MAY

Top Left: Tyler Lytton, assistant golf coach, Tim Jasper, business administration junior, Raleigh Hughes, business administration junior, Dylan Porter, business marketing junior, Jordan Lytton, business administration junior, Cale O'Hair, sport management sophomore, and Brad Sexson, head golf coach, celebrate their win at the KCAC tournament in Garden City. This is the second year in a row that the men won conference to qualify for the NAIA national tournament in Silvis, Ill. (Courtesy photo) Top Right: Lindsay Wilke, assistant director of Leadership, Lacey Hibbs, liberal arts & sciences senior, and Claudia Geer, associate professor of psychology, have a laugh during the social science reception. During this gathering, members of Leadership presented Cheryl Rude, director of leadership, with a book acknowledging her efforts during the school year. (Photo by Stalder) Bottom Left: David Hofmeister, director of teacher education, and Kerry Sonnenburg, elementary education senior, visit during the education reception. There were many of these get togethers around campus before and after commencement. (Photo by Middleton) Bottom Right: Michelle Adler, assistant professor of teacher education, Elizabeth Hill, elementary education senior, and Laura McGowan, elementary education senior, converse during the education party. Receptions were hosted by specific departments for graduating students and their families to celebrate their accomplishments. (Photo by Middleton)

Top Left: Christina Prokopis, English senior, Rachel Muth, history senior, Beth Bellinger, elementary education senior, and Lea Shores, English senior, sing the Alma Mater at Honors Convocation on May 8 in Stewart Field House. Both traditional and professional studies graduates as well as families were welcome to attend. (Photo by Dick) Top Right: Allyson Moon, associate professor of theatre, helps John Badley, philosophy & religious studies senior, straighten his cords. Many different cords were given to students who achieved high academic excellence. Badley graduated with magna cum laude honors. (Photo by Dick) Bottom Left: David Gardner, assistant professor of music, and Blake Carter, communication senior, have a laugh at the Baccalaureate service, which takes place the morning of graduation. Worship Outreach Team and SC Singers performed at this ceremony, along with testimonies given by students of the graduating class. (Photo by Middleton) Bottom Right: Anna Stevens, music education senior, signs a Thank You card during line-up before graduation. These cards were signed by most of the seniors and given to individuals who helped with the graduation setup of Stewart Field House and Richard L. Jantz Stadium. (Photo by Stalder)

Celebrate ACHIEVEMENT

Amelia Lutz, communication senior, Nicole Wilson, business administration senior, and Samantha Gillis, journalism senior, joke around before walking to their seats. Seniors were required to line up according to their degree, but were allowed to sit next to their friends rather than alphabetical order. (Photo by Tagg /page design by Stalder)

Celebrate COMMENCEMENT

Susan Lowe

director of alumni programs

Hometown: Winfield

Family connection: I am a legacy Moundbuilder – my mother, Doris Richardson '63, graduated from Southwestern as did my uncle, Leonard Richardson '50. I was a traditional student here in the 70s and should have graduated in 1976, but my husband-to-be graduated two years ahead of me so we ended up getting married and living in NY after he graduated. I didn't finish my degree at the time, but graduated in 1995. That was the year our older son, Scott Lowe '98, became a freshman at Southwestern. Three years later, our younger son, Jeffrey Lowe '01, became a Moundbuilder, and his wife, Brooke (Youle) Lowe '01, also attended SC. I also have many other family members who are Moundbuilders: a brother-in-law, Keith Lowe '82, a sister-in-law, Annie (Myers) Richardson '79, two cousins, Beth (Richardson) Wilke '78 and Ann L. Richardson '77; and two 2nd cousins, Joel Wilke '07, and Julie Wilke '09.

I began working at the college in 1991

in the institutional advancement department. In 2000, I became the alumni director, which provides me with the opportunity to connect with alumni around the U.S.

Involvement: My position allows me the opportunity to interact with all departments on campus from time to time.

Sonic drink: I am a big water drinker and I enjoy their water with a lime wedge!

Guilty pleasure: Pretzels!

Favorite movie: I am a big fan of the old musicals, so I have to say "Hello Dolly" or "Funny Girl."

Favorite place to eat in Cowley County: At home!

Celebrate

Countless hours were spent rifling through a hundred ancient issues
of the Moundbuilder.
Our mission was to document
Southwestern's 125th year on the hill.
We chose to honor
the traditions of previous yearbooks
and celebrate the changes and obstacles
the college has endured.
We have sifted
through musky archives
and dusty memories
so you,
the reader,
can reminisce
about your chapter
in the history of SC.
After 84 Moundbuilding ceremonies,
28 college presidents,
three mounds,
two stadiums,
and one devastating fire,
our hope
is that you have gained a more complete understanding of Southwestern College's history.
This venture has been challenging,
captivating,
and insightful.

Moundbuilder 2011

Volume 100
Southwestern College
Winfield, Kansas 67156
August 2010 to May 2011

Volume 100 was created by the Moundbuilder staff and was printed by Jostens in Topeka. The cover was designed by the Moundbuilder staff with assistance from Thane Chastain, Jostens Sales Representative. The 104 pages were created on Dell computers using Microsoft Word, Adobe PhotoShop CS4, and Adobe InDesign CS4. The Moundbuilder is distributed to all full-time students.
