

Thank you for your interest in becoming part of the Southwestern College's Enactus Team. The Enactus Team seeks to create and implement community empowerment projects around the globe. The experience not only transforms lives, it helps students develop talents and perspectives that are essential to leadership in an ever-more-complicated and challenging world.

The Enactus team is encouraged by the Division of Business as a way to bridge the gap between classroom theories and concepts and the reality of the world in which our graduates will work. Enactus members devote extensive time and effort to developing, executing, and reporting on efforts to improve the quality of life and standard of living for the community in which we serve.

Enactus is a community of students, academic and business leaders committed to using the power of entrepreneurial action to enable human progress. At Southwestern College, Enactus students apply business concepts to develop community outreach projects, transform lives, and shape a better, more sustainable world.

entrepreneurial – having the perspective to see an opportunity and the talent to create value from that opportunity action – the willingness to do something and the commitment to see it through even when the outcome is not guaranteed us – a group of people who see themselves connected in some important way; individuals that are part of a greater whole

Enactus Activity Grant: In the United States, Enactus is supported by over 500 schools with a combined 17,294 active students contributing to over 2,000 projects. Southwestern's Enactus Team members plan, execute, and report on results of their community service projects. Each student who participates in Enactus is eligible for an activity grant that can be as much as $5,000. This grant does not need to be repaid, and is renewable as long as the student is enrolled in an undergraduate program and living on Southwestern College's main campus.

Once again, thanks for your interest in becoming an Enactus Team member. We look forward to receiving your application and wish you a successful school year.
