1987 school year – Funky haircuts, leather clothes, big sweaters, frisbee golf, Hawaiian shirts, Jams, Hacky Sac, untied high top sneakers, rap music, Swatch watches, Madonna, Exile, Beethoven, the Doors, Blizzards, pizza, hamburgers, Slim Fast, Cosby, Miami Vice, Firebird IROCs, pickups, Norms, balloon launches, Yuppies, Priazzo, shaved heads, mini-skirts, bleached jeans, Thumb Suckers, Personal Computers and oh yes, classes. These are some of the things we will remember.

The Welcome Back Picnic was held the first week of school on the lawn of Wallingford Hall. It gave a chance for Freshman and transfer students to get to know the faculty and other students. The occasion also provided the opportunity to see all of the campus and get the feel of college life.

Moving In

When it's time to move to college, no friend or family member can escape. Loads of prized possessions are carried in to help make a dorm room seem more like home. Everything from skates to Teddy Bears, stereos to typewriters help keep home a little closer. One thing about all this "stuff" is that it grows during the school year. It takes twice as many trips to move home. By the end of four years, think what it might become!

Christmas Traditions, Old and New

Decorated offices, Christmas trees, floral arrangements, parties and singing are all traditions at Southwestern College. With 1986, we began a new tradition with the lighting of luminarias of the 77 steps to Christy and on Kirk Drive. The glow of the candles in the crisp night air put everyone in the mood for the season.

The Band

The Southwestern band was made up of twenty five students. Approximately half of the students were freshmen, so it was a relatively young band. There were two different types of bands this year, the concert band and the pep band. The concert band had fifteen fall performances and had eight spring performances. The pep band played at the home games and helped build school spirit. This year, the band took a trip to Washington, D. C. where they performed on the steps of the Capitol and then went on to New York City. The director of the bands, Larry Archambo, is very proud of the bands. It takes time and committment to be a member. The students and faculty of the college are aware of this and would like to extend its appreciation to all of the Southwestern band members; Julie Estes, Connie Reiser, Kelley Alexander, Teresa LeVelle, Mark Graber, Paul Strand, Eric Strand, Ronda Farnum, Susan Wheeler, Lisa Spoon, Ginny Blanton, Mindi Yeager, Kam Tharp, Kenny Walker, Kathleen Egli, Michelle Florence, Janice Gorman, Connie Stevens, Wendy Dolsen, Tammy Rector, David Dombaugh, Joe Luinstra, Scott Hecht, Paul McDonald and Bill Sweeney.

The Moundbuilder Staff enrollment was up considerably this year. The increased numbers were a great help in meeting our page deadlines without delay. New staff members learned basic photography and darkroom techniques along with copy and photo layout preparation. Several staff members continued their photographic training by taking the amateur photography class that was also instructed by Kathy Wilgers. Class time produced experiences that were sometimes laughable, yet while we are not professional, we worked diligently to complete this yearbook. It is one that we are confident will hit the mark in an impressive representation of Southwestern College.

Collegian Or Collision?

It was an exceptional year for the staff and readers of the Southwestern Collegian. The newspaper grew in a number of ways including a larger staff, special features, and color photos. The Collegian also found a new home in the basement of Darbeth Fine Arts Building. Special undertakings by the staff of the Collegion included opinion polls, Jan Term contests and games, a literary license contest, and last but not least, a most memorable spoof issue called the Collision. The staff also formed another project called the Kansas College Press Union. The KCPU is an organization comprised of small Kansas college newspapers who share articles of general interest.

Super Twins!

"Twinship" was popular among friends who dressed alike this year. Fashion trends made this hard to escape. Matching shirts, shorts, shoes and shades were often seen around campus. Mirror images of freshmen Rob Dunham and Rick Rupert were seen on the SC campus as Ron Dunham and Mick Rupert. The two sets of identical twins caused double takes and confusion.

SC TV Is Hot.

In its second year, the television station captures the campus activities and highlights throughout the school year. "This Week At Southwestern" is the bi-monthly production of 11 staff members and Producer, Bill DeArmond. The show is taped at Winfield High School and is aired on Fridays at 6 p.m. and Saturdays at 10 a.m. on cable channel 13. The crew assists in filming, editing, programing and producing the 30 minute show, anchored by Sherrie Prochaska and Marti Mutti. As well as the production of this show, the crew also produced occasional specials such as "Southwestern Magazine" highlighting one particular event. Next year, along with the film studies classes, the crew plans to make a movie. The basic goal of such programs, according to DeArmond is to teach students to "be better consumers of media so as not to be consumed by the media."

KSWC 100.3 Rocks Campus

KSWC FM 100.3 is the campus operated radio station. During the spring semester, KSWC listeners were treated to over 90 broadcast hours per week, the record number of hours in the station's history. There has been a phenomenal increase in KSWC's listenership this year, according to the station's General Manager, Bill DeArmond. Playing requests is what makes KSWC the top radio station amoung Winfield middle school and high school students, says DeArmond. This year's staff maximized the 35 college students and three Winfield High School students who DJ on Saturdays. This is the first year high school students have been on the staff on a non-credit basis. DeArmond says it is a good way to recruit potential Mass Communication majors. Southwestern disc jockeys broadcast weekly from noon to 2 a.m. Top 40/Pop is played until 7 p.m. with Oldies, prior to 1980, until midnight when the experimental formats start for two hours. Sundays are devoted to Urban Contemporary/Soul music. DeArmond is finishing his ninth year at SC. KSWC is believed to be the oldest existing station in Kansas since acquiring its license in 1968. Pi Gamma Mu is the International Social Science Honor Society. It was founded in 1924 at Southwestern by Dean LeRoy Allen. Pi Gamma Mu now has over 150,000 members worldwide in over 160 active chapters. The international headquarters remain in Winfield. This year's president was Sherrie Johannes, while Danne Webb served as vice-president. The local chapter was very busy. A bulletin board was created to give PGM needed visibility. A banner was also made to display at the various chapter functions. October was highlighted by a campus visit by Dr. Thomas Murton, the man about whom the movie Brubaker was made. Murton was made an honorary Pi Gamma Mu member by the local chapter. In December, a formal ceremony was held at which several members were initiated. The local chapter now has over 800 lifetime members.

Students for Peace with Justice, organized for three years, has set a goal to provide the opportunity for the campus community to take advantage of the individual's right and responsibility to be aware of and be active in decisions being made in his/her society that affect others as well as him/herself. This year the members participated in two peace conferences and led a SC chapel. The group held a weekly study of the document, In Defense of Creation. Although not as active this year as in the past, the ideas of SPJ are alive and well. They will continue to work toward awareness of the justice and injustice in the world and to work for world peace.

Social Work Club - The Helping Hands

So diligently these two bright students took pictures. Lots of pictures. And here, "tastefully" done, are the fruits of our labor.

Southwestern's Black Student Union was led this year by Venus Scott as President, Derrick Robinson, Vice-President and Terrant Hardimon as Treasurer. BSU sponsored a variety of events for Black History Month which is in February. To start off Black History Month, Ladjamaya, an actress from Michigan, performed a dramatic piece entitled "The Black Experience - A Cry For World Peace." She portrayed a variety of characters to illustrate different aspects of the black experience. BSU also provided a chapel service with Dean Floyd Perry as the speaker. A panel discussion was also held, led by Alfredo Rodriguez and Rick Johnson dealing with racism and discrimination. Larry Wilgers also lectured on "What Determines the White Man's Perception of the Black Man?" Dr. John Gaston, director of Minority Studies at Wichita State University was a guest speaker who dealt with the topic, "Have Things Really Changed for Blacks?" A special church service in recognition of Black History Month was also held at the First Baptist Church. Ending the Black History Month activities was a soul food dinner held at the Bethel AME Church.

Jan Term Begins

Dan Daniel speaks to the TV and Media class about some very important issues.

The first of the new year rewards us with a time to relax and to recuperate from Christmas and the first semester. This is commonly known as Jan Term. Students have the opportunity to visit different countries, new cities, or to stay on campus and choose between the various classes being offered. These three weeks are an ideal time to visit England, Arizona, or possibly to take a class in photography or slate carving. As we have come to know Jan Term, we find it allows the student to put forth all their effort into one class and concentrate on the subject at hand. Be that as it may, Jan Term also provides the student with time for some extra-curricular activities

At least a handful of students have the answers during Jan Term.

The Bachelor of Science in Nursing is a new program to Southwestern College. The closing of St. John's College in the Spring of 1986 provided an opportunity for SC to continue St. John's excellent nursing program. The staff of five instructors began with twenty-two nursing students this fall. As the program gains recognition, the enrollment is expected in increase to as many as one hundred students.

Special Honors

The Honors Convocation held April 24, 1987 recognized those students and faculty achieving academic excellence and outstanding contributions to Southwestern College. Dr. Bruce Blake spoke on the importance of receiving honor with both hands and remaining honorable. Story by Merla Greer.

The traditional Honors procession up the 77 steps was impressive.

Class Act Of 1987

Graduation exercises for the Class of 1987 were held in Stewart Field House due to min, clouds and gloom. The atmosphere inde was nothing like the weather. It was a happy, excited crowd, gathered from near and far to celebrate an ending and a new beginning. The first graduates from the fledgling Masters program in Education shared honors with the first nurses to receive diplomas with Southwestern's name on them. The 123 graduates listened to retiring Professor of Math, Leonard Laws talk about "Catching the Wave." An honorary degree was bestowed on Phillip Kelley, a local writand publisher. The excitement carried over to the receptions held after the ceremomes, in Roy L. Smith Student Center.

Every year a group of Southwestern students are chosen for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges honors. This year twelve students were chosen by a committee consisting of faculty members and students. The honorees are chosen by qualities such as scholarship, service to SC, citizenship, service to the world and potential leadership. The 1987 Who's Who from Southwestern were: Susan Colberg, Mark Graber, Sherrie Johannes, Teri McCorkle, Rick Mack, Richard Porter, Marylee Ramsey, Dennis Smithhisler, Greg Stinson, Eric Strand and Jubal Tiner.

Retirement 1986-1987

No longer a member of the SC Business Office staff due to her December 1986 retirement, Viola Schwantes will be greatly missed. Her competance as office manager/comptroller will not easily be matched. Viola began at Southwestern in June 1953. Her parttime duties at that time were the instruction of the secretarial-business courses that were offered at SC. Her job soon became full time when she began working in the Business Office. As the secretarial sciences were phased out, she became full-time office manager. While she enjoyed working with people and loved the business work, the biggest change she adapted to was the voluminous increase in paperwork. Along with her many other duties Viola made time to sponsor some of the campus social organizations and served on the Cultural Arts Board. She co-sponsored a two week Hawaiian trip and even at one time sponsored the SC Cheerleaders. This is understandable when we remember the loyal SC sports fans both she and her husband Max are. Viola's retirement plans include playing bridge, doing some needlework and some traveling. Story by Merla Greer.

is fun for him when a student will finally catch hold of everything and realize how to use the knowledge. The first computer class at SC was taught by Dr. Laws. Since he had to teach this class from just reading reference manuals for two weeks, he described this as, "Quite an experience." Other than teaching, he has done consulting for big firms such as then U.S. Steel, 3M and Boeing Wichita. He did this off and on for about twenty years. Art is also a part of his repertoire. His most recent pieces are slate carvings, which have been shown in Winfield. After retirement, Dr. Laws plans to maybe tutor a little or teach some short courses, nothing regularly. He will miss the stimulation of working with young minds, but he and his wife have many projects waiting to be done, so he plans to travel and work on these projects to keep busy. Southwestern College retired an extremely competent and well respected professor. Story by Harold

The Natural Science Office has lost one of it's nicest fixtures with the retirement of Yvonne Shrader in December 1986. She began work at SC in September 1965 becoming the first full time secretary of the Natural Science Division. She spent all of her SC career in Natural Science but helped out in other offices during the summers. Through the years, one of the biggest changes Yvonne saw was going from manual typewriters to computers and word processing. When asked about all of the "wild life" in the building, she laughed. Alvin the aligator has never bothered her, white mice running loose didn't phase her but snakes slith-ering down the hall would be more than she could handle. Thinking back at funny things that happened through the years, she remembered when the janitor locked her in the Chemistry Lab so she wouldn't walk on his freshly waxed floor. The most frightening experience was when a fire bomb was thrown through the window of the office next door. Smoke stains from the incident remain on the window blind to this day. The Natural Science Division showed their appreciation for years of service by holding a reception for Yvonne in December and presenting her with a silver tea service. It was an afternoon of reminiscing to close an era.

1987 Honors and Awards Banquet

The 3rd Annual Honors and Awards Banquet of the Management Division of Southwestern College, took place May 5, 1987 at the Winfield Country Club. The Banquet was organized by the Business and Economics Division and was made possible by the generous contributions and support from downtown area businesses. The evening included an enjoyable address by Dr. James Jackman, Professor of Business Law at Oklahoma State University. Following this, of course, was the presentation of awards which recognized individuals on the basis of academic merit in different business subjects. Story by Greg Stinson.

SC Debate: Modern David and Goliath

Competitive. That was the word that described the 1986-87 Debate Team. With a squad that consisted largely of freshmen, Southwestern was well represented on a national level. "We're the smallest school in the country with a debate team, and we beat the big schools," said Coach Richard O'Dor, in his second year at Southwestern. The team members were Terri McCorkle, Sr.; John Morris, Jr.; Mike Metcalf, Soph.; and Freshmen Rick Liby, John Jaster, Scott

Hecht, Kim Hoffman, Paul McDonald, Wendy Dolsen, Christine Maden and Teri Hutchison. In the fall the team debated its first topic: Improving Soviet relations or increasing military preparedness. At Central States, Liby and Jaster won first place in Junior Division. Liby and Jaster placed second in Junior Division at USC. "We've only lost to three teams in eliminations, SIU, ranked first in the nation; Air Force Academy, third, and Florida, fourth," noted O'Dor. During Jan

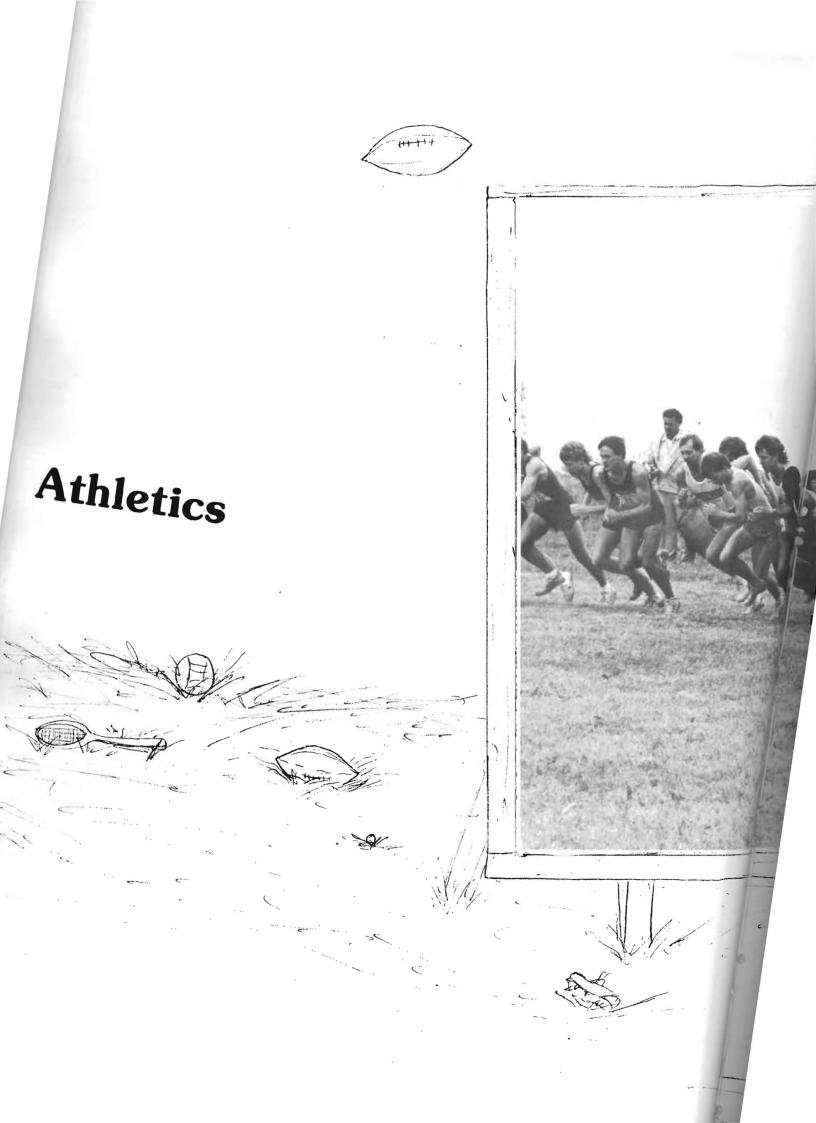

Term and second semester, a new topic was debated: Testing for controlled substances. At San Antonio, Morris and Liby placed second in open division. The team competed in three more tournaments: Junior Nationals, Pi Kappa Delta Nationals and The Nationals. O'Dor expected to finish the year ranked among the top 30 out of 323 schools that competed in cross examination debate.

The Moundbuilders finished the 1986 football season with a 7-3 overall record and a 7-2 record in KCAC action. The Builders lost the KCAC crown to the Bethany Swedes and finished second in the conference in a tie with Bethel. The Builders began the season at home with a 14-34 loss against non-conference opponent Emporia State University. The Builders then proceeded to win three straight games including an overwhelming 65-0 victory over KCAC opponent McPherson. In Southwestern's next game the excessively cold and wet weather proved just a little too much for the Builders. They lost in a double overtime, 7-14, to the Bethany Swedes at Lindsborg in the infamous "mud bowl." In their next three games, the Builders fared better as they were victorious over Kansas Wesleyan 22-7 at Southwestern's Homecoming. The game was played before an enthusiastic crowd of 2,946. Tabor and Friends were the Builders next victims before Southwestern lost a hard fought game to the Bethel Threshers 24-35. The season ended on a more positive note when the Builders traveled to Dodge City to pound St. Mary's of the Plains 44-12. Although the Builders saw no play-off action or bowl games, they had a successful if not impressive season.

Several Builders were honored for their excellent play this season. Six were voted to the KCAC First Team. These outstanding players were: Shaun Spottedhorse, Len Donatelli, Peter Long, Clyde Bundage, Frank Lolar and James Key. Those receiving 2nd Team KCAC Honors were: Terry Francis and Heath Little. Several Builders were noted as KCAC Honorable Mention Players. They were: Johnny Williams, Weldon Kennedy, Rusty Robertson, Kevin Markwardt and James Banks. Recognized for their outstanding playing ability at the District Ten level were: Shaun Spottedhorse, Peter Long, James Key and Frank Lolar.

Southwestern College again had an outstanding cross country team in 1986. The men took the KCAC for the 7th straight year and the women finished second. The men also won the NAIA District Ten meet for the third year and finished 14th in the nation. The women's team consisted of five runners. They were very competitive and finished second five times including the KCAC championship. The women had not lost to a KCAC opponent in over three years. In the KCAC championships, Bethany came out strong and defeated SC by four points. Kathy Boone won the meet and she was the only All-KCAC runner for the women. The following week at the NAIA District Ten meet, the women had another chance at Bethany. They finished third, beating Bethany by 13 points. Kathy Boone qualified for Nationals with her fifth place finish. At Nationals she took 43rd out of 289 runners. Seventeen runners made up the men's cross country team. The previous year had been the most successful cross country team in Southwestern history. The top runners were gone from that team so the Builders started out low on experience. This showed in the first meet as the men placed third. From that point on, the men won every meet they entered until Nationals. SC has dominated the KCAC for the past several years. This year was no different. Tony Myers took the championship as the Builders placed seven runners on the All-KCAC team. They included Myers, Elliot Rodda, Bart Nitz, Torey Keller, Hector Rios, John Nichols and William Carter. The next week at the District Ten meet, the men ran their best race of the season. They won the meet for the third straight year, outdistancing their nearest opponent by 23 points. Six runners, Myers, Rodda, Nitz, Keller, Rios and Nichols were named All District Ten runners. SC has been ranked in the top ten in the nation all year including a number six ranking in the final poll. Coach Jim Helmer felt the ranking was a little high because of a lack of National meet experience. The men had some problems in that race. Bart Nitz was spiked early and Matt Ryan was stepped on and lost a shoe in the first mile. The team still finished a respectable 14th.

SC Volleyball Builds For The Future

The season started with a change in command of the Volleyball Team. Robbie Fields took over the task of building a volleyball program at Southwestern. Tracy Juden and Denise Sandifar assisted throughout the season. With two seniors, Laurie Koester and Marsha White, the Builders were young, but had a lot of determination. When the team started to work well, injuries plagued the team. The Builders played well, but could never get over the hump to win consistently. With ten returning players for next year and the recruits that are are expected, the program will grow. Good luck Lady Builders!

Womens Tennis Takes KCAC

The Southwestern Womens Tennis team had another successful season. They went 8-2 in duals and won the KCAC tournament. In addition, the Lady Builders placed third in the District 10 NAIA Championships. Womens Tennis had a history of success at SC. They have won nine of the twelve KCAC titles and they finished second the other three times. Southwestern has 5-0 in KCAC duals and have an overall 61-3 record in the league. The Ladies began the year with five straight wins, defeating Tabor, Sterling, McPherson, Ft. Hays State and Bethany. They were then defeated by Baker and Washburn. The next two opponents were Emporia and Benedictine. Southwestern didn't let either of them even win an individual match. The Builders finished the season by narrowly defeating Bethel 5-4. In the KCAC Tournament, Bethel again was the Ladies closest opponent. Southwestern won the tournament with 30 points to Bethel's 28 points. In the District 10 Tournament, SC finished behind Washburn and Baker. All the Ladies gained individual honors. Janice Smith placed second in KCAC singles, third in the District 10 singles and was on the All KCAC team. Cindy Black placed second in the KCAC in singles and first in doubles, third in the District 10 singles and was KCAC Honorable Mention. Susan Colberg took first in the KCAC in singles, third in the District 10 singles, and was on the All-KCAC team. Tanya Jantz won the KCAC in both singles and doubles and was second in District 10 singles. Cathy Hessini placed second in the KCAC in singles and first in doubles and was on the All-District 10 team. Cynthia Colberg placed second in the KCAC in singles and first in doubles, first in both singles and doubles in District 10 and was on the All-District 10 team.

The intramural sports season at SC was indeed an exciting one. Intramural Director Phil Carr had on tap a full slate of events throughout the year. #### Rising To New Heights Southwestern Cheerleaders

The 1986-1987 cheerleaders continued their support of the athletic events by building the enthusiasm of the fans as well as the spirit of the team. These girls dedication in light of their many other involvements, expresses true SC spirit and pride. Many hours of hard work and effort are put into the routines and cheers. Although, it often goes unnoticed, their support and hard work is appreciated. The 1986 cheerleaders were: Tammy Rudolph, Keri Ramsay, Sherri Hudson, Jennifer Morris, LeAnn Hubbel, Jan Eash, Megann Martin and Dianne Roberson.

The cheerleaders stack up as the SC football team racks up another win.

Covering the eleven divisions of sports, the athletic trainers of '86-'87 have kept busy attending to our Moundbuilder athletes. Their duties, in case of athletic injury, are to recommend or provide doctors, treatment, rehabilitation, etc. In order to do this, the trainers use two different forms of treatment: modality (heat, ultra-sound, hydrotherapy, parafin bath, cryotherapy) and injury prevention (taping, splinting, bracing, etc.). Phil Carr, head trainer, is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association and has had five students working with him. Shay Jewett and Jill Turner volunteered for basketball, which required attendance at both men's and women's games and practices. Shay also helped with the track teams, assisted by Darla English. Danise Ellis, after being injured during volleyball, became a trainer and was involved in fall sports. Kathy Boone was the general training room assistant for the entire year. Phil will be beginning a new program in the fall which will be aimed at students interested in athletic training as a career. The program will be a prerequisite for CPR certification and American National Red Cross Standard First Aid certification. Athletic training benefits include preparing one to respond calmly in emergencies and to prepare for coaching positions. Story by Christina Maden.

SC Women's Basketball

The Lady Builders had a tough time this season as they went 9-17. The team was very young with only one senior on this year's squad. The Builders were led by Senior Lisa Collins who had an outstanding season scoring a record setting 508 points for the season. She has been nationally ranked in the NAIA and leads the team on and off the court. Coach Gerald Raines said, "She also led the team in assists with 89; steals with 61; and three-point shots with six, including a heart stopping shot from half-court against Bethel College. Coach Raines looks forward to next years team as they gain more experience. With the loss of Lisa Collings, the Builders will need to look for some scoring punch next year. This young team should be strong in the KCAC in 1988. Story by David Reynolds.

Southwestern Men's Basketball '87

The Moundbuilders had a disappointing season as they went 9-17. Southwestern was outsized and were one of the smallest teams in the KCAC. Some heavy recruiting for height will be necessary for next year's season. Southwestern's team was led by Senior Rod Wright this year, who shot over 62% from the field and averaged over thirteen rebounds a game. He led the conference and ranked sixth in the nation. He led the team in steals and blocks. The Moundbuilders were on the short hand a lot of close games in 1987, due to costly missed free throws and crucial turnovers. Rod Wright had a few words to say about his season. It was a disappointing season, losing so many close games. Rod gives credit to the coach for teaching him the finer points of the game. He wants to be remembered as a hard worker and an all around ball player being able to play both ends of the floor. His career best game was this year with 22 points, 13 rebounds and 9 blocks. As most students know, and as the Delphi study administered earlier this year suggests, "the secretary in the Business and Economics Division is outstanding." Diane Steadham believes the biggest highlight of working at SC is being able to have contact with the students. Any business major will attest to her warmth, sincerity and willingness to help in any situation. Diane strives to give each individual equal attention and is always looking for ways to improve procedures to meet the needs of people. Diane and her husband Wayne, reside in Winfield. In addition to her secretarial duties, she is the SAA advisor. She also helps to organize the annual Honors and Awards banquet for the Business Department. She is Vice President of the Winfield Arts and Humanities Council and President of Country Concerts. Her hobbies include needlework, bike riding, yardwork and the ongoing renovation of their home. Max Thompson of the Biology Department has an outstanding orchid standing four feet ten inches, growing in the Southwestern greenhouse. The orchid has been around for about seven years. With the help of a friend, Roger Brown, Mr. Thompson has cultivated this beauty. Although there has not been a price estimated for the orchid, the sight of it says enough. Keeping a green thumb, makes a green lump sum! Story by Chris Sanders.

Larry Archambo.

Before coming to SC in 1984, Dr. Larry Archambo received his Bachelors degree from Oral Roberts University. After teaching at the high school level in Tulsa for two years, he received his Masters and Doctorate from the University of Kansas. From a discouraging printout in 1984 with only six names pre-enrolled, Dr. Archambo's band has in three years increased its number to near thirty. Each year is an exciting improvement. The concert tour of Washington, D.C. and New York was an indication of a renewed commitment and enthusiasm throughout the music department. The department now offers Composition as a major and has future goals for an electronic music lab. Dr. Archambo commutes from Emporia, where he and his family (wife Shelley and daughter Avery) reside. Shelley teaches within the Emporia State Music Department. Story by Merla Greer.

The highlight of the year was when the men finished an all time high of 4th at the NAIA national indoor track championships held in Kansas City and had two national champion relay teams. The two mile relay won with a team consisting of William Carter, Dennis Smithhisler, Rich Kutt and Torey Keller. The other relay team was the distance medley with William Carter, Kody Kinder, Dennis Smithhisler and anchor Torey Keller. These were the first two national indoor titles captured by Southwestern. The team's 4th place finish at the meet bested their previous bets of 7th place. The men's team also won its fifth consecutive KCAC Championship which was held at SC on May 1st and 2nd. The closest team was 105 1/2 points behind SC. SC also finished 2nd at the District 10 Championship at Sterling. The women's team also had a strong season, finishing third at the conference championship and 5th in the District 10 meet. New indoor school records set by the men were in the 60 yd. dash and the 60 yd. high hurdles by Manny Newman; 300 yd. dash by Weldon Kennedy; 600 yd. dash by William Carter; 880 yd. run and 1000 yrd. run by Torey Keller; 35# weight by Dan Dickey. SC women Jennifer Morris and Kathy Boone set new school indoor records for women. Morris set one in the 600 yd. run and Boone established three in the 1000 yd. run, mile run and the two mile run. Freshman Manny Newman was named the most valuable athlete in the KCAC Championship meet and set 3 outdoor school records in the 100 meters, 110 meter high hurdles and the 400 meter intermediate hurdles. He also set meet records at both the KCAC and District 10 level in the 100 meter and 110 meter high hurdles. Other individual records were set by Smithhisler in the 3000 meter steeplechase and by Lance Davis in the javelin. School records broken by four relay teams: the 4 x 800 relay, the 2 mile relay, the distance medley relay and the 4 mile relay. Two women set new outdoor records also. Jennifer Morris broke the 400 meter low hurdle school record and Georgana Weigle set a new school record in the javelin. Story by Suzanne Underwood.

Builders Have Tough Season

In Men's tennis, the past sixteen years, the conference race has been for second place. It was no different this year as conference powerhouse Bethany won the KCAC again. Four teams competed for 2nd place in the conference; Tabor, Bethel, Sterling and Southwestern. The Builders defeated Sterling, but lost to Bethel 4-5 and to Tabor 0-9. Bethel ended with second place and Southwestern with 4th. The season got off to a good start as the Builders won their first two duals. After that SC defeated only two other opponents and ended the season with a 4-7 record. Seven players made up the varsity; Scott Farnham, Rick Mack, Duane Robbins, Steve Thomas, Mark Wilson, Barry Dundas, and Todd Herman. All the players played well during the season, but they just couldn't come up with the victory. Even though the Builders record was not good on the court, it was excellent in the classroom. Four varsity team members were Academic All-Conference. Only two varsity players graduated. With the help of some strong JV players and some newcomers, the Builders should be much stronger in 1988. Story by Barry Dundas.

Homecoming SC Style

A beautiful October day, abundant sunshine, and teeming crowds are some of the components of a traditional Southwestern Homecoming. The parade wound through downtown Winfield to the delight of an enthusiastic crowd of townspeople, alums and students. An added attraction to this year's parade, were floats from Winfield High School, who had the unfortunate experience of a rained out Homecoming. All together a very satisfactory day!

A Capella Choir And SC Band Tour East Coast

Southwestern College A Capella Choir and the SC Band toured the East Coast together April 9-14. The tour started with a six a.m. bus ride to catch a flight out of Wichita. The groups performed in Falls Church, Virginia; Port Jervis, New York; and Demarest, New Jersey. The group also had the honor of singing on the steps of the Capitol in Washington, D.C. The rest of that afternoon was spent touring the Capitol. The tour ended in New York City, with 24 hours to do as much as each person felt possible. This was the highlight of the trip for most of the group. Story by Karen Anderson.

Halloween '86

October 31, Halloween was celebrated with costume and pumpkin carving contests and the showing of "Tales From the Crypt," sponsored by SAA. There was an open house at President Blakes with lots of treats. The faculty and staff joined in the spirit of the occasion and had a party complete with costumes.

Culture, Culture, Culture

Within the collage of Cultural Arts that was affered to students, staff and the community Southwestern this year was a variety of presentations. There was something for everyone from the Foggy River Boys vocal and astrumental group with their Nashville sounds to Mozart's Marriage of Figaro that as performed in English by the Universal Opera Company. More music was presented an Afternoon of Chamber Music with lames Hosmer, Hans Keitel, James Strand, On Gibson, Melody Jenkins and Lorraine

Webb; and by pianist Ronald Albrecht. Also visiting SC was Molly Hagan, television and movie actress, sharing with us her love of Shakespeare in campus workshops as well as her public presentation. An unusual perforance blending traditional Japanese with American pop clulture was the Kabuki theater performance taken from the diary of Toku Shimoura and paintings by Roger Shinoura, her grandson. The Craig Owens Quintet and John Scott, concert organist rounded out a year of diversity and fun.

Get down and boogie!

Pi Delta Sigma is a coed fraternity as it has been since the 1973-1974 school year. The Delts are a very unique group. Though small in number, the bond of brotherhood and loyalty is strong. The ideals of the organization are symbolized by three Greek words, the first letters of which make up the organization's name. Pneuma, meaning noble spirit; Dianoia meaning alert mind; and Soma, meaning vigorous body, combine to make Pi

Delta Sigma. In February, the Delts sponsored their annual Sinister Sweetheart/Saint Valentine's Massacre Ball. The successful affair was held in Richardson Auditorium. Nine couples were nominated by various campus organizations to compete for the title Sinister Sweethearts. The Delts proved to be the most sinister and their candidates were chosen to reign as Sinister Sweethearts 1987.

Sigma Iota Sigma is a social and service sorority. Throughout the year, SIS members do many things to help promote sisterhood among its members and help to provide activities for Southwestern. This year SIS sponsored a Christmas Dance and remembered the elderly during the holiday with gifts. In the fall, SIS members participated in the Phona-thon for the Development Office. Sorority activities included a Secret SIS Week and Pledge Week. The SIS brother fraternity, the Thetas, helped them with several functions. These included: a SIS-Theta Skating Party, a SIS-Theta Formal Dinner and a SIS-Theta Barbeque. Twelve new members were initiated to insure the continued SIS traditions.

Theta Phi Delta Is Twenty Years Old

This school year marks the 20th anniversary of Theta Phi Delta. The Thetas are the only remaining exclusively male Greek organization on Southwestern's Campus. The membership strives for excellence and leadership in a broad range of endeavors. Their involvements on campus included such organizations as SAA, SGA, DPMA, Tri-Beta and

PBL. They were also involved in extra-curricular activities including debate, basketball and track. The annual Homecoming advertising campaign was another success. The Thetas try to provide humor at the home basketball games by coming costumed in various themes. Their toga performances will be long remembered. Dan Daniel became the sponsor for the group this year. The Thetas cooperated with the members of SIS for several social functions during the year. Leaders for the year were President Steve Thomas and Rob Richardson as Vice-President. Copy by Rob Richardson.

Jan Term Lens

During Jan Term 1987, Kathy Wilgers taught seven amateurs how to take and develop pictures. The class took six rolls of black and white film of any subject they wished. Students learned how light and time can cause special effects. The class concluded with an exhibit of the photographs taken and printed by the students. The students really enjoyed the class.
