Leadership in Action

Some people may define a leader as one who mediates and is in charge of a group or activity. However, a true leader is a servant first.

This year's SC/Rotary Leadership Camp theme, Step up to the Challenge. Become the Change, encompasses the responsibility of being a servant leader. The camp will be May 30–June 3, 2009, on the Southwestern College campus.

Through the camp you will learn about yourself and others, about motivation and teamwork. You will discover that you can't be a leader without being a servant first.

Call us at Southwestern College, or check with a local Rotary Club member, to find out how you can Step up the the Challenge and Become the Change with Leadership Southwestern.

“The first step to leadership is servanthood.” —John Maxwell

What will we do?

The week will be filled with both physical and mental leadership-building and motivational activities.

- You'll work with other students in projects that will give you experience in teamwork, from a ropes course to a work project.
- You'll talk about career planning and about setting goals.
- You'll set goals to help make a difference in your school.
- And we'll make sure you have plenty of fun. Special events: dodgeball, a cookout, mud volleyball, a formal dinner, swimming, ice cream, and more!
