

Kopke Award Recipient

Biology professor Charles Hunter's 32 years of excellence in teaching and innovation led to his selection as recipient of the Charles H. and Verda R. Kopke Award for Distinguished Teaching. Hunter oversees the only marine biology program in the state of Kansas.

Masterbuilders, elected by students and faculty, are six members of the graduating class who "best typify the spirit of Southwestern." 2007 recipients are (left to right) Andrew Cherry, Aaron Rose, Scott Kuhn, Leah Rankin, Joel Wilke, and Andrae Harper.
