This '88-89 school year was an interesting and exciting school year. Why? Because we had a new president to represent Southwestern College. President Carl Martin was very excited about this new year. He finds Southwestern's environment stimulating, because the teaching and learning processes make an impression on people, and he would like to be a part of that environment. One of his final reasons for accepting such a position, is that the rich history of Southwestern College produces such a bright future and he wants to share in those leadership skills. President Carl Martin and his wife, Mary Lou, moved from Hutchinson, KS to Winfield in August of '88. They have a son, Andy, attending K.U. law school, and a daughter, Megann, a senior at Southwestern College.

To all the Southwestern students with maybe a second language.

Hei alle sammen!

Mitt navn er Lars Borge Rognlid og jeg er nitten år gammel. Jeg var født og oppvokst i Harstad, Norge. Første gang jeg kom til Amerika var i august i fjor. The Andersons og The Chambers var mine vertsfamilier i Cotopaxi, Colorado. Det var et fantastisk år fra begynnelsen til slutt. Har vært her i Winfield, Kansas for to og en halv måned. Liker denne plassen, men har mye hjemlengsel. Hilser til min familie og venner hjemme i Norge.

Hilsen så mye fra
Lars

Homecoming The Difference of '88

SC kicked off its Homecoming celebration with a royalty assembly on Friday. Queen Shay Jewett, from Colby, was crowned and presided over the events of the next two days. That night, to add to the homecoming festivities, the opening of "Brighton Beach Memoirs" by Neil Simon was presented. Saturday morning began with the traditional parade. In the BIG game that afternoon, SC crunched Ottawa in a resounding victory. The spirit of the celebration was carried through to the Homecoming Dance, which was the finale to a great weekend.

How Many Ugly Men Does It Take...

Ugly Man 1988

Rick Liby was chosen as Ugly Man 1988 in a money raising contest sponsored by the Junior Class. Rick is a junior from Concordia, Kansas. Rick was nominated by the Student Government Association. Other candidates for Ugly Man 1988 were: Bobby Davenport, Junior from New Smyrna, Florida, was nominated by Wallingford Hall. Hector Rios, Senior from Liberal, Kansas was nominated by Tri-Beta. Barry Dundas, Senior from Hutchinson, Kansas was nominated by Sigma Iota Sigma and Theta Phi Delta. Kent Lundy, Junior from Wichita, Kansas was nominated by the Student Activities Association.

SAA

The Student Activities Association is responsible for most of the activities that go on around the Southwestern campus. The activities fees paid by each full time student are used for these programs. SAA initiated many new activities in the 1988-89 school year, including Free Wednesday movies at the Winfield theaters, canned food and clothing drives, and the Inaugural Ball for President Martin's Inauguration. The additional activities planned by this active group has enhanced the social life and entertainment at SC. A list of some of the activities sponsored by SAA is given on page 57. BSU 1988-1989 Accomplishments

One of the first BSU floats ever in the history of BSU.

Sponsored and co-sponsored several very popular dances on campus.

As a group attended and participated in the Martin Luther King Celebration in Wichita.

The group is working to establish a Black fraternity at Southwestern.

A representative was sent to the Minorities In Education Conference at Kansas State.

Participated in a conference dealing with racism at Southwestern.

BSU organized the Sojourner Truth convocation, one of the best and most appreciated presentations in recent memory.

The group held a picnic in the spring for all BSU members.

Southwestern Dorm Councils '89

The dorm councils are comprised of elected students who regulate each dorm. They keep up the dorms, participate in all dorm activities and help hold things together. Suggestions, ideas and complaints are handled through these groups. Without these people, the dorms would not function well.

SIS

Sigma Iota Sigma is the only all female sorority at Southwestern College. It is a social and service organization, participating in a variety of community and college activities. SIS annually has a float in the Homecoming Parade and supports the athletic teams by special spirit activities. Money making projects are carried out to fund events such as the Christmas semi-formal dance. During secret sister week, members remember each other in special ways. Community service projects included the participation in the food bank and picking up cans and litter around campus. The group has fun gatherings. A Pink Party is held each year to interest Freshman in pledging the organization. Pledge Week is an adventure for the new girls to prove they are willing to become active members. SIS provides one more way for women on campus to have fun and be an active part of Southwestern College.

Theta Phi Delta

Theta Phi Delta has been on SC Campus for twenty two years. The organization provides a meaningful living experience and brotherhood for its members. The last exclusively male fraternity on campus, they are active in community service and social functions. They participate annually in the Homecoming parade. Stud Jock Day is a popular event sponsored by the Thetas in the Spring.

I Want you, to work for me!

Work Study jobs are a great way for those qualified students that prefer an on campus job over an off campus job. It's a fun way for students to get to know the campus and other students. Some jobs consist of physical work, while others are in the Library or in an office typing, filing, or working with computers. The Work Study experience can be of use to the student in the future when they are looking for a job. On campus jobs are exciting and fun.

The Builder Spirit Squad was a busy group this fall. The Squad supported the Moundbuilder football team at home as well as at the away games. Several activities the group participated in for the fall season included Parent's Day convocation, where they geared up the fans with cheers and yells. For Homecoming, the Squad supplied the traditional mums. At the end of the fall season, the girls participated in a cheerleading camp with the Wichita State University cheerleaders. Special thanks goes to sponsor, Pat Williams, for all her support and to Kerry Menzie, also known as The Jinx.

Lady Builders Have Tough Season

Hard Working Volleyball Team Looks To Next Year.

The Southwestern women's volleyball team had a rough year as they went 3-31 overall for the season. They finished eighth in the KCAC conference with a record of 2-16. Two Lady Builders were named All Conference. Georgana Weigle was named to the first team and Shelly Leach was named honorable mention. Coach Kaifes, when asked about the year, said, "The girls worked very hard all season long. Our record didn't show it, but we never gave up." The highlight of the season for the Lady Builders was winning the last home game. Ineligibles Julie Unruh and Sheri Leach could have made a big difference in the season, if they could have played. About next season Coach Kaifes said, "We are looking for the future, and things can only get better."

FOOTBALL

INJURIES PLAGUE BUILDER SEASON

The Southwestern football team started off the season like KCAC Champions, beating Kansas Wesleyan and Tabor. During the Tabor game, two serious blows came to the Builders. Two All American candidates, Weldon Kennedy and Brad Keller, went down. Weldon received a knee injury while Brad came away with a broken leg. This was a blow that would keep the team from the KCAC crown and trip to the playoffs.

The Moundbuilders went on to win against Sterling handily, but ran into a wall with Bethel. Bethel's secondary held down the passing game of Brian Shaw. Later, SC would lose to the KCAC champions, Bethany. The Builders finished up the season winning the remainder of their games, except against St. Mary of the Plains. This game saw the Builders commit eight turnovers. The Moundbuilders passing game was much improved with the addition of Brian Shaw, a junior from Hutchinson Junior College. Brian threw for over 1500 yards. Receivers Greg Peebles and Donald Stroy will be returning next year. In combination with Woody Gibbs and Freddie Green, the offense will be well stacked. Bobby Urrutia leads a defense squad that will be tops in the league. The Builders of '89 should again be a team to beat. David Reynolds.

SC's Women's Tennis 2nd in KCAC, 4th in District 10 N.A.I.A.

For the second straight year SC finished second to Bethel College in the KCAC Women's Tennis Championship held in Wichita at the Riverside Tennis Center. Following an average win to loss dual record during the season, SC competed against six other KCAC schools. After the first day of play it was clear it would be finals matches between Bethel and SC. By the end of the tournament, Bethel had swept all six singles and three doubles matches to post a perfect score in winning the KCAC crown.

SC placed second in all matches but #1 singles. Tanya Jantz could not play because of illness. Three Lady Builders earned all-conference honors in the KCAC. For the second year, senior Tanya Jantz was a unanimous choice for the All-KCAC team. Senior Rene Rollins was also chosen as a member of the All Conference team. Traci McNutt, senior, was chosen honorable mention All-KCAC. In the 9th District 10 NAI A Women's Tennis Tournament, SC finished fourth out of five teams.

In #1 singles, Tanya Jantz upset the Washburn favorite 6-1, 6-2 to advance to the championship round where she eventually placed 2nd. In #3 singles, Annette Greever also placed second. Rene Rollins placed 4th in #2 singles, Lori McManus placed 4th in #4 singles, and in #6 singles, Traci McNutt won 3rd place. In doubles, Jantz/McManus finished fourth. In #2 doubles, Rollins/Greever captured 3rd place. In #3 doubles Colberg/McNutt finished in 4th place.

Cross Country

Young Builders Show Great Performance

The young Southwestern Men's and Women's Cross Country teams had a great season, with only one senior guy and one senior girl. The SC Men's team won six of eight meets. The Women won one of eight, because the other meets they had only partial teams with which to compete. Coach Helmer said, "I was really pleased on the season for the men and women except for the District meet. Both groups were young and did better earlier than I thought they would." Helmer's only disappointment of the season was losing the District meet. "When you're used to winning the District, it's no fun finishing third." Helmer is really excited about next year, as they are going to be strong. They should again be one of the top five teams in the nation. The Builders this year finished seventh in the nation. The men won their ninth straight KCAC Championship. The women won their second straight title and five out of the last six. Freshman John Kriegisch finished seventy-fifth in the National meet that was held in Wisconsin. By David Reynolds.

Lady Builders Make New Start

The '88-89 season was a new look for the Lady Builders as coach Carrie Kaifes took over the controls from retired Gerald Raines. The Lady's had their ups and downs, finishing the season in the middle of the KCAC, with a record of 9-17 and 5-13 in the KCAC. Coach Kaifes had a young team with many new players to work with. Jamie McLaughlin, a freshman from Mound Valley, had an outstanding year, as she led the KCAC and District 10 in rebounding with over 10.2 rebounds a game. She was an All KCAC selection. Jamie will be a fine player to watch in the coming years. Fawn Anderson was chosen Honorable Mention All KCAC. The Lady Builders should be a fun team to watch in the future with Coach Kaifes at the helm. Story by David Reynolds.

The Southwestern Men's Basketball team gave an impressive effort throughout the 88-89 season. Under the new Builder head coach, Jim Wheatcroft and assistant coach Marcus Payne, the men's team finished up the season with a conference record of 10-8, and overall record of 12-14. Five victorious games were forfeited because of ineligible players, so the Builders closed with a 6-12 conference record and 7-19 overall record on paper. The Builders won seven out of the last eight games, ending the season with a two point victory against Friends University, at Friends. What an incredible finish! Graham Frazier made all KCAC first team, and Randy Barber made honorable mention this season. The Builders will return with a very strong team in the 89-90 season. Coach Wheatcroft and his players should continue to provide basketball excitement in the coming year. Story by Lars Rognlid.

Men's Tennis

The 1989 Builders Men's Tennis team completed a successful year with a third-place finish in the KCAC. The team was 7-4 in dual matches during the year and finished a strong second in our own Southwestern Invitational. Highlights for the year included Brian Shaw winning second place in the Conference in #2 singles, and teaming with partner, Scott Farnham, for a second place in #1 doubles. A big win during the season was Scott Farnham's victory over Nathan Regier of Bethel who went on to win the Conference championship. For their outstanding efforts, Brian Shaw Received All-Conference honor and Scott Farnham received All-Conference honorable mention. The team was led by co-captains Barry Dundas and Scott Farnham. Two members of the team, senior Barry Dundas and junior Stan Bowling, made the All Conference Academic Team. Other members of the Moundbuilder squad included Paul LaBrue, Greg Huggins and Doug Harden. Head Coach Cecil Findley was assisted by Coach Dick Finton. Story by Cecil Findley.

For the SC Golf Season of 1988-89, Southwestern once again, stole the KCAC championship, with Carlson capturing the KCAC individual medal. Southwestern hopes to defend their title next season, even though there will be a loss of two seniors, Mark Markley (three years all KCAC) and Mark Gregg (two years all KCAC). SC is making up this loss by gaining great strength with new recruits for next season.

Athletic Trainers Behind the Scenes

Behind the courts and the fields of the athletes, maintaining the athletes' participation as much as possible, is a teamed staff of its own endurance. Attending games and meets prepared to quench thirst and ease injury, this trained staff covers practices and general day treatment consisting of taping, heat treatment, ultra-sound treatment, whirlpools and interferential treatment. Spending 3-4 hours per day in the training room, first hand experience is available and utilized as the athletes are cared for before and after every practice and performance. First semester trainers were headed by Phil Carr assisted by Scott Bugbee, Darla English, Shay Jewett, Scotty Voight and Kevin Watkins. Second semester assistants were Kevin Watkins, Shay Jewett and Darla English. Story by Anthony Anderson.

Lady Jinx: Drill, Drill, Drill

In the second year of its existence, the Southwestern College drill team had an outstanding season. The fall of 1988 team included Diana Bitker, Jan Palmer, Megan Gannon, Lonnie Nichols, Lorie Fyffe, Barb Henthorn, Aretha McCraw, Christy Darkow, Paula Bradt and Tracey Jones. In the spring, two new members were added, Yoko Takae and Telisa Boline. The 1988-89 season found the team doing new and different routines they learned at dance camp. The Universal Dance Camp was held at Wichita State University during the summer. One routine was a high kick series which involved two minutes of high kicks. During basketball season, the squad used poms and stunt work in the routines. The Lady Jinx have added a new dimension of entertainment at SC events. Their sponsor is Lori Moshier. The squad would like to thank the spectators for their continued support.

The 1989 Moundbuilder staff was like a happy family. They met in the library every Wednesday evening to make plans and work on the various projects necessary to produce the yearbook. The yearbook sponsor is Kathy Wilgers. Her little army is very hard working and usually does everything she asks them to do. The staff takes their own pictures, develop the film and print the pictures themselves. The students at Southwestern are getting more and more used to the yearbook staff taking pictures of them. You can always tell a Moundbuilder staff member, they are the one with the camera hanging around their neck. Story by Lars Rognild.

Remember the flurry of election activities on campus last fall? They included voter registration in key places, an audience participation debate about a third party, an election night party with commentary on returns by Dr. Schmidt (our new Pi Gamma Mu sponsor), and a straw vote at the cafeteria. The gala Christmas party was a highlight of the winter season. Initiation was impressive with Dean Willoughby giving the charge to the new members. During the spring term Pi Gamma Mu sponsored two seminars on rape. At the end of the term another party was held to initiate new members with President Carl Martin giving the charge to the new members. Last year Kansas Alpha initiated 39 members, more than any year before.

The capping ceremony marks the halfway point in a nurse's education. December 10, 1988, and Lois Hill Chapel will be remembered by this group of nurses throughout their respective careers. Receiving a cap and pin was a rite of passage for all of them. Family, friends and faculty shared the excitement of the service and joined the group for a reception that followed.

Radio and television are a major part of the communications at Southwestern. KSWC 100.3 FM has 23 people who are on the college station playing a variety of music. "This Week At SC" is Southwestern's own television show, airing on Channel 13 each week. The program shows what is going on at SC as well as plugging upcoming events. Bill DeArmond supervises both radio and television. Those students interested in the media receive valuable training in their field through SC's radio and television stations. Campus Players

The Campus Players underwent a revitalization during the 1988-1989 school year. Under the sponsorship of Allyson and Roger Moon, the group brought back some traditional activities. In December, "Eagerhart" was performed for the first time in several years. With an increase in membership, the group presented five other productions. With the performance of "Arms and the Man", the Campus Players celebrated the 70th anniversary of its founding. Some projects of the group included: having the Campus Players symbol on the floor of the Helen Graham Theatre redone; the placement of a plaque on the Campus Players rock; and resuming the annual Banquet and Awards in the spring. Maggie Myers was the president of the group and Sherri Prochaska was the Executive Secretary.

'LET US DO NEW THINGS'

Volume 94

Through the use of the Macintosh SE computers and the diligent work of dedicated students, the Collegian was filled with campus happenings, pictures, editorials and stories. From a special election year issue which presented the candidates views on important issues, to the traditional Jan Term Collision, the Collegian was the source of information on campus. The publication received a new look during the course of the year, switching from a newspaper format to newsletter form. It continued to publish thought provoking topics and editorials. Under the guidance of Editor-In-Chief, Teri Hutchison, several people learned to operate the Macintosh ensuring the delivery of the Collegian to one and all at SC. Story by Joyce Fellers.

Social Work Club

The Southwestern College Social Work Club has had a very active 1988-89 school year. The 21 members are led by Lori McManus as the president; Caren Prochaska, vice-president and John Cleary, Secretary/Treasurer. Cathleen Lewandowski and Herman Lebovitz are the club's sponsors.

Story by Lars Rognlid.

Projects the Social Work Club have been involved in this year include: participating in the Phonathon in the fall of 1988; providing free child care to parents who participate in the SRS Parenting Class; and the new "Adopt A Family" project which provides needed assistance to a local family throughout the school year.

Members of the Social Work Club are: Sandra Barner, Shelli Bean, Kelly Broadhurst, John Cleary, Cheryle Freed, Stephanie Goatley, Bell Goff, Mary Hall, Lori McManus, Michael Mogab, Jolene Munday, Jana Nittler, Caren Prochaska, Tommie Reynolds, Katherine Stewart, Kimberly Stowell, Susan Warbritton, Nancy James, Rachelle Johnson, Gene Fox and Pam Vaughn.

Debaters Maintain High Precedents SC 3rd in the PKD National Championship.

Southwestern College has earned its place in history as part of the foundation of intercollegiate debate. In the 1920's we hosted the 1st intercollegiate tournament in the nation and we co-founded the original and largest debate fraternity - Pi Kappa Delta. In addition to traveling to more than twelve CEDA tournaments a year, the squad hosts both a high school and a college debate tournament and one high school forensics tournament.

In the 1988-89 school term, the debate squad consisted of Mike Metcalf (Sr), Scott Hecht (Jr), John Jaster (Jr), Jennifer Barnes (Fr), Carmen Hopkins (Fr), Jeana Lewis (Fr), Donnie Satcher (Fr), and Marci Stucky (Fr). The debate coach is Richard Finton who also serves as the Governor of the Plains Province of Pi Kappa Delta. In the local PKD fraternity, John Jaster was President, Scott Hecht was Vice President, Mike Metcalf was Secretary, and Rick Liby was Treasurer.

Southwestern is the smallest college in the nation with a debate program and it competes against all sizes of schools. As the results indicate, the squad had another remarkably successful season. The awards listed required the defeat of schools ranging from Kansas University to West Point Military Academy. Most noticeable is the 3rd place finish at the PKD National Championship.

This year, Southwestern defended a national championship title it had held for the last two PKD conventions. While the squad would have preferred to win, 3rd place was acceptable. These students in the last three years have brought home 3rd place or better in a division of a national championship each year. Furthermore, the school is consistently listed in the top 50 in rankings by CEDA, an organization with more than 300 member schools.

With only one student on the squad graduating, Southwestern debaters should do exceptionally well in the 1989-90 season.

Due to deadlines, the results of CEDA Nationals are not listed.

SC's chapter of Phi Beta Lambda had a very successful year. PBL once again received first place for their float in the Homecoming parade. In addition, PBL members faired well at the Academic State Competitive Events in Business. At this annual meeting, four members qualified for the national competition in Orlando, Florida. They were Lora Warren, Tim Hollingsworth, Cary Stamps and Jerald Betts. PBL's academic sponsors for the year were Richard Barnes, Lyle Weinert, and Jeanne Dexter. Connie Craft, the Business Department's secretary, was also an integral part of the group. The officers for the 1988-1989 school year were: President, Jim Lynne; Vice-President, Lora Warren; Secretary, Deanna Smith; and Treasurer, Brett Butler. Story by Jerald Betts.

Mary Lou, We Love You

Mary Lou Martin came along to SC with her husband, President Carl Martin last September. In all the fuss associated with having a new president, she stayed in the background. As the school year progressed, it became apparent that Mary Lou Martin was going to be a very vital part of Southwestern College. She is ready to help in any situation and has a knack for making everyone who meets her feel very important. SC is lucky to have such a personable, caring and talented person as the President's wife.

Theatre at SC New Directors, New Life

Allyson And Roger Moon, both graduates of Southwestern, returned the fall of 1988 to make SC's drama department, "The finest liberal arts program in the state of Kansas, the area or anywhere." After 6 years at Ottawa University, where Roger was in charge of speech and drama and Allyson was an adjunct instructor in drama and communications, returning to Winfield was like a homecoming.

The Moons will actively recruit students for the drama program. There will be lots of performances and some activity grants as incentives. An active linking with the music department will enhance both programs. The first fall performance of Neil Simon's "Brighton Beach," was an indication of the quality entertainment in store for theatre patrons. The morality play "Eagerheart" was resurrected for the Christmas season, symbolizing "a regard for tradition and Campus players redevelopment." The Jan Term presentation, "The Dining Room" was presented as a dinner theatre. In February work began on "The Doll House." The spring offering was "Arms of the Man." The theatre goers of Winfield and the surrounding area are being treated to excellent entertainment and the response to the excellence has been tremendous.

Ibsen's play "A Doll's House" was performed in the round on Richardson Stage during the spring semester. The play is an 1880s drama dealing with values and women's rights. The production was directed by Allyson Moon. The cast included Denise Wagner, Kevin Magnus, Trevor Houlden, Jennifer Knight, Barry Dundas, Sheri Prochaska, Amy Henry and Stewart Graham. Lael Porter was the scenographer.

Her opponents (few that they are) are calling the new dome, "Shannon's Silliness."

More Arrests Expected

A secret junta, meeting in a hidden Cave, was discovered making plans to take over Southwestern College. The photographer risked death to capture the group on film, shown at left. The revolutionaries were identified from the left: The Leda (organizer and brains of the outfit) Beckon; Butforthe Grace (cultural advisor) McSpeekie; John (Who me?) Innocenta; Jim Stranded (caught playing the organ day and night to cover the sounds of tunneling under Richardson Auditorium); Pat Willing and Mike Conned (representatives from the Irish Republic, always fighting as the picture indicates); Lou (Big Louie) Carp (hit woman borrowed from the Cowley County Mafia); Keith (Hacker) Upchuka (he didn't get that name from playing with computers!); Judi (Bugsie) Sutter ("found" the money for the operation); Jan McDunder (was caught putting virus into various computer programs on campus); and Joann Buttre (the mouthpiece of the group). Pictured behind the group are Bent Bundy and Mary Warned who were coerced into standing guard for the covert meetings. Bundy and Warned were released after turning states evidence. Other arrests are expected as the group is interrogated individually. It is expected that most will squeal loud and long. It was not determined what the group planned to do with the college once in control, but it is rumored to have something to do with personal gain.

One Flag Over SC

Amusement Park Planned

Pictured at right are Richard Barnes, Chairman of the Board; Dan Daniel, Chair in Charge of Vice; and Bill Stephens, General Manager of the newly formed One Flag Over SC, Inc. The firm plans to build a 400 acre amusement park adjacent to the SC campus. The park will feature a variety of rides and amusements including a simulated ride in a BMW traveling at 147 miles per hour on the Autobahn. The ride is named "Death by Design." Another planned attraction will be a participatory football game where the opponents are 500 lb. robots programmed to emulate SC football players. This amusement will be called "The Slaughter Bowl." "The Literary Haunted Castle" is expected to draw patrons from around the world. It will feature roaming spooks including the ghost of Shakespeare, Faulkner, Poe, Louis L'Amour, Hemingway and Al Capp. The park will open in the fall of 1989 and employ approximately 724 clones of the founders.

The Skull From Hell

A Tree Grows In Christy

On December 12th, 1988 at 7:45 a.m., a large coniferous tree (shown at left) was discovered growing in the foyer of Christy Hall. The mysterious appearance was never solved but students decorated the tree with a multitude of shiny objects. It is speculated that some symbolism was involved in their actions. On December 28th the tree vanished, leaving no trace.

Top left: Darla English and Shelli Bean posed for this gag photo while students at SC. Little did they know how prophetic it would be. In 1994 the two opened the English Bean Rehabilitation Center. The Center provides the help that highly placed officials in government need when they commit certain crimes against society. In the plush settings the criminals are accustomed to, the ladies not only free society from threat, but also retrain military officers to print money to buy arms and Senators to cut wood. U.S. President Sammy Davis, Jr. has praised the center as the best thing to hit American society since the VCR.

Entrepreneur Neil Bass, shown at lower left, has opened a new restaurant in Winfield. Recalling his college days, he knew that eating in an atmosphere reminiscent of a college cafeteria would be an instant hit. He as usual was absolutely right. Designing his establishment to be an exact replica of the 1989 SC cafeteria, has drawn record crowds. Shown at the lower right are patrons on a typical evening. Former students Sonja Piland, Loretta Purvis and Thoummy Phrakornkham are thrilled to relive pleasant memories.

SOUTHWESTERN COLLEGE IN KANSAS

A large, faint, circular seal of Southwestern College is centered in the background. The outer ring of the seal contains the text "SOUTHWESTERN COLLEGE" at the top and "1885" at the bottom. Inside this ring, the Latin phrase "LUX ESTO" is written in an arc. The center of the seal features a stylized eight-pointed star or compass rose design.
