The Puzzle

The picture of Southwestern is like that of a puzzle. Many pieces must fit together before the picture is complete. At the heart of this puzzle are the students, for it is often stated that Southwestern would not exist without students. All of the other pieces of the puzzle are built around or with students. A big piece of the puzzle is classes, for every student must attend class. Classes are only a part of student life. Sports are an important part of many student lives. Whether competing or viewing, sports make life at Southwestern more exciting. Academic clubs and organizations provide a way to meet people with similar career interests and are a good source for finding job opportunities. These organizations also provide students with valuable learning experiences and activities to become involved with. Although these clubs are academic in nature, students benefit socially as well. The social organizations are another good way to meet people and have fun. They provide many activities for their members and the student body as well. Without the social organizations, Southwestern would lose students to severe cases of boredom. Professors that inspire students to think and explore ideas and situations abound. Professors are a key part of the learning process. The administration and staff help Southwestern thrive at a time when most private schools are struggling. The staff also helps to keep SC up to date technologically with a computer center full of hardware and software for students use. A second computer center is in the Library. The administration and staff keep the school running smoothly and efficiently. Behind the scenes, holding SC together, are the maintenance and custodial crews. Without them, Southwestern would have fallen apart by now. Most everyone at SC fits into the puzzle in more than one or two capacities. Without people "building together," as our 1987 Homecoming theme expresses, we would be an incomplete puzzle. Although I have listed many pieces of the SC puzzle, other pieces have not been touched. Keep looking for them, it is our high hope that this yearbook will reveal all the pieces of the SC puzzle with pictures and words. Copy by Suzanne Underwood.

Lower left: Sterling Hinson shows that pedalling is faster as he leads the pack to football practice.

Lower right: Dan Hutton and Danne Webb armed with cameras take a moment to skim the roster before the kickoff.

Top center: Curtiss Rasmussen is momentarily disrupted from viewing the Wallingford women and the action on the tennis courts below.

Lower right: Down under, Mike Metcalf and Chuck Sturgis serve as prisoners of the weight room. Mike "appears" to be struggling with the war while Chuck gives him that extra lift.

Upper left: These antics are routine for Tim Schroeder and Jubal Tiner. Who knows what they will do next.

Upper right: Does Kathy Boone ever stop running? Enquiring minds want to know.

Upper left: Suzanne Goss, Jennifer Morris and Keri Ramsay have found the perfect place to perch while enjoying picnic food and barefoot weather.

Lower right: This doesn't appear to be Bobby Urrutia's idea of how to spend a Saturday morning, half dressed and surrounded by photographers. One even helps him with his tie!

Photos on pages 6 and 7 by Suzanne Underwood.

Lower right: LeAnn Hubbell barely makes it across the street to tell Tina Huaroto what's going on tonight.

Top: Now this is football, Broadhurst style. Everyone's up in the air for this one but who came down with it will remain a mystery.

Bottom: The clarinet section is all smiles. What could be more fun than making music at a football game on a warm, cloudless day. Julie Estes even brought a helper along. Wendy Dolsen, Julie Estes, Kathy Egli and Shelly Neal.

Upper left: Work-study is a part of many student's days. Leroy Worley accomplishes two things as he studies current events while waiting to check out books to fellow students. Julie Leonard, also on work-study, prepares books to shelve. Photo by Tina Huaroto.

Lower left: The Southwestern Memorial Library has a place in nearly every student's life, whether it be for doing research, word processing, computer programming, reading his/her favorite magazine or keeping track of current local, national and international events. Photo by Tina Huaroto.

Upper right: Going to football practice is a daily routine for nearly one hundred Southwestern men. These four are heading that way. Wonder who the that hedge apple is meant for? Late in the summer of 1987, enthusiastic new faces start appearing on Southwestern's campus. The new faculty and administrative staff came to claim their positions on the team. They brought some new ideas and concepts. They discovered that Southwestern is an established environment of good ideas and innovations. Working as a team, the new and the established make one terrific educational machine.

The Moundbuilder staff captures the events that are associated with and representative of Southwestern College. The organization tries to portray SC lives both on campus and off campus. The newer staff members are taught how to take photographs, the basic darkroom techniques and how to layout a page to be printed. Putting the book together is a group effort, with lots of hard work, lots of fun and the chance to make new friends. The sponsor of the book was Kathy Wilgers and the 1988 Editor was Suzanne Underwood. Assistant Editors were Tina Huaroto, David Reynolds and Tony Soares. Story by Tina Huaroto.

Black Student Union

The officers this year for BSU were Weldon Kennedy, President; Sterling Hinson, Vice President; and Billy Beard, Secretary/Treasurer. BSU sponsored two dances, one of which was the Valentine's Day Dance. Other BSU activities were a get acquainted picnic, a talent show, calling for the Phonathon and a Soul Food Dinner. Members also participated in many activities at the Baptist Church during Black History Month.

Student Activities Association

The Student Activities Association is responsible for planning and sponsoring activities free to all full-time Southwestern students. Every full-time student pays an activity fee each semester which goes to sponsor SAA events. SAA has organized many activities, such as dances, skating parties, movies and videos. The group has also assisted other campus organizations financially and otherwise in other than SAA activities. Some new events this year were an Eating Contest, The Roommate Game, a Pajama Party and a performance by a hypnotist.

Successful dorm life at SC is made not only by the Resident Directors and Resident Assistants, but also by the residents who live in the dorms. Tri Beta was involved in many activities in 1987-88. Under the direction of officers Connie Sears, President; Sturgis, Vice-President; and Marchbanks, Secretary/Treasurer, the biological honor fraternity has shown support for many groups. In the fall, Beta was responsible for the renovation of special corner of Main Hall which houses the infamous Alligator RA (Resident Alligator). In April, the group sponsored the Red Cross blood mobile drive in Tri-D. Blood was collected from students, faculty, staff, and community residents. The cleanup in May was also coordinated by the group.

PBL Honors

SC's chapter of Phi Beta Lambda again gathered many honors at the PBL Academic State Competitive Events in Business. Under the sponsorship of Dick Barnes, Jeanne Dexter, and Lyle Weinert, the group was awarded the following: 1st place as Ms. Future Business Executive to Carolyn Menke (also qualifying for the National Competition) and Lora Warren, 1st in Business Principles. 2nd places to Lisa Spoon (Organizational Behavior and in Business English), Carolyn Menke (Economics and in Business Law), Richard Harmon (Information Management) and Jim Lynne (Finance). 3rd place awards went to: Richard Harmon (Computer Concepts), Lisa Spoon (Management), Lora Warren (Organizational Behavior) and Carolyn Menke (Business English). The SC chapter also was honored for having the largest chapter.

SGA's primary responsibility is to act as a communicator to keep the student body aware of upcoming policy changes. There were several hot issues this year for which SGA spoke for the SC students to both the Faculty and Administration. Topics included: the need for an area where students could congregate 24 hours per day; the problem of poor lighting on campus; and the proposal to eliminate Jan Term. SGA is composed of dormitory representatives, off campus reps, class Presidents, faculty and administrators. Student representatives are elected by a popular vote of that part of the student body they represent. They meet bi-monthly. Story by Karen Anderson.

Pi Gamma Mu, the International Social Science honor fraternity, was founded in 1924 on Southwestern's campus by Dean Leroy Allen. Since its beginning years ago, membership has grown to well over 150,000 members. The Southwestern chapter, Kansas Alpha, is one of the approximately 170 chapters in the United States and the Philippines. The chapter President for 1987-1988 was Danne Webb. Wallace Gray was Secretary-Treasurer, and Dan Daniel was the faculty sponsor. The Kansas Alpha chapter inducted nearly 20 new members during the 1987-1988 academic year. Initiation ceremonies were held in the fall and in the spring at the Western Sizzlin' Steakhouse and at the home of Wallace and Ina Turner Gray. Copy by Danne Webb.

Judicial Council Mediates

The members of Judicial Council are made up of students and administrators organized into two levels. Level I rules on minor cases such as quiet and hours. Level II judges major cases dealing with alcohol and drug use, fire and fire extinguishers. The Judicial Council attempts to improve SC's campus so that those that reside on campus feel safe. The Transfer/Non-Traditional Students of SC call themselves TNT and they sure pack a wallop! This dynamic group is led by Chet Logue, President; Bell Goff, Vice-President; Mary Smith, Secretary; and Cindy Hovey, Treasurer. They often meet in the Commuter's Lounge in the Library building for lunch and share experiences and concern. Dean of Students, Sue Robinson, and Provost John Willoughby have interacted with the group to make them a more active part of the Southwestern campus family. If this first year's existence of TNT is any indication, the group will be around a long time.

Sigma Iota Sigma Is Ten Years Old

Sigma Iota Sigma, service and social sorority, has been an active campus force for ten years. During the year they participated in many on and off campus events. In December they joined SAA in sponsoring a Christmas dance. During that season, they provided food and gifts for a needy Winfield family through a local church. During the year, the group had lots of meetings and fun get-togethers. The Dairy Queen was a popular place to end up. In the spring, a Pink Party was held to let prospective pledgees know about the organization. Eight women pledged for the coming year. The officers were: Kathy Boone, President; Jennifer Morris, Vice-President; Chris Maden, Secretary; Roberta Dennett, Treasurer; Jenni Sturgis, Publicist; and Keri Ramsay, Historian.

Phi Theta Kappa Alumni is the alumni group of the International honor fraternity of two year colleges. The officers for the year were Pam Elliott, President; Chet Logue, Vice-President; Bell Goff, Secretary; and Aggie Neises, Treasurer. The advisors for the year were Phil Schmidt and Judith Charlton. 1987-1988 was the first year on the SC campus for the organization and they hope that many more good years follow. Fifteen persons were initiated into the group the first semester. The main goal of the organization is to support each other and the incoming Phi Theta Kappans. Two events sponsored by the group were the "Kiss a Pig" and "Apple & Worm" money raising functions. Story by Bell Goff.

Theta Phi Delta

Theta Phi Delta, in its twenty-first year, provides a meaningful living experience and brotherhood for its members. The Thetas are the last exclusively male fraternity at Southwestern College. The group's slogan is one that symbolizes brothers, scholars, and leaders. The men of Theta Phi Delta sponsor community activities such as advertisement sales, charity drives and community pick-up games. The members are involved in extra-curricular activities on campus such as football, basketball, tennis, softball, Collegian and Moundbuilder. Theta humor manifested itself this year with appearances at home games in togas or dressed as nerds. The traditional Stud Jock Day was a success as usual. The coming year will be special with 14 new pledges to take the place of the 7 Thetas who graduated. These seven were on campus for the 100th anniversary celebration of Southwestern College. Dan Daniel served as sponsor, while Darren Tinkler served as President and Todd Herman served as Vice-President. Story by Edgar Blanks.

Scrooge

"Scrooge," a musical version of Charles Dickens' "Christmas Carol," was presented by the Campus Players of Southwestern College and the Winfield Community Choir. Roxy Callison directed the performance, James Schuppener directed the choir, Cheri Kiekel was the stage manager and James Strand was the accompanist. Members of the cast included Jessica Callison, Bruce Adams, Tim Schroeder, Chuck Sturgis, Marylee Ramsay, Tony Myers, Shelli Bean, Jubal Tiner, Dana Tinkler, Amanda Callison, Tim Ervin, Bobby Urrutia, Trevor Houlden, Meg Wilson, Mark Gravenstein and Barry Dundas. SC family in the chorus were: Diana Bitker, Keri Ramsay, Chris Maden, Jan Palmer, Karen Rymph and Judie Winkler. For those who saw the "timeless tale of Christmas spirit" captured on stage, the love and cheer of the season was expressed by the heartfelt wish of Tiny Tim: "God bless us every one." Pi Delta Sigma is a co-ed organization that promotes unity through the bond of brotherhood and sisterhood. Pi stands for a noble spirit, Delta signifies an open mind and Sigma stands for a vigorous body. These principles are the core of conduct for Deltas. The organization works for peace, brotherhood and to create better humans.

Delt nominees, Marty Mutti and Robyne Stanford, were chosen Sinister Sweethearts for 1988.

Sinister Sweethearts

Every year, Sigma Phi Delta holds their annual St. Valentine's Day Massacre Dance complete with appropriate gangster attire. Couples from campus are nominated for Sinister Sweethearts to reign over the occasion. This year's candidates were: Diana Bitker, Derby, KS and Barry Dundas, Hutchinson, KS; Wendy Dolsen, Pueblo, CO and Chuck Sturgis, Liberal, KS; and Marty Mutti, Marshall, MO and Robyne Stanford, Florissant, MO. Marty and Robyne held the spotlight for the evening being chosen the Sinister Sweethearts of 1988.

The Collegian Comes Through

The Collegian moved into a new era this year with the acquisition of new equipment by the college, allowing the newspaper to do desktop publishing. The use of the Macintosh SE has made the Collegian staff much more self-sufficient in the production of the school paper. The staff produces the paper bi-monthly for the reading pleasure of the SC community and friends of the college. John Willoughby is their advisor. Though small in number, the group is a dedicated group of writers often spending much of the night getting the paper out on time. It is evident to the readers that the Collegian staff may use a Macintosh but they have printers ink in their veins. Story by Karen Anderson.

Social Workers of Southwestern

The purpose of the Social Work Club is to have fun together, learn together, understand societal value systems and relate them to the process of professional social work education. The officers for the year were Shelli Bean, President; Jerry Burns, Vice-President; Bell Goff, Secretary; and John Jaster, Treasurer. The advisors were Herman Lebovitz and Ellen Chaplin. Included in the events that the club sponsored were a party at Herman Lebovitz's house, a trip to Topeka, an honors social for the Fundamentals of Social Work field instructors and a dinner to honor the senior social work students. The club helped with the Phonathon and served as volunteers for a Cowley County Mental Health workshop. Story by Bell Goff.

The 1987-88 Moundbuilding Ceremony began with the Matriculation Convocation held in Richardson Hall. Danne Webb, SGA President, presided over the SGA sponsored event. Dr. John Paulin, President Bruce Blake, Dr. Robert Wimmer and Dr. David Nichols presented the program. After the singing of the Alma Mater, the assembly moved outside. Speeches telling the significance of various locations on campus were read by Michelle Hickman (Builders Around The World), Marylee Ramsay (Campus Players Rock), Mike Metcalf (Christy Pillars), Jubal Tiner (Jinx), Todd Herman (Basketball Rock), and Scott Hecht (Debate Rock). The group of students, faculty, administrators, staff and alumni then made their way to the Mound, where each person placed his or her rock on the growing Mound. Following "Taps", played by trumpeter Teresa LaVelle, the 1987-88 Moundbuilding ceremony drew to a close. Copy by Danne Webb.

Due to rain, the Powder Puff Football game was canceled but the coronation and pep rally took place in Messenger Hall as scheduled. The Queen's attendants in the court were: Suzanne Underwood, junior from Derby, KS, nominated by Student Activities Association; Kathy Boone, senior from Winfield, KS, nominated by Wallingford and Broadhurst Halls; Keri Ramsay, junior from Johnson, KS, nominated by Reid Hall and Jennifer Morris, junior from Arkansas City, KS, nominated by the Southwestern Cheerleaders.

Ugly Men Get Uglier!

In 1987 the Ugly Man on Campus contest was sponsored by SAA during the fall Homecoming celebration. A penny counted for one vote and silver money counted against the contestants. The candidates were: Bobby Smith, a junior from Wichita, KS; Tim Schroeder, a senior from Boise, ID; Ed Weilage, a junior from Oklahoma City, OK; Chuck Sturgis, a senior from Liberal, KS; and Tony Myers, a senior from Wichita, KS. Ugly Man

"Goodbye, My Fancy," directed by Roxy Callison, was presented by the Campus Players Homecoming weekend, in the Helen Graham Little Theatre. The play was based on the homecoming of Agatha Reed (Jennifer Morgan), during commencement weekend at Good Hope College for women in Good Hope, Massachusetts in 1948. Barry Dundas played James Merrill, Agatha's college history teacher and lover. Other cast members were Jan Palmer, Marylee Ramsay, Shelli Bean, Jessica Callison, Danica Arthur, Teresa Day, Kent Lundy, Bobby Urrutia, Amanda Callison, Maggie Myers, Dana Tinkler, Cheri Kiekel, David Willoughby, Trevor Houlden, Marti Mutti, and Tim Ervin. Amanda Callison was the assistant director and Shonda Cato was the stage director.

The Shadow Box

Human sexuality and death. Those were the issues that "The Shadow Box", directed by Betsy Harden, dealt with in this emotional performance. The play was centered around three patients dying of cancer, their struggle with death and the denial of it by their loved ones. The Interviewer, played by David Willoughby, was heard but not seen. Joe, a middle-aged man dying of cancer, was played by Britt Dorsett. Jennifer Morgan played his wife, Maggie. Joe's son Steve was played by Stuart Graham. Tim Ervin played Brian, an excentric man trying to live the last days of his life to their fullest. His homosexual lover, Mark, was played by Barry Dundas. Chris Maden played Brian's ex-wife. Fecility, confined to her wheelchair and tripped of her humanity because of the effects of cancer was played by Dana Tinkler. Her daughter, Agnes, was played by Amanda Callison. Stuart Graham was the Stage Manager and Trevor Houlden was the Assistant Stage Manager. Jessica Callison was the Lighting and Sound Technician.

Shaun Spottedhorse

December 5, 1987 is a date Shaun Spottedhorse will not forget. His life changed early that morning when his car overturned north of Winfield. The accident left him paralyzed from the neck down. Before the accident, Spot had been on his way to being named a NAIA first-team All-American and perhaps having a chance to try out for professional football. Spot was in a Wichita hospital for several weeks and then transferred to Craig Hospital in Englewood, Colorado for several months of rehabilitation. Through hard work, he regained partial use of his arms. On April 2, 1988, Shaun and his wife Kathy, returned home to Winfield.

Shaun retains his dream of teaching and coaching. With a lot more hard work on his part and support from his friends and admirers, he'll make it.

SC Builder Spirit Squad

THE SPIRIT IGNITES WITH A NEW NAME. There is more to cheerleading than just doing cheers and mounts. The spirit and enthusiasm of each individual should be expressed in all of the aspects of being a cheerleader. This year eight people tried their hands to improve the spirit of not only the squad, but the school as well. With the new name and the addition of three yell leaders, the squad attempted to spark the spirit of the community along with the SC family. Their performances included a hilarious skit, a dance routine, some wobbly and some not so wobbly mounts, and the invention of a spirit stick. Through it all, the leaders of SC spirit have seen improvement and hope it grows and spreads in the years to come. "Even though we've struggled through sometimes, it has been a fun and worthwhile year," is how one Spirit Squad member put it. Story by Tina Huaroto.

In September of 1987, a new organization was formed to offer women of SC's campus an opportunity to promote the college and Builder spirit. This drill team, known as the Lady Jinxs, began with practices at 6:30 a.m. every morning looking toward their first performance at the Homecoming football game. The dedication and enthusiasm of the team showed at every home football game and a portion of the basketball games. The Lady Jinxs were invited to perform at Wichita State's last home basketball game. In their five minute performance, they were seen by 9,000 spectators. The team also performed at a Wichita Wings Soccer game. The final squad activity for the school year was an appearance at the Senior Citizen Special Olympics, helping with events and judging for the spirit contest between teams. This group of young women has been a positive source of promotion for SC. Due to the combined efforts of the director, Lori Moshier, and the team, they have presented a professional and outstanding picture to the surrounding community. Copy by Lori Moshier.

Southwestern Ties For '87 Crown

The Moundbuilders ended the season with a 17-11 victory over the Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes, to tie for the conference championship with the Bethany Swedes. The Builders had a nice season even though they missed the playoffs by one spot in the National rankings, finishing 8th in the country. The Builders went 8-2 this season with only one loss in the KCAC conference play. The other loss was to out of conference, highly ranked Emporia State, who finished 8th in the NAIA I. The Builders were led on offense this year by junior Weldon Kennedy who rushed for more than eleven hundred yards, adding ten touchdowns to his credit. Weldon also made first team KCAC at the tailback position. Senior Ricky Tellis had a good season as well, running and blocking for the Builders in the '87 campaign. The Builders had two quarterbacks, Edmond Hall and Donald Stroy, who played together to lead the team to eight wins this season. Another nice Builder weapon was freshman field goal kicker Victor Urieta who only missed two field goals this season. Victor was named to the first team All KCAC. His great soccer style kicking helped the Builders win some close games. On the other side of the ball, the Builders were outstanding as they led the KCAC in defense again this season. The Builders gave up the fewest yards per game as well as giving fewest points per game. The Builders had two players who led this great defense, senior James Key and junior Billy Beard. Both made All KCAC. Shaun Spottedhorse also was chosen All KCAC. The Builders will look to Billy Beard for experience next year. They look to have a fine year next season and improve on the passing game. Story by David Reynolds.

SC Athletic Training Team

The SC student trainers under the direction of Phil Carr, Southwestern's Athletic Trainer, help keep the SC athletes in good repair. Phil diagnoses the injury then tells the trainers what treatment is necessary. The main treatments the trainers do are taping, wrapping, whirlpool and ultrasound. The trainers also double as managers for the athletic teams. At each athletic event one or more of the trainers is present to make sure the athletes have water and attend to first aid needs. The sport that requires the most time and effort from the trainers is football because of the number of participants and the nature of the sport. Another responsibility the trainers have is to keep the training room clean. The main reason these students are trainers is the good experience they gain for their future careers. Some of the students have scholarships to train, others do it for the work-study job and others do it purely for the experience. Story by Suzanne Underwood.

The goals for the Southwestern College men's cross country team in 1987 were to: win the conference, win the District Ten and finish in the top ten at the national meet. All three goals were met.

Southwestern men continued their domination of the KCAC championship meet by winning their eighth consecutive title. SC has also won the individual championship every year with Elliott Rodda taking first this year. For the second time in the last three years, SC perfect scored the meet. Other members of the all-KCAC squad were Tony Myers, Stuart Walling, Troy Scarlett, Hector Rios, Bobby Smith and William Carter. The Lady Builders regained their championship title lost a year ago with their fourth championship in the last five years. All three women earned All-KCAC honors with Kathy Boone winning her third KCAC title. Kelly Broadhurst finished second and Freshman Brenda Starts was fifth.

At the District Ten meet at Pittsburg, the men won their fourth consecutive titles. Stuart Walling led the Builders to a second place finish while Elliott Rodda placed third. Rounding out the top seven finishers for SC were Tony Myers (6th), Troy Scarlett (12th), Hector Rios (14th), Bobby Smith (15th) and Danny Lara (19th). Kelly Broadhurst finished 5th for the Lady Builders earning a trip to the National Meet.

The men finished 10th in the National Meet, representing District 10 very well. Kelly Broadhurst finished a respectable 159th out of 288 runners in her first national meet.

In a sport characterized by extraordinary dedication and hard work, the cross country program stands out among the sports programs at Southwestern. Story by Tony Myers.

Lady Netters Make Valiant Effort

The Southwestern Ladies Volleyball team had a tough season this year. Playing high quality opponents, the Lady netters went 6-31 to place them 8th in the Kansas Collegiate Athletic Association. The ladies had a hard time in the early going adjusting to each other and playing as a team. By the end of the season, the Lady netters were playing well and accomplished something, even though their record didn't reflect the changes. A few up and coming players to watch are Annelle Persinger, J.J. Leonard, and of course All KCAC selection Georgana Weigle. The Lady netters look to be strong next year as they have every-body back for the 1988-1989 season.

Women's Tennis 2nd In KCAC

The Southwestern College women's tennis team completed their fall season with a strong showing in the KCAC Women's Tennis Tournament and a respectable finish in the District 10 NAIA Women's Tennis Tournament. Before competing in the season ending tournaments, the Builder women compiled a five win and three loss dual record. They defeated Tabor College, Sterling College, Bethany College, McPherson College and Emporia State University. They lost to Baker University, Washburn University and Bethel College.

Several new faces appeared in this year's line-up. Losing the top three players from the 1986 KCAC championship team, the squad welcomed Rene Rollins, Traci McNutt and Shari Kennedy. Letterwomen returning were Tanya Jantz, Cathy Hessini, Cynthia Colberg and Megann Martin. Tanya Jantz and Cathy Hessini were co-captains for this year's team.

In the KCAC tournament in October, SC finished second, four points behind Bethel. Tanya Jantz placed second in #1 singles, Cathy Hessini placed second in #2 singles, Rene Rollins won the #3 singles title, Traci McNutt placed second in #4 singles, Cynthia Colberg placed fourth in #5 singles and Shari Kennedy won the #6 singles title. In #1 doubles, Jantz and Hessini had a very big win, defeating Bethel's #1 doubles team 7-6 (7-4) 4-6, 6-3 for the doubles title. In #2 doubles, Rollins and McNutt defeated Bethany for third place. In #3 doubles Colberg and Kennedy defeated Bethel 3-6, 6-2, 7-5 to claim the #3 doubles title.

The following SC women were named to the All-KCAC team for 1987-88: Tanya Jantz (unanimous selection) and Kathy Hessini. Receiving All-KCAC Honorable Mention were Rene Rollins and Shari Kennedy.

In the District 10 NAIA tournament, SC finished in fourth place. Jantz placed third in #1 singles, Hessini placed fourth in #2 singles, Rollins placed second in #3 singles, McNutt placed third in #4 singles, Colberg placed fourth in #5 singles and Kennedy placed second in #6 singles. In #1 doubles Jantz and Hessini finished fourth. Rollins and McNutt finished second in #2 doubles, while Colberg and Kennedy placed fourth in #3 doubles.

In overall KCAC dual meets SC's record is not 65 wins and 4 losses.

Cathy Hessini is the only senior on SC's team this year. The six returning letterwomen will form a strong nucleus to lead the team into the 1988 season. Susan Colberg, 1987 graduate and four year letterwinner in SC tennis, was the only Kansas woman named to the 1986-1987 NAIA Women's Tennis Academic All-American team. Only 24 women from across the nation were chose to this prestigious team. She joins former SC tennis players Lisa Boling (1984-85) and Terri Saunders (1985-86) who were also named to the Academic All-American team.

The Southwestern Women's Basketball team gave a great effort through out the 87-88 season. The Lady Builders finished up the season 9-15. Coach Gerald Raines finished his last year as Builder head coach, coaching the Ladies Basketball team the past five years. Coach Raines thought it was time to hang it up and take life easy. He enjoyed a great career in coaching and will be missed by the community and the students. It was the last season for Lady Builders Debbie Maxwell and Shawna Wofford, both of whom ended their careers at Southwestern on a good note. Maxwell and Wofford contributed to the success of the Lady Builder Basketball team during their Southwestern stay. The Lady Builders will now look to move up in the KCAC ranks with a new coach and a new attitude. Story by David Reynolds.

Coach Sketches

Southwestern's football coach, Charlie Cowdrey's philosophy of football is having a strong running attack and a strong defense. A good defense and the ability to run the football are the two things Cowdrey feels are necessary for a football program to survive over the years. When he is not coaching, Cowdrey likes to watch football on television. He feels that the easiest way to get a football game out of your mind is to watch another football game. Cowdrey has been coaching for 29 years. He is going into his fifth season at SC. His proudest moment at Southwestern was winning the first play-off game in 1984 against Bethel, giving SC a chance to play for the national championship.

While head coach for men's tennis, Cecil Findley enjoys taking a nap after watching his tennis team in a hard match. Assistant Coaches Dick Finton and Mark Saville enjoy the outdoors as a means of relaxation. All three coaches agreed that the sport teaches discipline which is very important to have in life. Findley's proudest moment is, "Watching a player of mine defeat someone he's lost to the whole year. That's achievement!" With the combined 26 years of coaching experience between the three coaches, Southwestern can expect a good showing from this men's tennis team.

Cecil Findley, Mark Saville, and Dick Finton.

Bill Stephens.

SC's men's basketball coach Bill Stephens' philosophy of basketball is a full court press and a controlled fast break offensive game. He likes to have players who want a good education and have a good concept of basketball. Even with his many other jobs at SC, he feels he owes the athletes the best he can give them and expects the same in return. Stephens enjoys spending time with his family when he isn't coaching. He has been at Southwestern eleven years. His proudest moments have been to win three conference championships. The most rewarding moments for Stephens are watching his players receive their degrees.

Moundbuilders Season a Rough Ride

The Moundbuilder Men's Basketball team found the 1987-1988 season tough going. The Builders were 4-14 in the Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference and 4-22 overall to place them 8th in the conference. The Builders started off the season by playing two Division I NAIA opponents, Rockhurst and Emporia State. The Builders gained experience through these first couple of games, as they reached conference play. Conference play didn't start off very well, as they lost their first eight out of ten games, including an eighth place finish in the Greater Kansas City Tournament. The Builders would finish winning two out of their last fourteen games, ending the season with a victory over the Bethany Swedes, 99-83. Under new Builder Head Coach Bill Stephens, the team soon learned the style and system and played well together as the season went along. The Builders had a tough season but they never quit. It didn't help losing six games on last second shots. The Builders look to contend for the title in 1988-89, as they return 9 juniors and a host of talented young people. Jerry Smith made All KCAC this season, averaging 15.0 points and 9.1 rebounds a game. The KCAC better watch out for Jerry and the rest of the Builders next season! Story by David Reynolds.

More Coaches

Track and Cross Country Coach Jim Helmer coaches because he enjoys working with athletes. He has developed Southwestern's track and field into an outstanding program. Because of SC's success he and the team have earned the respect of other programs. In his ten years of coaching, seven at SC, he has won 17 conference championships with his men's and women's teams. Coach Helmer says his proudest moment at Southwestern was winning five national championships in either individual events or relays.

Southwestern Women's Volleyball Coach Robbie Fields has been coaching four years, the last two at SC. He has yet to earn the KCAC crown, but states that his team is really coming along great and will be a contender in the future. His proudest moment coaching at Southwestern is the fact he has turned the volleyball program around. Fields attended Southwestern and Indiana State and then finished his academic work at SC.

John Paulin, the SC Women's Tennis Coach, has coached at Southwestern for 12 years. He is a 1955 graduate of Friends University. His proudest moment at SC was his 1978 season when the team defeated Fort Hays State, Marymount and Bethany to win the State AIAW. Coach Paulin enjoys coaching because it gives him something different to do. He enjoys working with some good athletes and great girls. He has coached three All Americans. His team won the first KCAC Women's Tennis Championship. His teams have won 9 KCAC Championship and finished second 4 times. His teams have been to the NAIA Nationals twice, once in 1981 and again in 1983.

The Southwestern Men's Track Team had another outstanding indoor and outdoor season, winning its 6th consecutive KCAC Championship, by a margin of 153 points. The men's team finished a strong 2nd at the District 10 meet held at Emporia State University. Coach Jim Helmer was named District 10 Coach of the Year for the fifth year in a row. Special honors were given to two talented athletes. Greg Bush was chosen as Most Outstanding Athlete at the SC Relays and Elliott Rodda won honors for the Most Outstanding Athlete at the KCAC Championship. The NAIA Indoor National Track Meet, held in Kansas City, provided Southwestern College with 6 more All-Americans. Ricky Tellis took 4th in the Triple Jump to earn All-American status. The Builder Distance Medley Relay Team of William Carter, Gary Dick, Tony Myers and Elliott Rodda, took 3rd place in the nation to earn the All-American title. The Women's Track Team had one of the strongest teams in years. The lady Builders won their first ever KCAC track title by 53 points and placing a very respectable 4th place at the District 10 meet. The Southwestern College tennis men had a good year as they went five and three in the KCAC and finished fourth overall. The Builders had to overcome many difficulties in finding players as eleven men played at the top six spots. The JV was used often to fill in spots as two players became ineligible and another was lost to injury. Without those losses, the Builders may have challenged for the top spot in the KCAC. The year did have its bright moments. Mark Wilson and Barry Dundas both came away with single victories against conference champs Bethany. Coach Cecil Findley commented, "I was very pleased. I have had many 0-9 duals against Bethany over the years." Another highlight was the Southwestern Invitational. The team did not do well but there were some good individual efforts. Dundas and Wilson both finished third at four and five singles respectively. In doubles, Todd Herman and Stan Bowling teamed up to take third in number one doubles. Dundas and Wilson swept the number two doubles with a 6-2, 6-1 win in the finals. At the KCAC tournament, the Builders experienced some disappointing losses. Bethel and Bethany dominated the tournament. Dundas had the best showing as he was the only player not from Bethany or Bethel to reach the finals. There he lost a tough three setter to Bethel's Billy Roman. Dundas was named All-KCAC honorable mention for his efforts. At the annual tennis cookout at Coach Findley's eight letters were awarded. The Men's Tennis team also had five Academic All-KCAC members, the most of any sport at Southwestern. Story by Barry Dundas.

Never-Ending Tradition

The Southwestern College Debate Squad, under the direction of Richard Finton, upheld the powerful tradition of SC debate. This year the size of the squad remained small. Participants included: Scott Hecht (Sophomore), Kim Hoffman (Sophomore), David Holler (Freshman), John Jaster (Sophomore), Rick Liby (Sophomore), and John Morris (Senior). The squad is expected to double in size for the 1988-89 school year. This was the first year Finton directed forensics at SC. He was selected for the position after one of his teams at Missouri Southern State finished third in the CEDA national championship. The record this year demonstrated his strong ability for leading our students. Students finished in the top percentage of competitors in every tournament attended. SC currently holds the Pi Kappa Delta national title. It will defend that honor next year at the biannual national championship to be held in Saint Louis. If successful, the school will hold its third consecutive national championship. The squad attended a tri-province meeting in San Antonio where fraternity members elected Finton to new Governor of the Plains District. This is the first PKD office held by a Southwestern director since Gary Horn left SC three years ago. Next year, the team will retain all but one varsity debater, which would indicate a very strong squad for the coming season. Copy by John Jaster.

And The Music Plays On . . .

Another fulfilled year has past, but the memories of the year's music events will not be forgotten by Southwestern's music participants. The SC Band and A Capella Choir toured parts of Kansas in the spring. Performing a concert in Marion, Hutchinson, Derby and Wichita, they were warmly received by alums, friends, family and the general public. The music groups performed a variety of concerts throughout the year. Good music has a long history at SC and 1987-88 kept up the tradition. Story by Janice Gorman

KSWC: SC Radio

What do you listen to while you're sitting in your dorm studying for that final exam? You guessed it, KSWC, FM100.3. KSWC is the campus radio station, operated by students of SC during the week and on Saturdays by students from Winfield High School. The station plays everything from hard rock to easy listening. Sundays are devoted to Black Contemporary and Rhythm and Blues. Throughout the year KSWC plays special music. The station comes on the air at noon and goes off at midnight, accepting requests during those hours. KSWC members include: Sheri Prochaska, Kenny Walker, Le Baptista, Mark Gregg, Georgana Weigle, Junior Lewis, Doug Stanton, Lisa Jackson, Robyne Stanford, David Reynolds, Bruce Adams, Ed Weilege, Tim Ervin, Barry Dundas, David Clark, David Willoughby, Kelley Alexander, and Mark Hankins. What Students Do In Their Off Time

In the few minutes that SC's dedicated students take off from being intellectual and gaining knowledge as well as personal growth, they participate in personal relaxation. Even SC's most dedicated students have been known to take a few moments out of their busy schedules of personal growth and intellectual knowledge acquisition to do something different. Pictured on this page are some SC students and what they do in their off time. Story by Karen Anderson.

Rain, Rain, Go Away. We Want To Have Graduation Today!

Top left: There was a hurried dash from Sonner Stadium to Stewart Fieldhouse when it started to rain.

Right: Shaun Spottedhorse received his diploma to a standing ovation and TV coverage by Channel 10.

The day promised rain, threatened rain and delivered rain. As the band concert concluded in Sonner Stadium, the drops started to fall and everyone made a mad dash for Stewart Fieldhouse. The ceremonies began on time and the graduates listened to former Lieutenant Governor Tom Docking give a brief speech. Fifteen Master of Education degrees were awarded, followed by the distribution of 105 undergraduate degrees. An honorary Doctor of Arts was presented to Sue Jean Covacevich Boys for her outstanding contributions to the field of art. The Senior Class President Connie Sears presented the Seniors gift to the college by announcing that a fund had been set up for Mark Saville, alumnus and faculty member. After the recessing of the stage party, graduates, and faculty, a reception was held in Tri-Dining Hall.

More Snaps

Top right: Sometimes it doesn't pay to go away for Jan Term. There really was a car under all that snow.

Center left: Ernest Alexander presented a convocation that was unexpected and spellbinding.

Remember The Good Times

Top right: Texans Gerald Peters and Fred Kenebrew weren't fond of all the snow in Kansas.
